PREFACE

The following English version of Professor Geiger's "Pāli Literatur und Sprache" offers more than the German original, for much new material, supplied by Professor Geiger himself, has been incorporated into it. Professor Geiger also secured the permission of the German Publishers.

I distinctly remember that at the first lecture on Pāli I attended at the Munich University I was taught the Law of Mora, the cornerstone of Pāli Phonology. My astonishment, therefore, can be well imagined when I discovered that many of the Czars of Pāli in India have never even heard of this law! It is all the more remarkable, because Professor Geiger's work is well known in our University and is in fact one of the text-books prescribed for M.A. students in Pāli. On account of the language difficulty, however, our students have not hitherto been able to make full use of it. There was thus a clear case for translating Professor Geiger's work into English.

The translation was completed on 29th June, 1937. But the Calcutta University Press, always busy with a thousand things, could not pay undivided attention to printing it. Hence the inordinate delay in bringing out this translation, which at least some students of Pāli are anxiously waiting for.

In references to Prose texts, line too has been given throughout; thus A.I.2³ = Anguttara-Nikāya, vol. I, p. 2, l. 3.

My thanks are due first of all to Professor Geiger, my honoured teacher and my teacher's teacher. I am grateful also to Professors Suniti Kumar Chatterji, Prabodh Chandra Bagchi, Sailendra Nath Mitra and Beni Madhab Barua for the interest they evinced in this translation.

31st December, 1942.

PĀLI LITERATURE AND LANGUAGE

INTRODUCTION

I. By Pāli is understood the language in which is composed the Tipiṭaka, the sacred scriptures of Ceylon and Hinter India, and its ancillary literature. The word Pāli however signifies only "text," "sacred text."¹ If we use this word to designate the language, it is merely a convenient abbreviation for pālibhāsā. Synonymous with pālibhāsā is tantibhāsā.

Pāli is an archaic Prākṛit a Middle-Indian idiom, which is characterised by the same peculiarities which distinguish the Middle-Indian from the Old-Indian.² Pāli however cannot be directly derived from Sanskrit; for it shows a number of characteristic features which suggest its closer relation to Vedic. Thus the g in -tvāna (beside -tvā), the forms tehi, yehi = Ved. tebhis, yebhis (as opposed to Skr. tais, yais), etc. This has always to be borne in mind when in the following Pāli forms are compared with Sanskrit forms. The former cannot be derived from the latter but stand beside them as later formations.

II. Pāli is not a homogeneous language. Numerous double forms reveal it to be a mixed dialect. Dialectical particularisms are found in it in large numbers. Yet, however, stages of development associated with periods following one after another can be clearly distinguished in the history of the Pāli language. Four different stages can be distinguished:

1. The language of the Gāthās, i.e., the metrical pieces. It is of a very heterogeneous character. On the one hand, it contains many archaic speech-forms which are distinguished from the Old-Indian forms only phonologically; on the other hand, there are also used in it in large numbers such new formations as are wholly characteristic of Pāli, and they are often crossed by the archaic forms which may occur side by side with them, not seldom even in one and the same verse. In some cases the exigencies of metre might have determined the choice of the forms to be used. Particularly in those cases where verses out of an older language were translated into a later one, the use of archaic forms was liberal, because it afforded a closer approximation to the original.

2. The language of the canonical prose. It is more homogeneous and uniform than the language of the Gāthās. The archaic forms diminish more and more in number and partly disappear altogether. The use of new formations is no longer accidental or arbitrary as in the oldest period of the language, but is governed by more rigid rules.

3. The later prose of the post-canonical literature, as of the Milinda-book, the great commentaries, etc. It is based on the canonical prose and reflects its artificial and erudite usage. The difference between the first and the second period is therefore much greater than that between the second and the third. The latter is further characterised by a still more restricted use of the archaic forms.

4. The language of later artificial poetry, which no longer possesses a homogeneous character. The authors derived their knowledge of the language and borrowed the speech-forms indiscriminately from older and later literature, and their propensity to archaism and Sanskritism is more pronounced or less in different cases.

III. There is now on the whole a consensus of opinion that Pāli bears the clear stamp of a "Kunstsprache," i.e., it is a compromise of various dialects. This has been most emphatically declared by H. Kern.¹ Minayeff's² opinion stands close to his. But already E. Kuhn³ rightly pointed out that the problem is not solved merely by defining Pāli as an artificial language—its solution is only deferred by it. "Even an artificial and literary language, which on occasions draws materials from all possible dialects, must have had as its foundation a particular dialect." For Pāli now arises the question, which region of India was the home of that language which was the basis of Pāli

IV. According to the tradition current in Ceylon, Pāli is Māgadhi, Māgadhinirutti, Māgadhiabhāsā, that is to say, the language of the region in which Buddhism had arisen. This is very important, for strengthened by this argument the Buddhist tradition makes the further claim that the Pāli-Tiṭṭaka is composed in the language used by Buddha himself ¹ and therefore in contrast to all other collections it alone represents the original canon. For this reason Māgadhi is also called Mūlabhāsā ² as the basic language in which the words of Buddha were originally fixed, whereas the other versions are regarded as secondary variations.

V. Weighty arguments have however been urged against the view that Pāli is a dialectal form of Māgadhi or is based on it. Precisely the chief distinguishing features of Māgadhi, as we know them from the grammarians and from the inscriptions and the dramas, are unknown to Pāli. These features are: 1. the mutation of every r into l and every s into ś, and 2. the ending -s in N. Sg. Masc. and Neut. of a-stems and of consonantal stems inflected like them. Pāli however retains the r (its change into l is indeed frequent but not the rule), and possesses no ś at all, but only s, and the nominal forms mentioned above end in it with -o, or -am. For this reason already Burnouf and Lassen ³ contested the theory that Pāli is a Magadha-dialect.

VI. Westergaard, ⁴ and after him E. Kuhn, ⁵ consider Pāli to be the dialect of Ujjayinī, because it stands closest to the language of the Aśoka-inscriptions of Girnar (Guzerat), and also because the dialect of Ujjayinī is said to have been the mother-tongue of Mahinda who preached Buddhism in Ceylon. R. O. Franke reached a similar conclusion by altogether different means. ⁶ In his attempt to locate Pāli by eliminating all those Indian popular dialects which on account of their peculiar linguistic features cannot be regarded as the source of Pāli, he finally reached the conclusion that its original home was "a territory, which could not have been too narrow, situated about the region from the middle to the western Vindhya ranges." Thus it is not improbable that Ujjayini was the centre of its region of expansion. Sten Konow¹ too has decided in favour of the Vindhya region as the home of Pāli. In his opinion there is a closer relationship between Pāli and Paisācī, and differing from his predecessors in the field, particularly from Grierson,² he seeks the original home of Paisācī not in North-West India but in the region of Ujjayini.

VII. Oldenberg³ considers Pāli to be the language of the Kaliṅga country. He considers the legend of Mahinda and his mission to be unhistorical. In his opinion Buddhism, and with it the Tipiṭaka, was introduced into Ceylon rather in course of an intercourse between the island and the neighbouring continent extending over a long period. As regards the character of the language, he compares it above all with that of the inscription of Khandagiri, which in his opinion agrees with Pāli on essential points. Also E. Muller⁴ considers the Kaliṅga country to be the home of Pāli. He bases his conclusion on the observation that the oldest settlements in Ceylon could have been founded only from the opposite mainland and not by people from Bengal or thereabout.

VIII. A consensus of opinion regarding the home of the dialect on which Pāli is based has therefore not been achieved.⁵ Windisch⁶ therefore falls back on the old tradition—and I am also inclined to do the same—according to which Pāli should be regarded as a form of Māgadhi, the language in which Buddha himself had preached. This language of Buddha was however surely no purely popular dialect, but a language of the higher and cultured classes which had been brought into being already in pre-Buddhist times through the needs of intercommunication in India.¹ Such a lingua franca naturally contained elements of all the dialects, but was surely free from the most obtrusive dialectical characteristics. It was surely not altogether homogeneous. A man from the Magadha country must have spoken it in one way, and a man from the districts of Kosala and Avanti in another, just as in Germany the high German of a cultured person from Württemberg, Saxony or Hamburg shows in each case peculiar characteristic features. Now, as Buddha, although he was no Magadhan himself, displayed his activities mainly in Magadha and the neighbouring countries, the Māgadhi dialect might have imprinted on his language its own characteristic stamp. This language could have therefore been well called Māgadhi even if it avoided the grossest dialectal peculiarities of this language. As Windisch has rightly pointed out, after the death of the master, a new artificial language must have been evolved out of the language of Buddha. Attempts were made to retain the teachings of Buddha in authentic form, and to impose this form also upon those portions which, although derived from the monastic organisations of the various provinces, were gradually incorporated into the canon. In connection with the designation of the canonical language as Māgadhi, Windisch also refers to the Ārṣa, the language of the Jaina-suttas. It is called Ardha-Māgadhi, i.e., "half-Māgadhi." Now it is surely significant that the Ardha-Māgadhi differs from Māgadhi proper on similar points as Pāli.² For Ardha-Māgadhi too does not change the r into l, and in the noun inflexion it shows the ending -o instead of Māgadhiic -e at least in many metrical pieces. On the other hand, as I believe to have myself observed, there are many remarkable analogies precisely between Ārṣa and Pāli in vocabulary and morphology. Pāli therefore might be regarded as a kind of Ardha-Māgadhi. I am unable to endorse the view, which has apparently gained much currency at present, that the Pāli canon is translated from some other dialect (according to Lüders, from old Ardha-Māgadhi). The peculiarities of its language may be fully explained on the hypothesis of (a) a gradual development and integration of various elements from different parts of India, (b) a long oral tradition extending over several centuries, and (c) the fact that the texts were written down in a different country.

IX. I consider it wiser not to hastily reject the tradition altogether but rather to understand it to mean that Pāli was indeed no pure Māgadhi, but was yet a form of the popular speech which was based on Māgadhi and which was used by Buddha himself. It would appear therefore that the Pāli canon represents an effort¹ to reflect the Buddhavacanam in its original form. This theory would have been refuted if it could be proved that the Pāli canon must have been translated from some other dialect. Sylvain Lévi² has tried to prove this. He points out a number of termini such as ekodi, saṃghādisesa, etc., in which a sonant appears in the place of a surd. From these data he infers the existence of a pre-canonical language in which the softening of intervocalic surds was the rule. I do not consider Lévi's arguments to be convincing. Firstly, because all these etymologies given by Lévi are uncertain. Secondly, because the softening of surds takes place not only in the "termini" but also in a large number of other words.³ Moreover, in my opinion, no special case should be made out of this phonological phenomenon. For they merely represent one of the various dialectical peculiarities which are met with in Pāli. Thus, for instance, we find equally frequent cases of the opposite process (hardening of a sonant) as well as various other features which considered together prove the mixed character of the Pāli language.

X. If Pāli is the form of the Māgadhi used by Buddha, then the Pāli canon would have to be regarded as the most authentic form of the Buddhavacanam, even though the teachings of the master might have been preached and learnt from the very beginning in the various provinces of India in the respective local dialects. This conclusion has been drawn—wrongly, in my opinion—from Cullavagga V. 33.1 = Vin. II.139. Here it is related, how two Bhikkhus complained to the master that the members of the order were of various origins, and that they distorted the words of Buddha by their own dialect (sakāya niruttiyā). They therefore proposed that the words of Buddha should be translated into Sanskrit verses (chandaso). Buddha however refused to grant the request and added: anuṣānāmi bhikkhāve sakāya niruttiyā buddhavacanam pariyāpunitum. Rhys Davids and Oldenberg¹ translate this passage by "I allow you,² oh brethren, to learn the words of the Buddhas each in his own dialect." This interpretation however is not in harmony with that of Buddhaghosa, according to whom it has to be translated by "I ordain the words of Buddha to be learnt in his own language (i.e., in Māgadhi, the language used by Buddha himself)."³ After repeated examinations of this passage I have come to the conclusion that we have to stick to the explanation given by Buddhaghosa. Neither the two monks nor Buddha himself could have thought of preaching in different dialects in different cases. Here the question is merely whether the words of Buddha might be translated into Sanskrit or not. This is however clearly forbidden by the Master, at first negatively and then positively by the injunction beginning with anujānāmi. The real meaning of this injunction is, as is also best in consonance with Indian spirit, that there can be no other form of the words of Buddha than in which the Master himself had preached. Thus even in the life-time of Buddha people were concerned about the way in which his teaching might be handed down as accurately as possible, both in form and in content. How much more must have been the anxiety of the disciples after his death ! The external form was however Māgadhi, though according to tradition it is Pāli.⁴

² In the text there is no yo ! But I think this word was indispensable for the interpretation given by the English translators in order to get something with which to connect sakāya niruttiyā. According to the actual text saka may be connected only with buddhavacanam. For the meaning "ordains, decides" for anujānāti, cf. Vin., I. 45²⁵, 83³¹, 85¹⁹, 24, 94¹³, etc.

I. THE CANONICAL LITERATURE

1. Origin and Authenticity of the Canon

1. The Pāli canon is known under the name Tipiṭaka (Skr. Tripiṭaka), i.e., "Threefold basket," because it consists of three main parts: Vinaya-Piṭaka, Sutta-Piṭaka and Abhidhamma-Piṭaka. It is the canon of the Theravāda school which itself belongs to the Vibhajjavādins.¹ According to tradition, which on essential points is probably quite dependable,² its compilation began immediately after the death of Buddha about 483 B.C.,³ at the council of Rājagaha. It was further developed a hundred years later at the council of Vesālī, the chief cause of which was the cropping up of certain wrong views which were threatening to undermine monastic discipline. At the third council under king Asoka (264 to 227 B.C.)⁴ the canon in all its essential parts seems to have been brought to a formal completion.

¹ On the relation between the two designations, see Oldenberg, Vin. I, p. XLI ff.; Geiger, Mahāvamsa transl., App. B, 14b.

² The history of the councils is based mainly on CV. XI, LII = Vin. II, 284 ff.; Oppvs. Chap. 4-5. 54, 734 ff.; Mhvs. Chap. 3-5. Also Buddhaghosa's Samantapāsādikā, Introd. (Oldenberg, Vin. III. 283 ff.) and Sumaṅgalavilāsini (ed. Rhys Davids and Carpenter, PTF. 1886 p. 2 ff.). Further Geiger, Mhvs. transl., p. More sceptical about the tradition are Minayeff, Recherches sur le Bouddhisme, trad. par Pompignan, Paris 1894; L. de La Vallée Poussin, Conciles Bouddhiques I, Le Musée N. S. 6, 1905, p. 213 ff. (cf. I.A. 37, 1 ff., 81 ff.); Barth, Rev. de l'hist. des religions 5, 1882, p. 237 ff.; 28, 1893, p. 277 ff.; 42, 1900, p. 74 ff.; Sylv. ³ For the sake of brevity I only refer to Winternitz, Ibid., p. 4, as well as the data given by me in Mhvs. transl., p. XXII ff.

⁴ Kashi-Prasad Jayaswal (Journ. As. Soc. Bengal, N.S. IX, Nr. 8 and 9, p. 317 ff.) has calculated the year of Asoka's accession to the throne to be 276 B.C., and his coronation at 272 B.C..

This council is specially associated with the formation of the Abhidhamma, for according to tradition, the Thera Tissa Moggaliputta is said to have recited at it the Kathāvatthupakkaraṇa. This book contains the refutation of 252 different wrong teachings and is included among the works of Abhidhamma.¹ The third council was also of importance on account of the resolution to send missions to neighbouring countries. The tradition is here supported in an interesting manner by epigraphical discoveries.² Mahinda (Skr. Mahendra), the son of king Asoka,³ went to Ceylon as the messenger of the teachings of Buddha. He brought to Ceylon the canon in its Theravāda form.

2. The gradual formation of the canon may be imagined to have come about in the way, that in particular monastic orders the memories of the speeches and dialogues of the master were kept alive so far as they were known at all. Hence the introductory words evaṃ me sutaṃ "so have I heard." At larger gatherings, as at the councils, these particular contributions were examined and given monastic sanction in favourable cases. In this way the material grew up continually and was classified into particular collections. Such an origin of the canon renders it understandable that already at the beginning there was given the possibility of the formation of different schools.⁴ On the occasion of the second council, therefore, there arose in the church the schism of the Theravādins and the Mahāsāṃghikas. The main body of the canon therefore should have been collected in the first two centuries after the death of Buddha. Titles such as dharmakathika, peṭakin, suttantika, *pañcanekāyika*⁵ occurring in inscriptions of the 3rd century B.C. prove that already at that time the canon must have been divided in the same manner as in later days. Of the seven texts which were specially recommended for study by king Asoka in Bhabra edict, four or five may be traced in the

³ According to the tradition recorded by Hiuen-tsang in the Si-yu-ki, Mahinda was Asoka's brother. Cf. St. Julien, Mém. sur les Contrées Occidentales par Hiouen-Tsang II. 140.

⁴ The story of Purāṇa in CV.XI. 1. 11 (= Vin. II, 289 f.) is very important in this respect. Purāṇa comes to Rājagaha where Buddha's disciples had assembled after his death. He is asked to take part in the council but he courteously declines saying that he would prefer to adhere to what he had himself heard from the Master's lips.

⁵ Cf. Hultzsch, ZDMG. 40.58; Bühler, Epigraphia Indica II. 93; Rhys Davids, Buddhist India, p. 167 f.; Winternitz, op. cit., p. 13 ff

Pāli canon with tolerable certainty.¹ It is also very remarkable that the name of Asoka, who is so much praised in all Buddhist orders, has never been mentioned in the canon. The assumption is justified therefore that in Asoka's time the formation of the canon had been practically completed. In the first few centuries however the canon used to be handed down orally. The Tipiṭaka along with its commentary Aṭṭhakathā was fixed in writing, according to a notice in Dps. and Mhvs., which gives the impression of being quite trustworthy, only under king Vaṭṭagāmanī, i.e., a few decades before the beginning of the Christian era.²

3. Many peculiarities of the Pāli canon may be understood only if the way in which it came about is kept in view and it is remembered that it was handed down orally for nearly four hundred years. As the contributions to the canon came from different places at different times various contradictions could not be avoided, as has been pointed out by R. O. Franke.³ We can thus also understand the schematic character of the canon and the numerous repetitions occurring in it. It is in the nature of an oral tradition that events and situations of common occurrence should be described in stereotyped form in the same words.⁴ Much of what repeatedly occurs in the text was without doubt compulsory for the monks to learn. I consider as such the continually repeated synonymous expressions, the discussions in question and answer which almost look like formularies for the examinations which the monks had to pass,⁵ the parables and similes, and the mnemonic verses. It has to be pointed out however that apparently even from the beginning the sacred texts were used for purposes of preaching.⁶ Under such circumstances it was unavoidable that those texts which were familiar to every Bhikkhu should again and again thrust themselves into the sacred tradition. Of particular importance is the fact that not at all very seldom in one and the same collection two or more pieces follow each other having absolutely the same contents and wording, distinguished merely by the names of persons and places.¹ It is clear that in these cases we have to do with differences in tradition dating from the very beginning. When the collection of individual pieces began, the redactors quite naïvely arranged the variants one after another without trying to solve the problem of their authenticity. And finally, also the influence of purely literary activity might not have been quite negligible when the collections were compiled and written down. It is clear that the main tendency was to offer the material in as full a form as possible. It is not at all surprising therefore that from collections which were already existing whole pieces were taken into new collections whenever there seemed to be a sufficient reason to do so.² It however remains unknown which of the various forces was most potent in any particular case, and it is not at all unlikely that this question will never be solved satisfactorily.

4. It will be clear from what has been said above, in what sense we can speak of the authenticity of the canon. None will claim to day that all that is contained in it is derived from Buddha himself. But without doubt it contains a mass of utterances, speeches and teachings of the Master, as they were impressed on the memory of the disciples in their more or less accurate form. It is however impossible to read, e.g., the Mahāparinibbānasutta,³ without getting the impression that here we are confronted with the actual reminiscences of the last days of the Master. Other texts, on the other hand, might be imitations of existing types, which were at least impregnated with the spirit of Buddha. Others again are purely monastic fiction. Such is the case, for instance, when in the Vinaya all the individual regulations about suttanta mentioned in Mhvs. 15.4=Dps 13.13=M.III. 163 ff.; wrongly Mhvs. trans. (p. 97, f.n. 2). Cf. further, DhCo. I. 129 ff.

¹ Thus, for instance, Sutta 124, 125, 126 in S. IV. 109 f.; also Sutta 191, 192=S. IV. 162 ff. Cf. further S.I. 220-222 with 224, etc.

³ D. II. 72 ff.

monastic discipline are attributed to the Master. Here too the formulated laws were modelled after certain types. But, on the other hand, we should not be too sceptical. The main body of the canon had at all events come into being in the first two centuries after the death of Buddha—at a time when the memory of the master might have been still fresh.¹ And we have indeed no reason to doubt the honest intention of the Bhikkhus. If we always keep in view the fundamental difference between the Greek and the Indian mode of thought, then it may perhaps yet be said that the picture of Buddha stands out of the Pāli canon in the same way as that of Socrates out of the writings of Xenophon and Plato.

2. Classification of the Pāli Canon, Editions, Translations

5. Beside the division of the canon into three Piṭakas “baskets”² the tradition of southern Buddhism knows also other divisions of the canon.³ Thus 1. the division into five Nikāyas consisting of the first four Nikāyas of the Sutta-Piṭaka (D., M., S., A.), as well as the Khuddaka-Nikāya which in this connection comprehends also Vinaya and Abhidhamma.—2. The division into nine Aṅgas⁴ is only formal. They are Sutta, Geyya, Veyyākaraṇa, Gāthā, Udāna, Itivuttaka, Jātaka, Abbhutadhamma and Vedalla.⁵ By “Sutta” is meant all the dialogues of Buddha along with some pieces out of the Suttanipāta. All pieces composed in mixed prose and verse are called “Geyya.” The “Veyyākaraṇa” includes the

Sometimes the canonical works themselves betray the fact that they were composed long after Buddha. Thus, already in the Theragāthās, when Pārāpariya (v. 920-949) complains about the degeneration of discipline within the monastic order. In Petavatthu IV. 3.1 is mentioned a King of Surāṭṭha, named Piṅgalaka. According to the commentary (PvCo. p. 244) he should have lived two hundred years after the death of Buddha. This should give us however the lowest time limit, excepting of course occasional later additions.

Abhidhamma and some other texts. "Gāthās" are pieces composed solely in verse. The titles "Udāna," "Itivuttaka" and "Jātaka" will come up again for discussion below as parts of the Khuddaka Nikāya. The Suttas which deal with supernatural conditions and powers are called "Abbhutadhamma." The meaning of the title "Vedalla"¹ is not clear.—Finally, from quite a mechanical point of view, the canon is divided into 84,000 Dhammakkhanda,² i.e., individual pieces or lectures.

6. Editions. 1. The edition in Siamese script printed in Bangkok at the cost of King Chulalongkorn in 39 vols. in which are still wanting the Jātakas, Avadāna, Vimāna- and Petavatthu, Thera- and Therīgāthā, Buddhavamsa, Cariyāpiṭaka. A monumental new edition of the whole Tipiṭaka in 45 vols. was executed by the late King of Siam (in Siamese script, printed in Bangkok).

2. The Rangoon Edition of the "Hanthawaddy Printing Works" in Burmese script (not available to me), 20 vols., containing Vinaya- and Abhidhamma-Piṭaka, as well as the Dīgha-Nikāya of the Sutta-Piṭaka.³

3. Editions of individual texts, printed in Sinhalese script in Ceylon: Dīgha-Nikāya published by W. A. Samarasekara, Colombo 1904 f. (see JPTS. 1912, p. 142); Majjhima-Nikāya, Colombo 1895 ff. 3. Vinaya-Piṭaka

7 The *Vinaya-Piṭaka*¹ contains the monastic rules of the order of Buddhist monks. It consists of the following parts:

1. Suttavibhaṅga: (a) Pārājika, (b) Pācittiya ;
2. Khandhaka (a) Mahāvagga, (b) Cullavagga.
3. Parivāra.

•1. The Suttavibhaṅga is based on the Pātimokkha.² This is very probably one of the oldest texts, containing the formulary for the ceremony of confession, as it was performed on Uposatha-days in the monastic orders. The SV. is a commentary on this text. The individual transgressions are divided into categories in the order of their seriousness: pārājikā dhammā entailing excommunication from the order, saṃghādisesā dh., aniyatā dh., then pācittiya dhammā, pāṭidesaniyā dh., sekhiyā dh. In SV. a story is always given at first stating when the particular transgression was committed for the first time. Then follows in the words of the Pātimokkha the respective regulation for the expiation of the transgression, as well as a philological explanation of it and a casuistic discussion of individual cases and possibilities. To the Mahāvibhaṅga meant for the monks there is added at the end of the SV. also a Bhikkhunīvibhaṅga of similar character.—2. The Khandhakas represent the positive counterpart to the SV. They contain the regulations which determine the course of life within the monastic order. The Mahāvagga consists of the first ten Khandhakas. Its introductory chapter gives a history of the time, from the Sambodhi to the founding of the first Saṅgha in Benares. The Cullavagga is but the continuation of the MV. At its end are added two supplementary Khandhakas (XI and XII) which contain the story of the first two Councils. Closely connected with the Khandhakas are the kammavācā, which are formularies for the various acts of the Church to be undertaken by the order. Seven such formularies are known, of which the upasampadā-kammavācā, the formulary for the ceremony of the initiation of a member into the order, is still much used among the southern Buddhists.¹ All the kammavācā known to us agree with the corresponding regulations of the Khandhakas, which are themselves only a collection of such formularies with more detailed explanation and justification.—3. The Parivāra, consisting of nineteen sections, is of later origin. In all probability it was originated only in Ceylon. This is certain of the introductory verses.² It is a manual of instruction about the contents of the Vinaya—a mātikā (table of contents) without any value of its own.

4. Sutta-Piṭaka

8. To the Sutta-Piṭaka belong firstly the first four Nikāyas—Dīgha-, Majjhima-, Saṃyutta and Aṅguttara-Nikāya. They are the "collections" of Suttas or Suttantas, i.e., of speeches and dialogues of Buddha, or occasionally of his first disciples with their followers. Their form is prose sprinkled with verses. The individual Suttas vary according to the place and time of their origin. Instead of nikāya also the term *āgama*³ is used: Dīghāgama, etc. This is the expression universally used in northern Buddhist literature. The Sutta-Piṭaka

² It is said in it of Mahinda and the other messengers that they came "hæreto" (siddha i.e., to Ceylon), and then a number of famous Theras of the island are mentioned, including even Ariṭṭha, the nephew of king Devānappiyatissa, Mhvs. 19.66.

is the chief source of our knowledge of the dhamma. It is therefore often directly called dhamma as opposed to vmaya.¹

9. 1. The Dīgha-Nikāya "long collection" contains the longest Suttas.² As a collection it was complete already at a very early time, the Brahmajālasutta of D. is quoted in Samyutta-Nikāya IV. 286¹². R. O. Franke³ wanted to prove that the D. is a "homogeneously conceived literary work" and "a ho is work of some literatus." This is certainly wrong.⁴ Such a w militates against the fact that also inside the D. there are four con adictions just as in the canon taken as a whole. The external relations which Franke⁵ has proved to exist between individual Suttas only explain why a particular Sutta came to occupy a particular place in the collection. Nothing more can be inferred from them. A peculiar importance attaches to the 16. Sutta of the D., the Mahāparinibbāna-sutta,⁶ a running description of the events of the last weeks of the life of Buddha.—The number of Suttas in D. is 34; it is divided into three parts (Vagga): Sīlakkhandhavagga (1-13), Mahāvagga (14-28), Pāṭikavagga (24-34).

2. The Majjhima-Nikāya "middle collection" contains Suttas of middle length.⁷ Their value is very unequal; some (e.g., Nr. 82, 83, 93) belong to the most beautiful pieces in the canon.—The number of Suttas in M. is 152, divided into three groups of fifty (pañṇāsa): Mūlapañṇāsa (1-50), Majjhimapañṇāsa (51-100), Uparipañṇāsa (101-152). As in the case of D, in M. too R. O. Franke would recognise no collection but an artificial literary work (schriftstellerisch verfasstes Werk), to which the Suttanipāta stands in relation of dependence.¹

10. The third and fourth Nikāyas are more pronouncedly later and supplementary collections. In extent they considerably exceed D. and M.—3. The *Samyutta-Nikāya*² gets its designation from the fact that its Suttas are grouped together (samyutta) according to their contents. The Sakka-Samyutta, for instance, contains those Suttas in which the god Sakka plays a rôle, the Bojjhaṅga-Samyutta is composed of those pieces in which the seven “elements of the highest knowledge” are discussed,³ etc. The most famous Sutta in S. is the Dhammacakkapavattanasutta, which contains the first sermon of Buddha with which he began his career as a world teacher⁴—The number of Samyuttas is 56, and that of the Suttas 2,889; the whole is divided into 5 parts (vagga).

4 The Aṅguttara-Nikāya (literally: “by-one-limb-more-collection”)⁵ is divided into 11 sections (nipāta). They are called Eka-Nipāta “section of one,” Duka-Nipāta “section of two,” etc., up to Ekādasa-Nipāta “section of eleven.” Every section contains Suttas dealing with subjects which are in some way or other connected with the number of the corresponding section. The first Sutta in the Eka-Nipāta, for instance, deals with the one, which more than anything else darkens the mind of man, that is, woman. The section of five begins with Suttas⁶ which deal with the pañca sekkhabalāni, etc. Various combinations are resorted to in the Nipātas of higher designations for which no corresponding subject could be found. Thus Sutta 28 of the "section of nine" is made of 5+4, Sutta 11 of the "section of eleven" of 3+3+3+2, etc.¹ In this scholastic method of grouping of subjects the A. resembles the Abhidhamma.—The number of Suttas is at least 2,308; the Nipātas are divided into vaggas containing as a rule 10 Suttas each. The largest number of Suttas contained in a vagga is 262; the lowest number is 7.

11. The 5th Nikāya of the Sutta-Piṭaka is the Khuddaka-Nikāya "the collection of short pieces". It contains texts of the most diverse characters, and it is significant that among the Buddhists of Ceylon, Burma and Siam there is no complete agreement as to the pieces belonging to it. In Ceylon Khuddaka-Nikāya is considered to consist of: 1 the Khuddakapāṭha,² a collection composed of only 9 short Sutta-like pieces. It is clearly a prayer book of daily use. Three of the Suttas (Nrs 5, 6, 9) occur also in Suttanipāta. Quite popular in character is the Tirokuddasutta (Nr 7) which deals with the Petas, the departed souls. It bears the character of a magic hymn. Particular verses out of it are still recited in Ceylon and Siam on the occasion of the cremation of dead bodies, as is reported by Seidenstücker.—2 The Dhammapada³ is a collection of 423 memorial verses—a famous anthology of Indian Spruchweisheit. According to contents it is divided into 26 parts (vaggas). Sometimes several consecutive verses form one close group—a small poem in itself. More than half the verses may be found also in other canonical texts. The compiler of the Dh. however certainly did not depend solely on these canonical texts but also made use of the great mass of pithy sayings which formed a vast floating literature in India.—3. The Udāna⁴ is a collection of solemn sayings of Buddha, mostly in metrical form. Accompanying stories in prose give the occasions on which they were uttered. Altogether we have 82 stories divided into 8 parts (vagga).—4. The *Itivuttaka*¹ "Thus-has-been-said" closely resembles the Udāna. It contains the Master's sayings on morality. The number of the individual pieces, which are composed in a mixture of prose and verse, is 112. They are called Suttas and they either repeat the same thoughts at first in prose and then in verse, or in such a manner that the portions in prose and verse supplement each other. Like A. the Iv. is divided into Nipātas (Eka-, Duka-, Tika-, Catukka-Nipāta), and the latter are again divided into vaggas.

12. 5. The *Suttanipāta*² of the Khuddaka-Nikāya is very archaic in character. Its first four parts (vagga) consist of 54 pieces; the 5th, called Pārāyanavagga, is a running poem in 18 sub-sections, and it contains the questions which the 16 disciples of Bāvarī ask Buddha, as well as their answers. Some pieces of the Sn. are like Ākhyāna-poems in character. Narrative stanzas sometimes alternate in them with dialogue-stanzas, as for instance in the Nālakasutta (III. 11), or, as in the Selasutta (III. 7), the speeches are in verse and the introductory or connecting portions in prose.—6. *Vimānavatthu*³ and 7. *Petavatthu*⁴ belong to the later and the least happy parts of the canon. Their later origin—perhaps a short time before the third council—is proved less by their contents than by their language which is not always impeccable, the mention of *Piṅgalaka*⁵ etc. The Vimānavatthu describes the grandeur of celestial palaces, in which the Devas live in reward of some good act performed in lifetime. It consists of 83 stories in seven parts (vagga). The Petavatthu consists of 51 stories in four vaggas, and it describes the sorrowful fate of the spirits or restless souls (peta), which have to expiate for the sins committed in lifetime.

18. Like Vv. and Pv. also 8. the Theragāthā and 9. Therīgāthā¹ are metrical in form. These are collections of strophes which are attributed to renowned monks (Thera) and nuns (Therī). Often several strophes together form short poems. There is no doubt that these strophes contain much that belongs to the authentic Buddhist literature of the earliest times. Many verses however might have been fabricated by the collectors or the redactors on the basis of fragmentary reminiscences. As for the authors, the ascription of verses to a particular monk or a particular nun might in most cases be quite arbitrary. It is however not impossible that in some cases the ascription of verses to these authors is based on a dependable tradition. The Thera- and the Therīgāthās can on no account be regarded as a "homogeneous work of a single intellect," even if due concession is made in this respect for the notorious utilisation of existing Gāthās.² The number of Theragāthās is 1,279, and that of Therīgāthās 522; the former are divided into 21 and the latter into 16 Nīpātas, called Eka-, Dukanipāta, etc., according as they contain one strophe or more attributed to one and the same author.—10. The Jātakas³ are a collection of strophes which from the beginning presuppose accompanying prose narratives. Each of the latter contains the story of the Buddha in one of his earlier existences. Only the verses however were regarded as canonical; the prose narrative was left more or less to the discretion of the reciters. The strophes are very different in character. Sometimes they give the morals of the story, sometimes the questions and answers of the characters in the story form the subject of the verses, and sometimes the verses represent both the dialogue and the narrative. In the later Jātakas the narrative verses are predominant and they often combine to form ballads or epic poems. In the face of such diversity I cannot understand how "the mass of the Jātaka-Gāthās as a whole" may be regarded as "the personal product of a single author."⁴ The Jātaka-verses are doubtless a "collection." This is suggested also by its quite artificial division into Nipātas as in the case of Thera- and Therīgāthās. The "section of ones" (Ekanipāta) consists of verses of which only one at a time belongs to a particular story; in the "section of twos" two verses belong to each story, etc

14. The last pieces of the Kh. N are 11 the Niddesa, a commentary to a part of the Suttanipāta, traditionally ascribed to Sāriputta. This text has not yet been edited.—12. The Paṭisambhidāmagga,¹ dealing with the knowledge attained by the Arahant, belongs rather to the Abhidhamma literature both in form and contents.—13. The Apadāna,² most parts of which are still unedited, is a collection of legends in verse, in which are glorified the noble deeds (Apadāna) of Buddhistic saints in previous existences. This work is certainly one of the youngest in the canon, but hardly younger than the Avadānas of the Sanskrit Buddhist literature.—14. The Buddhavaṃsa³ is also metrical in form; in 28 cantos it delineates the story of 24 former Buddhas as well as of Gotama Buddha, recited by the latter himself.—15. The Cariyāpiṭaka⁴ is a selection of 25 metrical Jātakas. Buddha himself explains in them how in previous existences he had fulfilled the ten Pāramitās "perfections," which are the pre-condition of Buddhahood. In the first four Nikāyas the doctrine of the Pāramitās is still unknown. Winterintz⁵ rightly characterises the Cp. as the artificial production of "an excellent monk who was anything but a poet" and who manufactured edifying stories for the elucidation of the doctrine on the basis of the existing Jātakas. There were various recensions of the Cp.⁶ One of them is mentioned in the Nīlānakathā of the Jātaka-book, but only two-thirds of the stories agree with ours.

5. Abhidhamma-Piṭaka

15. The Abhidhamma is not a systematic philosophy, but merely a supplement to the dharmma.⁶ The works belonging to it mostly contain merely detailed elucidations of various topics dealing with ethics, psychology or theory of knowledge which are mentioned in the canon. Its form is throughout scholastic. The themes are schematically classified; they are not properly defined but rather described by multiplying synonyms, and they are brought into all possible combinations considered as they are from the most different points of view. The Abhidhamma is highly venerated particularly in Burma. The first suggestions of the Abhidhamma are found already in the dry and schematic enumerations in the Āṅguttara-Nikāya of the Sutta-Piṭaka, the last two Suttantas of the *Dīgha-Nikāya*¹ and similar pieces.

16. The following seven works belong to the Abhidhamma: 1. *Dhammasaṅgani*² "enumeration of psychical phenomena,"—a psychological work—2. *Vibhaṅga*³ "differentiation," a supplement and continuation of the preceding.—3. Kathāvatthu,⁴ which has been already referred to in 1. It is perhaps historically the most important book in the Abhidhamma. I consider the tradition about its origin to be quite trustworthy.—4. The *Puggalapaññatti*⁵ "description of individuals" deals with the various personalities and characters in the form of questions and answers.—5. The Dhātukathā or the *Dhātukathāpakaraṇa*⁶ "discussion of the elements" deals with the various psychic phenomena and their relation to the categories.—6. The *Yamaka*⁷ "book of pairs" is a work on applied logic, and it derives its name apparently from the fact that all psychic phenomena are considered in it in the light of a particular thesis and its opposite antithesis.—7. The Paṭṭhānappakarāṇa or *Mahāpaṭṭhāna*⁸ is a voluminous work. It deals with causality, but is very difficult to understand. The best European expert in the Abhidhamma, Mrs. Rhys Davids, says of this

Supplement : The Paritta

17. The Paritta or Mahāparitta² is a collection of canonical texts for popular magical use. In Ceylon such Paritta-ceremonies (Sgh. pirit) are still in vogue. As Seidenstücker says, such ceremonies are performed on various occasions, such as the building of a new house, death, illness, etc.³ On these occasions the texts collected in the Paritta are recited. There are altogether 28 pieces, of which 7 are taken from the Khuddakapāṭha (cf 11. 1), which seems to have been a predecessor of the Paritta. Also in Burma the Paritta is held in high esteem by the laity. It is not known when the present Paritta was compiled. Magical rites are, however, known in Buddhism from the earliest times. It is said of Buddha himself,⁴ that he taught a "snake charm" to his disciples: it is significant that the purpose of the charm is to completely envelop the snakes with one's own spirit of benevolence (mettena cittena pharitum), so that it may not do any harm to anybody. It is also said in the book of Milinda that the parittā were taught by Buddha.⁵ Of the six texts which are then cited as examples, five are found in our Paritta. The commentary of the Dhammapada relates⁶ of a great exorcism, which was performed by Ānanda during the life-time of Buddha by means of the Ratanasutta of the Suttanipāta.

II. THE NON-CANONICAL LITERATURE

I Period

From the Completion of the Canon to the 5th Century A.D.

18. According to the Indian tradition it was Mahinda who brought to Ceylon along with the canon also an Aṭṭhakathā, a commentary on it. The authenticity of this tradition however cannot be proved. It is at all events certain that in Ceylon already at an early time there was a commentary literature of considerable magnitude and multifarious contents. On this commentary literature is based not only the later commentaries such as those of Buddhaghosa, but also the historical literature beginning with the Dipavaṃsa. This Aṭṭhakathā of Ceylon seems to have been still existing and accessible even in the 12th century.¹ In the opening verses of his Vinaya-commentary, the Samantapāsādikā, Buddhaghosa mentions the Aṭṭhakathā as the source of his own work.² Buddhaghosa says that the Aṭṭhakathā was composed in the (old) Sinhalese language. In order to make it accessible to the Bhikkhus, and at the suggestion of the Thera Buddhāsiri, he translated it into Pāli. The chief source was the Mahā-Aṭṭhakathā; but he turned into account also the materials of other commentaries, such as the Mahāpaccarī and the Kurundī-Aṭṭhakathā. The two *Tīkā*s on Smp., the Vajirabuddhi and the Sāratthadīpanī,³ mention moreover the Cullapaccarī, the Anlhaṭṭhakathā the Pannavāra, and the Samkhepaṭṭhakathā. According to the Saddhammasaṅgaha (14th century) the Mahā-Aṭṭhakathā was the commentary on the Sutta-Piṭaka, the Mahāpaccarī on the Abhidhamma, and the Kurundī on Vinaya.⁴ Also the *Gandhavaṃsa*⁵ mentions the same three Aṭṭha- kathās, and in fact the Aṭṭhakathā par excellence (i.e. , the Mahā-A.) is ascribed to the Porāṇācariyā, and the two others are regarded as works of the Gandhācariyā—which clearly shows that they are later. Nothing has been directly preserved of all these old Ceylonese Aṭṭhakathās.

¹ This is quite evident from the data of the Mahāvamsa-Tīkā, ZDMG 63 549-550. R. O. Franke's objection (D. XLV³⁵) may be met simply by consulting the contents of the passages of the Mhvs. Tī. quoted by me.

⁴ Sdhs., JPTS 1890, p. 55f. Cf. also Minayeff, Recherches sur le Bouddhisme, p. 284. It is however remarkable that Buddhaghosa does not mention the Kurundī as the chief source of his Smp.

19. There are preserved from the time before Buddhaghosa: 1. The Nettipakaraṇa "book of guidance," also called simply Netti, and 2. the Peṭakopadesa "instruction on the Piṭaka" or the Petaka.¹ In Burma these two works are regarded as canonical.² As the titles show, they serve as introduction to the teachings of Buddhism. According to tradition they were composed by Mahākaccāyana, one of the most prominent disciples of Buddha.³ This is however certainly not true. The author was probably Kaccāyana by name and was hence identified with the renowned disciple of Buddha. The same was the case also with the grammarian Kaccāyana. The problem of the time of origin of these two works has been discussed by E. Hardy⁴ in the light of both internal and external evidences. He assigns to them a date about the beginning of the Christian era. In connection with the Netti and the Petaka let us also mention 3. the *Suttasamgaha*⁵ "collection of the Suttas." It is the only comprehensive anthology of Suttas as well as of texts such as Vimānavatthu, etc. We know nothing about the time of its origin or about its author. This work has however to be mentioned here because, along with Netti, Petaka and the book of Mihinda, it is considered in Burma to belong to the "canonical" Khuddaka-Nikāya.⁶

20. The *Milindapañhā*⁷ "Questions of Mihinda," contains in the style of Suttas a dialogue between King Mihinda and the Thera Nāga sena about the most important problems of Buddhism.⁸ In contents

the book represents the orthodox point of view of the Theravādins. As the quotations occurring in it show, the canon known to the author does not differ in anything from the Pāli canon.¹ Milinda is the Indian form of the name of the Graeco-Bactrian king Menander (end of the 2nd century B.C.), who was evidently well disposed towards Buddhism, but of whom it remains unknown whether he actually became a Buddhist.² Our Milindapañhā is very probably based on a Buddhist Sanskrit work, composed in North-West India about the beginning of the Christian era.³ The translation into Pāli took place in Ceylon, already before Buddhaghosa who quotes it repeatedly. The original work was much shorter as the Chinese translations show.⁴ The real contents of the work ended with Chapter 2, at the end of which we find in our Pāli text the remark: Nāgasena-Milindarāja-pañhā niṭṭhitā. Its introduction too was much shorter in the original than in the Pāli version. It was considerably extended in Ceylon by various additions after existing models.⁵ It is not improbable that there were various versions of it in Pāli; also the fragments of a metrical version are found in the Pāli text

21. To the works of the age before Buddhaghosa belong also the 'Dīpavaṃsa' "the island chronicle,"⁶ a history of Ceylon up to the end of the reign of Mahāsena (325-352 A.D.). As Buddhaghosa knows the Dpvs., it must have been composed between 352 and about 450 A.D. Regarded from the literary point of view it is certainly a very weak performance. The author possessed only a very imperfect knowledge of Pāli and in language he is wholly dependent on his sources by studying which he collected his materials. R. O. Franke was quite right in all this.¹ But he is quite wrong when, confusing form with contents, he refuses to recognise in Dpvs any historical value. In contents the Chronicle is based on the historical portions of the old Aṭṭhakathā. That the informations given in it are not quite imaginary² is proved by its frequent agreement with the tradition current in continental India. The Dpvs is therefore the vehicle of an old historical tradition, and it is the duty of historical criticism to examine it minutely and assess its worth.

⁵ Thus, as Rhys Davids, Ibid, I, p. 8, f.-n. 2 has noticed, the story of the dispute with Parāṇa-Kassapa and Makkhali-Gosāla is only an echo of the introduction to the Sāmaññaphalasuttanta, D.I. 47. The story of Nāgasena's relation with Rohaṇa (Milp. 8th ff) corresponds, as I have to point out, exactly to the story related in Mbvs. 5. 181 ff.

II Period

From the 5th to the 11th Century

22. The beginning of the 2nd period is characterised by commentaries which were composed on the Tipiṭaka and which are based on the Ceylonese Aṭṭhakathā. Buddhaghosa is the greatest figure in this commentary literature. He was born in a Brahmin family of Northern India and came to Ceylon during the reign of king Mahānāma (458-480). He studied the Tipiṭaka and the Aṭṭhakathā in the Mahāvihāra of Anurādhapura and afterwards showed a very fruitful literary activity. The details about his life as handed down by tradition are probably nothing but legends.³ The commentaries composed by him on the Tipiṭaka are the following⁴ :

² When Franke, JPTS. 1908, p. 1 says "that in the absence of any sources, the last-named work—namely, precisely this same Dpvs.—must be considered as standing unsupported on its own tottering feet," he is expressing as clearly as possible that the author of the Chronicle had freely invented his data! Who can however say that seriously?

23. Whether the Jātakatṭhavaṇṇanā,² the commentary on the Jātaka-verses mentioned above in 13 under Nr. 10, was also composed by Buddhaghosa, is not certain. The Jātaka-commentary³ as it appears in Fausbøll's edition, contains in all 547 stories, which are referred to former births of the Buddha and which are therefore called Jātakas "birth stories." Every story consists of four parts: 1. the canonical Gāthās, 2. the Atitavātthūni, "the stories of the past," i.e., the prose narratives belonging to the Gāthās; 3. the Paccuppannavātthūni "stories of the present," in which is described the occasion on which the particular Jātaka was told, along with the appended samodhānāni, in which is mentioned what characters have been assumed at present by the persons in the Jātaka; 4. the Veyyākaraṇāni, the "commentaries," in which the verses are explained word by word.⁴ The whole work is preceded

An excellent treatment of the subject is given by Winternitz, Buddh. Lit., pp. 113-56 (1938). I am inclined to attach more importance to the Jātakas as a source of knowledge about Indian culture about Buddha's time than Winternitz is prepared to do. I agree with the judgment given by Bühler, Indian Studies III (Sitzungsber. d. Wiener A. d. W., phil.-hist. Cl., Vol. CXXXII), p. 18 ff.

⁴ The various portions are not as sharply divided as may be suggested by the typographical contrivances in Fausbøll's edition. The hand of the redactor may be perceived often and again in the relations between them. Thus, e.g., in II. 295¹³, as Franke has pointed out, the phrase tam eva udapānam of the Atitavātthu belongs to the Paccuppannavātthu.

by an introduction called the Nidānakathā, which contains the story of the Buddha in his earlier existences and in his last birth up to the dedication of the Jetavanāvihāra in Sāvattthi.

In external form the Jātaka-commentary is in my opinion the work of a priest of Ceylon,¹ be he *Buddhaghosa*² or some other scholar not far from him in time. But the author has taken his material from the old Atthakathā.³ The Atthakathā again is based on oral tradition. There is no doubt that from the very beginning the Gāthās were handed down together with the stories—without the latter the former often give no sense at all. But the two portions have been handed down in different manners. The verse portion was fixed and unchangeable; but the prose portion containing the story was left more or less to the discretion of the rhapsodists. This also explains the contradictions which are sometimes found between the verses and the prose, and which was certainly present already in the Atthakathā.⁴ In short, the Jātakas are of the type of Ākhyānas,⁵ but it is far from the truth that all the Jātakas are of this type. Also stories without any verse were incorporated into the collection. Such are, for instance, the Jātakas with the Abhisambuddhagāthās,⁶ in which the Gāthās are not placed in the story itself but are fathered on Buddha at the end in the samodhāna. On the other hand, particularly in the Jātakas of the last books, in which the connecting prose shrinks almost into nothing in comparison with the verses, we see how the epic poetry is being gradually developed out of the older Ākhyānas. The Jātakas were utilised at a very early time for the purpose of didactic sermons. This explains their extraordinary popularity from the early days of the Buddhist church⁷ to the

² According to E. Müller, Gurupūjākanmudī, p. 54 ff., Buddhaghosa himself was the author.

³ The Atthakathā is often mentioned also in the Jātaka Thesaurus, and that in contradistinction from Pāli, the canonical text consisting of the Gāthās, JāCo. II. 294³, ⁹; 299⁴, ⁵; VI. 279²⁹ etc.

Soc.* XVIII. 1897, p. 183 ff.; Hultzsch, JRAS. 1912, p. 406; A. Foucher, L'art gréco-bouddhique du Gandhāra, I. 1905, p. 270 ff.

present day. The contents of the Jātakas are not however¹ specifically Buddhistic, but the common property of the Indian people as is proved, inter alia, by the numerous points of similarity and agreement between the Jātakas and the epics.¹ But the Buddhists have adapted these folk-tales and drawn them into their own sphere. Examples are not wanting which show how such folk-tales became Jātakas.² The process of incorporation takes place in the Paccuppannavatthūni. They are therefore later elements than the Atitavatthūni, although I believe that they too belonged to the Atṭhakathā. The differences between the scenes of action is very striking.³ The "stories of the past" are mostly referred to Western and Northern India (Gandhāraratṭha, etc.), but the "stories of the present" to the East (Kosalaratṭha, Magadharatṭha, etc.).

24. The Dhammapadatṭhakathā⁴ is later than the Jātaka-Commentary. According to the introductory verses, which are however quite stereotyped, it is the Pāli translation of an original Singhalese Atṭhakathā. In my opinion it is quite improbable that Buddhaghosa⁵ himself was the author of this commentary. But it is quite probable that this later work was greatly influenced by older prototypes. The Dhammapadatṭhakathā gives to every Gāthā or every group of Gāthās of the Dh. a particular story supposed to be a sermon (Dhammadesanā) of Buddha himself, at the end of which he recites the respective verses. These stories are more specifically Buddhistic than the Jātakas. Buddhistic priests and saints are the main characters in them. Not infrequently even Jātakas proper, the Atitavatthūni, are introduced: legends of a previous birth of one of the characters in the main story. Several of these interpolated stories may be traced in the Jātaka-Commentary,⁶ and, on the other hand, many of its main stories correspond to the Paccuppannavatthūni of the Jātakas.¹ The literary style is largely influenced by the numerous quotations from the Jātakas, the Nikāyas, from Vimāna- and Peta-vaithu, and from Suttanipāta and Vinaya.² The numerous cases of agreement in contents between the DhCo. and other works³ can naturally be explained also on the hypothesis of common borrowing from a third source.

25. Along with Buddhaghosa should be mentioned:—1. Buddhadatta, who was his contemporary according to tradition.⁴ He is reputed to be the author of the Madhuratthavilāsini (or Madhuratthapakāsani) a commentary on the Buddhavaṃsa, as well as of the Vinayavinicchaya, a compendium of the Vinaya in Pāli verse, the Uttaravinicchaya of similar contents,⁵ the Abhidhammāvatāra,⁶ a handbook of Buddhist metaphysics, as well as a Jinālamkāra, which is certainly not the work of the same name which will be described below (34.8) With the possible exception of the first named work, everything is problematic about them. There might have been a scholar named Buddhadatta at the time of Buddhaghosa, but it appears to me that the tradition has ascribed to him also the work of a namesake of his who lived at a later age.—2. Ānanda, of continental India,⁷ is the author of the Mūlatīkā or Abhidhamma-Mūlatīkā,⁸ the oldest sub-commentary to the Aṭṭhakathās of Abhidhamma. He is said to have composed it at the instance of Buddhāmitta, who moved also Buddhaghosa to write his Papañcasūdanī.⁹ If that is true, then Ānanda and Buddhaghosa were contemporaries.—3. Dhammapāla of Padaratittha¹ composed a commentary called *Paramatthādīpanī*² on those parts of the Khuddaka-Nikāya, which had not been commented upon by Buddhaghosa: Udāna, Itivuttaka, Vimāna- and Petavatthu, Thera- and Therīgāthā and Cariyāpiṭaka. Moreover he is supposed to be the author of a commentary on the Visuddhimagga called Mahāṭīkā or Paramatthamañjūsā as well as a commentary on the Netti, the Nettipakaraṇassa Atthasaṃvaṇṇanā, a Tīkā to this his own work, called Linatthavaṇṇanā, and also a Tīkā Linatthapakāsaṇī on the Aṭṭhakathās of the first four Nikāyas, a Tīkā on the Jātakatṭhakathā as well as on Buddhadatta's Madhurattavilāsinī, and finally an Anuṭīkā on the Tīkā of Abhidhammatṭhakathā.³ The four last named works seem to be lost to-day. It seems that in this case too the tradition has fathered on Dhammapāla, who might have been a younger contemporary of Buddhaghosa,⁴ the works of various Theras⁵ of the same name, as he had made it his life's task to supplement the commentaries of Buddhaghosa. Dhammapāla's date would be one century later if he is identical with the Dhammapāla of the Nālandā-Monastery who was Hsien-tsang's teacher's teacher.⁶ Yet however, like E. Hardy,⁷ I consider this identity to be yet unproved.

26. The number of the old commentators may be completed by adding the following names: 1. Culla-Dhammapāla, a pupil of Ānanda, author of Saccasaṃkhepa "Elements of Truth;"⁸ 2. Upasena, author of a commentary on the Niddesa¹ called the Saddhammappa-jotikā or Saddhammatthitika; 3. Mahānāma, author of the Saddham-mappakāsinī, a commentary on the Paṭisambhidāmagga²; 4. Kaṣṣapa, author of Mohavicchedanī and *Vimaticchedanī*³; 5. Vajirabuddhi, author of the Vajirabuddhi, a Ṭikā on the Samantapāsādikā.⁴ In Gnvs. a Mahā- and a Culla-Vajirabuddhi are distinguished, both from Jambudīpa, the continental India. The former is reputed to have written a work called Vinayagaṇḍhi. 6. Khema, author of the Khemappakaraṇa,⁵ who is mentioned with Culla Dhammapāla, as well as with 7. Anuruddha, the author of the Abhidhammattha-saṅgaha, the most read handbook on Abhidhamma,⁶ on which the greatest theas of the 12th century have written Ṭikās. Anuruddha is also the author of two other works in the field of Abhidhamma, namely, Paramatthavinicchaya and Nāmarūpapariccheda. There are two Ṭikās on each of them.⁷

27. Two other short but important texts have still to be mentioned, which belong to the Vinaya: the Khuddasikkhā of Dhammasiri and the Mūlasikkhā of Mahāsāmin.⁸ They are short compendiums on monastic discipline, for the most part in verse and evidently meant to be learnt by heart. There are various commentaries on them, as well as Singhalese translations. Judging by their language, they can be hardly placed before the 11th century. A lower limit is furnished by their mention in the Galvihāra-inscription of king Parakkamabāhu I (second half of the 12th century) in Polonnaruwa.¹ These texts were held in high esteem already at that time.

28. The chronicle-literature of Ceylon owes to the second period its most important work, the Mahāvamsa of Mahānāma.² It covers the same period of history as the Dipavamsa in almost the same order. The dry Chronicle has been here made into an artificial epic poem by drawing much new material from the Aṭṭhakathā. The kings Devānampiyatissa (247-207 B.C.) and Duṭṭhagāmaṇi (101-77 B.C.) are the central figures of the first and the second parts respectively of the Mahāvamsa.³ According to Indian notions the Mahāvamsa is a commentary on Dipavamsa. For this reason the commentary of the former is called Tikā. I think Fleet⁴ was right when he connected the passage Mhvs. 38.59 with the origin of our poem. In that case the date of its composition would fall in the beginning of the 6th century A.D. (under king Dhātusena). The original Mahāvamsa ends abruptly in 37.50 with the words Mahāvamsa niṭṭhito. The later continuers have evidently destroyed the final portion in order to be able to impose their additions.

29. To the Buddha-legend belong—1. the Anāgatavamsa of Kassapa,⁵ a prophecy on the future Buddha Metteyya in metrical form fathered on Gotama Buddha. According to tradition⁶ the author is identical with Thera mentioned in 26.4.—2. the Boddhivamsa or Mahāboddhivamsa of Upatissa,⁷ a story of the sacred tree in Anurādhapura with a long introduction reaching back to the Buddha Dipamkara. The work is composed in prose and presents, with the exception of a few independent notices, a compilation out of older sources such as Nidānakathā, Mahāvamsa, etc. As I have tried to prove,¹ it was composed probably in the first half of the 11th century.

30. The grammarian Kaccāyana belongs to the age posterior to Buddhaghosa. His work Kaccāyanavyākaraṇa or *Kaccāyanagandha*² is considered to be the oldest Pāli grammar. R. O. Franke³ has, however, shown that even before Buddhaghosa and Dhammapāla there must have been a fixed grammatical system, which was different from that of Kaccāyana and was perhaps based on the grammar of Bodhisatta.⁴ The chief weakness of Kaccāyana's system lies in the fact that it ignores the historical relation of Pāli with Sanskrit. He gives an exposition of Pāli wholly out of itself. Moreover it does not at all give an exhaustive treatment of the linguistic material. Kaccāyana has naturally nothing to do with Mahākaccāyana, the disciple of Buddha.⁵ He is also different from the Kūtyāyana who in the 3rd century B.C. wrote the Vārttikas on Pāṇini's grammar. He is moreover to be distinguished from the author of the Netti and the Peṭṭaka. Without doubt he is later than Buddhaghosa, for otherwise the latter would have followed him in his grammatical terminology as the author of the classical Pāli grammar. A higher limit for the date of Kaccāyana may be obtained from the fact that he utilised, besides the Kātantra of Śarvavarman and Pāṇini along with his commentators, also the Kāśikā (7th century).⁶ Besides this magnum

opus two other grammatical works, Mahāniruttigandha and Cullaniruttigandha, are ascribed to him.¹ Out of the numerous commentaries on Kaccāyana I mention here only the Nyāsa of Vimalabuddhi, which is also called Mukhamattadīpanī.² He seems to belong to the period we are dealing with because already towards the end of the 12th century Chapada wrote a commentary on it called Nyāsapradīpa.³

III Period

From the 12th Century to the Modern Age

31. There was a great upward swing in the of literary activity of Ceylon during the glorious reign of Parakkamabāhu I (1153-1186). Under his auspices the Thera Mahākassapa is said to have held a council⁴ with the purpose of providing Tikās in the Magadha-language to the Aṭṭhakathās, particularly of Buddhaghosa. The following is the list of the Tikās:

1. Sāratthadīpanī	Ṭī	on Samantapāsādikā (Vin.)
2. Pathama-Sāratthamañjūsā	„	„ Sumaṅgalavilāsini (D.)
3. Dutiya-Sāratthamañjūsā	„	„ Papañcasūdanī (M.)
4. Tatiya-Sāratthamañjūsā	„	„ Sāratthappakāsini (S.)
5. Catuttha-Sāratthamañjūsā	„	„ Manorathapūraṇī (A.)
6. Paṭhama-Paramatthappakāsini	„	„ Atthasūlmi (Dhs.)
7. Dutiya-Paramatthappakāsini	„	„ Saṃmohavinodanī (Vbh.)
8. Tatiya Paramatthappakāsini	„	„ Pañcappakaraṇaṭṭhakathā (Dhk., etc.).

Of these Tikās the Sāratthadīpanī by Sāriputta⁵ has been preserved. The same Thera is the author of another Tikā on Papañcasūdanī, named Īmatthapākāsanā.⁶

² Gnva. 60¹³; Subhūti, p. IX; de Zoysa, p. 25; Franke, p. 22 f. Cf. Fausböll, JPTS. 1896, p. 47 Nr. 149. The Porāṇa-Kārikā is said to be still older. It has nothing to do with the Kārikā of Dhammasenāpati (Gnva. 63³⁴, 73²¹). Cf. Fausböll, p. 47, Nr. 148, 13; de Zoysa, p. 24; Subhūti, p. LXIX.

⁴ Sdhs. VIII (JPTS. 1890, p. 58 f.). That the council had been actually convened is epigraphically attested, E. Müller, AIC., pp. 87, 120 f. Cf. Mbva. 78, 84.

⁶ Fausböll, p. 28 f., Nr. 83, 84.

The account of the council of Mahākassapa closely follows the stories of older councils. It is probable that the council gave the impetus for the composition of such Ṭikās and therewith initiated an era of remarkable literary activity, carried on mainly by Sāriputta and his pupils. As a work of Sāriputta is mentioned, beside the two already referred to above, the Vinayasamgaha "Compendium of the Vinaya." ¹ According to the Gnvs. he is said to have composed also the Sāratthamañjūsā on the Manorathapūraṇī. ²

32. Of Sāriputta's pupils are to be mentioned: 1. Saṃgharakkhita as the author of a Khuddasikkhā-Ṭikā (see 27). It is called "new Ṭikā," and was therefore probably later than the Porāṇa-Ṭikā attributed to Mahāyasa. Both the Ṭikās have been preserved in MSS. ³—2. Buddhanāga, the author of a Ṭikā on the Kaṅkhāvitaraṇī (22, Nr. 2) called Vinayatthamañjūsā ⁴ which likewise exists only in manuscript.—3. The Gnvs. (62, 66) mentions 18 works of Vāciṣṣara. The following commentary-works of this author still exist in manuscript: (a) Mūlasikkhā-Abhinava-Ṭikā (see 27), which is evidently later than the Porāṇa-Ṭikā of Vimalasāra. ⁵ (b) Simālamkārasamgaah, belonging to the sphere of Vinaya, on the boundaries of sacred districts,—the monks living in them had to jointly perform the ecclesiastical duties. ⁶ (c) Khemappakarāṇa-Ṭikā on the work mentioned in 26.6. ⁷ (d) Nāmarūpapariccheda-Ṭikā on the work of Anuruddha ⁸ mentioned in 26.7. (e) Saccasamkhepa-Ṭikā (26.1), older than Sumaṅgala's Ṭikā on the same work. ⁹ (f) Abhidhammavātāra-Ṭikā ¹⁰ on the well-known work of Buddhadatta (25.1). (g) Rūpārūpavibhāga, ¹¹ like the works from c to f, belonging to the

¹ Fausbøll, p. 17, Nr. 30; Subhūti, Nām., p. 7 f. The work was also called Pālimuttakavīṇayasamgaha or Mahāvīṇayasamgahappakarāṇa. Cf. the works mentioned in de Zoysa, pp. 11 and 15. Cf. 43 1.

Abhidhamma. There are mentioned, besides, Vinayavinicchaya-Tikā and an Uttaravinicchaya-Tikā (25.1) ¹; a Tikā called Sumaṅgala ppasādanī on the Khuddasāikkhā; a Yogavinicchaya, a Paccayasamgaha etc. It is quite possible that these works were composed by different Theras of the same name. There were at all events several Vācissaras ²—4. Sumaṅgala composed a Tikā on Anuruddha's Abhidhammatthasamgaha (26.7) which was titled Abhidhammatthavibhāvanī ³ and another Tikā on the Abhidhammāvātāra (25.1) called the Abhidhammatthavikāsanī, ⁴ as well as a Saccasaṃkhepa-Tikā, ⁵ which is also called the Abhinavatikā (cf. above 3 e). All the three works exist in MSS.

33. Saddhammajotipāla or Chapada ⁶ belongs to the circle of Sāriputta's disciples. He was a native of Burma, but he received his education in Ceylon, where he stayed from 1170 to 1180 according to tradition. Of his works (cf. also 30) the following belong to the sphere of Vinaya. (a) Vinayasamutthānadīpanī, (b) Pātimokkhamisodhanī, ⁷ (c) Vinayagūḥhatthadīpanī, ⁸ in which the difficult passages of the Vinaya have been discussed, as well as (d) Sīmāluṅkāsangaha-Tikā ⁹ on 32.3 b. To the Abhidhamma belong (e) Mātikatthadīpanī, (f) Paṭṭhānagaṇanānāya, (g) Nāmacārādīpa, ¹⁰ as well as his best-known work (h) Abhidhammatthasamgahasamkhepa-Tikā, ¹¹ a commentary on the work of Anuruddha mentioned in 26.7. Finally

² Should not the Vācissara mentioned in Mhvs 81.17 ff. have been the pupil of Sāriputta?

there is still to mention (1) the Gandhasāra, apparently an anthology of sacred texts.—In connection with Chapada let us also mention the Burmese monk Sāriputta or Dhammavilāsa, who died in the year 1246. He received his ordination from Ānanda, one of the four Theras who accompanied Chapada on his journey back to Burma from Ceylon. Dhammavilāsa is the author of the oldest Burmese law-book Dhammavilāsa-Dhammasattha, which is the basis of the later legal literature of the Burmese.¹

34. The pupils of Sāriputta displayed their activity also in the field of Buddhistic legends and ecclesiastical history. In this connection are to be mentioned 1. The Dāṭhāvamsa of Dhammakitti,² who in the concluding verses declares himself to be a pupil of Sāritānuja. It is clear from the introductory verses that the poem was composed at the beginning of the 13th century.³ It deals with the story of Buddha's tooth-relic and adds to the tradition recorded in the Mahāvamsa a few notices which were very probably culled from the local tradition of Ceylon.—2. The Thūpavamsa of Vācissara,⁴ who was probably Sāriputta's pupil. It is written in prose and is merely a compilation of pieces from Nidānakathā, Samantapāsādikā and Mahāvamsa with its Ṭikā. It was composed in the first half of the 13th century. The later Singhalese version may be ascertained to have been composed between 1250 and 1260.—3. The Jinālaṅkāra of Buddharakkhita,⁵ a poem composed in a very ornate language and in very artificial metres, which already bears all the signs of the artificial poetry of India.⁶ It describes the life of Buddha till the Sambodhi. In the concluding verses (271 ff.) the author gives his own name and mentions the year 1700 (after Buddha=1156 A.D.) as the time of its composition.¹ With the Jināṇṇakāra ascribed to Buddhaddatta (25.1) our poem has therefore nothing to do, even if any real value attaches to this datum.—4. The Jinacarita of Medhāṇṇakara² is likewise a highly artificial poem which in conventional form deals with a subject similar to that of the Jināṇṇakāra. The Gnvs. 62²⁴, 72⁷ mentions this author immediately after Vācissara,³ Sumaṅgala and Dhammakitti, and thus evidently takes him to be the pupil of Sāriputta. The author says in the concluding verses that he had composed his work in a Pariveṇa erected by King Vijayabāhu. This seems to be a calculated and intentional homage, which however could have a point in it only if the prince was still living. It is therefore permissible to think that Vijayabāhu III (1225-29) is here referred to by the author, and Medhāṇṇakara would thus be a contemporary of Vācissara.

35. The Tikā on the *Mahāvamsa*⁴ is of great importance for information about the Ceylonese tradition. It is called Vamsatthappakāsinī.⁵ Its author is unknown. As for its date, an upper limit is furnished by the reference to Dāṭṭhaputissa II (about 670 A.D.), and a lower limit by the fact that the Pāli-Thūpavaṃsa (34.2) quotes it profusely. If the Mahābodhivaṃsakathā quoted in it is identical with our Bodhivaṃsa (29.2), then we get a still closer upper limit for it. The MhvṣṬi is certainly older than the first supplement to the Mahāvamsa by Dhammakitti (38), because it breaks off at the same place where the original Mahāvamsa (28) ends. It is probable therefore that the MhvṣṬi was composed in the 12th century. Its importance lies in the fact that it offers a mass of supplementary notices to the Mahāvamsa culled from the Aṭṭhakathā. In this way it reveals to us the richness of the contents of the Aṭṭhakathā, which was still available at the time.⁶ The MhvṣṬi is therefore a fruitful source of information about the indigenous tradition, the historicity of which however has naturally to be tested separately in each case.

36. Vedehathera belongs to the 18th century, as has been proved by the researches of d'Alwis and Sten Konow.¹ According to the notices in his works, he belonged to the Brahmin family of Vip̐pagāma. He was a "forest-dweller" and a pupil of Thera Ānanda also called araññāyatana. His works are: (a) The Samantakūṭavapaṇṇā "description of the Adam's Peak."² The poem deals with the story of Buddha's life and particularly the legends of his three visits to the island of Ceylon. On the occasion of his third visit he left on the summit of the Samantakūṭa his śrīpada, the print of his left foot. The verses 722-46 give a description of the sacred hill, which has given the name to the whole poem consisting of 796 strophes.—(b) The Rasavāhinī,³ a collection of prose stories, which, according to the introductory words, are based on a Ceylonese original. This original was translated into Pālī by Raṭṭhapālā in the Mahāvihāra, and the translation was revised by Vedehathera. Altogether the Rasav. contains 103 stories, of which 40 are derived from the Jambudīpa, the continent of India, and 63 from Lankādīpa, Ceylon. These are fables, legends, sagas and religious tales. The original work had very probably drawn the material from the Aṭṭhakathā. Hence the frequent quotations with tenāhu porāṇā. In the present Pālī version the Mahāvamsa has been drawn upon profusely; some of the stories are based on the Apadānas and the Jātaka-book. The Sahasavathu-ppakaraṇa "the book of thousand stories" was probably in contents connected with the Rasav. and it is said to have been reintroduced into Ceylon from Burma.⁴

37. A contemporary of Vedehathera was Buddhappiya, the author of the Pajjamadhu,¹ a poem which in 104 artistic stanzas glorifies the external beauty of Buddha and also his wisdom. In the last stanza but one, the author gives his own name and says that he is a pupil of Ānanda, who is doubtless the same person as Vedehathera's teacher.—The Attanagaluvihāravaṃsa ² was composed probably about the same time as the Pajjamadhu,—in the second half of the 13th century. It is written in a mixture of prose and verse and gives the story of the death of Sīrasaṅghabodhi (Mhvs. 36.91 ff) and his wife, as well as of the founding of the Attanagalu monastery on the spot where they died. As the anonymous author (v. 3) himself admits, he was induced to compose this poem by the priest Anomadassin, who is probably the person to whom, according to Mhvs. 86.37 f., in the reign of Parakkamabāhu II (1229-1246), was entrusted the Attanagalu monastery, furnished with new buildings by the minister Paṭirāja.

38. The Mahāvamsa of Mahānāma (28) was continued under the special title Uḷavaṃsa "Short Chronicle" and made into a narrative covering the whole history of Ceylon.³ According to tradition the first author to continue the work was Thera Dhammakitti, who according to Mhvs. 84.12 ff. came to Ceylon from Burma in the reign of Parakkamabāhu II (first half of the 13th century). An evident supplement to the later Mhvs. begins with Chap. 90.104 after the close of the reign of Parakkamabāhu IV which began in the year 1284. The second part of the Mhvs. (Chaps. 37-90) which ends here describes above all the glorious age of Parakkamabāhu I (1153-1186).⁴ In order to round off the concluding portion of the Mhvs., let us mention here that in the second half of the 18th century, according to Mhvs. 99.78 ff., the king Kittisiri had the chronicle extended up to his own time. This third part is made up of the Chapters 90 (from verse 105) to 100. In Chapter 101 are then given notices up to the arrival of the English in Ceylon.

39. . To the transition period from the 13th to the 14th century belongs 1. the Sārasaṃgaha of Siddhattha,¹ a work on Buddhism in prose mixed with verses. The author gives his own name in the concluding verses of the work and also says that he was a pupil of Buddhappiya. If thereby the author of the Pajjamadhu is meant, then we have for the Sārasaṃgaha the date suggested above. A lower limit is at all events furnished by the reference to it in the Moggallānapañcākāpadīpa composed in 1457 A.D. Some idea of the contents of the Sāras is furnished by its chapter-headings: the Chaps. 1-3, for instance, deal with buddhānaṃ abhinihāra, tathāgatassa acchariyānaṃ and pañca antaradhānānaṃ, Chaps. 13-15 with sīlānaṃ, kammattṭhānānaṃ, nubbāṇa, and Chaps. 30-34 with the Nāgā, Supaṇṇā, Petā, Asurā, *Devā*²; the last chapter contains a lokaśaṃṭhiti (cosmology).—2. Somewhat later is the Saddhammasaṃgaha of Dhammakitti Mahāsāmin.³ This is probably the last of the Dhammakittis known to us, who was active towards the end of the 14th century.⁴ In the 9th Chapter various authors and works are enumerated, the latest of them belonging of the 13th century. The Sdhs. in 40 chapters gives a history of the Buddhist church (without furnishing much new information) from the Councils in India to the period mentioned just above, and ends with a hymn in praise of the doctrine and a blessing for its study.

40. To the 14th century belongs: 1. the Lokappadīpasāra. According to Sāsavs. 48 it was composed by a Burmese monk named Medhamkara, who had prosecuted his studies in Ceylon.⁵ The work deals with various forms of existence in the saṃkḥāraloka, in the hell, among the Petas, in the animal world, in human life, in the sattaloka, and in the okāsaloka. The different topics are further elucidated by various legends. The 5th chapter, for instance, which deals with the forms of human existence, has drawn many stories from the Mahāvamsa.—Allied with it in content is 2. the Pañcagatidīpana,⁶ a poem in 114 strophes, which describes the five possible forms of rebirth in hell, as animal, as Peta, as man, or as god. Nothing is known about its author or the time of its origin.—3. The *Buddhaghosupatti*¹ should belong to the 14th century if its author Mahāmaṅgala is the same man as the grammarian Maṅgala (53.2 b). This short work is a biography of Buddhaghosa, and it is referred to also in the Sasvs. 30²⁰, where this famous commentator is dealt with. The author has made use of the data left by the pubbācariyā “the former teachers.”

41. By way of appendix I would like to mention here two poems of which the authors and the time of origin are unknown: 1. The Saddhammopāyana, a collection of 621 (including the concluding verses 629) strophes in 9 chapters in praise of the law of Buddha.² It begins with a description of the 8 akkhaṇā, the miseries of the dasa akusālāni and the sorrowful lot of the Petas, and then goes over to the conceptions of puñña and phala and describes the individual meritorious acts (dāna, sīla, etc.), and ends with upamāda.—2. The *Telukaṭāhagāthā*³ the “oil-cauldron-verses.” These 98 strophes are ascribed to a Thera who was condemned to be thrown into a vessel full of boiling oil. He had been falsely accused of indirectly rendering help in an intrigue of the wife of King Tissa of Kalyāṇī. This story belongs to the cycle of sagas centering round Rohaṇa, and it is touched in the Mahāvamsa (22.12 ff.), and is related at greater length in later sources.⁴ The boiling oil cannot injure the Thera and he pronounces those strophes in which certain fundamental conceptions of the teaching of Buddha are elucidated. They deal with death and the thought of death, of transience, of suffering, and of the unreality of the soul, etc.

42. From the 15th century onwards the activity of the Burmese monks comes to the forefront. The special subject of their study is Abhidhamma. I mention here 1. Ariyavamsa,⁵ who lived in Ava during the reign of Narapati (1442-68). He wrote (a) Maṇisāramañjūsā, a commentary to Sumaṅgala's Abhidhammatthavibhāvanī (32.4);⁶ (b) Maṇidīpa, Tīkā on Buddhaghosa's Atthasālinī (23.8)⁶; (c) Jātakavi- sodhana, a work on the Jātakas.—2. Saddhammapālasiri, a contemporary of the former and author of Nettibhāvanī,¹ a Tīkā on the Netti (19).—3. Silavaṃsa,² somewhat later than the above mentioned writers, was the author of the Buddhālaṃkāra, a poetical version of the story of Sumedha in the Nidānakathā.—4. Raṭṭhasāra,³ who versified various Jātakas.—The poem Kāyaviratigāthā,⁴ also belonging to the 15th century, is anonymous; it deals with the ways of overcoming sensuality.—To the 16th century⁵ belong 5. Saddhammālaṃkāra, the author of a Paṭṭhānadīpanī on the Abhidhamma-work mentioned in 16.7, and 6. Mahānāma, the author of the Madhusārattadīpanī, a sub-commentary on the Mūla-Tīkā (25.2).—In the same century, the Wagaru-Dhammasattha composed in the Talaing language was translated into Pāli⁶ by Buddhaghosa under the title Manusāra (the original work was composed towards the end of the 18th century, somewhat later than the Dhammavilāsa-Dhammasattha referred to in 33). The Manusāra is the basis of the whole legal literature of Burma, composed partly in the native language, and partly both in Burmese and Pāli, as for instance the Manuvaṇṇanā (18th century) and the Mohavicchedanī (19th century) the Saṃgharāṇa of Burma, author of (a) Peṭakālaṃkāra, a commentary on the Nettī (19), (b) the Sādhuvilāsinī on a part of the D. (9.1), and (c) of several devotional stories such as Calusāmaṇeravattthu, Rājavāḍavattthu. His (d) Rājādhiṇāvīlāsinī deserves special mention. It is a prose work devoted to the eulogy of the then king Bodōpayā. It is a masterpiece of learned literary work, full of references to legends and history and teeming with quotations from various provinces of the literature, particularly from the Jātakas.—Somewhat older is the anonymous Buddha-biography Mālālaṃkāra,¹ which has become well known through Bigandet's translation.

43. In the 17th century we have to mention 1. Tipiṭakālaṃkāra,⁷ the author of (a) Vīsativavaṇṇanā, a commentary on the 20 introductory verses of the Athasālinī (22.8), and (b) Yasavaḍḍhanavattthu and (c) Vinayālaṃkāra a commentary on Śāriputta's Vinayasamgaḥa (31).—2. Tilokaguru,⁸ author of (a) Dhātukathā-Tīkāvaṇṇanā and (b) Dhātukathā-Anuṭīkāvaṇṇanā, the two commentaries on the Dhātukathā (16.5), and (c) Yamakavaṇṇanā and (d) Paṭṭhānavavaṇṇanā on the corresponding books of the Abhidhamma (16.6, 7).—3. Sāradassin,⁹ author of a Dhātukathāyojanā (on 16.5).—4. Mahākassapa,¹⁰ author of the Abhidhammatthaganṭhipada which deals with the difficult termini of the Abhidhamma.—To the 18th century belongs 5. Nāpābhivaṃsa,¹¹

44. Last of all I shall mention a number of modern works which cannot be dated accurately, or were composed in the 19th century. Both the time and the author of 1. the Nalāṭadhātuvam̐sa are unknown. The work gives the story of the frontal bone relic of the Buddha. It is evidently the Pāli counterpart, or perhaps the original, of the Sinhalese Dhātuvam̐sa, which contains exactly the same number of chapters as this work.²—Also 2. the *Chakesadhātuvam̐sa*³ is devoted to the sacred relics. It is the work of a modern Burmese author and it gives in prose the story of six hairs of Buddha, which the latter had distributed as relics among his disciples, and for which Thūpas have been erected at various places.—Two modern works throw interesting sidelight on the relation between Ceylon and Burma: they are 3. the *Sam̐d̐sakathā*⁴ and 4. the *Simāvvāḍavinichayakathā*⁵. In them are found the dates 2344 and 2345 after Buddha, equal to 1860 and 1861 A.D.

Quite a peculiar importance attaches to 5. the Gandhavam̐sa.⁶ This work was composed in Burma. It is a sort of library catalogue, a list of authors and works. After the usual introductory votive verses it begins at first with an analysis of the Tipiṭaka. Then it deals with the porāṇācariyā, the Theras of the three councils who compiled the words of the Buddha, with the exception of Mahākaccāyana. The same Theras are also the atṭhakathācariyā. Mahākaccāyana, who is mentioned in the Gandhavam̐sa as the author of the famous grammar, Mahā- and Culla-nirutti, and Netti, Peṭakopadesa and the Vampanīti, is mentioned as the only example of the tividhanāmakācariyā. Then follows the long list of gandhakācariyā, headed by the authors of the Kurundi and the Mahāpaccari, who are followed by Buddhaghosa, Buddhadatta, Ānanda, Dhammapāla, etc. Last of all are mentioned Ariyavaṃsa (see 42.1) and Udumbara. Then follows a list of anonymous works. After that the authors are grouped together according as they were active in Laṅkā or Jambudīpa (including Farther India). Last of all is recorded which works were composed at the instance of other persons, and which out of the authors' own initiative (attano matiyā).—6. The Sāsanavaṃsa of Paññasāmin¹ is dated in the year 1223 of the Burmese era, equal to 1861 A.D. In spite of the very recent origin of this work it is of great importance in various ways, because it is based on older literature. In ten chapters it gives a complete history of the Buddhist church in India till the third council under Asoka, and then in Ceylon and other countries where Buddhist missions had been sent. The history of Buddhism in Aparantaṛaṭṭha, i.e., Burma itself, is dealt with very exhaustively in Chap. 6. It has to be mentioned however that in the Burmese tradition, no less than 5 out of the 9 countries, to which missions were sent according to Dpvs. 8.1 ff., Mhvs. 12.1 ff., are assigned to Farther India, namely, Suvannabhūmi, Vanavāsi, Aparanta, Yonaka and Mahāraṭṭha. The chief sources of the Sāsanavaṃsa are Samantapāsādikā, Dipavaṃsa, Mahāvaṃsa, as well as the Burmese chronicles. The Aṭṭhakathā too is mentioned, but naturally it could have been utilised only indirectly.

45. There was an extraordinary literary activity both in Ceylon and Burma in the field of philology for which I may rely on the description of indigenous Pāli grammar and lexicography given by R. O. Franke.² W. Subhūti's Introduction to the Nānamālā too is very useful.³

The grammatical works are divided into three groups: 1. Those which belong to the school of Kaccāyana (Bālāvatāra, Rūpasiddhi); 2. the grammar of Moggallāna with the ancillary works belonging to it, such as Payogasiddhi, Padasādhana, etc.; 3. Saddanīti with the Cullasaddanīti.¹ To each of these three schools belongs a list of roots—the three lists being the Dhātumañjūsā, the Dhātupāṭha and the Dhātuvatthadīpanī. For dictionary we have the Abhidhānappadīpikā. Finally there are also some works on prosody, etc. The value which these works possess as accessories for the study of Pāli has been rightly judged by Franke.² They are not based on the direct knowledge of Pāli as a living and spoken language. The authors have drawn their material from the literature just as we too have to do to-day. Their method also is not based on any homogeneous tradition reaching back to the days when Pāli was actually spoken. Moreover they slavishly imitate the model works of Sanskrit grammar and lexicography and take over their system mechanically into Pāli. Grammatical forms and words of Pāli which are found in the text-books have therefore to be treated with the greatest caution so long as they are not proved actually to occur in literature. In all these cases the possibility is ever there that we have before us merely artificial constructions in imitation of Sanskrit.

46. Of the works belonging to the school of Kaccāyana, the commentary called Nyāsa has been already dealt with in 30, for it belongs to the preceding age. The next oldest work is 1. the Suttaniddesa of Chapada.³ Subhūti assigns it to the Buddha-year 1715=1181 A.D. This also is a commentary on Kaccāyana. Approximately to the same age belongs 2. the Sambandhacintā of Saṅgharakkhita,⁴ who has been mentioned in 32.1. It deals with Pāli syntax and there is an anonymous Ṭikā on it.—There is further 3. the Saddatthabhedacintā of the Thera Saddhammasiri⁵ from Arimaddana in Burma. This work too is furnished with an anonymous Ṭikā.—4. The Rūpasiddhi or *Padarūpasiddhi*⁶ is but a reshuffling of Kaccāyana's grammar. In the colophon the author gives his name as Buddhappiya with the surname Dīpaṅkara, a pupil of the Thera Ānanda. He is therefore probably the author of the Pajjamadhu (see 37), and the Rūpasiddhi therefore belongs to the second half of the 13th century. The work is divided into seven chapters, and the arrangement of the material is exactly like that of Kaccāyana, the only difference being that Kitaka and Uṇādi have been stuffed in one chapter which is the seventh. There is a *Ṭikā*¹ on the Rūpasiddhi, as well as a Sinhalese adaptation (sannaya) of it. The latter is mentioned already in Rāhula's Moggallāyanapañcīkāpadīpa, a work of the year 1456 A.D.—5. The *Bālāvatāra*² is a handbook very much in use in Burma and Siam. This also is an adaptation of Kaccāyana's grammar, giving the contents of the basic work in a more concise form and a slightly different order. According to tradition its author is *Dhammakitti*³ who composed also the Saddhammasaṅgaha (see 39.2). The Bālāvatāra should accordingly have been composed towards the end of the 14th century. In Gnvs. 62⁹, 71²⁶ it is however ascribed to Vācissara, in which case the work would be more than a century older. There is also a *Bālāvatāra-Ṭikā*⁴ by an anonymous author—6. The *Saddasārattahajālīnī*⁵ of the Burmese monk Kaṇṭakakhipanāgita, usually called simply Nāgita, was composed in 1900 after Buddha (= 1356 A.D.), i.e., about the same time as the Ṭikā on Abhidhānappadīpikā. The arrangement of the material is again very much as in Kaccāyana's grammar. The chapters 3-9 of the former correspond to the chapters 1-7 of the latter.

47. To the school of Kaccāyana further belongs—7. the Kaccāyanabheda, a commentary by Thera *Mahāyasa*⁶ who is supposed to have lived in the second half of the 14th century. Fausbøll however mentions Rassathera as 'the author of this work. There are two *Ṭikās*¹ on this work which consists of 400 strophes and is divided into seven chapters. One of them was composed by the Burmese monk Ariyālaṃkāra about the year 2152 after Buddha (=1608 A.D.), and is titled Sāratthvikāsini. The other is the Kaccāyanabheda-Mahāṭikā of Uttamasikkha. Mahāyasa is also the author of a Kaccāyanasāra,² on which the author himself is said to have written a Ṭikā. This is perhaps the Kaccāyanasāra-Purāṇaṭikā,³ of which however Subhūti expressly says that the author and the time of origin are unknown. A Kaccāyanasāra-Abhinavaṭikā, also called Samṃohavināsini, was composed by the Burmese monk Saddhāmmavilāsa of Pagan.—8. The Saddabindu,⁴ consisting of 21 strophes, probably belongs to the second half of the 15th century. According to Sās. 76²⁵, King Kyacvā of Arimaddana (Burma) was the author of this work. Subhūti gives for it the year 2025 after Buddha (=1481 A.D.). A *Saddabindu-Ṭikā*⁵ titled Linatthasūdani was composed by Nāṇavilāsa towards the end of the 16th century.—9. Neither the author nor the time of origin of the *Bālappabodhana*⁶ is known. The editor Sudhammalāṃkāra gives the approximate date 2100 after Buddha (=1556 A.D.). It is at all events later than Kaccāyanabheda and Saddatthabhedacintā. Also the Ṭikā on Bālappabodhana is anonymous.—I am unable to give any date for 10. the Abhinava-Ullanirutti of Sirisaddhammalāṃkāra.⁷ It deals with the exceptions to the rules of Kaccāyana.—11. Finally I shall mention the Kaccāyanavaṇṇanā of the Burmese Thera Mahāvijitāvin,⁸ who lived about 1600 A.D. The work is a commentary on the saṃdhiḥappa of Kaccāyana. The authors of the most important earlier works, such as Nyāsa, Rūpasiddhi, Saddanīti. etc., are mentioned in the introductory verses. This Kaccāyanavaṇṇanā however must not be confused with a much earlier work of the same name, which has been mentioned already in the introductory verses of the Rūpasiddhi.¹ Mahāvijitāvin is also the author of the Vācakopadesa,² in which—according to Oldenberg—the grammatical categories have been considered from a logical point of view.

48. Besides Kaccāyana, the Thera Moggallāna or Moggallāyana³ was the founder of a new grammatical school. His works are 1. the Moggallāyanavyākaraṇa, also called Saddalakkhaṇa, with the Vutti belonging to it, and 2. the Moggallāyanapañcīkā, which was the author's own commentary on his grammar. This commentary is now lost. For the contents of the grammatical work of Moggallāna I refer to the researches of R. O. Franke. It is doubtless superior to the work of Kaccāyana. Moggallāyana's grammar too is of course not free from the defects of indigenous Pāli grammatical literature, but Moggallāna deals with the linguistic material more exhaustively and with greater understanding of the essence and character of Pāli. There are considerable differences in the arrangement and grouping of the rules, as well as in the terminology. Besides the older Pāli grammars, the Kātantra and the work of Pāṇini, Moggallāna has drawn most upon Candragomin. As for the age of Moggallāna, he himself says in the concluding verses of the Vutti that he composed the work in the reign of Parakkamabhūja. Therewith is surely meant Parakkamabhū I (1153-1186 A.D.). Moggallāna was an inhabitant of Anurādhapura, where he was a member of the Thūpārāma. According to the Gvs. 62⁹, 71²⁶ Vācissara is said to have composed a Ṭikā on his grammar; but it appears that this Vācissara was not the pupil of Sāriputta mentioned in 32.3. There was evidently a confusion with the Thera Rāhula, the author of the Moggallāyanapañcīkāpadīpa, who likewise bore the not unusual surname Vācissara.

49. As in the case of Kaccāyana's grammar, an extensive literature belongs also to the grammar of Moggallāna.

First of all there is to mention 1. Piyadassin's Padasādhana.¹ The author was one of the immediate pupils of Moggallāna, and therefore probably belonged to the end of the 12th century. His work is an abridged version of the grammar of his master. De Zoysa says that the relation between Piyadassin and Moggallāna is analogous to that between Bālāvatūra and Kaccāyana. A commentary called Padasādhana-ṭikā or *Buddhippasādanī*² on the Padasādhana was composed in the year 1472 by the Thera Sri Rāhula of Tittagāma, with the surname Vācissara, who is well known also in the Sinhalese literature.³—2. The Payogasiddhi of Vanaratana Medhampkara⁴ is considered to be one of the best grammars of Moggallāna's school. and, according to de Zoysa, its position with regard to the Moggallāna-vyākaraṇa is similar to that of Rūpasiddhi with regard to Kaccāyana's grammar. The author lived in the reign of Bhuvanekabāhu, the son of Parakkabāhu. Perhaps it is Bhuvanekabāhu III who is meant, in which case Medhampkara should have lived about 1300. He is different from the two Medhampkaras mentioned in 34.4 and 40.1.—3. The *Moggallānapañcīkāpadīpa*⁵ is a commentary on the lost Pañcīkā of Moggallāna. The author is the same Rāhula who composed also the Ṭikā on Padasādhana. The Pañcīkā-commentary is written partly in Pāli and partly in Sinhalese. De Zoysa considers it to be one of the most learned works on Pāli grammar that we possess. Very rich material has at all events been collected and discussed in it. Subhūti mentions no less than 50 grammatical works which have been referred to in it, including Candra's Sanskrit grammar. The date of the work is given as the year 1379 of Śaka era = 1457 A.D.

50. Aggavamsa's *Saddanīti*⁶ is of peculiar importance for determining the value of indigenous tradition. The author was a native of Arimaddana in Burma, and his work is the fruit of grammatical studies as carried on in that country independently of Ceylon. The news of the erudition of the Burmese monks in the field of grammar is said to have been brought to Ceylon¹ by the mission of Uttarājīva. In order to test the truth of these rumours Ceylonese monks went themselves to Arimaddana. They were shown the Saddanīti, and they had to admit that in Ceylon there was no grammatical work which was so good as this. The year 1154 A.D. is given as the date of the Saddanīti. Its author Aggavamsa was also called Aggapaṇḍita the third and was the nephew of the second Aggapaṇḍita, who himself was a pupil of the first Aggapaṇḍita. Afterwards Aggavamsa became the teacher of King Narapaṭisithu (1167-1202).—On the whole, as R. O. Franke has shown, the Saddanīti is based on Kaccāyana. From the point of view of contents it is hardly justifiable to separate the Saddanīti from the school of Kaccāyana. But Aggavamsa utilised for his work also the Sanskrit grammars such as those of Pāṇini, etc. The work of Moggallāna could have been hardly known to him, it was composed probably after the Saddanīti. The Saddanīti consists of 27 chapters; the first eighteen are called Mahāsaddanīti and the remaining nine Cullasaddanīti. It is expressly mentioned in the colophon that this work is based on the writings of the Ācariyā, as well as on the canonical literature, from which therefore it has drawn its material.

51. Of the lexicons only one has been handed down to us from olden times, and that is the Abhidhānappadīpikā of Moggallāna.² It is generally accepted from the time of d'Alwis that this Moggallāna is not identical with the grammarian of the same name (see 48). As is mentioned in its concluding verses, he was a member of the Jetavana-monastery in Pulatthipura (Polonnaruwa), whereas, as we have seen, the grammarian Moggallāna lived in the Thūpūrāma in Anurādhapura. Also in Gnvs. 62³ he is called Nava-Moggallāna to distinguish him from the grammarian. The difference in age between the two however could not have been very great. From the manner in which the king Parakkamabhuja (Parakkamabāhu I) has been spoken of in the concluding verses it is clear that the Abhidhānappadīpikā must have been composed shortly after his reign (1153-1186), that is to say, towards the end of the 12th century.—The work is divided into 3 parts: synonyms, homonyms and indeclinables. It consists of 1203 strophes. The model after which this work was composed was the Amarakośa. Large portions, particularly in the part on synonyms, have been taken in toto from the Amarakośa, and not infrequently Moggallāna gives as Pāli words straight away those forms which he himself constructed from Sanskrit according to the phonological laws of Pāli. R. O. Franke has shown that beside Amara also another Sanskrit Kośa might have been used. It does not seem to me to be conclusively proved however that another Pāli synonyms-dictionary must have existed before the Abhidhānappadīpikā. A Ṭikā on the Abhidhānappadīpikā (see 46.6) was composed about the middle of the 14th century.—We have still to mention the Ekakkharakośa of the Burmese monk Saddhammakitti,¹ a metrical list of monosyllabic words closely on the model of similar works in Sanskrit. The date of the work is the year 2009 after Buddha = 1465 A.D.

52. So far as the lists of roots are concerned, 1 *Dhātumañjūsā*² (cf. 46) belongs to the school of Kaccāyana. It is therefore also called Kaccāyana-Dhātumañjūsā. According to the colophon, its author was the Thera Silavaṃsa of the Yakkhaddilena monastery, now Yakkṣāgala near Kurunāgala. It is metrical and consists of 150 strophes. According to Subhūti, the work is planned after Vopadeva's Kavikalpadruma. Its relation with the school of Kaccāyana is further proved by the agreement which is found in the arrangement of root-classes. According to Franke, Silavaṃsa used both the Pāṇini-Dhātupāṭha and the following work.—2 The *Dhātupāṭha*³ belonging to Moggallāna's system, as indicated by the order of the root-classes, is shorter and not metrical. The author and the time of origin are unknown. Probably however the Dhātupāṭha is older than the Dhātumañjūsā.—3. The Dhātuvatthadīpanī,¹ according to Franke, "is a versified form of the roots recounted in a particular chapter of the Saddanīti." The order of the root-classes agrees with that of the Saddanīti. The author of the Dhātuvatthadīpanī had made use of the Pāṇini-Dhātupāṭha, like the authors of the works discussed above in 1 and 2.

53: 1. Pāli poetics is dealt with in the Subodhālaṃkāra of Saṃgha-rakkhita² who has been mentioned frequently above (32.1, 46.2). There is also a Ṭikā on it. The same Thera wrote a work on Pāli prosody of the title *Vuttodaya*³ on which there is likewise a Ṭikā named Vacanatthajotikā.—2. Lastly I mention here a number of works of grammatical contents which have been discussed by Subhūti⁴ but which I am not in a position to classify accurately: (a) Vaccavācaka of the Sāmaṇera Dhammaḍassin⁵ of Arimaddana in Burma, consisting of 100 strophes, dating probably from the end of the 14th century. A Ṭikā on it was composed in the year 2312 after Buddha (= 1768 A.D.) by the monk Saddhammanandin of the Khemāvātāra-monastery in Burma. —(b) Gandhatthi of Maṅgala,⁶ a work on particles, perhaps belonging to the 14th century, and probably older than the work mentioned next. Cf. 40.3.—(c) Gandhābharana of Ariyavarṇsa,⁷ likewise dealing with particles, composed about the year 1980 after Buddha (= 1436 A.D.). A Ṭikā on it was composed by Suvannarāsi of Burma (2128 after Buddha = 1584 A.D.).—(d) *Vibhattyatthappakarana*⁸ on the use of cases, in 37 Slokas, is ascribed to a daughter of the King Kyacvā of Burma. Its date is 2025 after Buddha (= 1481 A.D.) according to Subhūti. To it belongs a Vibhattyattha-Ṭikā, which is perhaps identical with the Vibhattyatthadīpanī mentioned by de Zoysa and Fausböll. At least in the introductory verse the Ṭikā ascribes to itself the same title. De Zoysa mentions also a Vibhattikathāvannanā.—(e) *Samvannanānaya-dīpanī*⁹ composed by Jambudhaja in 2195 after Buddha (= 1651 A.D.).

A. PHONOLOGY

1. Sound-system and Accent

§ 1. For the writing of Pāli there are used in the Orient various scripts : in Ceylon the Sinhalese, in Burma the Burmese, in Siam the Kamboja script. The Bangkok edition of the Tipiṭaka is printed in Siamese letters.

§ 2. The sound-system of Pāli consists of the following :

1. Vowels : a, ā, i, ī, u, ū, e, o, as well as the nasal vowels am, im, um.

2. Consonants : Gutturals : k, kh, g, gn, ṇ
Palatals : c, ch, j, jh, ñ.
Cerebrals : ṭ, th, ḍ, ḍh, ṇ.
Dentals : t, th, d, dh, n.
Labials : p, ph, b, bh, m.
Liquids : r, l, ḷ, ḷh.¹
Semi-vowels : y, v.
Sibilant : s.
Aspiration : h.

Here should be noticed : 1. The vowels e, o are of middle length, in closed syllables they are short and in open syllables they are long.—2. The sign of nasalisation (ṃ) corresponding to the anusvāra and anunāsika of Sanskrit is called Niggahita by Pāli grammarians. In Ceylon at present the Niggahita is pronounced as a guttural nasal.—3. The consonant ḷ stands for intervocalic ḍ, likewise ḷh for ḍh. In the MSS. l and ḷ are always confused. Some spellings seem to be arbitrary. Thus kāḷa 'black' is mostly written with ḷ, although it is equivalent to Sanskrit kāla, probably to distinguish it from kāla 'time.' Surely ḷ should be written everywhere where an etymological connection with cerebrals is apparent.—4. The h is, where it stands alone, a consonant. In combination with y, r, l, v, or with the nasals, it appears to have been pronounced in a particular manner. The grammarians in this case call it orasa 'spoken in the breast.'²

¹ There is no special sign for this sound. It is usually indicated by the ligature ḷ+h.

§ 3. In its sound-system Pāli stands in Prākritic stage when compared with Old Indian. Also Prākrit has given up the vowels ṛ, ḷ, as well as the diphthongs ai, au, in all the dialects, and the vowel ṛ in most of the dialects excepting Apabhraṃśa. Moreover Prākrit like Pāli possesses the cerebral consonant ḷ and the middle-length vowels e, o.¹ Most Prākrit dialects have like Pāli only the dental s; the cerebral ṣ is found in none of them, and the palatal ś is absent in most.¹

The original diphthongical character of e, o is brought to light by the circumstance that in Sandhi a + i becomes e and a + u becomes o. Cf. macchassevodoke gataṃ = macchassa iva udāke g^o 'like the course of fish in water' Jā. I.295⁸. There was even a tendency to use them (instead of ai, au) as vṛddhi-vowels. Thus are found forms originated inside Pāli, such as tepiṭaka 'devoted to the Tipiṭaka' DhCo. III. 384,¹⁸ Mhvs. 5.84 from tipiṭaka, and opadhika 'relating to the substratum of existence' Vv. 34.21, 24 = S. I. 233^{15,21} from upadhi. This strengthening into e, o may take place even in those cases where originally there was no i, u. Thus pothujjanika 'relating to common people' Vin. I.10¹² from puthujjana, where the u corresponds to Skr. ṛ (prthagjana). Cf. soṣānika 'relating to cemetery' Pu. 69²⁷, DhCo. I. 69⁴ from susāna = śmaśāna. In gelaṇṇa 'illness' D.II. 99¹⁶, JāCo. II. 31²⁰ from gilāna = Skr. glāna, and in sovatthika 'bringing prosperity' Vv. 18.7 from suvatthi = Skr. svasti, e and o are the strengthened forms of the svarabhakti-vowels i, u originated within Pāli. Cf. also veyyāvacca 'rendering service' Vin. I.28²⁰ from viyāvata = Skr. vyāpṛta*; veyyākaraṇa 'answering' D. I. 51⁵ from viyākaroti = Skr. vyākaroti.

In the same way a has been strengthened into ā within Pāli: sākhalya, lā 'friendliness' M.I. 446¹⁹, Jā. IV. 57⁵ from sakhila; bhākuṭika 'with frowning eye-brows' Vin. III. 181⁶ from bhakuṭi = Skr. bhrakuṭi (or bhṛkuṭi).

§ 4. Nothing has been handed down to us about the nature of Pāli accent. It is, however, improbable that the ancient Indian accent was still in force. Rather, as Jacobi has suggested also for Prākrit,² the Sanskrit accent was the rule in Pāli.³ This is suggested by the changes of vocalism in Pāli, such as the weakening of a vowel after the accented syllable (in the Skr. form) or its strengthening in the main tonic syllable. Cf. § 19 ff.

³ On this cf. Jacobi, ZDMG. 47.574.

2. The Law of Mora

§ 5. In Pāli, as generally in Middle Indian,¹ a syllable can contain only one mora or two moras but never more. The syllable is thus either (1) open with short vowel (one mora), or (2) open with long vowel (2 moras), or (3) closed with short vowel (2 moras). Every syllable with a nasal vowel is considered as closed. Long nasal vowels do not occur. Due to this law, where Skr. has long vowel before double-consonance (i.e. in closed syllable), Pāli has there either (a) short vowel before double-consonance² or (b) long vowel and the following double-consonance simplified.

Examples of (a) : jiṇṇa 'old, exhausted' = jiṇṇa. Likewise māṃsa 'flesh' = māṃsa, and the final in nadiṃ 'the river' (acc.) = nadī. The vowels e, o are short in such cases: sēmha 'catarrh' = śleṣman; ōṭṭha 'lip' = oṣṭha.—Examples of (b) : lākhā 'lac' = lākṣā; ḍigha 'long' = dirgha. In case of the vowels e, o, the orthography in the mss. varies not infrequently, such as apēkkhā and apēkhā 'expectation' = apekṣā; upēkkhā and upēkhā 'indifference' = upekṣā; vimōkkha and vimōkha 'deliverance' D. II. 70²⁸, A. IV. 306¹¹ = vimokṣa.

§ 6. The Law of Mora has led to various changes.³ Due to it: 1. there can be in Pāli long vowel before single consonant where Skr. has short vowel before double-consonance: sāsapa 'mustard seed' (instead of sassa*.) Dh. 401, S. II. 182¹⁷, DhCo. I. 107³ = saṇṇapa; vāka 'bark' (instead of vakka*) D. I. 167², Vin. III. 34²⁸, JāCo. I. 304² = valka; niyāti 'goes away' = niryāti.⁴—2. Pāli shows short vowel before double-consonance where originally there was long vowel before a single consonant: abbahati 'draws out' Th. 1. 162, 1007, Sn. 334, S. II. 95⁵ = ābṛhati; niḍḍa (sic!) 'nest' Dh. 148 (AMāg. nīḍḍa) = nīḍa; udukkhala 'mortar and pestle' Vin. III. 6²⁶, D. II. 341⁶, JāCo. I. 502²⁰ (AMāg. udukkhala beside udūhala) = udūkhala; kubbāra

² In P. sutti, therefore, there have coincided, e.g., Skr. śukti 'oyster-shell' (Vin. II. 106^{11,12}) and sūkti 'good speech' (Saddhammapāyana 340, 617).

³ For analogous phenomena in Pkr. see Pischel, PkrGr. § 62-65, 90, 74-76.

⁴ Cf. also svātānāya 'for next day' (in Buddhistic Skr. svetanāya etc.) from Skr. svastana. Johansson, Monde Oriental, 1907-08, p. 106 ff.

'pole of a carriage' Vv. 64.2, A. IV. 191⁶, VvCo. 269⁵=kūbara, kūvara; pēttika 'fatherly' D. II. 232¹⁰, Vin. III. 16³⁵, JāCo. II. 59¹³ for pētika*=paīṭṭika (after which has been latterly formed mettika). Cf. also maṇābbala, mahapphala=mahābala, mahāphala.—
3. As the short nasal vowel has two moras like the long, a nasal not infrequently appears in the place of a pure long vowel¹ and vice versa: maṇṇkuṇa 'bug' JāCo. III. 423¹³ instead of māk*-, makk*=matkuṇa; saṃvaṛi 'night' D.III. 196²² (verse), Jā. IV. 441⁶ instead of sāv*-, sabb*=śarvaṛi; saṃka 'toll' (AMāg. ussuṃka) instead of sūka*, sukka*=Skr. śulka; ghaṃsati 'rubs' instead of ghās*-, ghass*=gharṣati; vidaṃsentī 'she who shows' Th2. 74 instead of vidās*-, vidass*=vidarṣayanti. On the other hand: viṣati viṣaṇi 'twenty'=viṃśati; siha 'lion'=siṃha; sārambha 'audacity' (beside saṃrambha Dāṭhāvs. 4.34)=saṃrambha, and other words with saṃ-.

§ 7. Sometimes a long vowel is retained before double-consonance. Thus particularly in contractions, as in sājja=sā ajja Th2.75, yathājjhāsayaṇa 'according to desire' JāCo. IV. 243⁸. Further, in derivatives such as dussilya from dussila Cf. bālyā 'stupidity' DhCo. II. 30³, variant reading of balya. These are evidently cases of learned orthography. There are also sporadic cases like dābbi (name of a plant) Abhp. 586=dārvī; dātta 'sickle' Abhp. 448=dātra (none of these, forms, however, is quotable from texts).² Quite frequent is svākkhāta 'well proclaimed' Vin. I. 12²⁴ etc.=su-ākhyāta.

§ 8. It is also due to the action of the Law of Mora that even in the case of the separation a consonant-group by a Svarabhakti vowel (§29 ff.) a long vowel preceding the consonant-group is regularly shortened.³ The two one-mora syllables in these cases represent one two-mora syllable: suriya 'sun' (instead of sūrya*)=sūrya; but sūriya 'heroism' Jā. I.282¹⁷, purposely differentiated from the preceding;

² Childers gives also ājjava 'straightness' beside ajjava. Sākya Bodhiva. 22¹², 27²³ instead of Sakya (according to the Colombo edition), Sakka or Sakya is perhaps a wrong reading. The form Sākiya also is not quite correct.

³ As a rule it is different in Pkr., cf. AMāg. sūriya viriya etc. But still AMāg., JMāh. veruliya=vaṇḍariya (P. veṭuriya). In Pāli we have siliya, Jā. III. 7¹ only metri causa, pakiriya gerund of pakirati 'loosens (the hair)' = prakirya. In words like cetiya = caitya and Moriya = Maurya we have therefore to consider e and o as short vowels.—The insertion of the svarabhakti-vowel however does not disturb the length of a following vowel: thus gīlāna 'ill' = glāna. Only in the case of the originally monosyllabic words itthī 'woman' = strī, sirī 'fortune' = śrī and hirī 'modesty' = hrī does this law act in some measure.¹ In compounds these words have short vowel²: itthiratana 'jewel of a woman' D. I. 89³, hirimana 'of modest disposition' D. II. 78³⁴ etc. Also sirimant, hirimant and occasionally sassirika,³ ahirika etc.

3. The Vowels ā ī ū

§ 9. Occasionally e appears for a before double-consonance: pheggu 'empty, worthless' M. I. 194²⁵, S IV. 168² etc. = phalgu; seyyā 'bed' = śayyā.⁴ The word ettha 'here' is probably not = atra, but = itra*, Av. iθra,⁵ and is therefore to be classed with § 10.2. In the same way hettha 'below' is derived not from adhaṣṭhāt, but from an adheṣṭhāt*⁶ as is shown by the cerebrals -tṭh-.

§ 10. 1. The vowels i, u are lengthened in the flexional endings -īhi, -ūhi and -īsu, -ūsu of i- and *u-*declensions (§ 82).—2. Not infrequently i and u become ē and ō before double-consonance⁷: Veṇhu (JMāh. Viṇhu) D. II. 259²² = *Viṣṇu*⁸; nekkha 'gold ornament' Sn. 689, A. I. 181¹⁵ (beside nikkha Vin. I. 38¹⁶) = niṣka; koccha 'bundle, ball, fleshy part' Vin. II. 149³², 266²³ = kūrca (cf. § 62.1); otṭha 'camel' M. I. 80¹³, Vin. IV.

² Lengthening takes place only metri causa, thus sirimant Thl. 94, sirīdhara Mhvs. 5.16.4.

³ sassirika JāCo. I. 504²², Smp. 300²³, nissirika JāCo. VI. 456¹.

⁵ So already Lassen, Instit. Linguae Pracriticae 129. Cf. E. Kuhn, Beitr. p. 21. Pischel, § 107 thinks of connection with Ved. itthā I would however like to point out the v. l. ubhayettha of ubhayattha DhCo. I. 29¹³.

⁶ Pischel § 107. Not so Johansson, IF. 3.218; Monde or. 1907, 93 and Wackernagel, KZ. 43.293.

⁷ Frequently also in Pkr., Pischel, § 119, 122, 125.

⁸ Also in S. I. 52¹⁰ should be read Veṇhu instead of Veṇḍu.

7¹⁶=uṣṭra ; vokkamati ' gets deranged ' D. I. 230¹⁴, M. III. 117²³, JāCo. I. 23²¹ = vyutkramati ; Okkāmuḥha (proper name) = Ulkāmuḥha.¹ In words like rāmaṇeyya ' charming ' = rāmaṇiya, dakkhuṇeyya ' worthy of veneration ' = dakṣiṇiya, an intermediate stage with *-iyya has to be imagined.—The change into e takes place even in the case of such i as is derived from ṛ. Thus in the verb gheppati ' grasps,' if it is derived from ghippati* < ghṛpyati* like Pkr. gheppai as Pischel (PkrGr. § 197) has suggested.—The double-consonance following after ṣ, ṣ may be secondarily simplified according to the Law of Mora with concomitant protraction of e, o: Uruvelā (place-name) through *-vēllā, *-villā = Uruvilvā ; ojā ' strength ' D. II. 285¹⁰, M. I. 124³², DhC. I. 107¹⁶ through *-ōjjā, *-ujjā = ūrjā. In viḥṣati ' injures, insults ' Ud 44³⁰, 45⁸ (beside viḥiṣati) the intermediate steps viḥṣati*, viḥissati* viḥṣṣati* have to be imagined. Out of original ṛ this i, e has been developed in paligedha ' desire ' A. I. 66¹⁰, paligedhin A. III. 265⁷ through *-gēddha, *-gēddhin, *-giddha, *-giddhin = gṛddha, gṛddhin.

§ 11. Intermediate stages with double-consonance have to be imagined where in open syllable i, ū have become e, o: edi, edisā (erisā), edisaka, edikkha (erikkha) ' such a one ' Sn. 313, Vin. I. 195¹¹, Mhvs. 5.56 (beside iḍisā etc. Mhvs. 5.93) through iddi*, ēddi* etc. = iḍṣi, iḍṣū, *iḍṣkṣā*² ; āveḷā ' garland ' Vv. 36.2, JāCo. I 444⁶, 501²⁹ (Pkr. āmeḷā) through āvēḍā*, āvēḍdā* āviḍḍā*, = *āpiḍḍā*³; gaḷocī (a plant ; Pkr. gaḷoi) Abph. 581 through gaḷōccī*, gaḷuccī* = gudūci ; jaṃbonada ' gold ' Dh. 230, Vv. 84. 17 through *-ōnnada, *-unnada = jaṃbūnada. Mahesī ' queen ' from *mahiṣī*⁴ is remarkable.

4. Representation of the Vowels ṛ, ḷ

§ 12. The vowel ṛ is represented by a, i, u in P.—even in initial

² Cf. A.Māg. eddaha beside erisā etc. Pischel, PkrGr. § 121, 122. Pālī has however only kidi, kidiṣā etc.

³ Pischel, § 122, 248.

position, which is not the case in Pkr.¹ The quality of the vowel is largely influenced by the neighbouring sounds (cf. § 16); u appears mostly after labials.—1. a stands for ṛ : accha 'bear' Jā. VI. 507⁵, JāCo. VI. 538²¹=ṛkṣa; pasada 'spotted antelope' Jā. VI. 537³¹=prṣata; vaḥa 'wolf' Sn. 201, JāCo. I. 336¹⁷ (verse)=vṛḥa; hadaya 'heart'= hṛdaya.—2. i stands for ṛ : ikka 'bear' Jā. VI. 538¹ (Co.= accha)=ṛkṣa (cf. § 62.2); ṇa 'debt' (AMāg. ana) Sn. 120, D. I. 71³¹, JāCo. I. 321²⁰=ṛṇa; vicchika 'scorpion' D. I. 9⁸, Vin. II. 148⁹=vṛścika, śipātīkā 'seed-house' M. I. 306²=śpātīkā.—3. u stands for ṛ : uju or ujju (Jā. VI. 518⁸) 'straight'= ṛju; usabha 'bull' Dh. 422, S. I. 75³², JāCo. I. 336³⁰=ṛsabha (beside vasabha=vṛṣabha); pucchati 'asks'= pricchati; muḷāla JāCo. I. 100⁷ and muḷāḥ Jā. VI. 530¹⁶ 'lotus-stalk'= mṛṇāla; pāvusa 'rainy season' Th1. 597 f., Jā. VI. 202²⁷=prāvṛṣa.—4. Sometimes representation varies: cf. above, beside accha the dialectical form ikka 'bear'; vṛddhi has been differentiated into vaddhi 'blessing' and vuddhi 'growth'; miga has been differentiated into maga 'animal' Sn. 275, Th1. 958, S. I. 199²¹ and miga 'gazelle' passim.² Beside ina there is anana 'debtless' Th2 2, M. II. 105¹⁶ and sāna (= sa-ana) 'indebted' M. III. 127^{7,9}, S. II. 221¹, probably through vowel-assimilation³ (but sayina or saiṇa Mhvs. 36.39). Beside kaṇha 'black'= kṛṣṇa there is found as variant reading kiṇha D. I. 90¹⁵, S. IV. 117⁶. Skr. pr̥thivī appears as pathavi, paṭhavi, puṭhavi, puṭhuvī, puṭhuv; here the region from where the MSS are derived is to be taken into consideration: puṭhavi, e.g., is the orthography of the Burmese MSS. Moreover cf. pitughātaka, mātughātaka 'parricide, matricide' Vin. I. 88²⁰ with pitipakkhuta, *mātipakkha*⁴ 'from paternal side, from maternal side' etc.

§ 13. In some cases the ṛ-vowel becomes consonant: brahant, brahā^o 'big' Th1. 31, Jā. III. 117²³= bṛhant; brūheti 'devotes himself to a cause' Dh. 285, Ud. 72¹⁷ (verse), JāCo. I. 289²¹=bṛṇha-yati, vṛṇhayati. Vṛ becomes ru in rukṛḥa 'tree'= *ṛkṣa*⁴ and in pāruta

¹ In Pkr. initial r usually becomes r+vowel, Pischel PkrGr. § 56. In P. we have only ruveda Dpvs. 5.62. or rubbedā DCo. I. 247¹⁹= ṛveda. This word is however an artificial formation.

² The form miga is found in its general meaning 'animal' in sākhāmiga 'monkey' Jā. III. 98¹⁴, miṇacakka 'animal magic' D I 9¹⁰, DCo. I. 94⁶.

³ Trenckner, Notes p. 76 (JPTS. 1908, p. 129).

⁴ Pischel, PkrGr. § 320 connects rukṣa with Skr. ruḥṣa. Cf. Wackernagel, Altind. Gr. I, § 184 b. The side-form rakṣa is found in Jā. III. 144¹⁵.

'covered, concealed' Thl. 153, S. I. 167²⁷, JāCo. I. 347⁸ = prāvṛta and apāvṛta 'opened up' Vin. I. 7⁴ (verse), D. II. 217¹⁵, JāCo. I. 264⁴ = apāvṛta.

§ 14. The vowel ḷ is represented by u: *kutta*¹ 'clipped' D. I. 105⁹, DCo. I. 274¹⁷ = kḷpta.² In the same way also kuttaka (a kind of woollen cover) D. I. 7¹⁰, Vin. I. 192⁸, II. 163²⁴, perhaps 'shorn cover'.³ Further kutta, kutti 'behaviour, procedure' = kḷpta, kḷpti in itthikutta, purisakutta A. IV. 57^{6,9}, JāCo. I. 296²¹ etc., saṃnatavīrakutti Jā. V. 215¹⁶ where kutta = kappana, just as mata = maṇa. In DhsCo. 321¹¹ it is explained by kiriya.

5. Diphthongs and their Representation

§ 15. The diphthongs e, o are as a rule preserved; ai and au have become e and o: Erāvaṇa (name of Indra's elephant) = Airāvaṇa; metti 'friendship' = maitrī; ve (interj.) = vai. orasa 'derived from the breast' = aurasa; pora 'urban' = paura; ratto 'at night' = rātrau.

Not infrequently e and o are shortened into i and u before double-consonance⁴; this shortening may take place even where the double-consonance is of secondary origin (according to § 6.2): 1. i from e = original e: paṭivissaka 'neighbour' M. I. 126⁵, DhCo. III. 155¹¹ from vṛssaka* = prativeśya-ka; pasābba 'bag' Vin. III. 17¹⁰, JāCo. III. 10²¹ etc. through sēbbaka* = prasevaka. The word ubbilla 'pleasant surprise' M. III. 159⁴ with its numerous derivatives belongs to the root vell with ud. Also dvinnam, ubhinnaṃ are traced by E. Kuhn⁵ to duvenam*, ubhenam* which are directly derived from the Nom. (ubhe* instead of ubho is due to analogy with *dve*⁶).—2. i from e = original ai: issariya 'rulership' = aiśvarya; sindhava 'horse from Sind' = saindhava.—3. u from o = original o: akuppa, asaṃkuppa 'unshakable' Thl. 182, 649 = -kopya; tutta 'spur' Cp. III. 5.2, D. II. 266⁵ (verse) = *tottra*⁷; sussam (v.l. sossam) 'I shall hear'

III. 338¹⁷ (AMāg. ussā and osā)=avaśyāya the u is derived from o<ava.

6. Influence of Neighbouring Vowels or Consonants on the Vowels

§ 16. Vowels are not infrequently influenced by neighbouring vowels. Here we have the beginnings of a 'vowel-assimilation' in Pāli.² 1. Influence of following vowels: (a) i becomes u before a following u : usu 'arrow' (also in AMāg.) = iṣu ; ucchu 'sugar-cane' (AMāg. ucchu beside ikkhu) = iṣu ; kukku (a measure of length) A. IV. 404²¹, Vin. I. 254³⁶=*kiṣku*³ ; susu 'young'=śiśu (nasalised form in sumsumāra 'crocodile' = śiśumāra). In kukkusa 'powder in rice-ears' Vin. II. 280²⁰ = *kiknasa*⁴ the intermediate steps are kikkasa*, kikkusa* (§19.2). Hereto belongs nutṭhubhati, -hati 'spits out' Vin. II. 175⁷, JāCo. I. 459², II. 105²³ (beside niṭṭhubhati Ud. 50¹⁸, -hati DhCo. II. 36⁷) from a root stubbh* with *ni*⁵.—(b) a becomes u before following u : sumugga 'basket' JāCo. I. 265²⁸ (beside samugga) = samudga ; usūyā, usuyyā 'envy' S. I. 127⁸, JāCo. I. 444⁸, D. II. 243² (§ 6.2) = asūyā.—(c) a becomes i before following i : siriṃsapa 'snake' = sariṣṣpa ; timissā 'moonless night' JāCo. III. 433¹⁰=tamiṣā.⁶—(d) u becomes a before following a in kappara (AMāg. koppara) 'knuckle' Vin. III. 121⁹, JāCo. I. 293¹ = kūrpara.

§ 17 There is further 2. the influence of the preceding vowel : (a) a becomes u after preceding u : uḷuṅka 'ladle' JāCo. I. 235²³, JII 71²²=udaṅka ; kuruṅga (a kind of gazelle) JāCo. I. 173¹⁵=kuraṅga ; pukkusa (designation of a low caste) Jā. III. 194³⁰, M. III. 169²⁸, Pu. 51²³, Milp. 5¹²=pukkaśa ; puthujjana 'ordinary ⁶ Also timissā D. II. 175⁷, M. III. 174²⁶, which presupposes a tamiṣā*.

(not converted) people '= prthagjana.—(b) i becomes u after preceding a: arañjara 'water-pot' Abhp 456 = alinjara, kākaṇṭhikā (small coin) JāCo. I. 120²⁰, DhCo. III. 108¹² = kākiṇṭhikā, poḥkharañi 'lotus-tank' = puṣkarañi, sākhalla, -lya 'friendship' (§ 3) from sakhila.¹—(c) u becomes a after preceding a āyasmant 'venerable' = āyusmant; matthaluṅga 'brain' Kh. 3 JāCo I. 493¹⁰ = mastuluṅga, sakkhalī, -likā 'ear-lobe' (JPTS. 1909, p. 17) = śaṣkuli.—(d) a becomes i after preceding i: siṅgivera 'ginger' = śṅgavera; nisinna 'sitting' (but pasanna, samsanna) = niṣanṇa.²

§ 18. The influence of consonants on vowels comes to light in the fact that 1. the vowel u appears by preference in the neighbourhood of labials, and that 2. i appears by preference in the neighbourhood of palatals. Ad 1: Of derivatives from the root majj with ni and ud we have nimujjati 'drowns', ummujjati 'floats', nimujjā, ummujjā, nimugga etc. Cf. further saṇṇimujjanī, -muñjanī 'broom' DhCo. III. 168⁶ beside saṇṇamajjanī DhCo. III. 7¹⁹ = saṇṇamārjanī. Also mutu 'thought' Sn. 714, 793, M.I. 3²² etc., muti 'thought' Sn. 846, mutimā Sn. 321, Jā. IV. 76¹⁰ = matimān should be regarded only as dialectical side-forms of mata etc. The existence of a root mu however seems to be guaranteed by the Fut. Pass. Part. motabba and the verbal noun motar A. II. 25^{16, 18}.—Ad 2: miṃjā 'marrow' (see p. 65, f.n. 4) from majjā; jigucchati 'conceals' D. I. 213²³, JāCo. I. 422²⁰, jigucchā D. I. 174¹⁹ as opposed to jugupsate, *jugupsā*³; ohiyyo 'more' from bhūyas. On seyyā see § 9.

7. Influence of Accent on Vocalism

§ 19. In words of three or four syllables, which on the evidence of Skr. had the accent on the first syllable, the vowel of the second syllable is often reduced. In most cases i appears as the reduced vowel; after labials appears frequently, though not always, u instead of i: 1. After the accent-syllable a becomes i: candimā 'moon' = *caṇḍamā*⁴; carima 'following, last' Th1. 202 = carama; parima 'the highest' M. III. 112¹⁵ = parama; puttimā N. Sg. 'endowed with sons' Sn. 33, 34 = putramān*; majjhima 'middle' =

¹ Similarly kosajja 'slowness' Dh 241, A. I. 11²⁹ (from kusita) as opposed to kausidya.

² Also in pathavi (-ṭh-) and puthavi (§ 12.4) = prthivi we have vowel-assimilation; puthavi in a cross form Not so Pischel, PkrGr. § 115.

³ Forms like jeguccha 'contrary' Vin. I. 58²⁸ etc. and jegucchin 'disgusting' Vin. III. 31, JāCo. I. 390¹⁴ etc. are new formations. Cf. § 3.

⁴ A different but very far-fetched explanation is given by Pischel, PkrGr. § 103.

*madhyama*¹; saccika 'true' Milp. 226¹⁷ = satyaka. Cf. the forms ahimkāra, mamimkāra 'self-consciousness' M III 32⁴ beside ahamk- mamamk-. In the same way should be judged the future forms like dakkhisi 'you will see', kāhisi 'you will do' (beside ḍakkhasi, kāhasi), ehisi 'you will go', etc. as opposed to Skr. drakṣyasi, karkṣyasi*, eṣyasi.—2. After the accent-syllable a becomes u: navuti 'ninety' (AMāg. nauim) = navati; pāpuraṇa 'mantle' S. I. 175 f., DhCo. III. 1⁹ through pāvuraṇa M I. 359¹³ (AMāg. pāvuraṇa) = prāvaraṇa; saṃmuti 'consent' (beside saṃmata) = saṃmati (cf. above § 18.1). In the flexional system (§ 92.3) brahmunā, brahmuno, kammunā, kammuno (also AMāg. kammunā, -ṇo); addhunā, *addhuno*² = brahmaṇā, -ṇas; karmaṇā, -ṇas, adhvaṇā, -nas. After non-labials there is u in ajjuka (name of a plant) Abhp 579 = *arjaka*³; kukkusa (§ 16. 1a) = kiknasa; pekkhuna 'wing' Th1. 211, 1186, JāCo. I 207¹⁰ = preṇkhana 'swing'⁴; sajjulasā 'resin' Vin. I. 202¹ = sarjarasa.—3. Occasionally after the accent-syllable i becomes u and u becomes i: rājula (a reptile) Abhp. 651 = rājula; geruka 'reddish chalk' Vin. I. 48⁸ (AMāg. geruya beside Māh. geria) = gairika, pasuta 'intent on something' Th1. 28, D. 1. 135²⁵, JāCo. III. 26⁴ = prasita. Further muditā 'softness' M. I. 370⁸, S. V. 118²⁵ (beside mudutā A. I. 9²⁵) = mṛdūtā. On suṇisā see § 31.2.

§ 20. Unstressed short vowels, particularly immediately after the accent, are sometimes syncopated. jaggati 'watches' (§ 142.4) is to be traced from jāgarati through jāg^arati*; oka 'water' Dh. 34, 91 from udaka through ōkka*, ukka*, utka*, ud^aka*; agga 'house' (in uposath-agga, khuragga, bhattagga etc.) from agāra through ag^ara*, agara*. Syncope is in evidence also in the verbal ending -mhe (beside -mahe).⁵ Finally, there is a number of onomatopoeic words in which syncope may be clearly traced: ciccitāyati 'rustles' Vin. I. 225³⁵, S. I. 169⁶, Sn. S 14, Pu. 36³² beside citicitāyati; sassara, babbhara M. I. 128²⁵ (JPTS. 1889, p. 209) for sar^asara*, bhar^abhara* beside sarasara, bharabhara. In enclitics khalu has become kho through kh^alu*, k^hhu*.⁶

¹ This should not be regarded as "Samprasāraṇa" as E. Kuhn, Beitr. p. 54 suggests, because the i is not derived from ya*; the y is contained in jñ. At the most one can say that at an earlier stage of the language the a after y in madhyama had a pronunciation leaning towards i.

² The same view should be taken as in f.-n. 1.

³ Sabbhūti. Abhp.-Sūci under this word gives ajjaka beside ajjuka.

⁴ Pischel, § 89.

⁵ E. Kuhn, Beitr., p. 94.

⁶ In Pkr. Saurasenī and Māgadhi we have k^hhu which causes the shortening of preceding e, o. Pischel § 94, 148. Whence the o in Pāli kho?

§ 21. Weakening of the syllable preceding the accented one is found in kāhāpaṇa (a coin) (Pkr. kāhāvaṇa) = kāṣāpaṇa; perhaps also in nigrodha 'fig indica' = nyagrodha and in susāna 'burial ground' from śvaśāna*, a side-form of *śmaśāna*¹. Yet however similar instances of samprasāraṇa are found also in the syllable with main accent. It is perhaps due to the weakening of the syllable preceding the accented one that dvi- appears as du- in compounds, e.g., dujivha 'double-tongued' Jā. V. 82⁴. Under the accent we have the regular forms dvi-, di-, e.g. dipada 'biped' ². The two types having later crossed each other we have on the one hand duvidha 'double' = divividha, and on the other dvibhūmiko 'consisting of two stories' JāCo. II. 18⁵.—In forms like thāpeti (utthāpeti etc.) as opposed to sthāpayati we have analogical formations after the type jñāpayati etc (§ 180.1); similarly in kiṇati 'buys', as opposed to kriṇāti, after the types mināti, *lunāti*³.

§ 22. The effect of accent is perceptible also in the shortening of unstressed final syllables. Thus o becomes u in asu 'that' (§ 109) through aso* (thus in AMāg.) = asau; udāhu 'or' = utāho; sajju 'immediately' Dh. 71 (from which sajjukam) through sajjo* = sadyas; hetu (in kissa hetu 'what for?') through heto* = hetos.⁴ With later nasalisation: -khattum (adv. numeral suffix) through -khatto* = -kṛtvās and adam 'that' through ado* = adas. Cf. § 66. 2 b. Qualitative change (reduction) is in evidence in saddhim 'together with' = *sārdham*⁵, sakkhi(ṇ) or sacchi 'before one's eyes' (certainly not = sākṣāt, but) = sākṣam* (AMāg. *sakkham*⁶); saṇim 'slowly' Mhvs. 25. 84 (not = śanais, but) = śanam*. Reduction to u under the influence of an u of the preceding syllable (§ 17. 2 a) is found in puthu 'separate' Th1. 86, Milp. 4¹ = prthak. The enclitic -svid has become -su, -ssu: kiṇ-su, kena-ssu etc. S. I. 36 ff. We have moreover -si in kam-si DhCo. I. 91¹⁸. Cf. § 111.1.

§ 23. In a series of words even from the beginning the long second syllable was shortened. This is evidently due to the shifting of the accent to the first syllable. Examples: alika 'false' Sn. 239.

¹ Pischel, PkrGr. § 104. Johansson (IF. 25. 225 ff.) separates susāna from śmaśāna and derives the former from śvaśayana 'burial ground'.

² Also Pkr. has du-, do- beside di-, bi-. Pischel, § 436.

³ A different explanation is given by Michelson, IF. 23. 127.

⁴ Even new nominal stems are formed in this way; Skr. āgas 'sin' through āgo* becomes āgu, inflected like madhu.

⁵ A different explanation in Pischel, PkrGr. § 103.

⁶ Pischel, § 114.

S. I. 189², Rasav. II. 83¹⁴=alika; gahita 'seized'= gṛhita; pannavant 'intelligent' Th1. 70, Vin. I. 60¹=prajñāvant; pāṇiya 'water' beside pāṇiya (pāṇiyāni D. I. 148⁴, pāṇiyāni JāCo. I. 450⁸) = pāṇiya (AMāg., JMāh. pāṇiya); vammika 'ant-hill' JāCo. I. 432⁵ beside vammika JāCo. III. 85⁸=vālmika; sāluka 'lotus-root' Vin. I. 246¹⁶=śāluka. Similarly dutiya 'second', tatiya 'third'= dvi-tiya, *tṛtiya*¹.—In other cases, where the vowel of the second syllable was originally short, qualitative change of the vowel took place as a result of this shifting of accent: Pajjunna (name of the god of rains) D. II. 260²⁵, JāCo. I. 331²¹=Parjanya; muṭṭha 'drum' D. I. 79¹², Vin. I. 15¹⁰ (Pkr. muṭṭha) = mṛdaṅga. Cf. meraya 'intoxicating drink' Dh. 247, D. I. 146²⁰=maireya.

§ 24. The effect of the new expiratory accent is perceptible also in the occasional lengthening of the vowel of the first syllable: ājira 'court-yard' Mhvs. 35.8=ajira; ālinda 'terrace in front of a house' D. I. 89³⁰, Vin. I. 248², DhCo. I. 26⁴=alinda; perhaps we have also to include here ānubhāva 'power' JāCo. I. 509²³=anubhāva. This explanation of the lengthening of the vowel of the initial syllable often however remains doubtful, as in āroga 'in good health' JāCo. I. 408¹ (reading uncertain) beside aroga=aroga; pāṭibhoga 'surety' Ud. 17¹⁰, Iv. 1⁶, JāCo. II. 98¹⁴, which in meaning is difficult to connect with pratibhoga; pāṭiyekka 'individually' JāCo. I. 92²⁴ beside pacceka=pratyeka.—Gemination of consonants may take the place of lengthening of vowels: ummā 'flax' in ummāpuppha (a precious stone) A. V. 61²¹=umā; kummagga 'evil path' A. III. 420²⁹, Pu. 22⁷, Milp. 390⁸, kunnadi 'small (intermittent) river' Th1. 145, S. I. 109⁵, JāCo. III. 221¹¹. kussubbha 'small pool' S. V. 63⁸ (beside kusubbha) = ku + mārga, nadī, śvabhra; mukkhara 'garrulous' Minayeff, Prātimokṣa 59 (beside mukhara S. I. 203²⁴, JāCo. III. 103⁵) = *mukhara*².

8. Samprasāraṇa and the Loss of Syllable through Contraction

§ 25. Through Samprasāraṇa: 1. yā becomes i also in stressed syllable: thina 'sloth'= styāna; dviha, tiha 'period of two (three) days' D. I. 190^{1c}, A. I. 140¹⁵=dvyaha, tryaha; visiveti 'dries out at fire' JāCo. II. 68¹⁶, DhCo. I. 225²=viśyāpayati. Of frequent occurrence is viti=vyati-, vi-ati-, e.g., vitivatta=vyatiroṭṭa etc. Cf. ninka (a kind of deer) Abhp. 619=nyaṅku. Instead of i there is e in (saṃ)pavedhati 'shakes' Sn. 928, D. II. 22² from root vyath. Often yā is retained: vyasaha 'misfortune', vyādha 'hunter' etc. In cajati 'gives up' =tyajati, maṅghantika 'relating to noon-time' from madhya etc. we have the assimilation of y to the preceding consonant.—2. vā becomes ū in sina 'dog' Abhp. 519 from the stem *śvān*¹. Before double-consonance ū becomes o through u (§ 10): sotthi 'welfare' (beside suvatthi)=svasti, soppa 'sleep' (beside supina) S. I. 110³² (verse)=svapna; sobbha 'tank' (cf. kussubbha § 24) =śvabhra. The form ko 'where?' S. I. 199¹⁶ (verse), Vin. I. 36²⁴ (beside kvaṃ, kuvaṃ, kva-ci) is probably a sandhi-form before double-consonance. Before single consonants there is o instead of ū, e.g., in sopāka (AMāg. sovāga) 'man of low caste'=śvapāka and soṇa 'dog'². Moreover vā is often retained in the assimilation of v, e.g., assattha 'figus religiosa' (AMāg. however has assottha etc.)=aśvattha.—3. Quite peculiar is dosa in which Skr. doṣa 'fault' and dvesa 'hatred' have coincided. Cf. dosaniya 'deserving hatred' A III. 169²⁸=dveṣaṇiya.

¹ Pischel, KZ. 35. 142, PkrGr. § 82, 91 assumes the basic forms dvityā*, tṛtyā*. But see Jacobi, Kalpasūtra (AbhKM. VI 1), p. 103, f. n., as well as KZ. 35. 570 f.

² The example suddiṭṭha quoted in JPTS. 1909, p. 198 is=su-uddiṭṭha; sakkāya is not=svakāya, but=satkāya (Frauke, D. p. 54, f. n. 4) and cikkhalla 'earthen,' Vin. II. 122³¹ not=cikkhala but=caikkhalya* > cōkkhalla* > cekkhalla* (B. Müller, PGr. p. 19).

§ 26. Through contraction aya can become c and ava can become *o*³, clearly through the intermediate stages ayi: ai, avu: ai (§ 19). 1. aya becomes e in jeti 'wins' (beside jayati)=jayati, etc.; ajjhena 'study' Sn 242, M. III. 1¹³=adhyayana. Facultatively also in causatives and other verbal stems in aya, such as moceti, *katheti*⁴. Further terasa 'thirteen'=trayadaśa*, tevīsa(ti)=trayaviṃśati*; aya is retained in nayana 'eye', sayana 'bed' etc. (but saṇḍana 'bedstead and seat' beside sayanāṣana Sn. 338 f., Dh 185).—2. ava becomes o in odhi 'limit' D II. 160³², JāCo. II. 18²¹=avadhi; oma 'lowly' Sn. 860, A. III. 359²⁸ (verse)=avama; poṇa 'sinking, inclined' Vin. II 237¹⁹, Ud. 53⁹ etc.=pravāṇa; loṇa 'salt'=lavāṇa; hoṇi 'is, becomes'

¹ In turita 'hastening' and kuthita 'boiled,' as opposed to toarita and krathita, we have in fact no Samprasāraṇa of the Pāli stage. We are to assume here older basic forms turita*, kuthita*.

² The intermediate stages seem to have been iya and uva; thus dvyaha: dviyaha*: dvīha, śvān: śvān*: sīna, soṇa. Cf. soṇṇa 'gold' beside suvaṇṇa.

³ Pischel, PkrGr. § 153 f.

⁴ In the same way may be explained also bhāyāmi 'I fear' and palāyati 'flies' beside which are found also bhemi and paleti. Cf. § 138 and 139, 1.

(beside bhavati) and many other forms. Also facultatively o = the prefix ava- (orodha 'harem' = avarodha) and vo = the prefix vyav-, vi-ava, (vosita 'fulfilled' Dh 423 = vyavasita). Cf. uposatha (Pkr. posaha) = upavasatha. Ava is retained in lavana 'harvest,' savana 'hearing' etc. But loṇa 'salt' = lavaṇa.

§ 27. Further cases of contraction are 1. aya becomes ā: patī-sallāna 'meditation' D. II. 9¹⁰, JāCo. II. 77¹¹ etc. = pratisamlayana; soṭṭhāna 'welfare' Sn. 258, A. IV. 271²⁰ (verse) = svastyayana (§ 25.2).—2. āya becomes ā: vehāsa 'atmosphere' D. I. 95¹⁰, JāCo. I. 445²⁰ etc. = vaiḥāyasa; upaṭṭhāka 'attendant' Vin. I. 72¹⁷, JāCo. II. 3³ instead of -ucchāya I. Sg. f.; esānā 'goes' in search of 'JāCo. II. 34¹⁶ instead of -nāya D. Sg. m.; chamā 'on the earth' instead of -māya Loc. Sg. f.² Particularly in the first syllables of words āya is likely to be retained: vāyasa, jāyati etc.—3. āva becomes o in atidhona (cārin) 'committing transgressions' Dh. 240 = atidhāvana*.³ But āva is retained in the first syllables pāvaka, sāvaka.—4. avā becomes ā in the yāgu 'rice-gruel' A. III. 250¹² etc. = yavāgū; avā remains uncontracted in kavāṭa, pavāḷa, as ayā in dayālu etc.—5. ayi and avi become e: acchera 'miraculous' Vv. 84. 12 through acchayira* (beside acchariya) = āścarya; similarly ācera 'teacher' Jā. IV. 248⁹ (beside ācariya) = ācārya; macchera 'envy' Dh 242, DhCo. III. 2¹ etc. = *mātsarya*⁴; thera 'venerable priest' = sthavira; hessati 'will be' (§ 154.2) = *bhaviṣyati*⁵.—6. āyi becomes e in the technical term acceka (civara) 'garment' given at an unusual hour' Vin. III. 260³³ beside accāyika 'pressing' M. II. 112²⁷, JāCo. I. 338³¹ = atyāyika*. Beside this e we have i in pāṭihira 'sign of miracle' D. I. 193³, Mhvs. 5.188 through pāṭihāyira* (beside ¹ Also pācittiya 'transgression requiring penance' Vin. IV. 1 ff., if it is related to prāyascittika Sylv. Lévi, JAs. Ser. X, t. 20, p. 506 ff. derives it from a prāk-citta*.

Smp. 304¹=kiyattaka*. According to § 10. 2 is to be explained ottaka 'so much' =iyattaka*¹.—8. Isolated cases of contraction are found moreover in koṭṭha in the names of birds rukkhakoṭṭhasakuna JāCo. III. 25²⁹ if it is = *koyaṣṭi*² and mora 'peacock' (the same form also in Pkr.; in Pāli also mayūra D. III. 201²²)=*mayūra*³.

§ 28. As in Pkr.,⁴ so also in P. the prepositions upa- and apa- (through uva-, ava-) may become ū- and o-: 1. upa- becomes ū-, as I think, in ūhadeti 'besmears with dung'=upahadati and ūhasaṇa 'smiling at somebody' Milp. 127²¹. Cf. Pkr. ūhasia in Hem.=*upahasita*⁵—2. apa- becomes o- in ovaraka 'inner apartment (of a house)' Vin. I. 217¹⁷, VvCo. 304¹⁴=apavaraka; ottappati 'feels shame' A. III. 21⁶ (ottappa 'shame', ottappin or ottāpin 'shameful') from the root trap with *apa*⁶. Presumably also in (pacc)osakkati 'falls back' D. I. 230²¹, JāCo. I. 388⁸, Mhvs. 25.84 (AMāg. paccosakkai) from root ṣvaṣk with (prati)*apa*⁷.

9. Increase of Syllables through Svarabhakti

§ 29. Only the consonant-groups containing r, l, y, v or a nasal are separated by svarabhakti⁸. An exception is to be found in kaṣaṭa 'bad, false' A. I. 72⁸, JāCo. II. 96²², Milp. 119¹³ etc.=kasta. This is perhaps a dialectical expression. In Pkr. we have the Pāisāci form *kaṣaṭa*⁹.—The added vowel appears mostly in the inside of words. In initial ³ Uncontracted mayūkha 'beam of light' as opposed to Pkr. Māh. moha.

⁴ Hem. I. 173; Pischel, PkrGr. § 155.

⁵ It may be thought that also ūhanā in the meaning 'defiles' is derived from han with upa. Yet this is rendered improbable by Vin. I. 78¹², where ummiḥati stands parallel to it. It is certain that ūhanā=han with ud and it means 'conquers, annihilates.' Instead of ūhanā M. I. 243²³ we have in fact upahanā (with v.l. uh-) in the parallel passage S. IV. 56¹⁹.

⁶ E. Müller, PGr., p. 43.

position it is found in itthi 'woman' = stri and in umhayati, -te 'smiles'¹ Jā. II. 131²², JāCo. III. 44¹⁴ = smayate.—Beside forms with the added vowel there are often those showing assimilation of the consonant-groups. The latter are archaic and are found particularly in the gāthās. In the commentary they are explained by the forms with the added vowel, which therefore must have been the current forms. Thus we have in Jā. III. 151⁵ asi tikkho va mamsamhi; the Co. replaces tikkha 'sharp' = tikṣṇa by tikhṇa. Regarding the action of the law of mora on the quantity of a long vowel preceding a consonant-group separated by svarabhakti, see above § 8. In verse the svarabhakti-vowels are often ignored as also in Pkr.² Cf. Dh. 10 arahati = arhati; Dh. 25 kayirātha = kayrātha; Th1. 477 suriyasmiṇi = suryasmiṇi; Th2. 49 puriso = purso etc. The i of itthi is always metrically justified; beside it however there is found in verses the form thi: Sn. 76), Jā. I. 295⁸, Jā. V. 81¹⁶.

§ 80. Of all the added vowels the most frequent is i (both prothetic and anaptyctic): 1. In the group ry: riyati 'moves' M. I. 74⁶, A. III. 451⁶ (substantive iriyā) = iryate*, iryā; marīyādā 'frontier' Mhvs. 34.70 = maryādā etc. In the same way are formed the passives like kariyati from karoti (also kariyati D. I. 52²⁷), vāriyati 'is held back' = vāryate.—2. In other combinations with y: kāluṣiya 'darkening' DCo. I. 95¹⁰ = kāluṣya; jīyā 'bow-string' D II. 334²⁰, Mhvs. 14.4 = jyā etc. In the same category are to be included also the passives like pucchiyati 'is asked' = prcchiate. Also in hiyyo (AMāg. hiḷjo) 'yesterday' = hyas we have svarabhakti with secondary reduplication of y.—3. In other combinations with r: vajira 'thunder, diamond' (AMāg. vaīra) Dh. 161, D. I. 95⁸, Milp. 118²¹ = vajra. On siṛi, hiṛi see § 8. Svarabhakti by i is in evidence also in purisa 'man' (cf. § 29). The basic form is pūrṣa*. In the popular dialects the form with the svarabhakti vowel i was preferred to the Skr. form purusa with *u*³. From pūrṣa* through pussa*, possa* is derived also P. posa Sn. 110 (and otherwise in verses).—4. In consonant-groups with l: pilakkhu (name of a tree) Jā. III. 24²⁶ = plakṣa; hilāda 'joy' Aṭṭanagaluvs. 1. 11 = ñlāda etc. But we have invariably sukka 'white' = śukla.—5. In consonant-groups with nasals: sineha 'affection' = sneha; tasinā 'thirst' Dh. 342 f. (beside taṇhā) = tṛṣṇā. On the other hand there occur only kaṇha 'black' = kṛṣṇa (Pkr. kaṇha, kaṣiṇa, kaṣaṇa) and nagga 'naked' = nagna (AMūg. nagiṇa, nigīṇa). In flexion we have rājīnā, rājīno beside raññā, rañño=rājñā, rājñas. On gini from agini*, agni see § 66.1. On mihita see § 50.6.

§ 31. 1. The svarabhakti-vowel a is found particularly in those cases where the a-vowel is much in evidence before and after: garahā 'abuse' JāCo. I. 372³¹, 'dishonesty' D. I. 135¹⁴, garahati 'abuses' etc =garhā, garhati; palavati 'swims' Dh. 334, Th1. 399 (beside pilavati Th1. 104)=plavati, harāyati 'is ashamed' (§ 186. 2) beside hiriyati from hri. Cf. nahāyati in § 50. 5. As link in compound: antaradhāyati 'disappears' from root dhā with antar.—2. The svarabhakti-vowel u is found before m and v: usumā 'heat' JāCo. III. 71¹⁸=uṣman; sukhuma 'fine'=sūkṣma; duve 'two' (more frequently dve) metri causa Sn. 48, 896=dve; maruvā (v.l. muruvā) (a kind of hemp) M. I. 429²³=mūrvā. Sometimes u is induced by an u of the following syllable: kurūra 'cruel' A. III. 383²⁴, Pu. 56⁷=krūra. In the same way originated also the form suṇisā 'daughter-in-law' through sunusā* (as in Paisāci) from snuṣā. The i in this form¹ is to be explained according to § 19.3. The svarabhakti-vowel u is in evidence also in sakkuṇāti 'is able' and pāpuṇāti 'obtains' from Skr. śaknoti, prāpnoti. Cf. § 148.

10. Quantitative Changes in Composition and under Stress of Metre

§ 32. On account of the metre very often 1. short vowels are lengthened². satimati Th2. 35; tūriyaṃ Mbhs. 25. 74; tatīyaṃ Dh. 309; anūdake Jā. VI. 499⁵. Frequently also in final syllables: sīho va nadati vane Th1. 832. Due to the law of mora, the lengthening of preceding vowel is to be regarded as equivalent to the reduplication of the following consonant: paribbasāna for *pariv*⁰ Sn. 796; sarati bbayo 'life flies' (cf. § 51. 3) for sarati vayo Jā. III. 95¹⁸. The forms kummiga Mlp. 346¹⁵, kussobbha Sn. 720 might be due to metrical exigencies. According to § 24, they may however occur even where there is no pressure of metre.—2. Shortening of long vowels *metri causa*³ is likewise very frequent: (bhūtāni) bhum māni vā yāni va (instead of vā) antalikkhe Kh. 6. 1=Sn. 222 (cf. Kh. 9. 6, Dh. 138 f.); paccanikā instead of -nikā. Cp. II. 8. 4 etc. o is shortened into a in okamokata (instead of -to) Dh. 84, and e is shortened into i in gimhisu* (instead of -esu) Dh. 286. Not infrequently the endings -inaṃ, -unaṃ, ihi, -uhi, -isu, -usu remain short in verse as opposed to -inaṃ etc. in prose. Thus Th1. 1258, 240, Jā. VI. 579²⁹, Th1. 1207 etc. Nasal vowels are denasalised: diḡhaṃ addhāna (instead of -naṃ) socati Dh. 207. In Th2. 91 should be read pāpuṇi instead of -niṃ. In sandhi we have further very often cases like aññā samatimaññi 'haṃ (instead of -ññiṃ ahaṃ) Th2. 72. Also in the inside of words the nasal may be dropped metri causa. Thus jivato Jā. III. 539² instead of jivanto. Simplification of double-consonance is again equivalent to shortening of vowels. Thus we have, metri causa, dukhaṃ for dukkham Th1. 734, dakkhiṣaṃ for *-issaṃ*¹ Th2. 84 (cf. dakkhiṣāma Jā. III. 99⁷) and many similar cases.

³ Pischel, § 99.

§ 33. At the end of the first member of a compound 1. the short vowel is often lengthened² sakkhībhāva JāCo. III. 498⁶ (sakkhībh- JāCo. VI. 424²⁰), abbhāmatṭa S. I. 205⁴ (in a verse, but not metri causa); rajaṇṇapatha (see Childers, P. D. sub voce), for which there is rajaṇṇapatha in Pu. 57¹². Equivalent to this lengthening there is also the gemination of the initial consonant of the second member of the compound. jātassara 'natural lake' Vin. I. 111⁴; navakkhattuṃ 'nine times' DhCo. III. 377¹² and likewise in all compounds with -khattuṃ = -kṛtvas.—Lengthening of vowels or gemination of consonants is found very frequently in combinations with prepositions: pāvacaṇa (AMāg. pāvayana) 'word' Th2. 457, D. I. 88⁶ etc. = pravacaṇa; pākata (AMāg. pāgada) 'apparent' Th1. 109, VvCo. 267²⁷ = *prakāṭa*³. This may be partially due also to the effect of the stress accent (§ 24). Gemination of the consonant is found also in abhiḡkanta 'glorious' D. I. 85⁷ etc.: it belongs rather to the root kaṃ (not to *kram*⁴); further in patikkūla 'contrary' M. III. 301¹¹, JāCo.

³ In pāheti 'sends' (beside pahiṇati) the ā is perhaps due to forms like pāhesā 'he sent.'

⁴ The forms upakkhiṭṭha 'defiled,' upakkilesa 'defilement' are perhaps contaminations of upakkhiṭṭha*, upakkesa* = upakhiṭṭa, upakilesa with upakkhiṭṭha* and upakilesa* (with svarabhakti-vowel according to § 30. 4). Probably a contamination of the root-forms ṣṛaṇ and ṣṛj is at the root of ossajjati 'gives up', vissajjati 'gives away' (beside ossajati, vissajati). oggata 'gone down' (see p. 76, f.-n 7) and okkasati 'takes away' D. II. 74²⁹ from root karṣ with ava (intermediate steps: ōgata* ōkasati*) are cases of § 6. 2.

I. 393²⁴ beside patikūla Vin. I. 58²⁵ etc. = pratikūla. Perhaps we have to explain in this way also some of the compounds of the type phalā-phala 'fruits of every sort.'¹ In many cases however, e.g., maggā-magga 'paths of every description (good and evil ways),' it is not unnatural to think of the type subhāsubha (subha+asubha).—
2. Shortening of the vowel often takes place when stems in ā, i, ū form the first member of the compound²: upāhanādāna 'gift of shoes' JāCo. IV. 20¹³ from upāhanā+d-; dāsigaṇa 'troop of maid-servants' JāCo. II. 127²⁶ from dāsi+g-; sassudevā 'worshipping the mother-in-law as god' S. I. 86¹⁴=Jā. IV. 322¹⁵ (in verse, but without pressure of metre) from sassū+d-.

11. Irregularities of Vocalism

§ 34. There are now still a number of "sporadical cases" to deal with. Thus from Skr. punar the double forms puna and pana have been developed with different meanings: puna means 'again, once more,' pana means 'but, on the contrary.'³—In many cases the vocalism of Pāli is more archaic than that of Skr. Thus in garu 'heavy' as opposed to Skr. guru, and also in agaru, agalu 'aloe' Jā. VI. 510¹⁴, VvCo. 237¹ as opposed to aguru (beside agaru). Perhaps also in kilaṇja 'mat' M. I. 228³³, Mhvs. 34. 54 as opposed to kiliṇja; mucalinda (name of a tree) Vin. I. 3¹² as opposed to mucilinda; jhallikā 'beetle' Abhp. 646 as opposed to jhillikā.—In other cases the Pāli word is derived from a basic form different from that of the Skr. word: thus tipu 'tin' D. II. 351⁹, Vin. I. 190²⁷ is not = trapu, but = tṛpu*; papphāsa 'lung' Kh. 3, D. II. 293¹⁵ etc. is not = pupphusa; simbala, -lī 'cotton-tree' (AMāg. simbalī) is not = sālmali (AMāg. sāmalī) but = Ved. śimbala 'cotton-flower'⁴; tekkicchā 'healing,' atekkicchā 'incurable' (AMāg. taṅgicchā) A. III. 146³², DhCo. I. 25²¹ not = cikitsā, but = cekitsā*.⁵ The forms kissa G. Sg. and kismim, kimhi L. Sg. of the Interr. Pron. do not belong to the stem ka, but to the stem ki which appears in Skr. kim.⁶—Not infrequently, parallels to the Pāli forms are found in Pkr. Thus pārepata 'dove' Jā VI. 539¹⁵=AMāg. pārevaya as opposed to Skr. pārāpata=Māh. *pārāvaā*¹, milakkha 'barbarian' S. V. 466²⁹, milakkhu Thl. 965=AMāg milakkhu as opposed to Skr. mleccha=AMāg. mēccha, *miccha*²; timbaru (name of a tree) Attanagaluvs. 7. 15=Pkr. ṭimbaru, -ruya as opposed to Skr. tumburu=Pkr. *tumburu*³—The verb dhovati 'washes' as opposed to Skr. dhāvati owes its o to forms like dhota 'washed'= dhauta.⁴

12. Consonants in Free Position

§ 35. On the whole, the free consonants are well preserved in Pāli. Unlike Pkr.⁵, it retains intervocalic mutes. Also n and y remain as a rule unchanged.⁶ The sibilants ś, ṣ, s (see § 3) have coincided in s.—It may be said as a general rule (see § 2) that in intervocalic position ḍ and ḍh change into l and *ḷh*⁷. āvelā 'garland' (§ 11)=āpidā; peḷā 'basket' Pv. IV. 1. 42, Mhvs 36. 20=peḍā; hīleti 'neglects' (JPTS. 1907, p. 167) from root hiḍ; mīḷha Vv. 52.11=mīḍha from root mih; vūḷha 'carried away' Vin. I. 32¹³=ūḍha. The ḍ is retained in kuḍumala 'opening bud' (kuḍumalakajāta A. IV. 117²¹). Here the ḍ originally stood in a consonant-group, (Skr. kuḍmala) which was separated by svarabhakti. In Abhp. 482 appears also kuḍuba (a certain measure)=kudava. The form sahoḍha 'together with what has been plundered' from saha+*ūḍha*⁸ is remarkable.

§ 36. The various phenomena of Prākṛit are met with sporadically also in Pāli. The words and forms concerned are taken from those dialects which had gone further on the path of Prākṛitisation than the literary language represented by Pāli. On the corresponding phenomena in sound-groups cf. § 60 ff

One of these sporadical phenomena is the occasional elision of an intervocalic mute which is replaced by the hiatus-filler y or v: suva 'parrot' (beside suka)=śuka; khāyita 'eaten' Jā. VI. 498¹⁹, M. I.

83⁶, Vin. I. 109²⁰ = *khōdita*¹; niya 'own' Sn. 149 (beside nija) = *nija*²; sāyati 'tastes' D. III. 85²⁰, A. III. 163²¹ (beside sādiyati, sādita) = svādate. Cf. the names Aparagoyāna Bodhivs. 74² = *Apuragodāna*³ and Kusmāra through naara* = Kuśinagara. The Pāli forms in these cases very probably reflect the local dialectical pronunciation. Interchange between the endings -ikā and -iyā is very frequent⁴: āveṇika 'particular, separate' S. IV. 239¹⁰ and āveṇiya Vin. I. 71³⁰; Kosiya (name of Indra) Jā. II. 252³, M. I. 252³², Milp. 126⁷ = Kauśika; posāvanika 'developed to maturity' JāCo. III. 134²⁰ and -niya DhCo. III. 35² from posati. But these are not cases of Prākritism; double forms like lokiko 'worldly' = laukika and lokiya = laukya have led to the confusion of two suffixes. In this way originated also soṭṭhika 'Brahman' Mhvs. 5. 105 as variant reading of soṭṭhiya = śrotriya. Similarly perhaps also veyyattikā 'lucidity' Smp. 323²⁸ is to be regarded only as a side-form of veyyattiyā M. I. 82²⁵, II. 208³³, which has been derived from viyatta (with svarabhakti) = vyakta in the same way as veyyāvacca from viyāvata* (§ 3).

§ 37. It is again a phenomenon of Pkr. when sporadically a sonant aspirate in intervocalic position is represented by *h*⁵; lahu, lahuka 'light' Dh. 35, Thl. 104, A. I. 10² etc. = laghu; ruhira 'red, blood' Thl. 568, M. III. 122³⁴ (beside rudhira DhCo. I. 140¹⁴) = rudhira; sāhu 'good' Thl. 43, VCo. 284²⁹ (beside more frequent sādhu) = sādhu; āyūhati 'struggles' Sn. 210, S. I. 48¹ (verse), Jū. VI. '288², Milp. 326⁸, if, as H. Kern (IF. 25 238) suggests, it is derived from a basic form āyodhate*; nuṭṭhuhati 'spits out' (beside bhati § 16. 1a) from root stubh with ni; pahaṃsati 'rubs' JāCo. II. 102⁶, DhCo. I. 253⁵ through paghaṃsati* = praghaṃsati; momūha 'mad' S. I. 133³² (verse), D. I. 27⁹ (momūhatta A. III. 119⁹, Pu. 69⁷) = *momugha*⁷. The ending -bhi in Instr. Pl. has become -hi; -bhi is archaic. The Present form dahati 'sets, places' is to be derived from dadhati* as Pischel has suggested¹. Similarly dahāsi Sn. 841 and dahāti Sn. 888, Jā. V. 220⁸ represent dadhāsi, dadhāti. In initial position h represents bh in hoti 'becomes' beside bhavati (also Pkr. hoi); to the same category belong further pahoti 'is able', pahonaka 'sufficient' pahū 'able' Sn. 98, pahūta 'much' = prabhavati etc. In secondary initial there is h for dh in hetthā 'under' = adheṣṭhāt* (§ 9). It should be noticed here that in Pāli, as also in Pkr.², an old aspirate is sometimes preserved where the Skr. form shows only h idha 'here' as opposed to Skr. iha = Av. iḍa; ghammatī 'goes' as opposed to Skr. hammati, Pkr. hammai; Vebhāra (name of a hill) (AMāg Vebhāra, Vēbbhāra, Vibbhāra) as opposed to Vaihāra (but Vaihbhāra with the Jains)³. Also in pilandhati 'decorates', pilandhana 'decoration' from the Skr. root nah, Pāli has retained the older dh—A surd aspirate has been replaced by h in suhatā 'happiness' Jā. III. 158²⁴ from *sukha*⁴ and in samihati 'moves away' Vv. 5. 1, VvCo. 35¹⁶, which is perhaps connected with Skr. ikhate (beside inkh of the Dhātupāṭha⁵).

§ 38 The softening of surds in intervocalic position is another feature of Pāli which is to be attributed to the influence of dialects.⁶ 1 Softening of k into g: elamūga 'deaf and dumb' Jā. I. 247²⁸, M. I. 20¹⁹ = edamūka; patigacca 'earlier' D. II. 118²⁷, DhCo. III. 305³ etc. (in S. I. 57¹⁹ variant reading patikacca) = pratikṛtya.⁷ Further, in the proper names Sāgala (a city) Milp. 1³, JāCo. IV. 23²¹ = Sākala and Māgandīya (a Brahman; JPTS. 1888, p. 71) = Mākaṇḍika. kh is softened into gh in nighaṇṇasi 'you will dig' Jā. VI. 18¹⁸.—2 Softening of c into j: suḷā 'sacrificial ladle' from Skr. *sruc*⁸.—3 Softening of t into d udāhu 'or' = utāho; niyyādeti 'hands over' JāCo. I. 507² (also niyyādeti D. II. 331²) and paṭiyādeti 'prepares' D. I. 226⁷ = -yātayati; pasada 'spotted antelope' (§ 12.1) = ṇṣata; ruda 'voice' Jā. I. 207²⁰ (beside rūta JāCo. II. 388²³) = rutu; vidutthi

³ The case of saṃgharati (JPTS. 1909, p. 34) beside saṇḥarati is doubtful.

§ 39. It is again due to dialectical variations that sporadically the sonants are represented by surds⁵. 1. Instead of g appears k in: akalu (a perfume) Milp. 338¹³=aguru (§ 34); chakala 'goat' Abhp. 1111=

¹ S. Levi, ibid. 503, 502. See also R. O. Franke, D. p. 39, f.-n. 6 with p. LVIII. It is quite doubtful whether dandha 'slow, dull' is to be classed here. Wēber, ZDMG. 14.48 connects it with Skr. tandra. He is followed by Childers, Fausböll, E. Kuhn. A different, but wrong, explanation is given by Trenckner, Notes, p. 65 (JPTS 1908 115, foot-note) and E. Müller. According to Pischel (PkrGr. § 211) this unetymological aspiration of the initial consonant is in evidence also in words like cha 'six' ¹=ṣaṭ, chaka, chakana 'dung' Vin. I. 202²⁵=śakṛt; chāpa(ka) (AMāg. chāva)=śāva (§ 39.6); cheppā (AMāg. chēppa, chippa) 'tail' Vin. I. 191³, III. 21³⁷=śepa; the aspirated śh, śh is said to have developed into ch in these cases. Johansson (IF. 3.212 f.) assumes Indo-European doublets with sḱ and k̂; ch in his opinion is derived from sḱ.—(b) Unetymological aspiration in the middle of a word: sunakha (Pkr. suṇaha) 'dog'=śunaka; sukhumāla 'tender'=sukumāra; kakudha (Māh. kaiha) 'hump' JāCo. 340³=kakuda.—2 Loss of aspiration is rare: (a) initially: jalla 'dirt' Sn. 249, D. I. 167³, jallikā Sn. 198=jhallikā.—(b) Medially: kapoṇi 'elbow' Abph. 265=kaphoṇi; khudā 'hunger' Sn. 52, Jā. VI. 529³⁰=kṣudhā; cf. also katikā 'agreement' M. I. 171²⁸, Vin. I. 9⁶ etc. beside kathikā, a variant reading in JāCo. I. 450¹⁶=kathikā*.

§ 41. Dialectical influences are responsible also for sporadic changes of the place of articulation of the consonants.—1. Palatal appears for guttural in: cunda 'turner's lathe' cundakāra 'turner' JāCo. VI. 339¹²=kunda; root iṇj D. I. 56²² (beside iṅ JāCo. II. 408¹²)=iṅ.—2. Dental appears for palatal² in: diḡhañña 'situated behind, to the west' Jā. V. 402⁹, 403³⁰ from jaghana; daddallati 'glistens' (§ 185)=jājvalyate; tikicchati 'cures' (§ 184)=cikitsati (§ 34); dugucchati 'feels abhorrence' in Childers (AMāg. dugucchāi) beside jigucchati=*jugupsate*³. The last two are probably cases of dissimilation.—3. A dental

² Also in Pkr.; see Pischel, § 215.

³ daddara 'deep-sounding' A. IV 171¹⁰=jarjara and dardara. In Sinhalese the mutation of j into d is phonological appears for a cerebral in deṇḍima (a drum) D. I. 79¹⁴ (beside dindima) = ḍindima, which is clearly derived from popular speech.¹

§ 42. Quite frequently cerebrals appear in the place of dentals, mostly under the influence of preceding r, ṛ, even though they may have disappeared in Pāli². Thus there is ṭ for t in ambāṭaka (a tree) Abhp. 554 = *āmrātaka*³. Also vaṭaṃsa(ka) (§ 66.1) as opposed to avataṃsa and paṭaṃga 'insect' Jā. VI. 506³⁰, Milp. 272⁵ as opposed to *patanṅga*⁴. Moreover sometimes in the participles of r-roots we have ṭ for t: haṭa (AMāg. JMāh. haḍa) 'taken away' = hṛta; vyāvaṭa (§ 38.5) = vyāpṛta. On the other hand we find only mata 'dead' ābhata 'brought in,' saṃvuta 'restrained'; mostly also kata 'done' (dukkata term. tech. for a particular kind of transgression). Instead of prati-, there appears sometimes paṭi- and sometimes pati-, the former particularly (but not exclusively) in those cases where other cerebrals occur in the word concerned; thus patitṭhāti 'stands firm'; but also patimanteti 'disputes' D.I. 93²³, Vin. II. 1¹² etc. On the other hand we have pati- in patimā 'image' = pratimā etc. Michelson⁵ would connect paṭi- with Skr. prati but pati- with Avest. paiti-, O Pers. patiy-.—2. ṭh appears for th in paṭhama 'the first' = prathama; sathila 'uncareful' Dh. 312 f = ṣṭhila* (but sithila Th1. 277 etc.) Orthography is uncertain in the case of paṭhavi, pathavi (§ 12.4). Cf. further kaṭhita (AMāg. kaḍhiya, Māh. kadhia) 'made hot', pakkathita Thūpav. 48³ as against *kvathita*⁶.—3. ḍ appears for d in the two roots damś 'to bite' and dah 'to burn' and their derivatives. Thus ḍasati; saṃḍāsa 'pincers' Jā. III. 138¹², M. II. 75¹² = saṃdamśa; ḍamśa 'gnat' Th1. 31, Vin. I. 3²⁰ etc. = damśa. But we have invariably daṭṭha 'bitten' = daṣṭa and dāṭhā (Pkr. dādhā) 'tooth,' obviously on account of the cerebral inside these words. Further ḍahati; ḍāha 'glow' M. I. 306¹¹, JāCo. III. 153¹⁰ = dāha. On the other hand we have daḍḍha

¹ For changes in the place of articulation of consonants in sound-groups see § 63.

² Cerebralisation is much more widespread in Pkr., Pischel, § 218 ff. For cerebralisation in sound-combinations see below § 64.

³ For apphoṭā (a kind of jasmine) Jā. VI. 536³², the proper reading with cerebral is found also in Skr. āspṛhoṭā.

⁴ On the other hand paṭaṃga signifies 'bird' according to Abhp. 624.

⁵ IF. 28. 240.

⁶ There occurs also pakkatṭhita (variant reading pakkutṭhita) DhCo. I. 126³, III. 310³ beside pakkuthita Th2Co. 292⁵ and pakkatṭhāpeti 'causes to boil' JāCo. I. 472⁷. How to explain this ṭṭh here? On kuthita see p. 74, f. n. 1.

⁷ As also in Māh., AMāg., JMāh.; Pischel, § 222.

'burnt' = dagdha. Medially, between vowels, ḍ is then further changed into ḷ: ālāhana 'pier' D. I. 55^{2a}, DhCo. I. 26¹⁸ etc. and parilāha 'sorrow' Dh. 90 etc from dah. Similarly ulāra 'great' Th1. 65 etc. = udāra; ulūṅka (§ 17. 2 a) = udaṅka; koviḷāra (a kind of tree) Jā. VI. 530² = kovidāra; dohaḷa 'desire during pregnancy' JāCo. III. 28³, DhCo. III. 95⁷, dohaḷinī = dohada, *dohadinī*¹; bubbuḷa(ka) 'bubble' Dh. 170, Mhvs. 30. 13 = budbuda.—4. ḷh appears (through ḍh) for dh in: dveḷhaka 'doubt' Smp. 309²¹ from dvaidha.—5. ṇ appears for n in: sakuṇa 'bird' = śakuna; saṇa 'hemp' = śana; saṇiṃ, saṇikaṃ (§ 22) = śanam*. A peculiar case is offered by ñāṇa 'knowledge' (also abhiññāṇa etc.) = jñāna. The orthography is sometimes uncertain in Pāli thus sanati, saṇati 'sounds' from root svan.

§ 43. Related to the phenomenon of cereoralisation is the sporadic representation of d by r, of n by l or r, and also of ṇ by ḷ.—1. For ḍ appears (through d) an *r*² quite promiscuously in the compound numerals with dasa 'ten' such as ekārasa (beside ekādasa) 'eleven,' etc., as well as in the compounds with -disa, -dikḥka = -dṛśa, -dṛkṣa: erisa, erikkha (beside edisā, edikkha) = idṛśa, idṛkṣa etc according to Kacc. IV. 6. 19 (Senart, p 525) t becomes (through ḍ d) r in sattari 'seventy' = saptati S. II. 59³⁴, 60¹. Cf. § 112. 3.—2 l appears for n in: ela 'fault' (anelaka 'faultless' D. III 85¹⁷ etc) = enas; pīlandhati, pīlandhana (§ 37) from root nah; Mulinda (proper name) = Menandros (in the last two cases n is perhaps due to dissimilation)³. For n appears r in Nerañjarā (name of a river) Vin. I. 1⁶ etc. = Nairañjanā.—3. For ṇ appear *ḷ*⁴ in: veḷu (also AMāg. veḷu beside venu) 'bamboo' = veṇu; muḷāla (§ 12. 3) = mṛnāla.

§ 44. Representation of r by l is very common in Pāli, and in Pkr. it is the rule for Māgadhī, although this substitution occurs sporadically also in other dialects⁵. Thus, initially, in lujjati 'falls apart', Th1. 929, S. IV. 52⁸ (palujjati D II. 118³¹ etc.) = rujjate; ludda (§ 15. 4) = *raudra*⁶. Sometimes double forms with l and r occur in Skr.: lūkha (AMāg. lūha beside lukkha) 'gross, bad' Th1. 923, Vin.

⁶ In JāCo. IV. 416²⁵ we have ruddarūpa with the variant reading luddarūpa.

I. 55²²=lūkṣa, rūkṣa; loddā (name of a tree) Jā. VI. 497²⁵=lodhra, rodhra. In Pāli we have loma, roma (the latter in Abhp. 259, 175) 'hair' and lohita, rohita (the latter in certain compounds) 'red, blood' as in Skr. Medially ṭ stands for r in clanda 'Ricinus' M. I. 124³⁰=eraṇḍa; taluna 'tender' A. IV. 129⁶ (beside taruṇa D I. 114¹⁵)=taruṇa; tipukkhalā (technical term) Nett 2⁹ etc.=tripuṣkara; daddula (a kind of rice) D I 166²⁰, A. I. 241⁶=dardura; sajjulasā (§ 19. 2)=sarjarasū etc. In the case of kumbhila 'crocodile' we have also in Skr. kumbhila beside -ira. Not infrequently there appears pali- for pari-: palikhanatī 'exterminates' S I. 123⁸ (verse), II. 88⁷ from root khan with pari; palissajati 'embraces' D. II. 266¹⁰ (verse), Jā. V 204¹⁷ from root svaj with pari. For other examples see § 39. 1, 2 and Childers. A secondary r originating from d (§ 43. 1) alternates with l in telasa, terasa 'thirteen'¹.

§ 45. Skr. l is more rarely represented by Pāli r arañjara (§ 17 2b)=aliñjara; ārammaṇa 'basis, object' Sn. 474, M. I. 127⁶ etc.=ālambana; kira (particle) = kila; biḷāla 'cat' Abhp. 461 (beside the usual biḷāra Jā. I. 461⁸, biḷārikā JāCo III. 265¹⁰)=biḍāra.—For l appears n (perhaps through dissimilation) in naṅgala (also in AMāg.) 'plough' Thl. 16, D II. 353⁵ etc.=lāṅgala; naṅgula 'tail' in gonāṅgula (a kind of ape) Thl. 115=*lāṅgula*²; valāṭa 'forehead' D. I 106¹³, JāCo. I 388¹⁸=lalāṭa Medially there appears n for l in dehani 'threshold' Abhp. 219=*dehali*³.

§ 46. Not infrequent is the alternation between y and *v*⁴
1. Pāli v appears for Skr. y: āvudha 'weapon' Dh. 40, A. IV 107⁷, JāCo 100¹ (āyudha Mhvs 7. 16 etc.)=āyudha; āvuso Voc. from āyusmant; ussāva (§ 15 4)=avaśyāya; kaśāva 'dirt, sin' Sn 328, Dh. 9 f. (kaśāyita Attanagaluvs. 2.2)=kaśāya; kāsāva 'yellow robe of monks'=kāsāya; tāvattimsā (AMāg. tāvattisā) 'the 33 gods'=trayastrimśat; piṇḍadāvika 'provision-carrier' D. I. 51⁹, DCo. I. 156²⁵ for piṇḍadāyika; migavā 'chase' JāCo. I. 149²⁸=mṛgayā The form kiva(m) 'how much? how far?' (kiva-dūraṃ etc.) is to be compared with Ved. kivant as opposed to Skr. kīyant Beside

² Cf. also nanguṭṭha A. II. 245², JāCo. I. 370²³ etc., which stands to nmaula as aṅguṭṭha 'thumb' to aṅgula.

³ In Abhp. 562 there is also tintiṇi 'tamarisk' instead of tintikā, -ḍkā.

⁴ For Pkr. see Pischel, § 254. In the language of Asoka's inscriptions cf. papovā = prāpnuyāt. Michelson, IF. 28. 229.

kaṇḍuvati 'scratches' Vin. III. 117¹⁴ = kaṇḍūyati there is kaṇḍūyana Attanagaluvs. 2. 3. After the svarabhakti-vowel i there appears v instead of y in paṭṭivim̐sa, -visa Vin. I. 28⁹, DhCo. III. 304¹⁰ = pratyam̐sa*. Childers cites also tivaṅgiha out of tiy-* = tryaṅgiha*, as well as divaḍḍha 'one and a half' = dvyardha* (but in Smp. 285³⁵, Mhvs. 10. 92 there is diyaḍḍha). In case of the gemination of v there appears (cf. § 51. 3) bb: pubba 'pus' Sn. 671, M. I. 57¹⁹, JāCo. II. 18¹⁶ through puvva*, pūva* = pūya; vanibbaka 'begging' D. I. 137²⁵, DhCo. I. 105¹⁵ = vaṇṇiyaka. Now as in Pāli b occasionally appears for Skr. v (kabala 'morsel' = kavala, kabalikā 'compress' Vin. I. 205³⁵ = kavalikā, buḍḍha 'old' D. II. 162²⁶ beside vudḍha = vuddha), so it can naturally appear also for y (through the intermediate stage of v): jalābu 'uterus' M. I. 73⁴, S. III. 240¹⁸ (see § 44) = jarāyu.—2. Pāli y appears for Skr. v in: dāya 'park' D. II. 40¹⁹, Vin. I. 8⁹ etc. (beside dāva JāCo. I. 212¹¹) = dāva. The Gerund lāyitvā Jā III. 226²⁴, Vin. III. 64³⁷, JāCo. I. 215²², III. 130⁵, and the Participle lāyita JāCo. III. 130² seem to stand for lāyitvā*, lāyita* (lāveti 'tears out, mows,' root lū); E. Kubn¹ has derived caccara 'crossing of roads' Milp. 1¹⁸, JāCo. I. 425¹² through catyara* from catvara.—3. Occasionally l appears for y as in laṭṭhi(kā) 'sprout, stick' Jā. III. 161¹³, D. I. 105¹⁰ beside yatṭhi(kā) JāCo. II. 37⁴ = *yaṣṭi*². The mutation of y into r is however doubtful. The form antarāraṭi 'runs risk' cannot be quoted from texts. About the forms sakhāram, sakhāro instead of sakhāyam, sakhāyas see below § 84. In vedhavera 'son of a widow' Jā. IV. 184²², VI. 508¹³ and sāmaṇera 'novice' derived from vaidhavya and śrāmaṇeya the suffixes themselves are different. Also nahāru 'ligament, string' (§ 50. 5) cannot be directly equated with snāyu, for it is derived from a side-form with r as is shown by Av. snāvarə and Goth. *snōrjō*³.—4. v and m alternate in the people's name Pāli Damīla = Skr. Draviḍa. Cf. also sāmi 'porcupine' JāCo. V. 489²² = śvāvidh (Lüders, ZDMG. 61. 643). The forms vīmaṃsati 'tests,' vīmaṃsā, -sana, -sin as opposed to Skr. mīmāṃsate are to be explained through dissimilation⁴.

³ Johansson, IF. 3.204 f.

⁴ Against the derivation given by Fausbøll, Five Jāt., p. 37 (cf. also Andersen, Pāli Glossary, sub voce) from root mṛś with vi goes the length of i as Senart, Kacc. p. 494 rightly pointed out.

13. Dissimilation and Metathesis

§ 47. Some examples of 1. Dissimilation have been already mentioned in § 41.2, 43.2, 45, 46.4 To them are to be added the following isolated cases: kipilla, -likā 'ant' Sn. 602, Vin. I. 97³, DhCo. III. 206¹⁸=pipīla, *-likā*¹; takkola 'bdellium' Abhp. 304=kakkola, but also Skr. takkola, Sgh takul. The people's name Takkola Milp. 359²⁸ is perhaps=*Karkota*² —2. The liquid r is particularly susceptible to metathesis: ālārika 'cook' D I. 51¹⁰=ārārika; kaṇeru(kā) 'young elephant' Jā VI 497¹, JāCo. VI. 485²²=kareṇu; pārupati 'covers, dresses' D I 246¹⁰, JāCo. II. 24⁴, Mhvs. 22.67, *pārupaṇa*³ 'mantle' JāCo. I. 378⁸, III. 82⁴ beside pāpuraṇa (§ 19.2 and 39.6). Metathesis may take place after the insertion of a svarabhakti-vowel: kayirā through kariyā*=karyāt* from root *kar*⁴; kayirati (§ 175)=karyate*; payirudāharati 'utters' D II. 222¹¹, JāCo. I. 454²⁸ and payirupāsati 'sits at the feet (of the teacher)' Th1. 1286 through pariyud-, pariyupa=paryud-, paryupa-; raḥada 'tank' through harada* (§ 31.1)=hrada. Also daha (AMāg daha; draha) Vin. I. 28³, Mhvs. 1. 18 is to be explained through draha* derived from hrada. Forms like acchera 'wonderful' (§ 27.5) are also cases of metathesis: āścarya> acchariya*> acchayira*> acchera. Finally should be mentioned makasa 'mosquito' Sn. 20, A. II 117³³, JāCo. I. 246²³ through masaka*=*maśaka*⁵. On -hīrati, -bhīrati see § 175.

14. Consonant-groups

Combination of Two Consonants

§ 48 Consonant-groups may be divided by svarabhakti according to § 29. They however remain undivided, 1. if they consist of similar consonants or of a mute with the corresponding aspirate, or 2. if they consist of a nasal with a homorganic mute. In the derivatives

² On these and other doubtful cases see Trenckner, Notes p. 53 f. (JPTS. 19 8, p. 108); E. Müller, PGr p. 39; JPTS. 1888, pp. 13, 37, 50.

³ Johansson (IF. 25. 222 f.) is inclined to derive pārupati from an extended root varp (I.-E. verp).

⁴ On acchera, ācera, macchera, where quite the same metathesis is in evidence, see § 27.5.

⁵ Fausbøll, Five Jāt., p. 29 derives makasa from makṣa with svarabhakti, but separation of kṣ does not occur anywhere else.

from pañca are found however also forms with nn, ṇṇ, ññ: pañnarasa 'fifteen, fifteenth' (rarely pañṇa-), pañṇuvīsa 'twenty-five' Jā. III. 138²⁰ beside pañcadasa Sn. 402 and pañcaviṣa Dpvs. 3.29, and only pañṇāsa(ṇ) DhCo. III. 207¹² or paññāsa(ṇ) fifty '= pañcāśat.¹ Assimilation of a mute to a preceding nasal is to be found in ārammaṇa (§ 45) = ālambana.

§ 49. Consonant-groups containing h have to be dealt with separately: 1. Metathesis takes place in the case of groups h + nasal, y or v.² Thus hn, ln, hm, hy, hv become respectively nh, nh, mh, yh, vh. Examples: pubbaṇha 'forenoon' D. I. 109²⁹, DhCo III. 98²⁰ = pūrvāṇha. Similarly aparaṇha 'afternoon' = aparāṇha, and after them also sāyanha 'evening' = sāyāṇha; cinha 'sign' Abhp. 55 (beside cihana with svarabhakti Abhp. 879) = cihna; jiṃha 'crooked, false' Jā III. 111¹⁷, A. V. 239⁴ = jihma; rayhā 'movable chair' Jā. VI. 500¹³ from vāḥya. Similarly in Future Passive Participles: sayha 'that which is to be endured' Sn. 253 = sahya; in Gerunds: āruhya from root ruh with ā 'to mount' = āruhya; in Passives: duyhati 'is milked' Milp. 41¹ = duhyate.³ Also jivhā 'tongue' D. I. 21¹⁰ etc. = jihvā. In compounds we have bavhābādha 'ill' M. II. 94²⁰ = bahvābādha; bavhodaka 'containing much water' Th1. 390 — 2 The combination hr undergoes various changes.⁴ Initially we find h in hesati 'neighs' Dāṭhāvs. 44, hesā, hesita 'neighing' Rasav. II. 98¹⁶, Mhvs. 28.72 = hreṣate, hreṣā, hreṣita, but we have r in rassa (as opposed to Māg. hassa) 'short' Dh. 409, JāCo. I. 356¹⁸ etc. = hrasva. Both svarabhakti and metathesis are in evidence in rahada = hrada (§ 47.2).

§ 50. There should further be mentioned the groups consisting of a sibilant followed by a nasal. As in Pkr.,⁵ so in Pāli too there takes place in these cases, as a rule, metathesis with concomitant mutation of the sibilant into h. Frequently there are found parallel forms with svarabhakti which took place in some cases already in the original sound-group and in some cases after metathesis and mutation of s into h. 1. śn becomes nh (Pkr. ṇh): pañha (AMāg. paṇha) 'question,'

² As in Pkr.; Pischel, § 330, 332.

³ In Pkr. hy becomes jih, initially jh; Pischel, § 331.

⁴ For hl may be quoted only kallahāra 'white water-lily' Dpvs. 16.19 = kahlāra; cf. § 30.4.

⁵ Pischel, PkrGr. § 312 ff.

=praśna; pañhiparṇī (sic! not pañhi-) (name of a plant) Abhp. 584 = pr̥ṣṇiparṇī.—2. śm becomes mh: amhāna 'with the stone' Sn. 443 = aśmanā; amhamaya 'stony' Dh. 161. Besides also asmā Jā. III. 29¹⁷. Sometimes sm=śm is retained in Pāli: Kasmīra=Kīśmīra; rasmi (Pkr. rassi) 'ray, rein' Dh. 222, M.I. 124²¹, JāCo. I. 444 (beside raṃsa Sn. 1016, Vv. 52.5)=raśmi; vesṃa 'house' Abhp. 206=veśman. Initially ś is assimilated to m (m<mm) in massu (AMāg. maṃsu) 'beard' D. I. 60¹⁷ etc.=śmaśru.—3. ṣṇ becomes ṇh: uṇha 'hot, heat' D. Andersen Pāli Gl. sub voce=uṣṇa; unhisa 'diadem' D. II. 179¹, Dpvs. 12.1=uṣṇiṣa; kaṇha 'black, demoniac' Th1. 140, Vin. III. 20³⁰ etc.=kṛṣṇa; taṇhā 'thirst' (beside rarer tasiṇā § 30.5)=tṛṣṇā; tuṇhi 'silent'=tūṣṇim; Veṇhu (§ 10)=Viṣṇu; suṇhā 'daughter-in-law' through suṣṇā* from enuṣā,¹ beside suṇṣā (§ 31.2).—4. śm becomes mh: gimha 'summer' Dh. 286, Vin. I. 79²⁹, JāCo. I. 390²⁸=grīṣma; semha (AMāg. sembha, simbha) 'phlegm'=śleṣman; tumhe, tumhākam etc.=yusme, yusmākam etc. (§ 104). sm=sm is retained in usmā 'warmth' D. II. 335¹⁵ (beside usumā § 31.2)=uṣman; āyasmant 'venerable'=āyusmant; bhesma (sic!) 'horrible' Abhp 167=bhaisma.—5. sn becomes nh in: nhāyati 'bathes', nhāna 'bath' etc. mostly in verses, beside the forms appearing in prose such as nahāyati, nahāna (sunhāta, sunahāta 'well-bathed' D. I. 104²⁷, M. II. 120¹³, S. I. 71¹¹)=snāyati, snāna; nhāru Vin. I. 25¹ beside the more frequent nahāru Sn 194, M. I. 429²² etc. connected with snāyu (§ 46.3).—6. sm becomes mh in: vimhaya 'astonishment' Mhvs. 5.92, vimhita Mhvs. 6.19=vismaya, vismita; amhe, amhākam etc. (§ 104)=asmān, asmākam etc. There are moreover the Pāli forms asme JāCo. III. 359²¹ (verse), asmākam Sn. 102 in which sm has been retained. It is retained moreover in asmi (beside amhi) 'I am', in the endings -smā of Abl. Sg. (beside -mhā) and -smiṃ of Loc. Sg. (beside -mhi), in bhasma 'ash' Dh. 71, S. I. 169²⁵ =bhasman. There is svarabhakti in initial sm in the case of sumarati 'remembers' Dh. 324¹=smarate; beside it also sarati with assimilation. Similarly sita 'smile' M. II. 45⁴, DhCo. III. 479⁷ beside mihita JāCo. VI. 504³⁰=smita.

§ 51. Moreover, in so far as no svarabhakti intervenes, the assimilation of consonant is characterised by the rule that the consonants of lesser power of resistance are assimilated to those of greater resisting power. The power of resistance diminishes in the order: mutes—sibilants—nasals—l, v, y, r. Thus an r is assimilated to a mute or a sibilant, both when it precedes or follows it. Where a mute is combined with a mute, or a nasal with a nasal, the first consonant is assimilated to the second.

The following details should also be noticed: 1. If the consonant-group contains an aspirate, the aspiration appears at the end of the new group after completed assimilation: kh+y becomes k^hkh, k+th becomes t^hh. Aspiration of the resultant group is normally caused also by the presence of a sibilant in the original group: s+t becomes t^hh.—2. In initial position, there remains only one of the assimilated consonants, which is normally the second one: thus ṭṭh becomes ṭh. In compounds however the double-consonance normally appears again, and occasionally also in external sandhi. Cf. § 67, 74.1.—3. Wherever according to the laws of assimilation the sound-group vv would originate, there appears in P., in contrast to the other Middle Indian dialects, always *bb*¹; initially however only v—4. Also certain other qualitative changes are concomitant with assimilation: dentals, as well as ṇ, are palatalised by a following y before the effectuation of assimilation. Sometimes also k is palatalised in the combination k+ṣ.—5. Between m and a following liquid there is introduced in the first instance the slide-sound *b*². Only after that there takes place assimilation or separation through the svarabhakti-vowel. Examples: amba 'mango' Vv 81. 16, JāCo. I. 450²⁰ etc. through ambra*=āmra; ambāṭaka (§ 42. 1)=āmraṭaka; tamba 'red, copper' Vv. 32 3, M. III. 186¹⁵, JāCo. I. 464⁷ etc. through tambra*=tāmra; Tambapaṇṇī (Ceylon) JāCo. I. 85¹¹=Tāmrapaṇṇī. Svarabhakti in ambila 'sour, acid' JāCo. I. 349³⁰ etc. through ambla*=amla. In this way is to be explained also gumba 'mass, bush' D. I. 84¹⁶, Th1. 23 etc.=qulma, with metathesis, from gumla*, gumb³la*.

§ 52. Progressive assimilation takes place 1. in the combination of mute with mute: chakka 'collection of six' M. III. 280³³=ṣaṭka; satthi 'thigh' Th1. 151, Vv. 81. 17, JāCo. II. 408⁵=sak^hthi; mugga 'bean' Jā III. 55⁴, D. II. 293²⁰, JāCo. I. 274²⁴=mudga;

¹ Similarly, according to § 6. 2, yobbana (Pkr. jovvaṇa) 'youth' Dh. 155 f., D. I. 115¹⁶=yauvana.

² Also in Pkr.; Pischel, § 295.

³ No metathesis has taken place in Pkr. gumma; here assimilation has been direct.

ugg āta 'blow' Vin. I. 192²=udghāta.—2. In the combination of sibilant with mute (with aspiration of the resultant group): acchera (§ 27. 5)=āścarya; nikkha, nekkha (§ 10)=*niṣka*¹; apphoṭeti 'claps the hands' JāCo. VI. 487⁶=durvṛṣṭi.⁵ In verbs of the type ṭīryati, pūryate we have mostly r (instead of yy, y) as the result of the regressive assimilation of ry. Thus (pari)pūratī 'is filled' Dh. 121 f., Jā. I. 498²², JāCo. I. 460²⁷=pūryate, beside the analogically formed passives -hirati, -bhirati (§ 175). Cf. the doublets ṭīryati 'is digested, becomes old' and ṭīratī=ṭīryati, -te (§ 137).

§ 53. Regressive assimilation takes place 1. in the combination of mutes with nasal: ubbigga 'anxious' Jā. I. 486¹⁰, JāCo. III. 197¹⁴=

² Cf. ghaṃsatī 'rubs' (§ 6.3) = gharṣati.

³ In Pkr. ry becomes yy only in Māg., otherwise jj; Pischel, § 287.

⁴ The similar form miyyati (and miyati) 'dies', which cannot be connected with Skr. mriyate, is derived from a *-mīryate.

⁵ In analogy with it there appears bb also in subbutṭhikā, udvigna; soppa (§ 25.2) = svapna; abhimatthati 'rubs, grinds' Dh. 161, S I 127¹⁴ = abhimatthnāti; chaddan 'veil, cover' in vivatlacchadda (of a Buddha) D. I. 89⁹, JāCo I. 56¹⁴ = chadman. On the other hand jñ becomes *ñ*¹ through progressive assimilation: paññā, paññāna 'knowledge' Sn. 1186, Dh. I. 124⁴ = prajñā, prajñāna; ruññā, ruñño Instr and Gen. Sg. of rājan = rājñā, rājñas. In initial position jñ becomes ñ: ñatti 'request' Vin. I. 56¹⁴ etc. = jñapti For āṇā 'order' see § 63.2. The assimilation observed in the form rummavati = *rukma-vati*² quoted by E. Kuhn, Beitr. p. 46 from Vuttod. would also be progressive.—2. In the combination of mutes with liquids: takka 'whey' JāCo. II. 363¹⁰ = takra; udda 'otter' Vin. I. 186²¹, JāCo. III. 51²⁴ = udra; sobbha (§ 25.2) = śvabhra; sukka 'white' = śukla. In initial position there appears in these cases only a single mute: kaya-vikkaya 'purchase and sale' D. I. 5¹⁰ = krayavikraya; tāṇa 'protection' Dh. 288, M. III. 165⁵ = trāṇa; bhātar 'brother' = bhrātar. Sometimes the combination mute + r remains unchanged: nigrodha (§ 21) = nyagrodha; tatra 'there' Th1. 81, Vin. I. 10³², D. I. 76²³ (beside tattha Th1. 183) = tatra; citra 'multicoloured' Jā. VI. 497¹⁶, D. I. 7²² (beside citta Dh. 151) = citra; bhadra 'happy' S. I. 117²⁴ etc. (beside bhadda D. II. 95¹⁷ etc.) = bhadra; udriyati 'is split' S. I. 113¹⁵, D. I. 96¹⁷ (udraya 'fruit, reward' S. II. 29¹², A. I. 97³¹) from uddriyate* for *uddiriyate*³. The Part. Pres. atriccham Jā. I. 414⁶, III. 207¹⁵ is explained in the commentary by atra atra icchanto 'desiring this and that'; cf. atriccha 'desirous' JāCo. III. 206¹⁶, atricchatā 'covetousness' JāCo. III. 222⁶. In atrajā 'son, daughter' Jā. III. 181⁴, Dpvs. 18.29 through attajā* = ātma-jā the tr originated through folk-etymology.—3. In the combination of mutes with semi-vowels (dental + y will be discussed in § 55): sakka 'capable' = śakya; vuccati 'is said' = ucyate; kuḍḍa 'wall' D. I. 78³, S. III. 238²⁵ = kuḍya; pajjalati 'burns' D. II. 163²⁰ etc. = prajvalati; labbha 'attainable' Jā. III. 204²⁷, M. II. 220¹³ = labhya; cattāro 'four' = catvāras; addhan 'way' = adhvan; saddala 'grassy' Th1. 211, Jā. VI. 518²¹ = śādvala. In initial position there appears only the single mute: kaṭṭhita (§ 42. 2) = kvathita; dija (poetic term) 'bird'

² Another rumma is to be found in rummavāsi 'irregularly dressed' Jā. IV 380¹, 384³; cf. also rummā Jā. IV. 322¹ (Com. = onañjītāmaṇḍita)

³ The verb udrabhati, -bheti 'tears off' M. I. 306^{1,15} (in 307² we have udraheyyam) is derived from a root drabh* or drah* (Skr. darh) with ud

D. II. 258²² (verse), Jā. II. 205¹⁵ = dviṣa; dhanita 'resounding' DCo I. 177¹, Milp. 344², JPTS. 1887, p. 26¹⁸ = *dhvanita*¹. But we find initially b for dv in bārasa 'twelve', bāvisati, battiṃsa (§ 116. 2). Sometimes the combination mute + semi-vowel remains unchanged: vākya (poetic term) 'word, speech' D. II. 166⁵ (verse) etc. = *vākya*²; ārogya 'good health' Jā. I. 366²⁴, D. I. 11⁹, JāCo I. 367³ = ārogya; kvam 'where, how', kvaci 'somewhere' = kva, kvacit; the gerundial suffixes -tvā, tvāna; dve 'two' (beside duve), dvidhā D. II. 341³, dvedhā Vin. I. 97⁵ etc. = dve, dvidhā, dvedhā etc. In compositional combination ḍv, dv become *bb*³ through vv due to progressive assimilation (cf. § 55, 57): ubbigga (see § 53. 1) = udvigna; ubbilla (§ 15. 1) from root vell with ud; ubbāsiyati 'becomes depopulated' Mhvs. 6. 22 (Pass. of the Caus. of root vas with ud); ubbaṭṭeti 'ancients' Thūpavs. 39¹¹ = udvartayati; ubbinaya 'against the Vinaya' Vin. II. 306²⁰ = udvinaya*; ubbejitar 'one who causes excitement' Pu. 47¹⁷ from root vij with ud; tabbamaṣika 'descended from this family' Mhvs. 37. 89 (= Cūlav. 37. 39 ed. Colombo) from tadvamś-. Similarly chabbappa 'six-coloured' Mhvs. 17. 48 = ṣaḍvarṇa; chabbisati 'twenty-six' = ṣaḍviṃśati.

§ 54. Regressive assimilation takes place 4. in the combination of sibilant with liquids or semi-vowels: missa 'mixed' Th1. 143, JāCo. III. 95⁴ = miśra; avassam 'necessary' DhCo. III. 170²⁸ = avaśyam; vayassa 'friend' JāCo. II. 31³ = vayasya; assa 'horse' = aśva; palissajati (§ 44) = *pariṣvajate*⁴. In initial position there is only s: sota 'stream' = srotas; semha (§ 5) = śleṣman; sandana 'chariot' Jā. VI. 511³ = syandana; seta 'white' = śveta. Initially sv is retained in sve 'to-morrow' (beside suve) = śvas, svātānāya 'for next day'⁵ and in forms like svākkhāta 'well-proclaimed' from su-ākhyāta, svāgata 'welcome' Vv. 63. 4, D. I. 179¹⁴ (variant reading sāg-) = svāgata.—The combination sy becomes h in future forms like ehisi 'you will go,' ehiti (beside essasi, essati) = eṣyasi, eṣyati. Similarly kāhāmi 'I shall do,' kāhasi, kāhati through kassāmi*, kāśāmi* from karṣyāmi*. See § 153. 1. — 5. In the

IV. 12²⁴, Th1. 1241=kāmya*, kāmyatā*; ly in malya 'flower' Vv. 1. 1, 2. 1=mālyā, etc. In flexion we have, e.g., pipphalyā (Gāthā-language 1) Vv. 43. 6 (I. Sg. of) pipphali 'pepper'.—6. In the combinations vy, vr which become bb (through vv): paribbaya 'expenditure' JāCo. IV. 78⁷ from root si with vi-ā; vyeti 'bifurcates' Th1. 170 (vyagā)=vyeti; vyāvaṭa (§ 38.5)=vyāpṛta, etc. In manuscripts from hinter-India by- is written for vy- in these cases. Medially we have vy in paṭhavayā Dpvs. 5. 2 (Loc. Sg.) besides paṭhaviyaṃ, and in the composition udayavyaya D. II. 35¹⁵ (var. reading -bb).

§ 55. Palatalisation takes place in the combination of dentals

¹ The word soṛata 'kind' and its abstract noun soṛacea should not be derived from suṛata which has become subbata in Pāli, but from saurata, sauratya (the opposite view is expressed in JPTS. 1909, p. 233).

But aḍḍha 'rich' = āḍhya. When ud precedes a word beginning with y, the combination dy becomes yy through progressive assimilation (cf. § 53.3, 57): uyyāna 'garden' = udyāna; uyyutta 'alert' DhCo. § 56. The Skr. sound-group kṣ requires special treatment. 1. Where Skr. kṣ = Indo-Iranian kṣ or śṣ, it is represented as in Prakrit by kkh or cch. Pischel's hypothesis, according to which Pkr. kkh should be derived from Indo-Iranian kṣ = Avestan χš, and Pkr. cch from Indo-Iranian śṣ = Avestan š, although both have coincided in kṣ in Skr.,³ can be as little proved from the actual state of things in Pāli as from that in Pkr. Rather it seems that kkh and cch appear quite promiscuously, sometimes in accordance with, but as often in opposition to, the indication of the Avestan language. Sometimes even Pāli and Pkr. do not agree with each other, and not infrequently both forms are found side by side also in P. as in Pkr. (a) We have kkh in P. dakkhiṇa (similarly Pkr. but Avestan daśina) = dakṣiṇa; makkhikā 'fly' (Av. maxši, but Pkr. *macchiā*⁴) = makṣikā. Initially: /kkhū (§ 49.2 b) = kṣudhā (Av. šuda. Pkr. khuhā and chuhā) etc. (b) We find cch in kaccha (similarly in Māh., kakkha in AMāg. JMāh.: Av. kaśa) 'axis, arm' Sn. 449, Vin. I. 15¹⁰, JāCo. II. 88¹⁸ = kakṣa; taḥcchati (Pkr.

¹ In Pkr. ny becomes ṇy, which is also written as ṇm in the Jaina works; Pischel, § 282.

² In Pkr. we get jj, which however (in analogy with vv from dv) is not directly derived from dy, but from yy.

II. 164⁶ = kṣārikā, etc. (c) Sometimes in P. kkh and cch alternate in one and the same word: acchi 'eye' Abhp. 149 besides the usual akkhi = akṣi (Pkr. akkhi and acchi, Av. aṣi); ucchu (§ 16.1a) = iṣu (Pkr. ucchu, in AMāg. also ukku) besides Okkāka (p. 66, f.-n. 1) through Ukk-, Ukkh- = Ikṣvāku; accha (§ 12.1) besides ikka (for ikkha*, § 12.2 and § 62.2) = ṛkṣa (AMāg. accha and riccha, Av. arēṣa). A differentiation in meaning has come about in chaṇa 'festival' JāCo. I. 423⁹ and khaṇa 'moment' Th1. 231, Vin. I. 12¹² = kṣaṇa, as well as in chamā 'earth' Sn. 401, M. III. 164²⁵ and khamā 'forgiveness' Abhp. 161 (also khamā 'earth' Abhp. 994) = kṣamā.¹⁻² Where Skr. kṣ corresponds to the Indo-Iranian sonant-group ǵz = Av. γž, there appears in P. ggh, jjh and in Pkr. jjh.² Cf. paggharati 'drips' Th1. 394 etc. = prakṣarati. Similarly uggharati Th1. 394, D. II. 347¹⁸. Initially we have jh: jhāma (so also in AMāg.) 'burnt' S. IV. 193¹⁷, JāCo. I. 288¹⁴, DhCo. I. 118²⁴ = kṣāma; jhāyati (AMāg. jhiyāi) 'burns (intrans.)' Ud. 93³, A. I. 137¹², JāCo. I. 485⁶ = kṣāyati; jhāpeti 'burns (transitive)' D. II. 159²⁶, JāCo. III. 164⁶ etc. = kṣāpayati.

§ 57. Finally the Skr. sound-groups ts and ps have to be mentioned. Both become cch in P.: kucchita 'despicable' VvCo. 215¹ = kutsita; maccharin 'jealous' Dh. 262, Vv. 52.26, JāCo. I. 345¹⁸ = matsarin; vacchātara 'ox' D. I. 127¹², A. IV. 41¹¹ = vatsātara; accharā 'nymph' = apsaras; jigucchā, jigucchati (§ 18.2) = jugupsā, jugupsate. Skr. icchati and ipsate have coincided in icchati 'wishes'. Through dialectical influence ts appears as th initially in tharu (also AMāg. tharu, besides charu) 'handle, sword' A. III. 152³², JāCo. III. 221¹ = tsaru. The representation of ps by ch in initial position is quite regular: chāta 'hungry' Jā. III. 199², JāCo. I. 345²⁹ = psāta.—In composition, when t (d) at the end of a word combines with an initial Skr. ś or s, the resulting sound-groups tś* (= Skr. cch), ts become ss through progressive assimilation. In rare cases there appears *cch*³, mostly in combinations with ud. Cf. § 53.3, 55. Examples for ts: ussada 'friction' DhCo. I. 28¹⁵ (verse), JāCo. IV. 188¹³ from Skr. utsādana

¹ khudda 'small' Th1. 43, Vin. II. 287³¹ and chuddha 'despised' Dh. 41 are of course not both = kṣudra as Childers explains them in his dictionary; the latter rather = kṣubha. We have moreover P. Khubbhati Jā. VI. 489¹³ and khobhati JāCo. I. 501³¹.

I. 308⁵, JāCo. II. 412³ = utsaṅga; ucchādāna 'annihilation' D. I. 76¹³, S. IV. 83²⁷, 'friction' (besides ussada, see above) D. I. 7¹⁹, DCo. Combination of more than two Consonants

§ 58. Under the influence of the general laws of assimilation, groups of more than two consonants are reduced to combinations of two.—1. Where a nasal preceding a mute stands at the beginning of a group, it remains according to § 48, and the following consonants are assimilated and simplified: ānañca 'infinity' is derived from ānantya through ānañcca* (§ 55); randha 'hole' Jā. III. 192²⁹, A. IV. 25¹⁵, DhCo. III. 376¹⁰ is derived from randhra through randdha*; kaṅkhā 'doubt' from kāṅkṣā through kaṅkkhā*.—2. When a heavy consonant (mute or sibilant) stands between light consonants (nasal, liquid, semi-vowel), at first the first light consonant is assimilated to the heavy one: macca 'man' is derived from martya through mattya*, matya*; paṇhi(kā) 'heel' D. II. 17¹⁹, JāCo. I. 491¹⁰ from pārṣṇi through paṣṣṇi*, paṣṇi*; akamha 'we did' (§ 159. III) is likewise derived from akārṣma. Svarabhakti is in evidence in vaṭuma 'path' D. II. 8⁵, S. IV. 52²¹ through vaṭṭma*, vaṭma* = vartman, as well as in pāṣani(?) 'heel' Abhp. 277 besides panhi.—3. In the same manner, assimilation and simplification of the first two consonants take place at first in those cases where a light consonant stands at the end of the group, and two heavy consonants or one light and one heavy consonant stand at the beginning of the group: oṭṭha (§ 10) through uṭṭhra*, uṭhra* = uṣṭra; tikkha 'sharp' Jā. III. 151⁵, S. I. 191¹⁰, Vin. I. 6²⁰ through tikkhṇa*, tikkṇa* = tikṣṇa; dāṭhā 'tooth' besides daṭṭhā Milp.

150⁴ = daṃṣṭrā. Svarabhakti however may take place, though mostly in the last stage: tikkhina 'sharp' JāCo. II. 18²¹ etc besides tikkha; pakhuma 'eyelid' D. II. 18²⁸, Th2Co 255¹⁴ = pakṣman; sukhuma 'tender' = *sūkṣma*¹. Taking into consideration also § 57, we are then in a position to understand also ussāpeti 'raises' Vin. III. 203¹ = ucchrāpayati (root śri with ud), (sam)ussita = (sam)ucchrīta, (sam)ussaya = (sam)ucchraya. The v is retained in Gerunds like mutvā = muktuvā, patvā = āptvā with pra, vatvā = uktvā. Similarly y is retained in forms like ratyā 'at night' = rātryām, ratyo 'the nights' = rātryas,² as well as in agyantarāya 'hindrance through fire' Vin. I. 112³⁷, agyāgāra D. I. 101²³, Vin. I. 24²¹ from aggi + antarāya (āgāra) — 4. Groups consisting only of heavy consonants are found in composition in forms like uggharati (§ 56.2) from root kṣar with ud and nicchubhati 'thrusts out' Bu. 11.15, Jā. III. 512¹¹, Milp. 130¹⁹ from root kṣubh with *ni*³. In these cases kṣ at the beginning of the root at first became gh and ch respectively, to which then the final consonant of the preposition was assimilated.

§ 59. Some details: 1. The sound-groups kṣṇ, kṣm, tsn may be treated as ṣṇ, ṣm, sn,⁴ and thus according to § 50. 3-5 they may be changed into ṇh, mh, nh: saṇha 'tender' = ślakṣṇa; tiṇha 'sharp' D. I. 56³², JāCo. III. 89¹⁴ (besides tikkha, tikkhina) = tikṣṇa; abhiṇhaṃ 'repeatedly' Jā. I. 190⁵, A. V. 87²⁹. Pu. 48⁹, JāCo. I. 47¹⁰, JāCo. I. 509⁶ (besides junha) through dossna*, dosna* = jyantsna (cf. § 63.8) and in kasina 'whole' Abhp. 702 = kṛtsna. In the same manner is treated cch in kasira 'difficult' (besides kiacca; cf. kiaccena kasirena 'with much labour' Vin. I. 195⁶, JāCo. I. 338²⁹ etc.) = kaccchra. — 3. Besides uddhaṃ 'upwards' = ūrdhvaṃ there is also *ubbhaṃ*⁵ Th1. 168. Here dhv is treated like dv in composition

¹ In hammiya 'but' Vin. I. 58²⁰, II. 146²⁰ = harmiya, as well as in abhikkhaṇaṃ 'repeatedly' M. I. 129³⁵ = abhikṣṇaṃ the Svarabhakti has taken place in the first stage.

15. Sporadical

Phonological Aberrations in Sound-groups

§ 60. One of these sporadical phonological phenomena in sound-groups is the representation of a sonant aspirate (cf. § 37) by h in the group bhy, which became yh through metathesis in tuyham=tubhyam. But it is perhaps formed in analogy with mayham=māhyam. The group dhv became vh in the ending of the 2. Pl. Pres. Med. -vhe=-dhve. Moreover in some words h alternates with an aspirated media after a nasal. Thus in -sumbhati 'strikes' Jā. VI. 549⁴, VvCo. 212²², Pv. III. 1. 7, 8, Th2. 302 and -sumhati Jā. III. 185², JāCo. III. 435²¹; vambheti 'shames,' vambhanā D. I. 90²⁵, M. I. 523³⁶, A. V. 150⁷, Vin. IV. 6¹, DhCo. IV. 38¹¹ and vamheti, vamhanā JāCo. I. 454²⁰, 356³. The roots underlying these forms seem to have been sumbh, vambh.² Besides rundhati 'encloses' JāCo. I. 409²⁰, saṃnirundhati M. I. 115³² we have -rumbhati JāCo. I. 62³¹, II. 341¹⁰ and -rumhati JāCo. II. 6²⁷, VvCo. 217²⁷. There was thus clearly a root rubh (rumbh) beside rudh (rundh)³. Similarly we have further (saṃ)ūhanti 'removes' D. II. 254¹³, M. II. 193³, (saṃ)ūhata Th1. 223, which stand for (saṃ)ūdhanti*, (saṃ)uddhanti*, (saṃ)uddhata* from root han with saṃ-ud.

§ 61. 1. Softening of tenues (cf. § 38) sometimes occurs after a nasal: nighaṇḍu 'vocabulary' D. I. 88⁵, A. III. 223¹⁰=nighaṇṭu; ganḍha 'book' Mhvs. 34. 66 besides ganṭha DhCo. I. 7¹³=granṭha; the interjection handa=hanta; aḍḍhuḍḍha 'three and a half' Vin. I. 341¹⁰ instead of -uṭṭha*. But puñjati 'rubs off' JāCo. I. 318⁶ for puñchati JāCo. I. 392¹¹ etc.=proñchati is perhaps merely a graphic error. The group kkh was softened in sagghasi 'you will be able to' instead of sakkhasi Sn. 834=śakṣyasi. On leḍḍu see § 62. 2. —2. Hardening of media (cf. § 39) is found in bhikkhāra 'jug' (however with the frequent variant reading with g) D. II. 172²¹, Dpvs. 11. 32=bhṛṅgāra; tippa 'sharp' Jā. VI. 507⁷, M. I. 10²⁹, Milp.

§ 62. Unetymological aspiration or de-aspiration of sound-groups (cf. § 40) is not rare.—1. Unetymological aspiration: siṅghātaka (also AMāg. siṅghāḍaka) 'road-crossing'=śiṅghātaka; Khandhapura (name of a city) Sāsvs. 81²⁵ from Skanda (name of the war-god); pippala 'Ficus Religiosa' Abhp. 909=pippala; pippali 'pepper' Jā. III. 85²⁴, S. V. 79²², Vv. 43. 6=pippali. Such aspiration is often caused by r: acchi 'light' S. IV. 290²⁷ besides acci=arcs; koccha (§ 10)=kūrca.² Sometimes the r occupies the second position in the original sound-group: tattha 'there' (besides tatra, § 53.2)=tatra; sotthiya 'Brahman' (besides sottiya)=śrottriya; paripp hoseseti 'sprinkles' M. III. 243¹⁷ from root pruṣ with pari (paripp hosesaka 'besprinkled all around' D. I. 74³, M. II. 15¹³ etc.). Initial aspiration: khiḍḍā 'play' (beside kiḷā) through khiḍḍā*=kriḍḍā; phāsu(ka) 'comfortable,' if it is connected with Vedic prāśu.³—2. De-aspiration: lōdda (§ 44)=lodhra, rodhra; babbu(ka) 'cat' Jā. I. 480¹=babhru; bunda 'root' Abhp. 549 (with concomitant metathesis)=budhna (cf. bondi 'body' Pv. IV. 3. 32); muccati 'coagulates' Dh. 71, DhCo. II. 67²²=mūrchatī.⁴ The form milāca 'forest-dweller' Jā. IV. 291³ is perhaps a variant of milakkha (§ 34) and derived from milacca*, milaccha*. The form ludda(ka) 'hunter' DhCo. III. 31⁷, Mhvs. 28. 41=lubdha(ka) is perhaps due to contamination with ludda 'cruel' (§15.4, 44). On aṭṭa=artha see § 64.1. Not infrequently the expected aspiration (according to § 51.1) does not take place in groups containing a sibilant. Thus, when the sibilant is first in the group: saccessati 'will interrupt (?)' A. IV. 343²⁵ from root saśc; kukku (§ 16.1 a)=kiṣku; catukka 'a collection of four, crossing of roads' Dāṭhāva. 1. 58, JāCo. III. 44⁶, Milp. 1¹⁸=catuṣka; nippesika 'cheat' (?) D. ¹ On account of its meaning the form cannot be derived from tipra.

² Similarly to be considered perhaps also dubbhātī 'injures' Th1. 1129, S. I. 225¹⁰ etc. (dubbhān 'malignant' Jā. III. 73²⁰, mittadubbhika 'treacherous' Mhvs. 4. 1.), which I am inclined to connect not with druh—from it is derived mittaddu S. III. 16¹⁸ through leṭṭhu*, leṭṭu* = *leṣṭu*³ there is concomitant softening of the group (§ 61.1). In composition, the expected aspiration is missed in: niccala 'immovable' = niścala; duccarita 'bad deed' = duścarita; duttara 'difficult to cross' = dustara; namakkāra 'obeisance' JāCo. II. 35¹ = namaskāra; also majjhatta 'impartial' JāCo. I. 300¹⁸, Mhvs. 21.14 = madhyastha. Missing aspiration in sound-groups with the sibilant in second position: dhaṅka 'crane' Thl. 151, Jā. II. 208¹⁹, 'crow' S. I. 207²⁹ (verse), VvCo. 384³⁰ through dhaṅkha* = dhvāṅkṣa; ikka (§ 12.2) = ṛkṣa; Okkāka (p. 66, f.-n. 1) from Ikṣvāku; Takkasīlā (name of a city) = Takṣasīlā. Expected aspiration missing in initial position: *kuḍḍa*³ 'small' D. II. 146¹², 169⁹, Jā. V. 102²⁴ (cf. § 64.1) besides khudda = kṣudra; culla, cūla (also AMāg., JMāh. culla) 'small' (for chulla) = kṣulla, which in itself is very probably a popular form of the word kṣudra.

§ 63. Change of consonant-classes in sound-groups (cf. § 41): 1. Guttural appears for palatal perhaps in bhisakka 'physician' M.I. 429⁴, A. III. 238⁴, Milp. 247¹¹ as against bhesajja 'medicine'.—2. Cerebral appears for palatal in āṇā 'order' JāCo. I. 369²³ etc. (āṇāpeti, āṇatta, āṇatti) = ājñā (*ājñāpayati*⁴). But we have also aññā 'highest knowledge', aññātar 'one who knows well', aññāya Gerund from root jñā with ā. Similarly to be explained also paṇṇarasa, paṇṇuvisa, paṇṇāsa (§ 48.2).—3. Dental appears for palatal in uttiṭṭha (Skr. ucchiṣṭa) 'rest of a meal' Milp. 213 f. (uttiṭṭhapatta 'alms-bowl with grains of food attaching to it'⁵), a dialectical side-form of ucchiṭṭha (§ 57). For initial jy there is d instead of j in dosina (§ 59.2) = jyautsna.

§ 64. Cerebralisation of dental-groups is the most frequent case of the change of place of articulation (cf. § 42). 1. Under the influence of r: thus rt, rd, rdh become ṭṭ, ḍḍ, ḍḍh: aṭṭa 'pained' Thl. 1106, Irregular cerebralisation is found in jaṇṇuka 'knee' (perhaps this form should be corrected) JāCo. VI. 332¹⁶ besides jaṇnu(ka)=jānu, as well as kaviṭṭha (§ 38.5) besides kapittha. Cf. also the cerebrals in daḍḍha (§ 42.8)=dagdha.

16. Metathesis in Sound-groups and Loss of Syllable through Haplology.

§ 65.1. Metathesis in sound-groups takes place in combinations of h with nasal or semi-vowel (§ 49, 60), and further in combinations of sibilant with nasal, which become nasal + h (§ 50). The sibilant is retained, in spite of the metathesis, in raṃsi 'ray'=raśmi. On the metathesis of ry into yr with concomitant insertion of *svr*abhakti see § 47.2; for gumba=gulma see § 51.5; for bunda=budhna see § 62.2. Unique is the case of gadrabha 'ass' D. II. 343¹⁴, JāCo. II. 96²⁴ as opposed to gardabha.

2. Haplology and the loss of syllable caused by it is in evidence in aḍḍhatiya (for aḍḍhatatiya*) 'three and a half' JāCo. II. 93⁴ (also addhateyya Vin. I. 39²⁴, DhCo. I. 95²⁵); viññāṇaṇcāyatana (for viññāṇaṇcāy-) 'sphere of infinite knowledge' M. III. 106²³ etc. As sporadic cases may be mentioned: pavissāmi (for pavisissami) 'I shall enter' Cp. I 9.56, JāCo. II. 68²⁰, sossi (for sossasi) 'you will hear' Jā. VI. 423², vipassi (for vipassasi) 'you apprehend' Th2. 271, gacchisi (for gacchissasi) 'you will go' Th1. 356. Cf. also sakkhī Jā. V 116² for sakkhisi* (Co: sakkhissasi), āsādum Jā. V. 154¹⁹ (Co: āsādītum). It is however impossible to decide whether the optatives of ī-roots such as jeyyam from ji, neyyam from nī should be regarded as "haplogologies" for jayeyyam*, nayeyyam*.

17. Sandhi

§ 66. Initial and Final. 1. In Pāli the initial may be only one vowel or (as a rule) only one consonant (§51.2). In a number of cases in Pāli the initial sound shows peculiar variations which should be regarded as due to petrified sandhi-forms. Thus an initial vowel has been lost in va=iva and eva, in pi=api, ti=iti (beside iva, eva, api, iti), dāni 'now' (beside idāni)=*idānim*¹, hetthā (§9)=adheṣṭhāt*, and in the Pronominal stem *na=ena*². The following too are sandhi-forms originated in position after a vocalic final: posatha 'holiday' (beside uposatha)=upavasatha, gmi 'fire' from agini=agni*; vaṭaṃsa(ka) 'ear-ornament' Vv. 38.5, JāCo VI. 488²⁵ etc.=avataṃsa; valaṇṇa 'use', valaṇṇeti 'he uses' from root laṇṇ with ava. The doublets daka, udaka 'water' occur also in Skr. Similarly we have in Skr. ratni and aratni 'one cubit'=Pāli *ratana*³. Also of Skr. yūkā and Pāli ūkā 'louse' JāCo. I. 453²⁰, DhCo. III. 342¹⁵, one or the other is probably a sandhi-form. Similarly, words containing a prothetic y before i(e) and r before u(o) should be regarded as frozen sandhi-forms: yittha 'sacrificed'= iṣṭa; vutta 'spoken'= ukta; vutta 'sown'= upta; vutta 'shorn'= upta; vasita 'inhabited'= uṣita; vūḥa 'carried'= udha (cf. samyūḥa D. II. 267¹⁹, M. I. 386³³ besides samvūḥa DCo. I. 38⁸=samūḍha); also ubbūḥa (vant) 'firm' M. I. 414³⁰=udūḍha. In some cases the form varies. Thus we have both vuṭṭhahitvā D. II. 156⁵ and uṭṭhahitvā M. III. 183³⁰ after vowel. There is vuṭṭhita beside uṭṭhita, vuṭṭhānas besides

³ Johansson, ibid., p. 98, ff.

§ 68. EXTERNAL SANDHI of Pāli is fundamentally different from that of Skr¹. It is always arbitrary. Neither does it apply equally to all the words of a sentence, but only to those which are syntactically closely connected. Windisch rightly said that such a sandhi, as opposed to that of Sanskrit, certainly appears to be older and more natural. The cases in which sandhi can take place are the following combinations. 1. subject and the verb of the predicate, 2. verb and the object, 3. substantive and attribute, 4. attribute and attribute, 5. adverb and verb, 6. noun of the predicate and copula, 7. adverb and object, 8. vocative and the word preceding it; 9. particles and pronouns may join in sandhi with preceding or following words. In general, sandhi in Pāli is much more frequent in verses under the stress of metre than in prose.

§ 69. When two similar vowels meet. 1. $\tilde{a} + \tilde{a}$ become \tilde{a} by contraction when the second word begins with an open syllable: dugga-tāhaṃ Th2. 122 = duygatā ahaṃ. If the second word begins with a closed syllable, one \tilde{a} is simply elided²: piyo c' assaṃ M. I. 33³; chāt' amha = chātā amha JāCo. III. 416⁴. Frequently however also in this case contraction takes place, the length of the resulting vowel being retained against the general rule § 5 (cf. § 7): gavāssā ca = gavā assā ca Jā. III. 408²¹; nāceti = na acceti Jā. IV. 165²²; tassākkhibhaṃ = tassa akkhi JāCo. III. 431⁴.—2. The result is similar in the case of $\tilde{i} + \tilde{i}$, $\tilde{u} + \tilde{u}$; yet here elision can take place also when the initial syllable is an open one, and that not only—as demanded by Jacobi's law³—when the prefinal syllable of the preceding word is long. We have thus contraction in numerous cases such as gacchatiti = gacchati iti, at the side of elision as in yaṃ p'icchaṃ na labhati 'what he longs to get, but cannot' M.I. 48³³; but elision may take place also when the initial syllable is open, e.g., cattār' imāni M.I. 66¹ and even pañcas' upādānakkhandhesu M.I. 61¹.

² In the case of the most frequent sandhi-combinations handed down from the older period of the language (e.g., n'atthi = nāstī), it is possible that the contraction was followed by the shortening of the vowel according to the Law of Mora. But those cases of sandhi which took place only in the Pāli period, as well as the undoubted cases of elision such as pañcas' upādānakkhandhesu, and finally the analogy of the treatment of confronting dissimilar vowels (§ 70 f.), speak rather for elision.

³ Jacobi, Über eine neue Sandhiregel in Pāli und in Prākṛit der Jāinas, IF. 31.

§ 70. Confrontation of dissimilar vowels: 1. When a is followed by i or u: (a) there is contraction of a+i into e and a+u into o. This form of sandhi applies mainly to the language of the Gāthās. Example: macchassevodaye (§ 3). From later poetic literature: ceme=ca ime Mhvs. I. 10; maṃ nopeti=na up- Mhvs. 32. 13. We have even mamedan=mama idan JāCo. III. 446¹².—(b) The ā is elided: satt' imāni ca suttāni Iv. 22¹² (verse); Bodhisattass' upaṭṭhāko JāCo. III. 463²⁰, manas' icchasi=manasā icchasi Jā III. 493⁴. Elision may take place also when the penultimate syllable of the preceding word is short: iminā pan' upāyena JāCo. III. 420¹. This form of sandhi (:elision) is met with in all periods of the language. The elision may take place also before e, o: dhuttā mūlen' ekaṃ bhattachapātim āharāpesuṃ JāCo. III. 287²².—(c) Finally, after the elision of a, the remaining vowel may be lengthened: idh' upapanno Iv. 99¹¹. Frequently however, when iti follows a word ending with a, the initial i is elided with concomitant lengthening of the preceding a *bhavi-ssāmā 'ti*¹ M.I. 42⁴.—2. Confrontation of i, u with dissimilar vowels: (a) i and u become y, v, particularly in the Gāthā language, but occasionally also in the later period of the language: manussesv. etaṃ na vijjati Sn 611; na te dukkhā pamuty-atthi (from pamutti atthi) Th2. 248. In icc-eva (iti eva) Jā III. 481²² the sandhi is accompanied by consonantal assimilation. In canonical and post-canonical prose: app-ekacce (<api ek-) Vin. I. 6²⁷ etc.; Brahmā-yvāham (from Brahmāyu aham with lengthening of the initial vowel) M. II. 144²⁶; pātv-ākkāsi JāCo. III. 405²⁵, DhCo. III. 411⁶.—(b) Any one of the two vowels may be elided (in every period of the language): karom' ahaṃ Th2. 114; karissas' eko Th2. 231; paṇḍiteh' atthadassibhi Th1. 4; gacchant' eva JāCo. IV. 149²³; yaṃ hi 'ssa M. I. 9²⁶; saddahissat' eva JāCo. III. 499²; anabhijjhālu 'ham-asmi M.I. 17²⁷. The remaining vowel may be lengthened: *labhiṃsū 'ti*¹ JāCo. III. 403²²; ās' upasampadā (āsi upasampadā) Th2. 109; idān' āhaṃ M.I. 13⁵.

§ 71. Confrontation of e, o and nasal vowels with vowels. 1. e, o before vowel. (a) The initial vowel is elided: sutto 'smi Jā. III. 404¹⁸; tato 'gacchi (from āgacchi) Th2. 129; cattāro 'me puggalā M. I. 24¹⁷.—(b) Sometimes e, o is elided with concomitant protraction of a following short in open syllable: y' āham (from yo aham) JāCo. III. 364²⁴; y' āhu (from yo ahu) Th1. 632; y' assa (from ye assa) M. I. 7²⁶; sac' āham (from sace aham) JāCo. III. 475²¹.—(c) In monosyllabic words such as te, me, so, yo, kho the vowels e, o are changed into the semi-vowels y, v, in which case a following short vowel is always protracted in an open syllable, but is optionally so in a closed one¹: namo ty-atthu Th2. 157; ty-āham (from te aham) M. I. 13¹; ty-āssa (from te assa) DhCo. I. 116²⁰; sv-āyam (from so ayam) Vin. I. 29²⁶; yv-āssa (from yo assa) M. I. 137¹⁷; khv-āssa (from kho assa) M. I. 68¹². Like these monosyllabic words is treated ito in itv-eva Th1. 869. —2. Nasal vowel before vowel. In such cases (a) all the phenomena of vowel sandhi may appear. Thus contraction: nandeyyāham (from nandeyyam aham) Jā. III. 495²⁰; yesāham (from yessam aham) M. I. 33¹⁷. Elision: paripucch' aham (from -ccim aham) Th2. 170; cattunn' etam (from -nnam etam) S. IV. 174²³. Elision with compensatory lengthening: tes' ūpasammati (from tesam up-) Jā. III. 488⁸. 'Transformation into semi-vowel after denasalisation is in evidence in ky-āham (from kim aham) Jā. III. 206²¹.—(b) The retrograde mutation of Anusvāra into m is very frequent: bandhitum-icchati Th2. 299; atītam-addhānam M. I. 8⁴; saddam-akāsi JāCo. III. 287²⁵; also antalikkhasmim-elīki Jā. III. 481¹⁶. An original long vowel shortened before Anusvāra gets back its original quantity in this process: āloko passatām-iva (from -tam+iva) Sn. 763; pappoti mām iva (from maṃ+iva) Jā. III. 468⁴. It should be noted that in n' etam ajjatanām-iva Dh. 227 the lengthening is due merely to metrical exigencies.

§ 72. The hiatus due to confrontation of vowels in a sentence is often filled, 1. by restoring at the end of the first word a consonant which originally formed part of it. Thus, e.g., by restoring r: punar - ehisi Th2. 166; pātur - ahosi Vin. I. 5²¹ etc. (as opposed to pātu bhavati). This restitution is in evidence also in flexional forms²: raṃsir-iva Vv. 52. 5; pathavidhātūr-ev' esā M. III. 240²⁹ (analogically also vijjūr-iva Vv. I. 1); bhattur-atthe (Skr. bhartur-arthe) Jā. II. 398¹⁵; sabbhir-eva (Skr. sadbhir-eva) Th1. 4. Restitution of d to avoid hiatus: etad-avoca (passim), yad-idam (passim), yad-icchitam Th2. 46; ahud-eva bhayam D.I. 49²⁵; sakid-eva 'once only' Pu. 16¹⁷.

² Cf. AMāg. sīhir-iva, sāgur-iva etc.; Fischel, Phr. Gr. § 353.

Restitution of g: pag-eva (Skr. prāg-eva) JāCo. I. 354²⁰; putthag-eva (Skr. prthag-eva) from puthu Kacc I. 5. 1 (Senart, p. 221). Restitution of m: tunhīm-āsine D. II. 212²¹ (verse) from tunhī=Skr. tūṣṇīm. Finally, ḷ is restituted at the end of the numeral cha 'six': chaḷ-ete (Skr. ṣaḍ-ete) Jā. I. 366²⁷. After the analogy of punar-ahosi etc. also haṃsar-iva Jā. I. 403²¹; bahud-eva S. IV. 183²⁷ after aññad-eva M. I. 372¹⁸.—2. By prothesis of y before i (e) and of v before u (o). For frozen sandhi-forms of this type see § 66. 1. In numerous cases a prothetic y precedes the pronominal stem ima 'na-y-idaṃ Th2. 166, DhCo. I. 201²; cha-y-ime M. I. 51¹⁶; also na-y-ito Jā. III. 466²⁸ etc. Further ādicco-v-udayaṃ 'the rising sun' Iv. 85⁴ (verse); ubhaya-v-okipṇo 'scattered in both directions'¹ D. III. 83⁶⁻⁸ beside okirati JāCo. I. 88²⁰; kuti-v-uttari, pañca-v-uttari S. I. 315¹⁷ (in Windisch).

§ 73. The phenomena described above have led—particularly in the Gāthā language—to the introduction of inorganic sandhi-consonants for the purpose of avoiding hiatus. Thus there is 1. y occasionally also before a: khaṇi-y-asmani Jā. III. 433¹¹; yā-y-aññaṃ Jā. I. 429²⁷.—2. Frequently m serves as a sandhi-consonant: Sattukā-m-iva Jā. III. 438¹⁶, isi-m-avoca Sn. 692, saki-m-eva Milp. 10¹². According to § 72.1 one would rather expect instead: Sattukād-iva, isir-avoca, sakideva (so A. IV. 380²⁰). Other examples are: nīcakulā-m-iva Sn. 411; puno-m-ahaṃ Th2. 292; ekañ-ca jeyya-m-attānaṃ 'one should conquer one's own self' Dh. 103 etc. With characteristic shortening: hitva-m-aññaṃ (from hitvā aññaṃ) Sn. 1071.—3. Further we find r as sandhi-consonant: dhi-r-atthu Th1. 1184, Jā. III. 29¹⁸, as against dhig-atthu (Skr. dhig-astu) according to § 72.1; jalanta-r-iva (from jalantaṃ iva) Jā. VI. 181⁶; jīva-r-eva (from jīvaṃ eva; Comm. jīvanto yeva) Jā. III. 46¹⁷. According to § 71. 2 b these two forms should rather have been jalantam-iva, jīvam-eva. Very frequently there is r before iva, particularly after ā, e, o: turiyā-r-iva Th2. 381; jana-majjhe-r-iva Th2. 394; thambo-r-iva Sn. 214; so-r-iva sumsumāro Jā. II. 228²¹. Shortening is in evidence in haṃsa-r-iva Sn. 1134 (there is however the variant reading haṃso-r-iva); suriyan-tapantaṃ sarada-r-iva from sarado (Gen. Sg.) iva Sn. 687 etc.—4. Sometimes we find d as sandhi-consonant: puna-d-eva Vv. 53.22, JāCo. I. 96⁸; samma-d-eva D. II. 126¹¹ (against Skr. saṃyag-eva); bahu-d-eva rattim Th1. 366.—

5. Occasionally t serves as sandhi-consonant: ajja-t-agge 'from to-day' M. I. 24¹, D. I. 85¹⁴ etc. But it is uncertain whether yasmātiha (tasmātiha) is to be explained as yasmā-t-iha. I would rather divide it into yasmā ti ha like Windisch (p. 244)¹.—6. For the sandhi-consonant n Kacc. 1.4.6 (Senart, p. 218) gives the examples ciran-n-āyati 'since long' and ito-n-āyati 'from now on.'—7. It is uncertain whether h too should be regarded as a sandhi-consonant² in cases like mā-h-evaṃ avaca S. I. 150⁷ or na-h-eva M. II. 223⁸ etc.; Kokanadāhasmiṃ S. I. 30¹ may be explained as Kokanadā ahaṃ asmiṃ.

§ 74. Confrontation of vowels and consonants (mixed sandhi):

1. Frequently an original initial consonant-group at the beginning of the second word reappears in sandhi. Often this is due to exigencies of metre, as in sarati-bbayo (from vayo=Skr. vyaya) Jā. III. 95¹⁸; but sometimes also without the stress of metre and in prose: muni-ppakāsaya Sn. 251; tatra-ssu (from su=Skr. svid) M. I. 77²⁸; na-ppajahanti M. I. 14¹⁵; na-ppamajjasi JāCo. III. 424⁴ etc.—2. The ending o is sometimes retained in its original form as before s: tayas-su dhammā Sn. 231; lūkhas-sudaṃ homi M. I. 77²⁵. In the same way we find -us in Soṇena Suhanus-sahā Jā. II. 31²⁴, pitus-sutaṃ Jā. III. 484²⁴, in which case however a different explanation is possible.—3. When a nasal vowel is confronted with a consonant, the Anusvāra before mutes and nasals is very frequently changed into the corresponding nasal: karissañ-ca Jā. III. 437²⁵; bheriṇ carāpetvā JāCo. III. 410¹¹; āsabhaṇ-ṭhānaṃ M. I. 69³²; man-tāta Th2. 274; kahan-no mātā JāCo. III. 427²⁰; cittuppādam-pi M. I. 48²⁶; diṭṭham-me JāCo. III. 449³⁴. The Anusvāra may be changed into ñ before h: cittañ-hi 'ssa padūsitaṃ Iv. 18⁴.

B. WORD-FORMATION

Note : The flexion of Pāli is throughout determined by the laws of analogy. The old historical forms have been more and more replaced by new formations in course of the development of the language. The relation between archaic and later forms in particular periods of the language has been discussed already in Introduction II.

I. Noun (Substantive and Adjective)

1. Generalities

§ 75. In Pāli the nominal stems have undergone multifarious changes. Due to the phonetic law entailing the elision of final consonants, the consonant stems become vowel ones and are inflected like the latter. Thus we get sumedha 'wise' Dh. 208, Vin. I. 5²² (verse) from sumedhas; āpā 'misfortune' (Loc. Pl. āpāsu Jā. II. 817¹⁹) from āpad. In this way originated sappi 'butter' (Abl. Sg. sappimhā D. I. 201²⁶) from sarpis; acci or accī (the latter form in M. III. 273¹⁷) 'brightness' from arcis; tādi 'like this' from tādrś etc.; similarly vijju 'lightning' (N. Pl. vijjū Mhvs. 12.13) from vidyut; maru 'god' from marut etc.—Very often the transfer to vowel-flexion is effected by adding ā to the consonantal stem. The a-flexion has supplied most of the types of new formations.¹ Besides sumedha we have sumedhasa (N. Sg. sumedhaso Dh. 29; Fem. sumedhasā Mhvs. 22. 36). Similarly āpadā Thl. 371, JāCo. III. 12¹² beside āpā (in JāCo. II. 817²¹ āpāsu is explained by āpadāsu); vijjutā (Loc. Pl. vijjutāsu D. II. 181¹⁰) besides vijju. Analogous stems are sarada 'autumn' = śarad; barihisa 'sacrificial grass' D. I. 141²⁴ = barhis; sarita 'flowing stream' D. III. 196²⁶ = sarit, etc. In this way the consonantal flexion is reduced more and more, and at the side of older consonantal forms new forms according to the vowel flexion appear in the language and gradually come to be regarded as the only possible correct forms.

§ 76. Gender is distinguished on the whole according to the rules of Sanskrit. Syntactical irregularities however often show that the sense for grammatical Gender had already become hazy. Thus the L. Sg. Masc. Neut. asati Ud. 81⁷⁻⁸ is connected both with the Feminine forms passaddhiyā, ratiyā, āgatigatiyā as well as with calite, cutūpapāte. In Dh. 104 there is attā jītaṃ instead of *jīto*¹; Th2. 518: sakhiyo tīpi janiyo 'we three women friends' instead of tisso; in Ud. 79²¹ the Subject upāsikāyo is connected with the Predicate anipphalāni kalamkatāni etc. Particularly the Neuters in -as are occasionally treated as Masculine²: yattha me nirato mano (instead of niratam) Jā. III. 91¹⁵; tapo sukho (instead of sukham) Dh. 194; sukhumo rajo paṭivātam va khitto (instead of sukhumam, khittam) Sn. 662; mahāvegena āgato nadisoto 'the current of the stream coming with great force' DhCo. IV. 45¹⁷ etc. Also Neuters in -a are not seldom treated as Masculine and vice versa. We have, e.g., je keci rūpā . . sabbe vat' ete S.I. 67⁸; sabbe te rūpā M. III. 217³¹; ime diṭṭhitthānā D.I. 16³⁴ (cf. A. II. 42^{2,4}). In Jā. I. 289²⁹ there is sabbe kaṭṭhamayā vanā, although vana is Neuter, and in M.I. 67¹⁵ cattāro upādānā besides the regular cattāri upādānāni. Cf. below § 80. 4. On the other hand Masculines too show flexional forms of the Neuter. Thus we have dharmāni from Masc. dharmā Jā. V. 221²⁷; vandati pādāni Vv. 51. 1 has been explained in the commentary 218¹⁴ by pāde; petāni puttāni (Acc.) Th2. 312 stands for pete putte according to the commentary: "lingavipallāsena". Cf. also Ud. 17³³. There is bhujāni poṭhenti Bu. I. 36 beside poṭhayam bhujē Rasav. II. 92⁴, and the Acc. tālataṇṇe immediately before the Nom. Pl. tālataṇṇāni Vin. I. 189^{10,21}. Accusatives like puttāni should be regarded as cases of Ardha-Māgadhism. Pischel § 358 There are also cases of confusion between Feminines in ā and Neuters in -a: Thus Pl. sabhāni Jā. IV. 223⁷ from Fem. sabhā, which has been explained by sabhāyo in the commentary. The stem kucchi 'womb' = kukṣi, which was originally Masc., has besides the forms kucchismā, kucchimhā, kucchismim, kucchimhi also kucchiyā, kucchiyaṃ JāCo. I. 52⁸, 293¹⁸ like the Feminine stems of § 86. From sālī 'rice' = sālī Masc. we have the Acc. Pl. sālīyo. Also dhātu 'element', although originally Masc., knows forms like Nom. Acc. Pl. dhātuyo Dhs. 67, Th2. 14, Inst. Sg. dhātuyā D.II. 109¹, A. I. 28², IV. 313²¹, but Gen. Sg. dhātussa Mhvs. 20. 10. The usually Neuter stem massu 'beard' has in Gen. Sg. massuyā Jā. III. 315²² etc. Examples of confusion in Gender have been discussed in connection with the changes of word-stems in § 75.

§ 77. 1. Of the Numbers Pāli has given up the Dual¹. Its place has been taken by the Plural. Of Dual there have been preserved only dve, duve 'two' = dve, and ubho 'both' = ubhau. It is therefore usual to say dve cakkhūni 'the two eyes' JāCo. IV. 137¹⁶, dve antā Nom. Pl. and ubho ante Acc. Pl. 'the two extremes' Vin. I. 10^{10,11,15}. The same use of Plural, also in Dvandva-compounds: Acc. Pl. ime candimasuriye M.I. 69¹⁶ Gen. Pl. candimasuriyānaṃ D.I. 10¹⁴.—2. As for the Cases (cf. R. O. Franke, BB. 16.64 ff.), Pāli replaces the Dative in both Numbers by the Genitive². Only the a-stems have retained in Singular a Dative in *-āya*³. It serves to express direction and purpose. Thus, e.g., saggāya gacchati Dh. 174; jaḥassu rūpaṃ apunabbhavāya 'give up the body in order not to be born again' Sn. 1121. It is also used quite frequently as Infinitive, as in na ca mayaṃ labhāma bhagavantaṃ dassanāya 'we do not get permission to see the Blessed One' Vin. I. 253¹¹. This Dative is used particularly to express longing after something (cf. icchā labhāya A. IV. 298²⁰) and exertion for something (ghaṭati vāyamaṃti labhāya, ibid.). It is further used in the sense of 'it suffices to, it serves to' (sallekhāya subharatāya viriyārambhāya saṃvattissati M.I. 13³⁰), in connection with hetu, paccaya 'reason for' (ko paccayo mahato bhūmicālassa pātubhāvāya D. II. 107¹¹), and in connection with alaṃ 'enough' (alaṃ vacanāya A. III. 5²⁷) etc.—Frequently the Abl. Sg. is formed with the suffix -to = Skr. -tas. It can be also included in the paradigm as has been actually done by V. Henry. As examples let us mention: gharato 'from the house' JāCo. I. 290²⁶, mukhato Ud. 78¹⁰, dūrato 'from afar', cāpāta (with lengthening, from cāpa 'bow') Dh. 320 (see § 78-80); Nālato Th2. 294, cūlato JāCo. II. 410¹⁹, nāvato DhCo. III. 39¹⁴, jihvato S. IV. 178¹⁵ besides jivatō S. IV. 175¹ with shortening as also in simato JāCo. II. 3¹ (see § 81); aggito D. II. 88², aṭṭhito Jā. II. 409³, dadhito Milp. 41¹, bhikkhuto Th1. 1024, kāmaṇḍaluto DhCo.

¹ The two examples given by E. Müller, PGr. p. 65 f., as instances of retained Dual are unconvincing. One of them (paṭhamam) to idhāgato Dpvs. 9. 32, even if the reading is not corrupt, goes back only to the author of this work whose knowledge of Pāli was very imperfect. The second form mātāpītu (ca vanditā) Cp. II. 9. 7 is certainly no Dual at all.

² As in Pkr., Pischel § 361.

³ Cf. R. O. Franke, BB. 16. 82.

III. 448³, cakkhuto S. IV. 174³³ (see § 82, 85); kucchito JāCo. I. 52³¹, angulito DhCo. I. 164⁷, Bāraṇasito Th2. 335 besides -sito (with shortening) JāCo. II. 47¹⁸, pokkharāṇito JāCo. II. 38⁴ besides -ṇito VvCo. 217²¹, dhātuto JāCo. I. 253²⁹, jambuto Bu. 17. 9 (see § 86); abhibhūto D. I. 18⁷, M. I. 2²⁷ (see § 87. 2); pitito 'from father', mātito 'from mother' D. I. 113²⁵, A. III. 151¹⁶ etc. = pitṭas, mātṭas; rājato Dh. 139; attato S. III. 46¹⁶; hatthito (from hatthin 'elephant') JāCo. IV. 257²⁰, Himavantato JāCo. I. 140²⁴ (see § 96); manato S. IV. 175² (see § 99).—In Plural the suffix -bhyas of Dat.-Abl. has been lost. The Abl. formally coincides with Instr. as Dat. with Gen. Also in Singular the form of Instr. is often used as Abl. (§ 82. 2, 90. 1, 91, 92, 95, 96).

2. a-declension.

§ 78. A. Masculine stems in -a; stem : dhamma 'law'.

Abl.	dhmmā, dhmmasma, amhā	dhmmehi
L.	dhamme, dhmmasmiṃ, amhi	dhmmesu
V.	dhmma	dhmmā

B. Neuter stems in -a; stem : rūpa 'figure'.

	Singular	Plural
N.	rūpaṃ	rūpāni, rūpā
Acc.	rūpaṃ	rūpāni, rūpe
V.	rūpa	rūpāni, rūpā

In other cases as in Masculine. On the Dative of a-stems in -āya cf. § 77 (with § 27. 2).

On flexion : 1. The Instrumental Sg. in -ā corresponds to the same form of the Vedic language¹. It is found not infrequently in the Gāthā-language and in canonical prose; but only occasionally in post-canonical prose. A form to the point is the frequent *sahatthā*¹ 'with one's own hand' JāCo. I. 286⁵, D. I. 109³³, Vin. I. 18³⁰, JāCo. I. 7³, Mhvs. 5. 72 besides sahatthēna JāCo. VI. 305³. Also yogā DhCo. III. 233²¹ (verse), explained by yogena in the word-analysis; pādā 'with the foot' Jā. III. 269¹⁶, DhCo. I. 202⁶ (verse); saha vacanā 'along with the word, in the moment he spoke the word' Ud. 16³; mā sokā (= sokena) pahato bhava Th1. 82; bhikkhusaṃghā (parallel to the Instr. bhagavatā) Vin. II. 198²³ etc. That these forms were later felt to be archaisms is clear from the fact that as yogā is explained by yogena, so also is pādā explained by pādena in the commentary (JāCo. III. 269²⁸).—2. The suffixes -asmā, -amhā of Ablative Sg. and -asmiṃ, -amhi of Locative Sg. are taken from the pronominal declension.—3. The suffix -e of Accusative Pl. is taken from the pronominal declension². Here the forms te, ime, sabbe are used both in N. and Acc. From te dhammān* gradually originated te dhamme.—4. The Instr. Pl. in -ehi is either derived from the Vedic forms in -ebhis, or is taken over from pronominal declension.—5. As for the Vocative Sg. of neuter declension, cf. citta 'O soul' Th1. 1108 f.—6. The Nominative Plural in *-ā*³ of Neuter stems is not rare in the first two periods of the language: rūpā Th1. 455, Vin. I. 21¹⁹, D. I. 245¹⁷ etc; soṭā 'ears' Sn. 345; nettā 'eyes' Th2. 257; phalā 'fruits' Jā. IV. 203²², Vv. 84. 4. These forms were still felt to be Neuter. Cf., e.g., tiṇ' assa lakkhaṇā gatte Sn. 1019; moghā (Com. moghāni) te assū pariphanditāni Jā. III. 24²⁵. They correspond to the Vedic Plurals in -ā like yugā 'yokes'.—7. As these forms however formally coincided with Masc. Plurals, they gave rise also to Accusative Plurals in -e as in Masc.: rūpe M. III. 281⁸, S. IV. 8¹⁰ (in Th1. 1099 it occurs at the side of Masc. Accusatives); saṃre DhCo. III. 208⁹; pupphe VvCo. 174¹⁴; te chidde S. I. 43²⁰ (verse), where chiddāni as Nom. occurs immediately before. Confusion of Gender is thus in evidence.

§ 79. Individual forms. 1. Not at all rare are Sg. Instrumentals in *-asā*⁴, formed on the analogy of as-stems on the basis of the proportion mano: manasā=dhammo: X. Examples are found specially in the first two periods of the language, and again in the artificial poetry;

¹ Sten Konow and D. Andersen however consider it to be Abl.; JPTS. 1909, p. 134.

² E. Kubn, Beitr. p. 72. Cf. Pischel. ZDMG. 35.715 f. Scepticism about this interpretation has been expressed by V. Henry, Préc. de Gramm. Pâlie § 153, note 3.

³ Frequently also in Pkr.; see Pischel, § 367.

⁴ Such forms occur also in Pkr. "through the influence of preceding Instrumentals of s-stems," Pischel; § 364.

they are rare in post-canonical prose. Cf. balasā 'with force' (instead of balena) Th1. 1141; Cp. II. 4. 7; damasā Sn. 463 beside damena Sn. 655; vāhasā (instead of vāhena) Th1. 218, Vin. IV. 158²⁰, D. II. 245⁹; padasā 'on foot' (instead of padena) JāCo III. 300²⁹, Mhvs. 14.2. Moreover mukhasā 'with the mouth' Pv. I.2.3 is explained by mukkhena in the Pv.Co. and vegasā 'with speed' Jā. III. 185³ is explained by vegena in the Co.¹—2. According to Moggallāna II. 108 ff., Singular Locatives in -asi are formed analogically on the basis of Instrumentals in *-asā*².—3. In Vocative Sg. the final is sometimes extended³. The Voc ayyo is used in respectful address for both Numbers and Genders (beside ayya, ayyā; ayye, ayyā), as for instance in Vin. I. 75⁸ in Voc. Pl. Masc.—4. In Nom. Pl. the forms in -āse are quite common in the Gāthā-language. They correspond to the Vedic forms in -āsas, and the ending -e instead of -o suggests the influence of Māgadhi⁴: upāsakāse Sn. 376; paṇḍitāse Sn. 875; dhammāse Sn. 1088; brāhmaṇāse Sn. 1079ff.; vañcitāse Th1. 102; gadhitāse Th1. 1216; ussitāse Vv. 84. 15; rukkhāse Jā. III. 399²; ariyāse Jā. IV. 222²¹; duṭṭhāse (and a number of other forms) Iv. 1¹⁰ff.; Gotamasāvākāse D. II. 272²⁸ (verse), gatāse D. II. 255³ (verse), S. I. 27⁸ (verse), Jā. I. 97¹; upapannāse S. I. 60⁴ (verse); nivittthāse S. I. 67⁴ (verse) etc.—⁵. An Acc. Pl. Masc. in -ān as in Skr. has perhaps been preserved in vehāsān-upasaṃkamim Th1. 564 through the influence of Sandhi. But it should rather be construed as vehāsāni up° according to §70.2b.—6. Besides the ending -ehi in Instr. Pl. there is also the archaic form -ebhi: ariyebhi Ud. 61². To the Skr. ending -ais corresponds -e° in guṇe dasah' upāgataṃ Bu. 2.32. Or is it merely a shortened form of guṇehi dasahi?

§ 80. Māgadhism—1. Forms of the Māgadhi-language are used in isolated passages of the canon. Such forms are: the Singular Nominatives in -e—in Masc. instead of -o, and in Neuter instead of -am; (a) Masculine⁶. attakāre, parakāre, purisakāre (instead of -kāro)

¹ The same form is used also by secondarily originated s-stems. Cf. § 94

III. 288¹³, which has been replaced in the comm. by -kaṃ dānaṃ diyyati.—2. I consider as "Māgadhism" the voc. sg. in -e of a-stems: Bhesike D. I. 225⁷, 226⁹ from the proper name Bhesika; Takkāriye Jā. IV. 247²⁴ from Takkāriya. Cf. Māg. puttake, ceḍe, bhaṭṭake etc. These are nominatives used as vocatives². In a Māgadesque passage in D. I. 54¹², M. I. 518⁵ there occur gen. pl. in -uno: cullāsītū mahākappuno satasapassānū (DCo. I. 164 = mahākappānaṃ). Also pañcakam muno satani (= kammānaṃ) D. On flexion: 1. The forms of Instr. sg. (as well as of Abl., Gen., Dat.) in -āya, like the Prakrit endings in *-āa*³, are derived from the old ending -āyās in Abl.-Gen.; the old Instr. in -ayā has disappeared. Beside -āya there is also -ā. But I do not believe that they are to be connected with the Vedic Instrumentals like doṣā, barhāṇā. The forms are rather the result of a phonetical process (§ 27.2). The ending -ā appears, for instance, also in loc, e.g. rathiyā 'on the street' Dpvs. 6.34.—2. For voc. sg. cf. the frequent bhaddē JāCo. II. 29⁴ etc. and ayye JāCo. I. 93⁶ etc.—3. The nom., acc. and voc. pl. kaṇṇāyo is analogically formed after the corresponding forms rattiyo, kumāriyo etc. of the i-declension¹. The form is written with i, for instance, in pokkharāṇiyo A. I. 145¹⁰.

Sg., those in -issa, -ussa in Gen. Sg., and those in -ī, -ū in Nom. and Voc. Pl.²—2. The forms in -ino, -uno of Gen.-Dat. -ihi, -ūhi of Instr.-Abl. Pl. and in -isu, -ūsu of Loc. Pl. is probably due to analogy with the form in Gen. Pl.—5. The form bhikkhave in Voc. Pl. is a “Māgadhism” which has penetrated into the literary language from the popular speech in this word of address so often used by Buddha towards his followers. In Sg. the Nominative form is used as Vocative.

§ 83. Isolated forms: 1 In Acc. Sg. there are sometimes found the forms bhikkhunam Sn. 513, ādiccabandhunam D. II. 287²¹ (verse)—after the analogy of in-stems. An agginam too would be expected accordingly.—2. The form corresponding to the old Gen.-Abl. in -os is to be found in the postposition hetu ‘on account of, for the sake of’ (§ 22).—3. To the Skr. ending -au in Loc. Sg. corresponds -o in ādo, instead of which however occurs ādu in Th1. 1274 (§22). Cf. § 86. 5.—4. The old ending of Voc. Sg. is to be found in ise ‘O wise one!’ Sn. 1052. E. Müller (PGr. p. 73) cites an analogous Voc. Sg. Sutano Ja. III. 329⁸ (treated as Nom. in JāCo. III. 325², 329²¹).—5. The mixing up of in- and i-flexions (§ 95) has led also in the case of original i-stems to the construction of forms according to the in-decl.¹ Thus aggino Saddhammopāyana 584; dummatino Mhvs. 4. 3 (where also the analogous form mittadduno); sāramatino Dh. 11; vajjamatino Dh. 818; also Instr. Sg. nivātaruttinā Th1. 71, 210 (in Skr. too occasionally °vṛttin for °vṛtti).—6. An isolated Acc. Pl. with transfer to the a-decl. is to be found in ise Jā. V. 92²⁴. It is preceded by samaṇe brāhmaṇe.—7. Archaic forms in -bhi instead of -hi in Instr. Pl. are isibhi Th1. 1065, Jā. III. 29¹⁰ (with protraction in isibhi Th2. 206); ñātibhi Cp. I. 9. 56, Jā. III. 329¹⁹, 495²³. 8. Forms with shortened stem-vowel in Instr. (Dat. Abl.), Loc. and Gen. Pl. are not at all rare. The shortening takes place mostly metri causa. Cf. pāṇihi Jā. VI. 579²⁹; kimīhi Th1. 315; akkhihi (n.) Sn. 608; sādhūhi Dpvs. 4. 6; ādisu JāCo. I. 61¹⁵; asīsu M. I. 86³¹; bhikkhūsu Th1. 241, 1207; usūsu M. On flexion: 1. The flexions of short-vowel stems and long-vowel stems coincide with each other in Pāli excepting in Nom. Sg. Here the latter mostly retain their length. But shortening too is found in this position, as, e.g., in sassu Vv. 29. 7, 8.—2. As a rule, ī at the end of the stem is changed into iy before vowel-endings. The flexion is thus like that of monosyllabic ī-stems in Sanskrit. In analogy with it ū too is then changed into uy. Yet, however, there are numerous forms of the ī-stems in which ī is changed into y,—particularly, metri causa, in the Gāthā-dialect; but analogous forms occur also in canonical prose. Cf. ratyā Thl. 517, 628, Jā. VI. 491²¹ (instead of rattiyā) 'of the night' = rātryās; Nom. Pl. ratyā Jā. VI. 26¹⁶ (com. rattio) and Loc. Sg. rattimhi Jā. V. 102²³; Instr. The forms in Pl. with extended stem-vowel may again undergo shortening: naranāriṇam 'of men and women' Cp. I. 6. 2; nārisu Dh. 284; jātisu Thl. 346 etc.—4. For the double-forms in Nom. Acc. ² On the analogy of compounds formed with bhū also words compounded with ā-roots are transferred to the ñ-flexion: viññū 'wise' = vijñā, sabbaññū 'omniscient' = sarvajña; pāragū 'reaching the other side' (beside pāraga) = pāraga etc.

4. Diphthong-stems.

§ 88. 1. The Skr. stem rai 'wealth' is unknown in Pāli.—2. From nau a new stem nāvā 'ship' has been formed¹, which is inflected according to § 81 (cf. nāvāyo DhCo. III. 184¹⁹, nāvāsu ib. 185¹).—3. Of go 'cattle' the following old forms have been preserved: Sg. Nom. go S. I. 221³⁴ (verse), go-r-iva Jā. V. 15²⁷.—Pl. Nom. gāvo Sn. 20, A. II. 43¹⁸; Acc. (transferred from Nom.) gāvo Jā. VI. 549⁶, S. IV. 181¹², DhCo. III. 43²;—Instr. gohi S. I. 6⁹ (verse), Sn. 33.—Dat.-Gen. gavaṃ Jā. III. 111¹⁷, gonam (=Ved. gonām) Dpvs. I. 76 and its phonetic variant (according to § 15. 3) gunnam S. II. 188⁹, A. I. 229¹³, DhCo. III. 243¹⁵. *Gava*² is a new stem which is the basis of Sg. Abl. gavā D. I. 201²⁵, Dat.-Gen. gavassa M. I. 429³², Loc. gave Sn. 810. From a third stem gāva is derived gāvī 'cow' which is quite common. Finally we have also a stem *goṇa*³: Sg. Nom. goṇo Vin. IV. 7¹⁶, S. IV. 195²², DhCo. III. 262⁶; Acc. goṇam M. I. 10³⁶, JāCo. I. 494¹¹. Pl. Acc. goṇe DhCo. III. 302¹⁸; Gen. goṇānaṃ DhCo. III. 239²².—4. Of the Skr. stem dyu 'day, sky' only the adverbially used form divā 'by day' has been preserved in Pāli.

5. Radical Stems.

§ 89. Only mengre rests have been preserved of the flexion of radical stems. Thus, e.g., Sg. Instr. vācā 'with the word' Sn. 232 from Skr. vāc which otherwise appears as vācā in P. (§ 81); Sg. Instr. padā 'with the foot' Th1. 457, Sn. 768 from Skr. pād (cf. Pl. Gen. khattiyo dvipadam seṭṭho S. I. 6²² (verse) = Skr. dvipadām); Pl. Acc. sarado satam 'hundred autumns' Jā. II. 16¹⁵ from Skr. śarad; Pl. Gen. sāgaraṃ saritaṃ patim 'the ocean, the lord (husband) of the rivers' Jā. II. 442⁸ from Skr. sarit. All the quotable examples belong to the Gāthā-language⁴. In Mhvs. 36. 93 there is the Sg. Loc. pathi

¹ Similarly also in Pkr. ṇāvā; Pischel, § 394.

³ AMāg. goṇa; beside it fem. gāvī

⁴ It seems unlikely to me that in āpo ca pathavi ca 'water and earth' Sn. 307 āpo is the Nom. Pl = Skr. āpas. Beside the Acc. Sg. āpaṃ Sn. 391 we have also the Loc. Sg. āpe Sn. 392. A stem āpa has therefore to be accepted. In the first member of a compound is found *āpo*⁵, e.g., in D. II. 108⁶.

'on the road' as var. lec. in the Ceylonese mss. for patham (Acc. Sg.) of the Burmese mss. (§ 93. 4).

6. r-declension.

§ 90. Nomina agentis. Stem: satthar 'teacher'.

	Sg.	Pl.
Nom.	satthā	} satthāro
Acc.	satthāraṃ ¹
Instr.	sattharā, satthārā, satthunā	} satthūhi, satthārehi
Abl.	sattharā, satthārā
Dat.-Gen	satthu, satthuno, satthussa	satthūnaṃ, satthārānaṃ
Loc.	satthari	satthūsu, satthāresu
Voc.	satthā, sattha, satthe	satthāro

On flexion: 1. The following are historical forms used in every period of the language: Sg. Nom. satthā (JāCo. III. 20¹⁹), Acc. satthāraṃ (JāCo. III. 21¹), as well as Pl. Nom. Voc. satthāro. The last form was then used also as Acc. Also the following forms are historical: Sg. Gen. satthu (Iv. 79⁸, JāCo. III. 20²⁹, bhattu Vv. 15⁵) = Skr. śāstur; Sg. Loc. satthari (Dhs. 1004, DhCo. II. 38¹¹) = śāstari; also Sg. Instr. sattharā = śāstrā with Svarabhakti. The Instr. is then used also as Abl.—2. In compounds the r of the stem appears in Pāli as u. Thus satthukappa 'like the master' Mhvs. 14. 65, bhattuvasānuvattinī 'obedient to the will of the husband' Jā. II. 348¹⁶. A stem satthu was abstracted out of these u-forms, from which: Sg. Instr. satthunā (Mhvs. 17. 12), Dat.-Gen. satthuno (Sn. 547, 573, Th1. 131, bhāituno VvCo 110¹¹), satthussa (Mhvs. 4. 32); Pl. Instr. Abl. satthūhi, Gen. satthūnaṃ (DhCo. I. 20²⁸: sotūnaṃ), Loc. satthūsu.—3. A stem satthāra was abstracted analogically out of the proportion kammāraṃ: kammāra = satthāraṃ: x. From it are derived the forms Pl. Instr. satthārehi, Gen. satthārānaṃ (JāCo. I. 509³), Loc. satthāresu; perhaps also Sg. Instr. satthārā (D. I. 163⁸, JāCo. II. 24¹⁶, DhCo. II. 45¹, Mhvs. 5. 77) and the form in Sg. Abl. which is identical with it².—4. Transfer to the a-declension through the elision of r should also be noticed. Thus nahāpita 'barber' (Sg. Nom. -to D. I. 225¹⁶, Acc. -taṇ D. I. 225⁶, Pl. Acc. -te Mhvs. 29. 20) presupposes a stem snāpitar* (cf. Skr. nāpitā) ; sallakattu 'physician' (Sg. Nom. -tlo Sn 560, Acc. -ttaṇ M. I. 429⁴, Milp. 247¹²) is = *śalyakartar*¹. From the stem khattar 'door-keeper' = kṣa'ttar we have beside the Sg. Nom. khattā D. I. 112²⁹, M. II. 164³¹ the Acc. khattaṇ D. I. 112⁸, M. II. 164¹⁹.—5 The form sattā of Voc Sg. is taken from the Nom. The form sattā is shortening of the same on the analogy of nadi from nadī, vadhū Vin. III 16²³ from vadhū. As for the form sattihe, cf. khatte from khattar D. I. 112¹⁰, M. II. 164²⁶; katte from kattar Jā. V 220²¹, VI. 492² They are based on the analogy of the Voc kaññe of the Nom kaññā (§ 81)

² Also in Pkr. the stems bhattu and bhattāra cross the historical forms; Fischel, § 389.

		mātuyā
Loc.	pitari	{ mātari, mātuyā, -yaṇ	} pitūsu, pitaresu	mātūsu

On flexion. The stems pitar (with short stem-vowel in the strong cases) and pitū, which are in use in all the periods of the language, are distributed as in the case of sattar. I can find no form to justify the assumption of a stem *pitara*². The stem-vowel is long in nattar 'grandson' as in Skr. naptar. Cf. Pl. Acc. nattāro Ud. 91²³ = Skr. Nom. naptāras, also Pl. Instr. nattārehi Ud. 92².—2. Attestation of the most important forms. Sg. Instr. pitārā JāCo. III. 37¹⁵, bhātārā JāCo. I. 308², mātārā Th2. 212; Sg. Abl. pitārā, mātārā JāCo. Isolated forms: Sg. Acc. pitum Cp. 2. 9. 8; Pl. Nom. bhātuno Th2. 408; Acc. -pitū (in mātāpitū) Th2. 493; further Sg. Nom. jāmāto 'son-in-law' JāCo. IV. 219²⁵; Pl. Acc. bhāte Dpvs. 6. 21, 22 with transfer to the a flexion (§ 90. 4). Transfer of feminine stems to ā-decl. is also found to occur. Cf. Sg. Gen. mātāya JāCo. I. 62¹³. Such transfer is very frequent in the case of dhitar 'daughter': Sg. Nom. dhitā Th2. 46, Acc. dhitarāṃ Th2. 98, JāCo. III. 19¹⁶ etc., but also Dat.-Gen. dhitāya VvCo. 270²⁸, Mhvs. 5. 169 (beside dhitu JāCo. VI. 366¹⁰), Voc. dhite JāCo. III. 21²⁸, DhCo. III. 8¹²; Pl. On flexion. 1. The forms of the Singular (with the exception of Abl., which is = Instr.) are historical and used in all the periods of the language. The forms Instr. raññā (DhCo. I. 164⁶) and Dat.-Gen. rañño (Vv. 74. 4, DhCo. I. 164⁵, JāCo. III. 5¹⁹) are = rājñā, rājñas according to § 53. 1; rājīnā (Mhvs. 6. 2) and rājīno (Th2. 463, Sn. 299, 415, Mhvs. 2. 14) are affected by Svarabhakti, as also rājīni = rājñi. The long-vowel forms in the Voc. Sg. are transferred from the Nom. The stems, which like attan 'soul, self' end in Skr. with -man -van following after a consonant, retain the a in the weak cases. Cf. Instr. amhanā (§ 50. 2) = aśmanā; attani JāCo. III. 25². Also muddhanā 'with the head' Mhvs. 19. 30 = mūrdhnā; Loc. muddhanī Sn. 689, M. I. 168²⁹ (verse), JāCo. IV. 265¹⁷, Mhvs. 36. 66 = mūrdhni, -dhanī. In Plural the forms in Nom. Voc. are historical (used also as Acc., e.g., DhCo. II. 15⁶), as well as the Gen. raññaṃ (D. II. 87⁸, Mhvs. 18. 32) = rājñām. Moreover a new stem rāju appears in Plural (rājūhi Ud. 41⁷, M. II. 120²², JāCo. III. 45⁴, Mhvs. 5. 80, 8. 21, archaic rājubhi D. II. 258¹⁴; rājunaṃ Ud. 11³, JāCo. II. 104²⁹, III. 487²¹), probably in analogy with the r-stems (§ 90) according to the proportion satthā : satthūhi = rājā : x. I cannot find attestation for the forms attanehi etc.—2. Transfer to the a-decl. takes place often as a consequence of the dropping of the final nasal; cf. forms of the stem *rāja*¹ such as Sg. Gen. rājassa Dpvs. 17. 41, Pl. Nom. rājā Mhvs. 37. 89 (= Colombo ed. II. 37. 39); Sg. Acc. brahmaṃ (instead of brahmānaṃ) Vv. 17. 4, Sn. 151, 285, M. I. 2¹¹, 328¹⁸ like Pkr. Māg. bamhaṃ; muddhaṃ (from muddhan) Dh. 72, Sn. 987, D. I. 95¹³; attaṃ Dh. 379; also Pl. Instr. attehi, Gen. attānaṃ. A stem rañña was developed out of the weak-grade form rājñ-: Sg. Nom. rañño A. II. 113²¹, 116²⁴, 117³; Gen. raññassa Jā. III. 70⁷; Loc. raññe D. II. 145¹⁶, III. 83²⁷; Pl. Instr. *raññehi*² A. I. 279¹⁴. The weak stem extended by a gave rise to the forms attanehi, attanesu. In the same way a stem *addhāna*³ was abstracted out of the strong-grade form of addhan 'way, time' (Sg. Acc. addhānaṃ): alīta-m-addhāne 'in past time' JāCo. III. 43¹ (verse), addhānamagga-paṭipanno D. I. 1⁵.—3. Under the influence of the preceding labial (§ 19. 2), in the weak cases of the stem brahman 'the god Brahman, Brahmin' the a is changed into u. Thus Sg. Acc. brahmānaṃ, but Instr. brahmunā Th1. 1168, Ud. 77¹⁰, D. II. 237⁴ etc., Dat.-Gen. brahmuno Th1. 182, D. I. 220²³, 222², S. I. 141². The Loc. Sg. is brahmani M. I. 2¹², the Voc. brahme (cf. § 90. 5) Jā. VI. 525¹⁵, M. I. 328²⁰, Vin. I. 6⁴. Similarly also addhunā S. I. 78²⁶, II. 179²⁷, addhuno D. I. 17¹⁹, M. III. 184⁹.

² This is probably the proper reading for raññāhi. Pkr. knows neither the u-stem nor any stem corresponding to Pāli rañña.

³ Also in Pkr. there are forms such as Sg. Nom. addhāno, muddhāno.

§ 93. 1. Of the stem san 'dog' = śvan the Sg. Nom. sā is quite common: S. I. 176¹³ (verse), D. I. 166⁸, M. I. 77²⁰, II. 232²¹, Pu. 55¹³. In JPTS. 1909, p. 61 also the Pl. Nom. sāno is cited, but no reference is given¹. From the Skr. weak stem śun- a new stem suṇa (sic! with ṇ) has been derived: Sg. Instr. suṇena Jā. VI. 353^{20,29}, 354¹²; Voc. suṇa JāCo. VI. 357¹. The frequent form sunakha is another derivative. From the strong Skr. stem śvān- is further derived suvāna, -ṇa: Pl. Nom. suvānā Jā. VI. 247¹⁶, Instr. suvāṇehi M. III. 91²⁵.—2. Of yuvan 'youth' the Sg. Nom. yuvā Dh. 280, Sn. 420, D. I. 80¹⁶ is quotable. The reading of the Sg. Gen. yuvino Jā. IV. 222²³ is uncertain. The stem yuva is to be found in yuvassa Mhvs. 18. 28. Yūna and *yuvāna*² are new formations from the weak and the strong stem respectively.—3. Of maghavan, name of Indra, we have the Sg. Nom. maghavā Dh. 30, Voc. maghavā S. I. 221²⁴ (verse) as should be read instead of mathavā.—4. Corresponding to the Skr. stems path and panīhan 'path' there are in Pāli the thematised stems patha (Sg. Nom. patho D. I. 63³, Acc. patham JāCo. II. 89¹³, Abl. pathā Jā. VI. 525³¹, Gen. pathassa Thl. 69, Loc. pathe Sn. 176 f., Mhvs. 21. 24) and pantha (panthasakuna Jā. VI. 527²², panthadevatā JāCo. VI. 527³⁰, Sg. Acc. puntham Milp. 157²³, Loc. panthasmim Sn. 121).—5. From puman 'man' we have the Sg. Nom. pumā Rasav. II. 83⁶. In Kacc. II. 2. 33 ff. (Senart, p. 271 ff.) are given also Voc. pumaṃ and Pl. Nom. Voc. pumāno, besides Sg. Instr. pumunā like brahmunā. There is moreover a stem puma (Sg. Nom. pumo D. II. 273¹⁸ (verse) and Pl. Nom. pumā Jā. III. 459¹³), as well as pumāna (according to Kacc.). There is no trace of the weak stem pums in Pāli.

§ 94. Neuters in -an. Stem: kamman 'work, deed' = karman. In Sg. the forms are historical in Nom.-Acc.-Voc.—kamma Dh. 96, 217; Instr. kammanā Sn. 136 etc. and *kammunā*³ Thl. 143, 786, Vv. 32. 7, Mhvs. 5. 189; Gen. *kammuno*¹ Jā. III. 65¹⁷; Loc. kammani. The old forms are however more and more ousted by those of the a-flexion on the basis of the agreement in Pl. Nom.-Acc.-Voc. kammāni Sn. 283, Dh. 136. Thus Sg. Nom.-Acc. kammaṃ, Instr. kammena etc. Cf. even in the oldest literature nāmaṃ (Sg. Nom.) Sn. 808; kammehi Sn. 215, kammesu Sn. 140 etc. In the same way

² Cf. Childers, Pāli Dictionary, under the words.

³ Cf. § 92. 8, 19. 2.

Sg. Loc. pabbe JāCo. I. 245¹², Pl. Loc. pabbesu S. IV. 171¹⁰ from pabba(n) 'knot in a reed, section' = parvan; thāmena 'forcibly' JāCo. I. 443⁷, Milp. 4³ (beside which, according to § 79. 1 with footnote 1, p. 120, thāmasā D. II. 262²⁷, Mhvs. 23. 83) from thāma(n) = sthāman. New neuter stems are formed also by adding an a. Thus Sg. Acc. jammanam Sn. 1018 from jamman 'birth' = janman; Sg. Nom. yakanam Kh. 3, M. I. 57¹⁷, D. II. 293¹⁴ from yakan 'liver' = yakan. —Masculine compounds with neuter second components in -an are inflected mostly according to the a-decl. after dropping the final nasal. Thus Pl. Nom. puññakammā S. I. 97³⁰; Sg. Gen. puṭhulomassa Attanagaluvihārav. 2. 2 from loman 'hair'; stem Vissakamma (name of a god) = Viśvakarman (e.g., Sg. Nom. kammo* JāCo. IV. 325¹³, Acc. kammaṃ* JāCo. V. 132⁵, Instr. kammena* JāCo. I. 316¹¹); but we have also kamman* in Acc. kammānam* Mhvs. 28. 6 and Instr. kammunā* Mhvs. 31. 76.

On flexion: 1. Two distinct types are in evidence¹: the old one in -in and the new one in -i (flexion according to § 82), which is derived either from the stem-form in which the in-stems appear in compounds, or from the case-form in Instr. Sg. where both declensions show the same form. Both the types were living in all the periods of the language. Cf., e.g., Sg. Gen. jhāyino (from jhāyin 'thoughtful') Dh. 110, setṭhino JāCo. I. 122¹⁷ (from setṭhin 'merchant'), hatthino DhCo. I. 168¹² and anupassissa* (from ssin 'observing') Dh. 253, setṭhissa S. I. 90¹, Vin. I. 218³⁸, JāCo. IV. 229¹⁰, hatthissa Vin. II. 195²⁶, JāCo. I. 187²⁶, Pl. Nom. jhāyino Dh. 23. sāmino 'the masters' JāCo. II. 3²⁰, gāmaṇḍino 'the villagers' JāCo. III. 9²⁷, pāṇino 'living beings' Mhvs. 12. 22 and hatthi S. I. 211¹⁴ (verse), Vin. I.

monopolised the Instr., Abl. and Loc. Pl. even from the beginning. Examples of forms of the later type out of the Gāthā-language: Sg. Gen. silavantassa Dh. 110; Loc. silavante JāCo. III. 12²² (verse); Voc. yasavanta Vv. 68. 80; Sg. Nom. neut. vaṇṇavantaṃ (pupphaṃ) Th1. 323. 324; Pl. Acc. mahante Jā. IV. 222²⁸. From canonical prose Sg. Nom. mahanto 'great' M. III. 185¹; Pl. Acc. mahante Vin. I. 85³¹; Gen. silavantānaṃ M. I 334⁴, satimantānaṃ A. I. 24³³, dhitimantānaṃ A. I. 25², bhagavantānaṃ S. V. 164⁶ etc. Also Pl. Instr. silavantehi D. II. 80²¹ etc. Yet the regular flexion is still the older one. From the stem cakkhumant 'endowed with eyes, seeing' we have in Sn. the forms Sg. Nom. cakkhumā, Voc. -ma, Instr. -matā; Pl. Nom. -manto. From satimat 'of retentive memory' we have in Dh. Sg. Nom. satimā; Gen. -mato; Pl. Nom. -manto; Gen. -mataṃ etc.¹ In canonical prose the forms of the older type are: Sg. Nom. satimā D. I. 37²⁵, vusitavā Perf. Part. Act. 'he who has dwelt' M. I. 5¹⁰, sulavā 'he who has heard, learnt' M. I. 8³²; Instr. mahatā S. V. 163²⁶, silavatā S. III. 167²³; Gen. silavato S. IV. 303²⁰, sabbāvato (from sabbāvanta 'full, complete') M. II. 15¹⁹; Pl. Gen. sabbāvataṃ M. II. 16¹⁸ etc. Also bhagavā, -vatā, -vato, -vati; āyasmā, -matā etc. passim. Forms of the older type in post-canonical prose: Sg. Nom. silavā Milp. 224³, JāCo. I. 187¹; Instr. (Mārena) pāpimatā Milp. 155¹¹; Gen. mahato Milp. 224¹⁶, JāCo. III. 23¹⁸, (Mārassa) pāpimato Milp. 155⁸; balavato yasavato Milp. 284¹⁴; quite commonly bhagavā, -vatā, -vato, -vati; āyasmā, -matā. Beside them however the forms of the a-flexion go on increasing: Sg. Nom. sumahanto Milp. 155²; Instr. mahantena JāCo. III. 24²⁰, 40²; Pl. Acc. silavante JāCo. I. 187²⁸; Gen. bhagavantānaṃ Milp. 226¹³; Sg. Nom. neut. mahantaṃ (pāṭihāriyaṃ) JāCo. IV. 229¹⁵, ojavantaṃ (ratṭhaṃ) JāCo. III. 111⁶; Pl. Nom. neut. ojavantāni JāCo. III. 110²⁰ etc. Of the stem *Himavanta*², for instance, there occur in JāCo. only the following forms: Sg. Nom. Himavā JāCo. VI. 580⁸, Gen. Himavato JāCo. V. 392¹⁸, 419¹⁸, Loc. Himavati seven times (of which five times with the variant reading -vante). Otherwise the stem Himavanta is used throughout. Cf. also the abstracts like silavantatu JāCo. I. 320⁴ etc., derived from a stem extended by -a.—2. Transfer to the a-flexion follows also from the dropping of *nt*³. Forms of this type are found in the Gāthā-language: Sg. Acc. satimaṃ Sn. 212, bhānumaṃ Sn. 1016, Himavaṇṇa Jā. VI. 272⁴; Pl. Nom. mutimā Sn. 881. Also Sg. Nom. fem. kittimā Jā. III. 70⁶, VI. 508²¹. The fem. name Sirimā occurs in all the stages of the language¹. The neutral form ojavaṇṇa Th2. 55 may be derived from a stem ojava, or it may be directly derived from Skr. ojavat. These forms perhaps facilitated the shortening of ant-stems into a-stems.—3. The Nominative-form of the Pl. in -anto is used also in Acc., just as that of the Sg. in -ā is used in Voc.

§ 97. Present Participles in -nt, 1. Their flexion is distinguished from that of the adjectives in -nt firstly by the fact that the Sg. Nom. has retained the ending -aṃ=Skr. -an in the Gāthā-language and in the canonical prose. Thus jīvaṃ 'living' Sn. 427, 432, Th1. 44=jīvan; kubbaṃ 'making' Jā. III. 278¹²=kurvaṇ; nihuraṃ 'sojourning' Th1. 435=viharan; bhaṇaṃ 'speaking' Sn. 429=bhaṇan etc. Similarly jānaṃ 'knowing' M. II. 9²³=jānan; passaṃ 'seeing' M. II. 9²⁴=paśyan. But beside it the ending -nto occurs already in the oldest period of the language. kandanto 'weeping' Th1. 406; patthento 'desiring' Th1. 264; gavesanto 'seeking' Th1. 183; apaṭikujjhanto 'not getting angry with it' S. I. 162³⁰ (verse) etc., and frequently in the canonical prose: kandanto M. II. 3²⁰, appajānanto 'not comprehending' M. I. 7²². In post-canonical prose the form in -nto becomes predominant, and that in -aṃ is considered to be archaic. Hence nihanam 'killing' Jā. II. 407¹ is explained by nihananto in the Co., as also in similar other instances. In the first two periods of the language the flexion retained the archaic forms: Sg. Instr. icchatā (from icchatī 'wishes') Th1. 167=icchatā; Gen. vasato (from vasatī 'dwells') Jā. III. 17⁹=vasatas; Pl. Gen. vi jānataṃ (from vi jānātī 'comprehends') Th1. 14; vadataṃ (from vadati 'speaks') Vv. 53. 1 (Comm.=vadantānaṃ); Sg. Gen. passato=paśyatas M. I. 7⁴, viharato M. I. 9²⁷ etc. Along with them should be counted also the forms Sg. Gen. karoto Dh. 116, Th1. 98, 99 and Pl. Gen. karotaṃ Vv. 34. 21 (but kurutaṃ M. I. 516²³). They belong to the stem karont- abstracted out of the Acc. of the new form karonta-, and their relation to the Acc. karontaṃ is as that of vasato, vasataṃ to *vasantaṃ*². We should also note the Pl. Nom. icchato Th1. 320 for icchanto=icchantas. At the side of the older forms there are found, already from the Gāthā-language onwards, forms of the a-flexion. Sg. Gen.

namantassa (from namati 'bows') Jā. II. 205⁹, passantassa Th1. 716; Loc. kandante Th1. 774; Pl. Nom. vicarantā (from vicarati 'wanders about') Th1. 37, a-vijānantā Th1. 276; Pl. Gen. nadantānaṃ (from nadati 'roars') Th1. Introd. verse 1; cf. also Pl. Loc. uppatantesu nipatantesu (root pat) Th1. 76. These forms become more frequent in the canonical prose (cf. Pl. Nom. jānantā, passantā M. II. 10^{8,9}; Acc. pavisante, nikkhamante 'the incoming, the outgoing' M. II. 21²⁶), and in the post-canonical prose they are the only current ones.—2. More rarely, in the Gāthā-language, the participles in -ant go over to the a-flexion also by dropping the final nt. Cf. jāno 'knowing' Jā. III. 24² for jānaṃ, jānanto; passo 'seeing' Th1. 61 for passaṃ, passanto. In this way is to be explained the form anu-kubbassa Jā. II. 205¹⁰ instead of -kubbato=kurvatas (Comm. anukubbantassa). The Sg. Nom. neut. asaṃ 'worthless' Jā. II. 32² would be thus directly = Skr. asat.

§ 98. 1 The stem arahant 'the perfect one'¹, originally a Part. Pres., has in Sg. Nom. both araham S. I. 169²³ (verse), Sn. p. 100, 108, A. II. 234³⁶, Iv. 78²² etc. as well as arahā Sn. 1008. The reading of the mss. is often uncertain, as in A. III. 436²¹, 437², IV. 364²², Iv. 95¹². Moreover the stems arahant and arahanta are in evidence side by side. The Sg. Loc. arahantamhi occurs already in Th1. 1173; the Pl. Gen. is arahataṃ in Dh. 164, D. I. 88², S. I. 161²⁷ and arahantānaṃ in A. IV. 394²³, Milp. 208²¹ etc.—2 Of the stem sant 'existing, good' the old Pl. Inst. sabbhi=sabbhis has been retained in verses. Dh. 151, Th1 1096, D. II. 246⁷ (verse), sabbhir-eva Th1.4, S. I. 17³ (verse), asabbhi Sn. 245. The other forms are derived from the stems sant or santa; e.g. Sg. Dat.-Gen. sato Th1. 180, D. I. 34¹¹, Milp. 235²⁵; Loc. satī Sn. 81, D. II. 31¹³, Vin. I. 112³⁵, Milp. 231¹³ (in connection with a fem. substantive JāCo. I. 328², 348⁸ etc.) and sante Sn. 94, M. II. 24²², DhCo. II. 134⁴; Pl. Nom. santo Dh. 83, 151 and santā Vin. I. 103¹; Pl. Loc. santesu Milp. 28⁵ (verse) etc. The Sg. Nom. masc. is always santo Sn. 98, 124, Th1. 198, Milp. 32⁶. On the neut. asaṃ see § 97. 2, beside it we have santaṃ, asantaṃ Vin. I. 94^{32,33}. But I consider asataṃ Sn. 131 to be Pl. Gen.=asajjanānaṃ as in the Comm.; var. lec. of the Comm. is asantaṃ=abhūtaṃ.—3 The form of address bhavant 'venerable', used for the Pron. of the second person, has the following forms. Sg. Nom. bhavaṃ Sn. 486, L. I. 249¹⁹, M. I. 484⁸, neut.

II. 111¹³, III. 46⁴, or in connection with a Voc.: Milp. 25¹⁸, or attributively in any case: it is in Nom. in D. I. 179¹⁸, DhCo. I. 62²¹, in Gen.-Dat. in D. I. 179¹⁸ etc. The fem. of the stem bhavant is bhctī. Cf. Sg. Nom. bhoti Sn. 988, Jā. III. 95¹³, Acc. bhotiṃ Jā. VI. 523¹⁹, Loc. bhotiyā Jā. VI. 523¹⁸, Voc. bhoti Jā. VI. 523⁷, D. 9. s-Declension

§ 99. Neuters in -as. Stem sotas 'stream

Of the historical forms there are preserved only Sg. Nom.-Acc.-Voc. *soto*³—Instr. sotasā—Dat.-Gen. sotaso—Loc. sotasi. Transfer to the neutral a-declension is also achieved by dropping the final s (§ 78 B). The new stem serves as the basis of all the cases in Plural, and, apparently, also of Abl. Sg. Sometimes also the other cases of Sg. are formed from it.

On flexion. 1. The historical forms are found mostly in the Gāthā-language and in the canonical prose: Sg. Nom. (paramam) tapo 'the (highest) penance' Dh. 184; Acc. siro 'the head' Sn. 768, yaso 'reputation' Jā. III. 87²⁵; Instr. urasā 'with the breast' Th1. 27, 283, sirasā 'with the head' Vin. I. 4²³, M. II. 120¹, cetasā 'with the heart' Vin. I. 4¹⁷, jjarasā 'through age' DhCo. III. 320⁷ (verse); Dat.-Gen. cetaso Vin. I. 4³³, M. III. 196²⁷; manaso 'of the mind' Dh. 390; Loc. urasi Jā. III. 148¹³, aghasi-gama 'moving through the atmosphere' Vv. 16. 1. But beside them, already in the oldest period, forms of the a-type are frequently used: Sg. Nom. siraṇ Th2. 255, manaṇ Dh. 96; Acc. siraṇ A. I. 141¹³; Instr. tapena Sn. 655; Gen. manassa S. IV. 4¹⁷; Loc. ure D. I. 135²⁷, urasmim A. I. 141⁵, nabhamhi 'in the atmosphere' Jā. V. 14²⁰, aghe Jā. IV. 322¹ and aghasmi Jā. IV. 484¹². This becomes the normal flexion in the post-canonical prose¹. The archaic forms are confined to a limited number of words and expressions: Sg. Nom. mano JāCo. IV. 217^{25, 26}; Acc. vaco JāCo. IV. 234¹⁷; Instr. manasā JāCo. IV. 218⁴, 227¹⁵, as well as, for instance, Milp. 227¹⁰, in the old phrase kāyena vācāya manasā; Loc. manasi in manasi-karoti 'pays attention to, ponders in mind over' JāCo. I. 398²⁹, 500¹⁵ etc. On the other hand mane DhCo. I. 23³.—2. For the Plural it is sufficient to point out from the oldest literature the forms sotāni Sn. 433 and sotā Sn. 1034; Acc. *sote*³ Th1. 761; Instr. sotehi Sn. 197, sirchi Jā. IV. 250¹⁵; Gen. sotānaṃ Sn. 1034.—3. The transfer to the a-decl. may take place also through the addition of a to the s-stem: Sg. Acc. sirasam JāCo. V. 434⁸.

² The feminines of participles are usually derived from the strong stems. 'I. gacchanti JāCo. I. 291³, labhanti JāCo. II. 128¹⁵, passanti Vin. I. 16¹⁰, JāCo. I. 61³, ārocenti JāCo. VI. 522³⁴, khajjanti (from khajjati 'is devoured' = khādyate) Th1. 315 etc. The feminines of adjectives are however derived from the weak stem. Cf. silavatī D. II. 12²⁷, mahatī DhCo. II. 41¹³, and the proper names like Bandhumatī (a city) D. II. 12², Ketumati (a river) Jā. VI. 513¹³, Yasavatī (a woman) JāCo. IV. 237⁷ etc. Flexion according to § 88.

§ 100. Masculines and feminines in -as. 1. The masc. stem candimas 'moon' has in Sg. Nom. candimā Dh. 172 f., 382 = candramās. For the rest the flexion is just like that of a-stems. The same applies as a rule to compounds with as-stems. Cf. Sg. Nom. attamano 'joyous' Dh. 328, D. II. 352¹¹, M. I. 482³; dummano 'sad' Vin. I. 21²², JāCo. II. 160¹⁸; fem. attamanā JāCo. I. 52³⁰; Pl. Nom. attamanā D. I. 46²⁷; sumanā Sn. 222; Acc. muditamane Sn. 680. Forms of the as-type are however found in the Gāthā-language: Sg. Gen. anānvāhatacetaso Dh. 39; perhaps Sg. Acc. vyāsattamanasaṃ Dh. 47. Transfer to the a-flexion may take place also through extension of the stem by a: Sg. Nom. *avyāpannacetaso*³ S. V. 74^{10, 20}; Pl. Nom. adhimanasā Sn. 692.—2. The Participles Perf. Act. in -vas assume various forms. Historical are the forms avidvā 'unknowing' Sn. 535 etc., M. I. 311⁷ = avidvān, as well as °dassivā in bhaya-dassivā Dh. 31 f. = °darśivān 'seeing'. The form which is most in use is vidā, derived from the weak stem viduṣ and inflected according to § 87. 2. Moreover we have also a stem viddasu: Sg. Nom. aviddasu Dh. 268, Gen. viddasuno, ev. M. I. 65^{5, 6, 7}; Pl. Nom. aviddasu Sn.

¹ As also in Pkr. (see Pischel, § 408 f.), which has however also retained the old forms, particularly in AMāg. and JMāh.

² On sotā and sote cf. § 78. 6, 7.

³ Also in Skr. the form cetaso is allowed at the end of a compound according to Vopadeva, BR. sub vece.

762, -suno M. I. 65^{4b}.—3. The comparatives in -yas drop the final s and are transferred to the a-flexion. Cf. Sg. Nom. scyyo Dh. 308, Sn. 918, S. IV. 88³; Acc. scyyaṃ Dh. 61, Th1. 208; Pl. Nom. scyyā Dpvs. 4. 51 and scyyāso (§ 79. 4) Vv. 18. 12; from this stem also fem. scyyā, neut. scyyaṃ JāCo. III. 237¹³, Pl. scyyāni Jā. III. 196¹². The old Sanskritic form is retained in the neut. scyyo 'superior' Dh. 76, Th1. 194, Jā. II. 44², VI. 498¹⁰, Vin. III. 73¹⁴ etc. = śreyas. The opposite of it is pāpiyo 'inferior' Jā. II. 44⁸ etc. (beside pāpiyaṃ Milp. 155¹⁰) = pāpiyas. The indeclinable scyyuso Dh. 42 f., Jā. IV. 241^{4, 13} is identical in meaning with scyyo. Scyyatara may be regarded as the usual form for scyya in the post-canonical prose, and in VvCo. 96²²⁻²³, for instance, scyya is explained by scyyatara. Also from the old stem the fem. scyyasī (shortened from scyyasī metri causa) Jā. V. 393²¹.—4. Pāli *accharā*¹ corresponding to Skr. fem. apsaras 'nymph' is a case of transfer to the ā-decl., § 81. The stem jarā beside jaras is known also in Skr.

§ 101. The neuter stems in -is, -us are treated almost exclusively as i-, u neuters (§ 85). Historical forms are found only occasionally, as Sg. Instr. *āyusā*² from Skr. āyus 'age' Sn. 149. Usually however the stem is as in Pāli sappi from Skr. sarpis 'butter', Pāli cakkhu from Skr. cakṣus 'eye'. Thus Sg. Nom. sappi D. I. 201²⁶, A. I. 278³¹ and sappiṃ JāCo. I. 457²², āyu 'age' Th1. 145, Dh. 109 and āyuṃ JāCo. I. 138⁵, cakkhuṃ Vin. II. 157³; Acc. sappiṃ Mhvs. 5. 217, cakkhuṃ JāCo. III. 18⁷; Instr. sappinā Ud. 38³³, cakkhunā JāCo. III. 18⁹; Abl. sappinhā D. I. 201²⁶; Dat.-Gen. sappissu Ud. 93⁴, āyussa Mhvs. 35. 73, cakkhuno JāCo. IV. 206¹⁰; Loc. cakkhusmiṃ Vin. I. 84³², cakkhumhi Dpvs. 4. 4. Pl. Nom. cakkhāni JāCo. IV. 137¹⁶; Instr. cakkhūhi Dpvs. 17. 26 etc.—The neuter Sanskrit stem arcis 'flame' was changed into acci and then inflected as a fem. stem: Sg. Instr. acciyā M. II. 130⁶, Pl. Nom. accīyo Vin. I. 25³⁰ (acci vātēna khittā A. IV. 103³, S. IV. 399^{23, 26}).—Masculine compounds like diḡhāyu 'long-lived' = diḡghāyus are inflected according to § 82.

10. Adverbs and Comparison.

§ 102. The accusative of the neuter adjective serves as the adverb in Pāli: jaha sīghaṃ samussayaṃ 'give up quickly the totality (of all that lead to rebirth)' Th1. 88; sādhū kho mayaṃ palāyimha 'we have fled just in the right manner' Vin. I 88³¹, tumho saṅkhaṃ āgaccheyyātha 'come hither slowly!' JāCo. III 37¹³; palāyethalahaṃ 'fly quickly!' Mhvs. 7. 66. But other case-forms too are used as adverbs; thus Instrumentals: kiechena katā paṇṇasālā 'the hut made with great labour' JāCo. II. 44⁶; api ca me āvuso satthā paricijjho diḥharattāṃ manāpena na amanāpena 'moreover the master has been served by me for a long time in a fitting manner, and not in an unfitting manner' S. IV. 57²⁵. The Abl. is used, for instance, in kiechā laddho ayaṃ putto 'this son has been acquired with great difficulty' Th1. 475 (cf. VvCo 229¹⁸). Or should kiechā here be regarded as Instr.?

§ 103. Comparison. 1. Several of the old comparatives and superlatives in -iyas and -iṣṭha have been preserved. Thus seyya(s) = śreyas, pāpiya(s) = pāpiyas (§ 100. 3); bhūyo, bhūyo 'more' (adv.) Dh. 17 f., Th1. 110, 173, S. I. 108¹⁷ etc. = bhūyas. The comp. nīceyya(s) Sn. 855, 918 has been formed clearly on the analogy of seyya(s). Moreover we have the superlatives settha 'the best' = śreṣṭha; pāpiṭṭha 'the worst' = pāpiṣṭha; kāṇṭha 'the youngest' = kāṇiṣṭha; jeṭtha 'the eldest' = jyeṣṭha. Settho in Vv. 64. 88 is used in the sense of a comparative. As in Skr, so also in Pāli, these comparatives and superlatives may undergo further gradation¹. seyyatara (§ 100. 3); setthatara Jā V. 148⁷; pāpitthatara Vin. II. 5¹¹. The compound pāpiṣṣika is difficult to explain. According to Childers sub voce it is = pāpiyas + ika. A less contracted form is perhaps to be found in pāpiyyasika of the technical term tassapāpiyyasikā.—2. The comparative suffix -tara is very productive in Pāli. It seems to have almost completely ousted the superlative suffix -tama. An example of the superlative is ulāratama 'the highest' VvCo. 320¹⁴; sattama 'the best' Sn. 356 is another. Regular examples of the comparative are piyatara 'dearer' JāCo. III. 279²⁴, sādutara 'sweeter' Sn. 181 (used in the superlative sense in S. I. 214¹⁹), bahutara 'more' Vin. I. 129⁴ etc. There are also new formations such as mahantatara 'greater' M. III 170¹³, JāCo. II. 417¹⁶, silavantatara 'more virtuous' JāCo. II. 3²¹, vaṇṇavantatara 'more beautiful' D. I 18²¹, in which the suffix has been added to the stem extended by a. In balavatara 'stronger' Milp. 234²¹ it has been added to the shortened stem. Cf. the comparatives purimatara 'the earlier' S. IV. 398⁸, paramatara 'the higher' Th1. 518, varatara 'the more excellent' DhCo. I. 332⁶ and the Adv. paṭhamataraṃ 'earlier' Vin. I. 30¹, DhCo. I. 138⁷,

JāCo. VI. 510²⁵. In sappurisa 'the more efficient man' S. V. 20⁷ the suffix -tara has been added to the substantive sappurisa = satpuruṣa; in puretaraṃ 'earlier' it has been added to the adv. pure. Even the adverb pageva 'much more still' has been intensified to pagevataraṃ M. III. 145³. The comparative has been extended by the suffix -ika in lahukatarika M. II. 70¹³. The intensity of meaning — 'much', 'exceedingly' etc.—may be expressed also by the reduplication of the adj.: mahantamahanto JāCo. I. 347²⁹. Cf. D. II. 73⁶.—8. The simple positive is not infrequently used in the comparative sense.¹ Cf. etesu katarāṃ nu llo mahantaṃ 'which is the greater of the two?' JāCo. III. 194³; santi te nātito bahū 'they are more numerous than the relatives' Mhvs. 14. 20. Cf. DhCo. I. 94¹⁸.

II. Pronoun

§ 104. A. Personal pronoun of the first person (stem-form in Sg. maṃ-, cf. S. IV. 315²³):

	Sg.	Pl.
Nom.	ahaṃ 'I'	mayāṃ (amhe) 'we'
Acc.	maṃ (mamaṃ)	amhe (asme , amhākaṃ , asmākaṃ)
Instr.-Abl.	mayā	amhehi
Dat.-Gen.	mama , mayhaṃ (namamaṃ , amhaṃ)	amhākaṃ (asmākaṃ , amhaṃ)
Loc.	mayi	amhesu

Enclitic: Sg. Instr.-Dat.-Gen. me Pl. Acc.-Instr.-Dat.-Gen. no

B. Personal pronoun of the second person :

	Sg.	Pl.
Nom.	tvaṃ (tuvaṃ) 'thou'	tumhe 'you'
Acc.	taṃ (ivaṃ , tuvaṃ)	tumhe (tumhākaṃ)
Instr.-Abl.	tayā (tvayā)	tumhehi
Dat.-Gen.	tava , tuyhaṃ (tavaṃ , tumhaṃ)	tumhākaṃ (tumhaṃ)
Loc.	tayi (tvayi)	tumhesu

Enclitic: Sg. Instr.-Dat.-Gen. te Pl. Acc.-Instr.-Dat.-Gen. vo.

¹ Cf. Geiger, Mhvs. ed. p. LIV. The same usage also in Pk.; Fischel, § 414 (towards the end of the paragraph).

Notes: 1. The unbracketed forms are the regular ones in the post-canonical prose, in which, for instance, clear distinction is made between tvaṃ 'thou' and taṃ 'thee'. All these forms are used also already in the oldest periods of the language. The bracketed forms are archaic or rarer. Attestation of the Pronoun of the first person: Sg. Acc. mamaṃ Jā. III. 55⁵, S. I. 88²¹, 219³⁴; Gen. mamaṃ Sn. 694, D. II. 90¹¹, A. II. 1¹¹, *amhaṃ*¹ Th1. 1045 (or Pl. Dat.-Gen. ?); Pl. Nom. amhe S. I. 118¹², DhCo. III. 56¹⁷; Acc. asme Jā. III. 19¹⁵.—2 The m of mayam = Skr. vayam is taken over from the forms of the Sg. such as maṃ, mayā etc., just as the t of tumhe, tumhākaṃ etc. (as opposed to Skr. yuṣmākaṃ etc.) has been taken over from the forms taṃ, tayā etc.—3. The Nom.-Acc. Pl. amhe (asme) and tumhe correspond to the Vedic forms asme, yuṣme, which according to Pāṇini VII. 1 39 may be used for various plural cases².—4. The e of amhehi, amhesu, tumhehi, tumhesu as opposed to asmābhis, asmāsu, yuṣmābhis, yuṣmāsu are to be explained by the analogy of the forms tehi, tesu etc. (§ 105).

§ 105. Pronoun of the third person. (Stem-form taṃ- Vv. 84. 44, tad- in tadahe Mhvs 5. 43, tappaccayā Th1. 719 etc.)

¹ Also in Prakrit the grammarians give the forms amhaṃ, tumhaṃ for Gen. Sg. Pischel, § 415, 420.

² Cf. E. Kuhn, Beitr. p. 72, 86; Pischel, ZDMG. 35. 715 f.; PkrGr. § 419, 422.

The Neuter has Sg. Nom.-Acc. taṃ (in vowel-sandhi tad- § 72. 1). Pl. Nom.-Acc. tāni. Elsewhere as in Masc.

Notes 1. The more isolated or archaic forms are again given in brackets. The remaining forms are found in all the periods of the language and become the regular ones in the post-canonical prose. Attestation of the former: For Sg. Gen. fem. tissāya cf. clissāya (§ 107. 1) VvCo 106¹⁴; Sg. Loc. fem. *tāsaṃ*¹ Milp 136¹¹, (tissaṃ M. II. 55²⁵), tāyaṃ (velāyaṃ) Vin. I. 2², Ud 1¹⁸, S. I. 5²¹. As for the forms of Pl. Gen. tesānaṃ, tāsānaṃ (double ending'), cf. csānaṃ (§ 108) M. II. 154², sabbesānaṃ (§ 113. 1) M. III. 60²⁴, katamcsānaṃ (§ 111. 2) Vin. III. 7²². Sg. Nom. masc. sa is from the first rarer than so. In Sn. sa occurs 40 times but so 124 times; in the first 500 Theragāthās sa occurs 4 times (of which twice in the favourite construction sa ve) and so 37 times. At the end sa becomes quite rare.—2. Instead of the Sg. Nom.-Acc. neut. iaṃ we have sometimes also the Māgadesque form *se*²: D. II. 278^{16, 30}, 279¹², M. II. 254²⁵, 255⁶. Cf. § 80b. I think the same form is contained in scyyathā 'just as', seyyathādaṃ 'as follows, namely'³. Instead of the former we find taṃyathā in Milp 1¹¹. The sa- in sayathā 'as' Th1. 412, sace 'if' is analogous to Skr. sa in sa-yadi, sa-yathā etc.⁴—3. There is an isolated form with double-ending Sg. Nom. neut. tadaṃ Sn. p. 143, in apposition with the Rel. Pron. *yaṃ*⁵.—4. The Pl. Nom. te appears also in Acc. Similarly in the flexion of other pronominal stems as well.

§ 106. 1. It is worthy of note that (mostly in the two oldest periods of the language) the Pron. so, sā, taṃ is used to strengthen other pronouns. It is used (a) before the personal Pron. of the first and the second persons: so chaṃ Sn. 190; svāhaṃ (§ 71. 1c) JāCo. I. 298³, taṃ taṃ (= taṃ tvaṃ) Jā. VI. 516¹⁸; tesaṃ vo A. V. 86⁸. We have even tesaṃ vo. bhikkhave, tumhākaṃ.....Iv. 32¹, tesaṃ no amhākaṃ M. III. 194¹⁹. The Pron. so may refer also to the person contained in a verbal form: so karohi ' (you) do ' Dh. 236; so tato

² As Pk1. Māg. se (se muṇḍe = tan muṇḍam), AMāg. se (se ditṭhaṃ = tad dṛṣṭam). Pischel, § 423.

³ Not so Pischel, § 423, in whose opinion se = Ved. sed (sa-id). Yet his arguments do not seem to be convincing.

⁴ Pischel, Ibid.; BR. under the word sa, col. 452.

cuto amutra udapādiṃ 'departed from there I was born again at that place' D. I. 18²³. (b) It is used also after the Rel. Pron., which thereby gets the general meaning 'whoever': yāsā sīmā ... taṃ sīmaṃ Vin. I. 109⁴; ye te dhammā ... tathārūpā'ssa dhammā M. III. 11²⁰; yo so .. māma sahāyako DhCo. IV. 128³. (c) It is used before or after the Dem. Pron. ayaṃ: ta-y-idam (= taṃ idam) D. I. 91⁴, M. II. 230³; svāyaṃ (= so ayaṃ) Vin. I. 29²⁸; ayaṃ so JāCo. II. 16¹².—2. When repeated, the Pron. so signifies 'this and that, any, various': tāsu tāsu disāsu, tesu tesu janapadesu Vin. I. 21³⁴. Or it may refer to the indefinite Rel. Pron. yo yo, as for instance in Th1. 144, JāCo. I. 417⁶ etc.

§ 107. 1. The Dem. Pron. eso (esa), esā, etaṃ 'this' is inflected like so. In Sg. Nom. masc. both the forms eso and esa are equally in use, and that not only as substantive (esa JāCo. II. 6²⁴, eso JāCo. II. 7¹³) but also as adjective (esa JāCo. II. 10³, eso Sn. p. 102). The stem-form is etaṃ—which appears, for instance, in etaṃkāraṇā 'for this reason' Vin. I. 57³⁵. Eso too, like so, is used in connection with other pronouns. Thus esāhaṃ (= eso ahaṃ) D. I. 110²³, or ayaṃ eso Mhvs. 1. 42; or yāni etāni (yānāni) DhCo. IV 6⁷.—2. The Pron. ena (= Skr. enad) is found to occur only in the forms enaṃ and *enena*¹. Enaṃ occurs as Acc. masc. in Sn. 981, 1114, M. III. 5⁷ etc., and as Acc. fem. in Jā. III. 395⁵ (changed into ena for sake of metre), as Acc. neut. in Sn. 583, Dh. 118, 318. The combination tam-enaṃ occurs in M. II. 248¹¹, III. 5⁷, JāCo. I. 350⁶ etc., and as fem. in Vv. 21. 4. The Sandhi-form of ena is na which is very common (cf. § 66 1, p. 107, with f.-n. 2). The form naṃ in Sg. Acc. masc.-fem.-neut. is very well attested, as well as Dat.-Gen. nassa Jā. V. 203²¹; Pl. Acc. ne Vin. I. 42³⁵, S. I. 224²², JāCo. I. 99²⁶, 201¹⁷; Pl. Dat.-Gen. nesaṃ Sn. 293, Th1. 130, Th2. 277, JāCo. I. 153¹⁰ etc.—3. Quite an isolated form is tyamhi Jā. VI. 292²¹, which might belong to the pronominal stem tya = Ved. tya, mentioned by Moggallāna². The Comm. explains tyamhi by tamhi. The reading however is not quite certain.—4. Finally we have to mention the pronominal stem tuma of the third person which belongs to the two oldest periods of the language and which may be connected with the Ved. *tman*³.

³ This according to Oldenberg, KZ. 26. 319, while Johansson, Monde Oriental 1907-8, p. 99f. refuses to recognise any connection between the two words.

The following forms of it are found to occur: Sg. Nom. tumo Sn. 690, Vin. II. 186³¹, A. III. 124¹⁰, 125⁶ and the Sg. Gen. tumassa Sn. 908.

The Neuter has in Sg. Nom.-Acc. idaṃ, imaṃ; Pl. Nom.-Acc. imāni. Otherwise as in masc.

Notes: 1. The pronominal stem a-, ana- is gradually supplanted by the stem ima- in course of the development of the language. It made its way also into Nom.-Acc. Sg. neut.¹ Thus we have imaṃ as Nom. neut. in Milp. 46⁷ and as Acc. neut. in S. IV. 125¹⁹, JāCo. I. 307⁸, DhCo. II. 29⁴, 31¹², Mhvs. 5. 157. Examples of forms of the a-, *ana-*stem: Sg. Instr. anena Mhvs. 5. 55; Abl. asmā Dh. 220, Th1. 237; Loc. *asmim*² Dh. 168 f., 242, Sn. 634, 990; Pl. Gen. masc. esaṃ M. II. 86² and esānaṃ M. II. 154², III. 259⁴, fem. āsaṃ Jā. I. 302⁴ (Comm. = etāsaṃ). The two forms assa and assā of Sg. Dat.-Gen. masc. and fem. have been retained and are frequently used enclitically also in the post-canonical literature. Of the rarer forms of the stem ima- I should mention here imāyo Pl. Nom. fem. Sn. 1122 and Acc. Mhvs. 15. 20. Instead of the Sg. Gen. masc. imassa there also occurs, imissa JāCo. I. 333² in analogy with the fem. form imissā, and instead of iminā there is aminā in the compound tad-aminā 'thereby, therefore' S. I. 88¹⁸, M. II. 239^{11, 15}, D. III. 83²¹ (beside tad-iminā M. II. 239¹², 240^a with var. lec.).—2. The pron. ayaṃ appears again in combination with other pronouns. Thus with the relative: yāyaṃ (= yā ayaṃ) Th1. 124; (= yo ayaṃ) Dh. 56; yam-idaṃ kammaṃ .. taṃ M. II. 220¹¹; yān' imāni alāpūni Dh. 149. With the interrogative pron.: ko nu kho ayaṃ bhāsati 'who is speaking there?' A. IV. 307²⁵. On the connection with so see § 106. 1 c.—3. When repeated, ayañ-ca ayañ-ca signifies 'this and that' and stands for an indefinite person or thing: ayañ-ca ayañ-ca amhākaṃ rañño silācāro 'such and such are the virtues of our king' JāCo. II. 3²³; idañ-c' idañ-ca kātuṃ vaṭṭati 'it is proper to do this and that' JāCo. II. 4²⁸.

¹ In Pkr. the process has gone further still. Here we find also Sg. Nom. masc. imp. fem. imā; Pischel, § 430.

² The reading sth 'asmim' rukke JāCo. III. 208¹⁷ is probably wrong. Cf. the var. loc.

Notes: 1. The stem amu has made its way also into Sg. Nom. masc.¹ (We have, e.g., amu M. II. 206²⁹, 223³⁰, Mhvs. Tī. 118² and asu M. III. 275⁷, S. IV. 315⁶, 398¹⁴). It is found also in Pl. Nom. Instr. Abl. Dat.-Gen. Loc. masc. neut. (as against Skr. amī, amībhis etc.), so that in Pāli masc. and neut. have coincided with fem. The neut. adum occurs in S. IV. 315⁸, Jā. I. 500¹⁸, JāCo. I. 500²³.—2. When repeated twice, this Pron. signifies 'the one . . . the other'. Cf. D. II. 200⁷. It is in apposition with the Rel. Pron., e.g., in yam vā adum khettaṃ aggaṃ 'that field which is valuable' S. IV. 315⁸.—3. The pronouns amuka and asuka are derived from the stems amu and asu, and like Lat. quidam they are used for indefinite person or thing: amukas-miṃ gāme 'in the village so and so' D.I. 193¹³ (cf. S. IV. 46⁷);

Notes: 1. On the sandhi-forms yv-(= yo), yad- see § 71.1c, 72.1.— 2. The Māgadhese form ye (in apposition with se = taṃ) occurs in D. II. 278¹⁶ etc. Cf. § 105.2.—3. On the connection of the Rel. with other pronominal stems see § 106. 1b, 107.1, 108.2, 109.2.—4. When repeated, the Rel. Pron. has the indefinite meaning 'whoever': yassaṃ yassaṃ disāyaṃ viharati, cakasmim yeva vijite viharati 'in whichever region he may be sojourning, he lives in his own kingdom' A. III. 151¹³. The same meaning attaches to yo koci, yā kāci, yaṃ kiñci=yaḥ kaścit etc.

§ 111. 1. The Interrogative Pronoun ko 'who?' has in Sg. Nom. Acc. neut. kiṃ. It serves also as stem-form; cf. kiṃnāmo Vin. I. 93³¹ (immediately after it konāmo!), kiṃkāraṇā 'what for?' JāCo. I. 499¹¹. For the rest the flexion is the same as that of the Rel. Pron. Yet in Sg. Abl. Dat.-Gen. and Loc. there are also found derivatives from the stem ki- which is in evidence in kiṃ: kismā S. I. 37²² beside the usual kasmā; kissa Ud. 79⁶ (verse), Vv. 22. 3, Pv. II. 1. 3, D. II. 185²⁹ beside kassa Sn. 1040, Milp. 27¹⁷, Mhv. 5.191; kimhi Vin.

I. 28³¹, D. II. 57³¹ or kismin D. II. 277⁴¹, S. IV. 85²⁰ beside kamhi, kasmin. Cf. the frequent construction kissa hetu 'on what ground? why?' D. I. 14⁴, 15⁹, M. I. 1¹⁸ etc.; kissa alone in Vin. I. 73³, JāCo. I. 477²⁵. In Jā. V. 141¹¹¹² we find kissa as neut. and kassa as masc. A Māgadhesque Sg. Nom. masc. ke for ko occurs in D. III. 24¹⁰. The Interrogative Pron. is strengthened by an appended -su, -ssu, -si=-svid (cf. § 22): kaṃ-su S. I. 45², kena-ssu S. I. 39⁸, kissa-ssu S. I. 39⁴, 161⁴ (this is the proper reading, not kissassa!), kaṃ-si DhCo. I. 91¹⁸. The Indefinite Pron. koci, kāci, kiñci 'any one' is formed by appending ci=*cid*¹ to the forms of ka. kocid-eva puriso Milp. 40²⁰. In construction with the negation na it signifies 'none': n'atthi koci bhavo nicco 'there is no permanent existence' Thl. 121. The form na. . . kañcinam 'none' Thl. 879 is worthy of note, for kañci is here further inflected like an in-stem.—2. Also katama 'who? which one?' (as also in Skr.) is inflected like the Rel. Pron.: Sg. Nom. masc. katamo Milp. 26⁵; Sg. Nom. neut. katamaṃ D. I. 99¹⁷; Sg. Instr. masc. katamena Vin. I. 30⁷, Sg. Loc. fem. katamassaṃ M. II. 160²⁶; Pl. Nom. masc. katame Vin. I. 3³, Pl. Gen. masc. katamesānam Vin. III. 7²².—3. Katara (as also in Skr.) signifies 'which of the two?' (also 'who,' 'which' in a general sense): Sg. Nom. masc. katara JāCo. I. 352²⁹; Sg. Gen. fem. katarissā DhCo. I. 215¹⁴.—4. kati 'how many' (as also in Skr.): Nom. masc. kati (samaṇā) Sn. 88, kati (uposathā) Vin. I. 111²³, neut. kati (kammāni) M. I. 372⁸; Instr. katīhi S. IV. 240²⁰, D. I. 119³¹, DhCo. I. 9¹. Derivatives from it are: katipayā 'some, a few'; katīci 'some, a few' (katīhici JāCo. I. 464¹³); katipāhaṃ (from -payāhaṃ) 'a few days' JāCo. II. 38¹¹, -pāhena 'in a few days' Mhvs. 17. 41; katikkhattuṃ 'how often?' M. III. 125⁷.—5. kiva, kivaṃ Adv. 'how? how much?'=Ved. kivat (§ 46. 1) in kiva-dūra 'how far distant' M. II. 119³; kiva-ciraṃ 'how long?' Vv. 24. 14; kiva-bahukā 'how many?' Ud. 91²⁵; yāva-kivaṃ 'so long' Vin. I. 11¹⁹, S. IV. 8²¹, A. IV. 304²². From it is also derived kivatikā 'how many?' Vin. I. 117¹⁶.—6. Cf. finally kittaka (§ 27. 7) 'how much? how big?': kittakaṃ addhānaṃ 'how long a time?' VvCo. 117⁸ (in explanation of kiva-ciraṃ). To it correspond ettaka

¹ The noun kiñcanaṃ is a compound of kiṃ with the particle cana. Cf. yaṃse natthi kiñcanaṃ Dh. 421. Whence akiñcana 'he who does not call anything his own' Thl. 86, Dh. 88, etc. Its opposite is sakiñcana. The word kiñcāpi is a conjunction 'although, in spite of the fact that' Sn. 230, D. I. 287⁹.

'this much' Milp. 316²⁵, DhCo II. 15⁶ etc. and tattaka DhCo. II. 16¹¹ etc. From the same stem is derived the Adv. kittāvatā 'how far?' Vin. I. 9¹, M. I. 14², S. IV. 38³² etc.

§ 112.1. The Possessive Pronoun for all three persons is sa = sva (saṃ 'property'; Instr. sena Jā II. 22²³, Pl. sāni M. I. 366⁵) and saka = svaka (Sg. Instr. sakena dārena Vv. 83. 20, Abl. sakamhā gāmā D. I. 91²³, cf. samhī raṭṭhī Jā. VI. 502³⁴, Loc. samhī āsane D. II. 225¹⁷, Pl. Acc. sako 'one's own people' Jā. VI. 505¹⁶ etc.). The Poss. Pron. of the first person maḍiḍa (in Childers, PD) = Skr. maḍiḍa seems to be unattested. The Adj. māmaka, fem. -ikā = Skr. māmaka signifies 'lovable, valuable' Iv. 112¹⁵; at the end of a compound it signifies 'loving, worshipping' JāCo. III. 182¹⁰, 183¹². —2. The oblique cases of attan 'soul, self' (§92) are used as reflexive pronoun: attānaṃ damayanti subbatā Th1. 19; attānaṃ nāsesi JāCo. I. 510¹¹; attana kaṭaṃ pāpaṃ Dh. 161. Cf. attadutiya 'with one companion' D. II. 147²¹; attasattama 'in group of seven' Smp. 320⁵, attaṭṭama 'in group of eight' VvCo. 149¹⁷ etc.—3. From pronominal stems are derived: yāvanta 'how big, how much' (Pl. Nom. yāvanta ettha samāgatā Dh. 387; retained also in the conjunctions yāva or yāvaṃ, yāvata, correlative tāva, tāvata) and yāvataka 'how big, how much' (Sg. Nom. neut. -kaṃ S. IV. 320²³, 321⁷; Pl. Acc. masc. -ke Vin. I. 88²⁷), tāvataka 'so big, so much' (Sg. Nom. neut. -kaṃ S. IV. 320²³, 321⁷, Instr. -kena DhCo. III. 61¹⁴, Milp. 312⁸; Pl. Acc. masc. -ke Vin. I. 88²⁸), as well as the frequent formations with -di, -disa, -risa, -dikkha, -rikkha = Skr. -dṛś, -dṛśa, -dṛkṣa (cf. § 43. 1): mādisa, mārisa 'such as I' (cf. Pl. Nom. fem. mādisiyo DhCo. II. 17¹²); amhādisa 'such as we' (Pl. Acc. masc. -se Mhvs. 5. 128); tādisa 'such as you' JāCo. I. 445²³; tumhādisa 'such as you (pl.)' (DhCo. II. 89¹⁹, III. 285⁶); yādisa(ka) 'of what sort' and tādi, tādisa(ka), etādisa(ka) 'of that sort' (Sn. 522, S. I. 227²⁷ (verse), D. II. 109¹³, DhCo. II. 16⁹, PvCo. 10²⁵ (verse); Th1. 201, Vv. 84. 54, D. II. 157⁴ (verse), S. I. 202⁸ (verse)); īdi, īdisa(ka), īdikkha, īrisa 'of this sort' (Mhvs. 10. 54, 14. 13, JāCo. I. 60³³ (verse)); edisā(ka), erisa 'of this sort' (Sn. 313, Vin. I. 195¹¹); kīdi, kīdisa, kīrisa 'of what sort?' (Sn. 836, 1088, JāCo. I. 496²¹, II. 3²³; kiṃdisa S. I. 34¹⁰ (verse)); yādisakīdisa 'of whatever sort' (Jā. I. 420⁷).

§ 113. The following are pronominal adjectives: 1. sabba 'all, whole, every' = sarva. It is inflected like the Rel. Pron. Cf. Pl. Nom. masc. sabbe Sn. 179, M. III. 61¹², JāCo. I. 280¹, Gen. masc. sabbesaṃ Sn. 1030, M. II. 201⁷, JāCo. II. 352¹⁷ and sabbhesānaṃ M. III.

60²⁴; Gen. fem. sabbāsaṃ S. I. 17²⁷; Sg. Loc. fem. sabbāya Vin. I. 165²⁷.—2. vissa 'all'=viśva is archaic and quite rare. We have the Sg. Acc. masc. vissaṃ (dhamaṃ) Dh. 266. The Comm. however explains the word by visamaṃ.—3. añña 'another'=anya is inflected like sabba. Cf. Pl. Nom. masc. aññe Sn. 201 etc., Gen. aññesaṃ Sn. 213, JāCo. I. 254²¹ etc. But an i-vowel appears in the stem in Sg. Dat.-Gen. and Loc. fem.: Dat.-Gen. aññissā Vin. I. 15¹⁰, Loc. aññissā (guhāya) JāCo. II. 27¹⁶. When repeated, añño... añño signifies 'the one...the other' JāCo. I. 456⁶. In aññamañña 'one another' only the last component is inflected: aññamaññassa D. I. 56²³, aññamaññamhi D. I. 20¹⁷, aññamaññehi Sn. 936, Thl. 933.—4. aññatara 'one of two' D. I. 228², M. I. 62³⁵ or 'any one' Vin. I. 23⁴, D. I. 62³⁴. The Sg. Gen. fem. is aññatarissā S. I. 140²⁰.—5. aññatama 'any one' Mhvs. 38. 14.—6. itara 'another' too is inflected like sabba: Pl. Nom. masc. itare DhCo. IV. 40¹³, Dat.-Gen. fem.-rāsaṃ JāCo. II. 27¹⁹. 'The one...the other' is expressed by eko... itaro VvCo. 149⁷, or itaro...itaro Mhvs. 25. 62; itaritara signifies 'the one and the other, everyone, any one' Thl. 230, Jā. I. 467²⁸ (Comm. =yassa kassaci), M. II. 6¹, A. V. 91⁶ (itaritarena 'reciprocally' Vv. 84¹, likewise itaretarehi Attanāgaluvs. 10.5).—7. Also para and apara 'a different one' are inflected like sabba: Pl. Nom. masc. pare Sn. 762, Vin. I. 5⁴, D. I. 2³³, apare JāCo. III. 51²⁵; Dat.-Gen. paraṃ Thl. 748, 942, Vv. 80. 6, D. I. 8⁹; paro...paro 'the one...the other' D. I. 224¹³. As for paraṃ Adv. 'beyond, later' and Prep. 'after', as well as for aparāparaṃ Adv. 'from one side to the other, up and down,' see Childers, PD. and D. Andersen, PGI. under the words.—8. pubba 'the fore part, eastern', uttara 'the upper part, northern', adhara 'the lower part' are said to be inflected like sabba. Of pubba, however, only the Sg. Loc. pubbe 'earlier, formerly' is attested, the other forms occurring only at the end of compounds. Of uttara we have the Loc. Sg. fem. uttarāya (disāya) D. I. 74²³ beside uttarassaṃ disāyaṃ S. I. 148⁴ (verse), Adv. uttarena 'to the north' and uttarato 'from the north'.—9. Of ekacca 'one, any one' (Adj. Vin. I. 183²⁹, Subst. S. III. 243¹⁴) the Pl. Nom. is ekacce 'some' S. IV. 102¹, Sn. p. 101, JāCo. III. 126¹⁷, Dat.-Gen. ekaccānaṃ Vin. I. 45¹⁸, III. 20¹²; ekacco...ekacca signifies 'the one...the other' S. IV. 305¹⁰²¹, Vin. I. 88³⁰³¹, DhCo. II. 12³⁹; ekaccaṃ... ekaccaṃ 'partly...partly' D. I. 17¹². Its derivative is ekacchiya 'individually': Sg. Nom. masc. ekacchiyo Jā. I. 326³, Vin. I. 290¹, Acc.-yaṃ Vin. I. 289²; Nom. fem. ekacchiyā (ittihī) S. I. 86¹³ (verse); Pl.

Nom. masc. ekacciya Jā. I. 326⁷ (Comm. = ekacce), S. I. 199³⁰ (verse).

III. Numerals

1. Cardinal Numbers.

§ 114. The numbers one and two. 1. eka 'one' is inflected like añña (§ 113. 3). Thus Sg. Dat.-Gen. masc. ekassa Sn. 397, DhCo. II. 23¹⁵, but fem. ekissā Vin. II. 38²⁶, JāCo. I. 151³; Loc. masc. ekasmiṃ, but fem. ekissā M. III. 65¹⁵, JāCo. VI. 32²⁰ or ekissam DhCo. III. 346⁶. The Pl. eke signifies 'some' D. I. 12²⁹; when repeated, eko...eko signifies 'the one...the other' D. I. 181¹, Mhvs. 5. 103; ekameko is 'everyone separately, individually' D. II. 171¹, Mhvs. 4. 52. On ekacca, ekacciya see § 113. 9.—2. dvi 'two' (in compound also di-, cf. diguṇa 'double') has the following forms for all three genders: Nom. dve (masc. DhCo. II. 9¹⁴, JāCo. I. 151⁵, fem. Sn. p. 102, neut. JāCo. IV. 137¹⁰) and duve (masc. Th1. 245, fem. Sn. 1001); Acc. dve (masc. JāCo. II. 27²⁰, DhCo. II. 4¹⁴, fem. DhCo. II. 42⁴) and duve (masc. Mhvs. 5. 213, neut. Mhvs. 10. 47); Instr. dvīhi (masc. JāCo. I. 388⁶, II. 153¹⁴, fem. M. I. 78², II. 162⁶); Dat.-Gen. dvinnam (masc. Mhvs. 24. 19, JāCo. II. 154²², DhCo. II. 12⁸, fem. M. I. 65²³, JāCo. II. 27¹⁹) and duvinnam; Loc. dvīsu (masc. Mhvs. 6. 25, neut. JāCo. I. 388⁶, DhCo. II. 8⁸). Similar is the flexion of ubho 'both': Nom.-Acc. ubho Dh. 74, Sn. 582, JāCo. I. 510²⁶, Vin. I. 10¹⁵ etc. (and ubhe); Instr.-Abl. ubhohi D. II. 176²², JāCo. IV. 142¹⁰ (and ubhehi); Dat.-Gen. ubhinnaṃ Jā. I. 353¹⁴, JāCo. I. 388¹⁰, Mhvs. 2. 25; Loc. ubhosu Sn. 778, JāCo. I. 264¹⁸, VvCo. 275¹⁷ (and ubhesu). The Sandhi-form vubho occurs in Jā. VI. 509²⁴. The word ubhaya 'both' is used both in Sg. and Pl.: thus puñña ca pāpe ca ubhaye 'both in virtue and sin' Sn. 547; ubhayena saṃyamena 'through both (kinds of) self-control' PvCo. 11²; gihīhi ca anāgārehi ca ubhayehi 'with both the laity and the priests' DhCo. IV. 174¹; candimasuriyā-ubhay' ettha (= yā ettha) dissare 'both sun and moon are visible here' Vv. 83. 4. Cf. DhCo. I. 29¹⁸ (verse). In Voc. we have ubhayo nisāmetha 'listen to me, you two!' Th2. 449 (cf. 457); ubhayam 'both' Dh. 404. In the same way dubhaya is used in the Gāthā-language, of which the initial d might be derived from dvi: dubhayam outūpapātāṃ 'both degeneration and regeneration' Sn. 51

dubhayāni paṇḍarāni 'both kinds of intelligence' Sn. 526; Todeyya-Kappā dubhayo 'the two (the pair) T and K.' Sn. 1007, 1125; Acc. dubhayam lokam 'both worlds' Jā. III. 442⁴. Cf. dubhato Jā. VI. 497⁴, which is explained in the Comm. by ubhato.

§ 115. The numbers three to ten: 3. ti 'three' (in compound ti-, cf. tiguna 'three times', tipitaka 'collection of three baskets'): Masc. Nom.-Acc. tayo Sn. 811, JāCo. III. 51²³, DhCo. II. 4¹⁴ etc. (tayas-su Sn. 231); Instr.-Abl. tīhi Dh. 391, S. IV. 175²⁰; Dat.-Gen. tiṇṇam Th1. 127, S. IV. 86¹⁹, DhCo. II. 46²⁰ and (the later form) *tiṇṇannam*² Milp. 300⁸, Mhvs. 15. 34; Loc. tisu DhCo. II. 27⁴. Fem. Nom.-Acc. tisso Th1. 24, JāCo. II. 33¹⁶; Instr.-Abl. tīhi Th2. 11, S. I. 166³⁰ (verse), Sn. 656; Dat.-Gen. tissunnam D. II. 66¹⁷, S. IV. 234²⁸; tisu Sn. 842, DhCo. II. 25⁹. Neut. Nom.-Acc. tiṇi Th2. 134, Mhvs. 6. 25; for the rest as in masc.—4. Catu 'four' (in compound catu-, catur-, cf. catukanna 'quadrangular' A. I. 141³⁰ (verse), caturassa 'quadrilateral' Jā. VI. 518²⁹, catugguna 'four times' JāCo. I. 422²⁷): Masc. Nom.-Acc. cattāro D. I. 91²⁹, DhCo. II. 9¹⁶, JāCo. IV. 139⁸ and caturō (Nom. Sn. 84, Acc. Sn. 969); Instr.-Abl. catūhi Sn. 231, DhCo. II. 3⁸, catuhi JāCo. I. 279¹¹ and (only archaically) catubbhi Sn. 229, Jā. III. 207¹⁴ (catubbhi hānesu Vv. 32. 7); Dat.-Gen. catunnam D. I. 91³⁰, DhCo. II. 15¹⁴; Loc. catūsu DhCo. II. 42¹⁰, IV. 56¹² and catusu JāCo. I. 262⁹. Fem. Nom.-Acc. catasso Vv. 78. 6, S. III. 240¹⁷, JāCo. I. 262¹⁰ (Acc. caturō disā Vv. 6. 10); Instr.-Abl. catūhi JāCo. I. 389⁴ and catuhi D. I. 102²; Dat.-Gen. catunnam D. I. 116¹¹ and catassannam; Loc. catūsu and catusu JāCo. III. 46²⁰. Neut. Nom.-Acc. cattāri Sn. 227, Th2. 171, DhCo. II. 24¹⁵; for the rest as in masc.—5. Pañca 'five', cha 'six', satta 'seven', aṭṭha 'eight', nava 'nine', and dasa 'ten' are inflected in all three genders in the following manner: Nom.-Acc. pañca, cha etc.; Instr.-Abl. pañcāhi, chāhi DhCo. II. 28⁵ etc. [with protraction aṭṭhāhi Jā. III. 207¹⁴, archaic: dasabhi Vin. I. 38²² (verse)]; Dat.-Gen. pañcannam S. IV. 173¹⁵, channam Sn. 169, A. I. 22³¹ etc.; sattānam beside °annam M. III. 81²³; Loc. pañcasu, chasu and chassu Sn. 109, sattasu Ud. 65¹⁷ etc. In compound these numerals appear in the form pañca- etc. given above. On cha-cha- cf. § 67, 72. 1.

§ 116. The tens, hundreds etc. 1. The numbers from 20 to 100 are: 20: visa, visam, visā, visati=vimsati.—30: timśa, timśam, timśā, timśati=trimśat.—40: cattārisa, -risam, -risā; cattālisa, -lisam, -lisā; tālisa, -lisam, -lisā=catvārimśat.—50: paññāsa, saṃ, -sā; paññāsa=pañcāsat.—60: saṭṭhi=ṣaṣṭi.—70: sattati, sattari=saptati.—80: asīti=aśiti.—90: navuti=navati.—100: sata=śata.—200: dve satāni or dvisata.—300: tīṇi satāni or tisata etc.—1000: sahassa=sahasra.—2000: dve sahasāni etc.—100 000: lakkha.—10 millions: *koṭi*¹.—2. Intermediate numbers: 11: ekādasa, ekārasa=ekādaśa.—12: dvādasa, bārasa=dvādaśa.—13: terasa, telasa=traya-daśa.—14: catuddasa, cuddasa=caturdaśa.—15: pañcadasa, pannarasa, pañnarasa=pañcadaśa.—16: soḷasa, sorasa=ṣoḍaśa.—17: satta-dasa, sattarasa=saptadaśa.—18: aṭṭhādasa, aṭṭhārasa=aṣṭādaśa.—19: ekūnavisa, ekūnavisati=ekonaviṃśati, ūnaviṃśati.—22: dvāvīsa, sati, bāvīsa, -sati; 23: tevīsa; 24: catuvīsa; 25: pañcavīsa, pañnavīsati, pañṇuvīsa etc.—32: dvattimśa, battimśa; 36: chattimśa; 49: ekūna-paññāsa; 55: pañcapaññāsa; 56: chappaññāsa etc.²

§ 117. The mode of using the numerals is unusually varied in character. 1. The numbers 1 to 18 are adjectives. Cf. dve vā tīṇi vā rattindivāni 'two or three days and nights' D. II. 327³; catunnam māsānam accayena 'after the expiry of four months' Sn. p. 99; soḷasannam puggalānam 'of 16 individuals' Milp. 310⁴. On the analogy of the tens, however, also the numeral compounds of daśa may take a final -m and thus become substantives: nava satta dvādaśaṇ-ca...pañcaviśam dvādaśaṇ-ca, dvādaśaṇ-ca navāpi ca '9 and 7 and 12...', 25 and 12 and (again) 12 and 9 (kings)' Mhvs. 2. 9.—2. Of the decades those in -ā are feminine substantives, of which the form in -āya (Instr. Dat.-Gen) actually occurs: ekassa pi dadāmi dvinnam-pi dadāmi ... dasannam-pi dadāmi visāya pi dadāmi timśāya pi dadāmi cattārisāya pi dadāmi paññāsāya pi dadāmi satassa pi dadāmi 'I give (alms) to one, to 2,... to 10, to 20, to 30, to 40, to 50, to 100' Sn. p. 86. The decades in -a may be declined, but are mostly left uninflected; those in -am are used as nominatives and accusatives; those in -ti are fem. substantives and are inflected according to § 86 or remain undeclined. The numerals sata and sahassa are neuter.—3. When connected with substantives, the numerals from 20 upwards may be used appositionally in the same case as the substantive: Loc. visatiyā yojānesu tiṃsāya yojānesu 'at (the distance of) 20 (30) miles' M. II. 162²⁰; Instr. dvattiṃsāya mahāpurisalakkhaṇchi asītiyā anuvyañjāchi 'with the 32 major and 80 minor insignia of a Buddha' VvCo. 323¹⁴; ekūnapaññāsāya kaṇḍchi 'with 49 arrows' JāCo. III. 220²¹; chattiṃsatiyā sotchi 'with 36 streams' DhCo. IV. 48¹⁶; Acc. visatim-pi bhikkhū tiṃsam-pi bhikkhū cattārisam-pi bhikkhū '20 or 30 or 40 monks' M. III. 79⁶; visam-pi jātiyo tiṃsam-pi jātiyo cattārisam-pi jātiyo paññāsam-pi jātiyo '20 and 30 and 40 and 50 existences' Iv. 99³; aṭṭhacattārisaṃ vassāni '48 years' Sn. 289; Gen. imesaṃ tevisatiyā buddhānaṃ santike 'before these 28 Buddhas' DhCo. I. 84⁸. In the following examples the decades remain uninflected: Nom. paññāsa yojanā satthi yojanā '50, 60 miles' DhCo. III. 217³; tiṃsa rattiyō D. II. 327¹⁰; pañcapaññāsa vassāni...pañcavisati vassāni Th1. 904; dvattiṃsa mahāpurisalakkhaṇāni Sn. p. 102 (but dvattiṃsā mah- Sn. 1000), Acc. ekūnapaññāsa jana '49 people' JāCo. III. 220²⁰; sattasattari nāṇavatthūni 'the 77 items of knowledge' S. II. 59²⁴; Instr. dvattiṃsa mahāpurisalakkhaṇchi M. II. 185²¹.—3. Also sata and sahasā, as well as numerals with them as components, may be used in apposition with a substantive: Nom. gandhabbā cha sahasāni '6000 G.'s' Th1. 164; bhikkhuniyo sahasaṃ '1000 nuns' Mhvs. 5. 187; Acc. pañcasatāni Caṇḍālapurise '500 Caṇḍālas' Mhvs. 10. 91; gāthā sataṃ '100 verses' Dh. 102; Instr. pañcasatehi therehi 'with 500 Theras' Dps. 4. 6. The substantive in such constructions appears sometimes in the Sg., as in Acc. aṭṭhasataṃ bhattaṃ (instead of bhattāni) '800 meals' Milp. 88⁴. The numeral is treated as an Adj. in Nom. pañcasatā vāṇijā, fem. pañcasatā yakkhiniyo, Acc. pañcasate vāṇije JāCo. II. 128^{17,22}.—4. The numerals may further be used in Sg. as abstracta and substantives may be connected with them as genitive attributes: para-sahasāṇi bhikkhūnaṃ 'over 1000 monks' Th1. 1238 (but appositionally para-sahasāṇi puttā 'over 1000 sons' D. I. 89⁴); sahasam-pi atthānaṃ '1000 things' S. I. 229¹¹; viḥārānaṃ pañcasataṃ '500 monasteries' Mhvs. 12. 33; satthim aṛahataṃ akā 'he made 60 Arhats' Mhvs. 1. 14.—5. Finally, a numeral and a substantive may unite into a compound. Cf. aṭṭhavassaṃ satamāsaṃ rājā rajjāṃ akārayi 'the king reigned for 8 years and 7 months' Mhvs. 35. 46. The compound vassasataṃ of this type, signifying 'hundred years', is very frequently used. Compounds like the following are also very much in evidence: satta manussasatāni '700 people' JāCo. IV. 142³; dvisu vassasatesu (atikkantesu) ' (after the expiry of) 200 years' Mhvs. 33. 80; pañca-itthi-satehi 'with 500 women' Mhvs 14. 57, etc.

¹ The designations for higher numbers, such as abbuda etc. (see Abhp. 475, Dps. 3. 11 f.) are confined to lexicons.

² On the numerals in Pkr. cf. Fischel, § 445 f.. 443 f.

2. Ordinals, Distributives, Fractional Numbers, Numeral Adverbs, Numeral Adjectives and Numeral Substantives.

§ 118. 1. The ordinals from 1 to 10 correspond to those of Skr.:

1. paṭhama=Skr. prathama—2. dutiya (§ 23)=dvitīya.—3. tatiya (§ 23)=trītiya.—4. caluttha=caturtha.—5. pañcama=pañcama.—6. chaṭṭha (chaṭṭhama Sn. 101), saṭṭha=ṣaṣṭha.—7. sattama, fem. -mī Th2. 41=saptama.—8. aṭṭhama (fem. aṭṭhamī 'the 8th day' Th2 31)=aṣṭama.—9. navama=navama.—10. dasama (fem. dasamī 'the 10. day' Mhvs. 19. 33)=daśama.—2. The same is the case with the decades, the only difference being that in the longer forms (excepting 60 and 80) it is not -tama, but only -ma that is attached to the basic form in -tī: 20. visatima or visa=viṃśatitama or viṃśa.—30. tiṇṇasatima or tiṇṇa=triṃśattama or triṃśa.—40. cattārisatima, -ṭisatima or cattāriṣa, -ṭisa=catvāriṃśattama or catvāriṃśa.—50. paññāsatima=pañcāśattama.—60. saṭṭhitama=ṣaṣṭitama.—70. sattatima=saptatitama.—80. asītītama=aṣītītama.—90. navutima=navatitama.—100. satama=śatātama.—3. 21. ekavisatima; 22. bāvisatima; 23. tevīsatima; 24. caturvisatima; 25. pañcavisatima; 26. chabbisatima, etc.—33. tetthiṃsatima; 36. chattimsatima, etc.—4. On the use of the ordinals: In some isolated cases the ordinal number stands for the cardinal: pañcamehi bandhanehi 'with 5 bonds' S. IV. 201²², 202³. Worthby of notice are the compounds with attan, such as attadutiya 'with one companion' D. II. 147²¹ etc. Cf. § 112. 2.

§ 119. 1. The distributive numbers are expressed by repeating the cardinals or the ordinals as the case may be aṭṭhaṭṭha there macce ca pesayi 'to each he sent 8 theras and court-officials' Mhvs. 5. 249. Cf. DhCo. I. 89⁶⁻⁷.—Addha, aḍḍha 'half' is the fractional number. Like Skr. ardha, Pkr. addha, *aḍḍha*¹, it is compounded with the next higher ordinal number, as in German 'dritthalb, vierthalb': aḍḍhutiya, aḍḍhateyya JāCo. I. 450²¹, II. 93⁴ (cf. § 65. 2) is 2½; aḍḍhuddha Vin. I. 34¹⁰, DhCo. I. 87²¹ (= Pkr. addhutta out of addha + tuṭha*, Skr. ardhacaturtha) is 3½. Cf. saddhiṃ addhatejaschi bhikkhusatchi 'with 12½ hundred monks' Sn. p. 100, D. I. 47⁴; aḍḍhanavamasahassāni '8500 (persons)' Mhvs. 15. 201. If on the other hand addha, aḍḍha stands after a cardinal number, it signifies half thereof. dasaddha is thus=5, Th1. 1244. 'Thus purisānaṃ dasaḍḍhehi satchi parivārīto 'surrounded by 500 men' Mhvs. 5. 122.—3. Numeral adverbs 'once' is expressed by sakiṃ, saki (sakid- or sakad- in sandhi before a vowel, § 67, 72. 1) = sakti, or ekadā (appekadā 'sometimes' M. II. 7¹, A. V. 83¹⁸). These adverbs are formed moreover by affixing the formans °khattuṃ (§ 22) = °*kṛtvas*²: tikkhattuṃ '3 times' Vin. I. 104²⁸; catukkhattuṃ '4 times' Th2. 37, 169; chakkhattuṃ '6 times' D. II. 198²⁴, DhCo. III. 196²⁰; satakkhattuṃ '100 times' Th2. 519 etc. Also katikkhattuṃ 'how many times?' M. III. 125⁷. Moreover the Sg. or the Pl. Acc. vāraṃ and vāre is used to express 'time': eka-vāraṃ 'once' JāCo. III. 150²¹; dvē vāre 'twice' DhCo. I. 47¹¹; tayo vāre '3 times' DhCo. I. 48⁴; nava vāre '9 times' Mhvs. 30. 52; bahu-vāre 'many times' JāCo. II. 88⁸. Cf. also dvīsū vāresu 'twice' Mhvs. 6. 25; tatiye vāre 'the third time, or the third chance' Mhvs. 6. 26. Otherwise 'the first time', 'the second time' are simply paṭhamam, dutiyaṃ, etc. Ekaso = ekasas means 'individually'.—4. Numeral adverbs in 'times' are constructed with °dhā = Skr. °dhā, Pkr. °hā: sattadhā 'seven times, in seven parts or pieces' I. I. 94²⁴, II. 234²³. Similarly satadhā, sahassadhā —5. Numeral adjectives in 'kinds, fold' are constructed with °vidha = Skr. °vidha, Pkr. °viha, or with °guṇa = Skr., Pkr. °guṇa: anekavidha 'of many kinds' Dpvs. 6. 70; sattavidha 'of seven kinds, seven-fold' JāCo. I. 91³³, Mlp. 102¹³; aṭṭhaguṇa 'eight-fold' Th2. 153. —6. As for numeral substantives, we have duka neut. 'aggregate of two', tika 'aggregate of three' DCo. I. 24²⁷ = Skr. dvika, trika, Pkr. duka or duya, tiya; catukka 'aggregate of four' (§ 62.2.) = Skr. catuṣka; sutaka 'aggregate of hundred' JāCo. I. 74²² = śataka.

IV. Verbal System

1. Generalities

§ 120. In verbal forms Pāli is still farther removed from the basic Sanskrit than in nominal flexion. The historical forms are on the whole well preserved, particularly in the older periods of the language. But the actual life of the language lies in the new formations, which were created in such numbers, either on the basis of analogy, or after existing types, that it is scarcely possible to lay down rules covering all the individual cases.—It is a prominent feature of Pāli distinguishing it off from Skr., that it has lost the dual.—The medium is also disappearing. Passive forms too have active endings already in the oldest period of the language. The Gāthā-language still shows, it is true, a considerable number of medial forms. But they are in part due to the exigencies of metre, and everywhere bear the stamp of archaism. They become rare already in the canonical prose, and rarer still in the non-canonical, in which they are confined only to a few fixed forms (e. g. Imp. 2. Sg. in -ssu, Pret. 3. Sg. in -ittha). The medial forms appear again in the later artificial poetry. The Part. Pres. Med. in -māna was productive in every period of the language.—As for the tempora, the perfect has almost completely disappeared, leaving but slight traces behind. Unlike Prākṛit, Pāli has retained the conditional. Imperfect and aorist are no longer sharply distinguished between in Pāli. Both of them have coincided in the preterite which is mostly called "aorist". The various periphrastic formations are of great importance they are originated by the combination of participles, gerunds or verbal substantives with the verbs "to be" or "to become", or with other verbs of an indefinite meaning. They represent quite a characteristic feature of the language.—The modes are the same as in Sanskrit. The Gāthā-language has apparently still retained isolated forms of the Vedic subjunctive.—Another important feature is the predominance of a-stems in the present system. Their analogy has decided the character of many verbs which are athematic in Skr. It is no longer possible to set up a complete system of paradigms for the different 'conjugation-classes' as they are distinguished in Sanskrit. The present-stems of these classes will be discussed, as is proper, in connection with one chief paradigm, as supplement to it. Besides the expansion of the sphere of the a-flexion we have also to notice that of e-stems.—The preponderance of the present-stem is of particular importance. Tenses, as well as verbal nouns etc., which in Skr. are based directly on the root, may be derived in Pāli from the present-stem. This applies to preterite (aorist), future, past part. in -ta, future pass. part. in -tabba, infinitive in (-tuye and) -tum, and gerund in -tvā, -tvāna and -ya. Moreover new passive and causative stems may be derived from present-stems. The innovated forms in all these cases appear side by side with the historical ones—sometimes rare in comparison with the latter, but occasionally even surpassing them in the frequency of use. In particular cases the process goes even further, when, for instance, an historically attested future or passive-stem is made the basis of further new formations.¹

2. Present system with Indicative, Subjunctive, Imperative and Optative.

A. PRESENT INDICATIVE

§ 121. The flexion may be shown by a verb of the I. Class, labhati 'gains, receives'.

	Sg.	Pl.
Act.	1. labhāmi	labhāma
	2. labhasi	labhatha
	3. labhati	labhanti
Med.	1. labhe	(labhamhe)
	2. labhasce	(labhasshe)
	3. labhate	labhantc, labhare

¹ I am thinking here, for instance, of the stem ḍakkh- = Skr. drakṣ- (cf. § 152, 204. 1c, 213), or of the stem chijj- = chidy- (§ 196), etc.

*§ 122. 1. Act. Sg. 1. Instead of -āmi there is also found in the Gāthā-language the shorter ending -am: tassāham santi ke gaccham 'I am going to him' Th2. 306. For the rest the endings correspond to those of Sanskrit; -ma is the secondary ending.—2. Med. (the examples are mostly from the Gāthā-language or the artificial poetry) Sg. 1: rame 'I enjoy myself' S. I. 180⁸ (verse), kuppe 'I am angry' Jā. III. 120¹⁵. In the post-canonical prose we find, for instance, maññe 'I think' JāCo. II. 249⁷ etc. Sg. 2: anupucchase 'you ask' Vv. 17. 5; labhase Jā. II. 220¹² (Comm. labhasi). Sg. 3: labhate Th1. 35; sobhate 'is beautiful' Th2. 255 ff.; rocate 'suits (one's) taste' Th2. 415; bhāsate 'speaks' Sn. 452. Pl. 3: labhante 'they hang' Th2. 265; haññante 'they are beaten' Th2. 451. The ending -are in 3. Pl. is quite frequent labhare S. I. 110³² (verse); khādare 'they consume' Jā. II. 223¹⁴ (Comm. khādanti); jāyare 'they are born' S. I. 34¹⁸; socare 'they suffer pain' Sn. 445 (against socanti Sn. 333); obhāsare 'they light up' Vv. 9. 3 (v. l. obhāsate); jīyare 'they vanish away' Jā. VI. 528⁵ (Skr. jīryante); miyyare 'they die' Sn. 575 (Skr. mriyante); haññare 'they are killed' S. I. 76²² etc. These forms are connected with the Vedic presents like śere, īśire, and they correspond to the forms in -ire in Pkr.¹—The 1. Pl. Med. deserves special consideration Kacc. 3. 1. 2 and 18 (Senart, pp. 423, 429) gives as ending -mhe, which is probably derived from -mahe through syncope. The fuller form occurs in *bhavāmahe*² Mhvs. 1. 60. Also the ending -mase (and -mhase) seems to have been in existence at its side. All the forms with this ending have not a subjunctive meaning (cf. below § 126), as for instance (na) tappāmasa (dassanena taṃ) 'we are (not) tired of (looking at you)' Vv. 17. 4, which is indicative in meaning (cf. Skr. tṛpyate). Same perhaps also with abhinandāmasa 'we are glad' Vv. 17. 7; saremhase (according to e-flexion) 'we remember' Th2. 383. The ending -mase is evidently the medial counterpart of the Act. Vedic -masi, and -mhase looks like a cross of -mhe and -mase.

B. SUBJUNCTIVE

§ 123. It is not possible to set forth a paradigm, because we have to do here only with isolated forms preserved in the Gāthā-language. The Subjunctive is distinguished from the Indicative by the extended stem-vowel. Yet only those forms may be relied upon as Subjunctive without any hesitation in which the Subjunctive (Imperative) meaning is quite clear and the possibility of a mere metrical protraction is out of the question. This appears to be the case with one of the two passages pointed out by Pischel¹: no vitarāsi bhottum 'do not go on eating!' Jā. II. 14¹⁷ (Fausböll, Ten Jāt. 19⁴). The Comm. gives the explanation: mā nāgamamsakhādako ahosi. I add to it: attānaṃ yeva garahāsi ettha 'scold yourself for this affair!' Jā. IV. 248⁶, which is explained in the Comm. by attānaṃ eva garaheyyāsi. True Subjunctives are to be found perhaps also in the forms kāmayāsi and cajāsi Jā. V. 220^{20,24}, which are dependent on sace and ce respectively. Pischel's second example is, however, doubtful: ātāpino saṃvegino bhavātha 'be zealous and enthusiastic' Dh. 144^b. The form in question here may be simply that of Imp. 2. Pl. protracted metri causa. Similar cases are: adhūmanasā bhavātha Sn. 692; taṃ ca (i.e. dhamaṃ) *dharātha*² sabbe 'all should hold fast to it (the truth)!' Sn. 385; pāpāni kammāni vivajjayātha, dhammānuyogañ-ca adhiṭṭhahātha 'give up sinful practices and hold fast to zeal for the truth!' Vv. 84. 38; abhinibbajjīyātha naṃ 'avoid that!' Sn. 281 (from root varj, varjayati). Of the three examples given by E. Müller³, daḥāsi and daḥāti Sn. 841, 888 are certainly no Subjunctives: they are simply the representatives of Skr. dadhāsi, dadhāti (§ 37). Also saddaḥāsi Jā. I. 426⁸ is reproduced in the Comm. simply as saddaḥasi. But even the third ko taṃ paṭibhaṇāti me 'who can give me answer to that?' Jā. III. 404⁴ is very doubtful on account of the paṭibhaṇāmi and -bhaṇāsi in the parallel verses 404^{10,20} and 404¹³, 405⁸, where the latter certainly has no Subjunctive meaning. It is wanting also in āvahāti Thl. 303 (cf. Sn. 181, 182, S. I. 425¹⁰, 214^{18,22}), for which there occurs rakkhati in the parallel passages, and it cannot be traced either in ha-nāsi Jā. III. 199² (Comm. = paharasi), V. 460¹⁹ and haṇāti Jā. V. 461²¹.

¹ Whitney, Sanskrit Gramm. § 550; Pische', PkrGr. § 458; Windisch, Abhdl. Sächs. Ges. d. W., Nr. VI, 1887, p. 478 f.; E. Kuhn, Beitr. p. 94; E. Müller, PGr. p. 97.

C. IMPERATIVE

§ 124. The paradigm is:

Sg. Act.	1. labhāmi	Pl. labhāma
	2. labha , labhāhi	labhatha
	3. labhatu	labhantu

² It should be noticed that in this passage the Imp. suṇātha 'hear!' occurs immediately before.

³ E. Müller, PGr. p. 160. Also the 1. Pl. Med. of the Imperative is of Subjunctive origin. See § 125. 2.

Med. 1. labhe	labhāmase
2. labhassu	labhavho
3. labhataṃ	labhantaṃ

§ 125. Active. The 1. Sg. and Pl. are simply transfers from the Indicative: vandāma 'let us praise!' D. III. 197²⁴ (verse); dhunāma 'let us destroy!' Th1. 1147. Hence it is also said kassa naṃ dema 'to whom should we give it?' JāCo. II. 196²⁴, handa karomi M. III 179²⁷, handa karoma Vin. II. 295³. Similarly we have in Th1. 1146 dālema 'let us smash!' (with the ending -mu, cf. § 128) = Skr. dālayāma parallel to dhunāma.—In the 2. Sg. the type labha corresponds to the Skr.-form of the thematic conjugation. Thus piva 'drink!' JāCo. III. 110²²=piba; siñca 'pour out!' Dh. 369=siñca; nipajja 'seat yourself!' JāCo. II. 223² from nipadyate. Also kara 'do!' JāCo. IV. 1¹⁴ may be regarded as an historical form = Ved. kāra. Verbs which were not originally thematic gradually began to form their Imperatives after the type labha. Thus gaṇha 's ize!' JāCo. II. 159⁵ from gaṇhāti=gṛhṇāti,—even paṭiggaha 'accept!' Jā. I. 233¹⁰; saddaha 'believe!' JāCo. IV. 52¹⁸ from saddahati=śraddadhāti etc. The second form labhāhi has derived its -hi from the forms of the athematic conjugation. Historical are the forms like akkhāhi 'describe!' Jā. III. 279⁷=ākhyāhi; brūhi 'speak!' Sn. 76=brūhi; dehi 'give!' JāCo. I. 223¹⁰=dehi. On the analogy of these types were further formed uggaṇhāhi 'learn!' M. III. 192²² from uggaṇhāti=udgṛhṇāti; sāvehi 'proclaim!' JāCo. I. 344¹⁴; ānehi 'bring here!' JāCo. II. 254¹⁹; vissajjehi 'give up!' JāCo. I. 223²⁰; karohi 'do!' JāCo. III. 188¹⁸ etc. from long-vowel stems. Similarly, also from a-stems: jivāhi Sn. 1029; sarāhi 'remember!' Milp. 79²⁵ (beside sara Th1. 445); pakkosāhi 'call here!' DhCo. IV. 28⁴; tussāhi 'be content!' JāCo. I. 494²⁶ etc.¹—The 3. Sg. and Pl. in -tu and -ntu are frequent: passatu 'he should see' Sn. 909; etu 'he should go' D. I. 179¹⁸; ijjhatu 'should succeed' Th2. 329 (from Skr. ṛdhyate); hanantu 'they should kill' Jā. IV. 42²⁶; vinassantu 'they should die' JāCo. IV. 2²⁴. The 2. Pl. in -tha, as also in Pkr.², is a transfer from the Indicative, and is thus different from the Skr. suffix -ta: āharatha 'bring here!' JāCo. I. 266⁹; anurakkhatha 'protect!' Dh. 327; viñānātha 'learn to distinguish!' Sn. 720; gaṇhatha 'take!' JāCo. III. 126²⁵; karotha 'do!' Th2. 13, JāCo. II. 196²⁰; voropetha 'rob!' D. II. 336⁴ etc.

§ 126. Medium. The 1. Sg. is a transfer from the Indicative. The 2. Sg. in -ssu = Skr. -sva is very common. Thus in the Gāthā-language: labhassu Th2. 432 = labhasva; *pucchassu*² 'ask!' Sn. 189; jahassu 'give up!' (from jahāti) Sn. 1121 and frequently elsewhere. In bhikkhasu 'go to beg!' Th1. 1118 the ss has been simplified metri causa. Further in the canonical prose: bhāsassu 'speak!' M. II. 199⁸ = vhāśasva; sikkhassu 'learn!' A. V. 79²⁰; payirupāsassu 'worship!' M. II. 196²⁵; nvattassu 'return!' Vin. II. 182³³; pātu-bhavassu 'appear' Vin. II. 185¹² etc. Also in the post-canonical prose: bhāsassu Milp. 27²⁵; tikicchassu 'cure!' JāCo. II. 213²³; naccassu 'dance!' JāCo. I. 292²³. The medial meaning of the suffix does not seem to have been felt any more, for it is taken also by those roots which were never medial, as, for instance, by nart.—In the 3. Sg., suffix -taṃ = Skr. -tām; cf. acchataṃ 'she should remain' Jā. VI. 506⁸ (Comm. acchatu); labhataṃ D. II. 150¹³. In Sandhi: vadḍhatām-eva 'he should indeed grow' Jā. III. 209⁸.—A true Subjunctive form is to be found in the 1. Pl. in -mase, -mhase. The suffix is probably derived from -masai, which is related to the suffix -mase discussed in § 122 (at the end) as Skr. -mahai to -mahe. The two suffix-forms necessarily coincided with each other in Pāli. Forms with Subjunctive (Imperativistic or Futural) meaning are not rare in the Gāthā-language: labhāmase 'we should attain' Jā. III. 261⁹; ramāmase 'we would enjoy' Th2. 370 f.; bhaṇāmase 'we wish to speak' S. I. 209²⁸ (verse) (parallel to it are to be found there the optatives sikkhema, muccema); carāmase 'we wish to do (carry out)' and bhavāmase 'we wish to be' Sn. 32 etc. Similarly kuromase D. II. 288¹ (verse). On vademase, mahemase etc. see § 129. The suffix-form -mhase occurs in labhamhase Pv. 3. 2. 24, 29 (governed by yathā, explained as labheyyāma in the Comm. 185¹); mā pamadamhase 'we do not wish to neglect' Jā. III. 131¹⁶ etc.—Examples for the 2. Pl., of which the suffix -vho in contrast to Skr. -dhvam is difficult to explain, are the following: passavho 'look up!' Sn. 998; bhajavho 'seek out!' Jā. I. 472¹⁶ (Comm. bhajatha, gacchatha); pucchavho 'ask!' Sn. 1030; kappayavho 'carry out!' Sn. 283. Also in the canonical prose: mantavho 'take counsel!' D. I. 122¹⁴, instead of mantayavho (as in Jā. II. 107¹³ beside mantavho 107¹⁹). If the reading is correct, a remarkable double-ending is to be found in *paṃodathavho*¹ 'rejoice!' Jā. IV. 162^{22,26} in which both the active and the medial endings have been combined.—An interesting form of the 3. Pl. is presented by visiyaruṃ 'they should dissolve' Thl. 312, from Skr. śyā, śiyate. The Comm. says: visiyantu ito c' ito viddhamsantu The suffix -ruṃ is pretty certainly the descendant of Ved. *-rām*².

¹ In P'kr. the corresponding suffix is -su, which Pischel § 467 however would separate from Skr. -sua and connect with -si.

² In the parallel passage S. I. 215⁸ there is pucchassa in the text.

§ 128. Active. Two types of forms are in vogue side by side. The forms given first: labheyyam, labhe, labhe; labhema, labhetha, labheyyuṃ are direct continuations of the Skr.-flexion. Only in the 2. Pl. the ending -tha (against Skr. ta) is taken from the Indicative. On the analogy of the Imperfect a 1. Sg.* labhem (=Pāli labhe) was formed to match labhes, labhet.—The forms given second: Sg. 2. labheyya etc., have been formed, by similar analogy, on Sg. 1. labheyyam, Pl. 3. *labheyyuṃ*³. Then, further, on the analogy of the relation between labhāmi and labhāma of the Indicative, primary endings were introduced into the Sg. of the Opt., at first into the 1. Person labheyyāmi, and then also into the 2. and 3. Sg.,—the long ā of the 1. Sg. being extended also to the latter¹.—Considered historically, the forms should be grouped according to types in the following way: The older type is predominant in the Gāthā-language: Sg. 1. nisumbhēyyaṃ 'I would strike down' Th2. 302; kareyyāmi 'I would do' Jā. V. 308¹⁸. Also the new formations in e are found in the Gāthā-language: passee 'I would see', suṇe 'I would hear' (Comm. suṇeyyaṃ), samvase 'I would live together (with)' Jā. IV. 240²⁹ (cf. 240³⁰, 241³¹); ānaye 'I could have brought' (Comm. āneyyaṃ) Jā. I. 308²; jīve '(if) I live' Sn. 440.—Sg. 2. yājeyya '(if) you offer sacrifice' Jā. III. 515²⁴.—Sg. 3. icche 'he should wish for' Th1. 228, hane 'he should kill' Sn. 394, vaje 'he should go' and pamuñceyya 'he should free himself' Jā. II. 247¹⁰; iccheyya Sn. 148, rakkheyya 'he should protect' Sn. 702.—Pl. 1. sikkhema 'we would learn' Sn. 898, and with the ending -mu: vasemu 'we would stay' (Comm. vaseyyāma), jānemu 'we would know' Jā. III. 259¹³, ¹⁴, viharemu 'we would stay' Jā. II. 33²⁵.—Pl. 2. bhūñjetha 'you should enjoy' Mhvs. 25. 113.—Pl. 3. saheyyuṃ 'they should withstand' Sn. 20; pajāheyyu 'they should give up' Sn. 1058.—In the canonical and non-canonical prose on the other hand the older type of flexion (labhe etc.) has been given up. Apart from isolated forms of the athematic flexion which have been retained in the language (see below), the regular endings now are: Sg. 1. -eyyaṃ and -eyyāmi, 2. -eyyāsi, 3. -eyya and -eyyāti; Pl. 1. -eyyāma, 2. -eyyātha, 3. -eyyuṃ. This is apparent also from the fact that in the word-explanations these forms are substituted for the older ones. Thus in JāCo. II. 205¹⁸ bhajeyya is given as explanation of bhaje and in 223¹⁹ udabbaheyya is given as explanation of udabbahe. Cf. also above. Examples are: Sg. 1. pabbajeyyaṃ Vin. II. 180¹⁵, puccheyyāmi D. I. 51³; Sg. 2. kareyyāsi Vin. II. 190¹⁹, āgaccheyyāsi JāCo. II. 212²⁶; Sg. 3. bhāseyya Vin. II. 189¹⁹, dadeyya JāCo. II. 241²⁵, jāneyyāti Vin. II. 190²²; Pl. 1. āroceyyāma Vin. II. 186²⁸, vādeyyāma JāCo. II. 254²⁵; Pl. 2. āneyyātha 'may you bring' S. I. 221¹, gaccheyyātha JāCo. II. 249²⁰; Pl. 3. khādeyyuṃ Vin. II. 197¹¹, vissajjeyyuṃ JāCo. II. 241²⁴.

² Macdonell, Vedic Grammar § 412 a, with foot-note 16.

§ 129. Medium. A form of the 2. Sg. is to be found in labhetho Sn. 833. The suffix corresponds to Skr. -thās. Not infrequently the suffix is -ctha in 3. Sg., taken also by those verbs which are otherwise inflected in the Active. Examples of this -ctha are: rakkhetha Dh. 36; labhetha Sn. 45; acvetha Sn. 72, Vin. II. 203¹⁸ (verse); jāyetha Dh.

¹ The length of the vowel ā was then transferred also to the 2. Pl.

58; ametha Sn. 806; saṅketha Jā. II. 53²²; atimaññetha Sn. 148; saddahetha Jā. III. 192²⁶; jhāyetha Sn. 709; *kubbetha*¹ Sn. 702, 719, 917 etc.; āsetha in sukhaṃ manussā āsetha 'men should live happily' Jā. V. 222¹⁶ (Comm. = āseyyuṃ) has been used in the plural sense. Also in the post-canonical prose: jahetha 'he should forsake' JāCo. II. 205²⁰. The aspirate in the ending as against Skr. -ta is remarkable. It is found also in the 3. Sg. Cond. and Aor.; cf. § 157, 159. II.—A form of the 1. Pl. is to be found in sādhayemase 'we would accomplish' Jā. II. 236¹⁹, which is explained in the Comm. by sādhēyyāma. There are also other forms in -emase. vaḍemase 'we would speak' D. III. 197²²; maḥemase 'we would worship' (Comm. maḥāmase) Vv. 47. 11; samācaremase 'we would wander' (Comm. paṭipajjāmase) Vv. 63. 7; also viharemasi '(if) we stay' (Comm. vasāma) Th2. 375. It is however not always possible to decide whether the forms in question are those of the 1. Pl. Imp. (§ 126) of the e-flexion or simple Optatives. Cf. also saremhase in § 122.

E. THE VERBAL CLASSES OF SANSKRIT IN PĀLI

1. Thematic Conjugation.

§ 130. Examples of present-stems of Cl. I are: 1. from roots with medial a: patati 'falls, flies', pacati 'cooks', vasati 'stays', vadati 'speaks' (all as in Skr.), vajati 'goes' = vrajati, kamati 'strides' = kramate, but *krāmati*², bhamati 'roams about' = bhramati; khamati 'forgives' = kṣamate etc.—2. From long-vowel roots: khādāti 'eats', jīvati 'lives', nindati 'slanders' (all as in Skr.), vandati 'worships' = vandate, sandati 'flows' = syandate; dhovati 'washes' (cf. § 34) Vin. I. 26²⁷; Sn. p. 101 = AMāg. dhovāi, as against Skr. dhāvati etc.—3. From roots with a final u (on roots in ī cf. § 131): savati 'flows' = sraṇvati etc.—4. From roots with a final r: sarati 'goes', carati 'goes, does, etc.' (both as in Skr.), sarati 'remembers' (sumarati Dh. 324 comp. anussarati D. I. 13¹⁵) = smarati etc.—5. From roots with medial i, u, ṛ: lehati 'licks' JāCo. II. 44²¹ as against Skr. leḍhi (Cl. II), jotati 'lightens' JāCo. I. 53⁴ = dyotate, vassati 'rains' = varṣati;

¹ Also in S. I. 17³ (verse) = Jā. II. 112²¹ we have to take kubbetha (against Andersen, PGI. under the word karoti, who considers it to be a 2. Pl.) as 3. Sg. Med. in the sense 'one should do', as also samāsetha 'one should be with' in the same verse.

² Also in Pkr. (Pischel, § 481) there is no protraction of the radical vowel.

vattati 'becomes, originates' = vartate; ghaṃsati 'rubs' (cf. § 6. 3) = gharṣati; haṃsati 'stands on end (as hair of the body)' Vin. III. 8¹³ = harṣati; kaḍḍhati 'draws' = kardhati*, side-form of karṣati, etc.—

6 The secondary verbal stems too take after the paradigm labhati in the present-flexion. On Passives, Causatives and Denominatives in ya, aya see particularly § 136. 4, 138, 139. For Desideratives (§ 184), Intensives (§ 185) and Denominatives in a (§ 188 1.) cf. Pres. Sg. 1 jigucchāmi Vin III. 8⁴, 3. dandhati Jā. III. 141²; Pl. 3. sussūsanti A. IV. 398¹³, Med. dicchare S. I. 18²⁷, simṣare Vv. 64 7. Imp. Sg. 2. tikiccha S. I. 238³⁴ and tikicchāhi Vin. I. 71³⁶, Med. sikkhassu Th2. 4; Pl. 2. vimamsatha JāCo. VI. 367²⁰. Opt. Sg. 1. vimamseyyaṃ M. I. 125¹⁶, 3. jiguccheyya Th2. 471 etc.

§ 131. The following details should be noted regarding Class I: 1. The roots in i, ī show contracted forms¹ besides those corresponding to Skr. forms. Such contracted forms are: jemi 'I conquer', nemi 'I lead', jesi, nesi etc. In the oldest period of the language both types are found side by side. Cf. ānenti Jā. VI. 507⁴, vinayanāti Th1. 3. The contracted forms get the upper hand later: ānemi JāCo. VI. 334¹⁰, ānema JāCo. VI. 334¹². The Imp. Sg. 2. is nehi JāCo. II. 160², beside vinaya Sn. 1025, vinayassu Sn. 559; Pl. 2. ānetha Mhvs. 5. 253. In Opt. we have jeyyaṃ and neyyaṃ (instead of jayeyyaṃ, nayeyyaṃ) etc. Cf. Sg. 1. apaneyyaṃ JāCo. III. 26⁶; Sg. 3. viyeyya Sn. 1002, vineyya M. I. 56⁵, beside the older form naye Dh. 256 = nayet and nissayeyya Sn. 798 from root śri with ni. Like jeti also ḍeti 'flies' = ḍayati D. I. 71⁷, M. I. 268³⁴, III. 34²⁶. The root ci 'to collect' too may take this contracted form although it otherwise belongs to Cl. IX: Opt. Sg. 1. abhisamceyyaṃ 'I would heap up' (Comm. -vineyyaṃ) Vv. 47.6; Sg. 3. niccheyya (ci with ni) Sn. 785, 801. Also in DhCo. III. 881¹⁴ we should probably read viniccheyya. From the root hi 'to send' we have the pres. pāheti (p. 79, foot-note 3) beside pāhipati (§ 147. 2). On the other hand the root ji (corresponding to Ved. jināti) may form the pres.-stem also according to Cl. IX²: Ind. Sg. 2. jināsi D. II. 348²³, Sg. 3. jināti Sn. 439; Imp. Sg. 2. jināhi Th1. 415, abhivijina M. II. 71³²; Opt. Sg. 3. jine Dh. 108; Pl. 3. jineyyuṃ S. I. 221⁵.—2. Similarly there is found an uncontracted and another contracted form of the root bhū 'to be' in the Indic. Pres. and in Imp.¹ The contracted forms are (cf. § 37):

² Similarly AMāg. jināmi etc.; Pischel, § 473.

Ind. 1. homi	homa
2. hosi Vv. 84 20, M. III. 140 ²	hotha JāCo. I. 307 ²

Beside these there are the archaic forms bhavāmi etc., Imp. Sg. 2. bhava Th2. 8, Sn. 701 and bhavāhi Sn. 510; Pl. 1. Med. bhavāṃse Th1. 1128, Sn. 32; 2. bhavatha JāCo. A dialectical side-form is to be found in Sg. 3. hupeyya (§ 39. 6) which is clearly = Pais. *huveyya*². As for compounds, we have Ind. Sg. 1. anubhomi Vv. 15. 10; 2. anubhosi Vv. 40 3; 3. vibhoti Sn. 873, sambhoti Sn. 743 (cf. D. II. 232¹⁹⁻²¹), anubhoti JāCo. II. 202¹¹, 252¹ and sambhavati Milp. 210⁴, anubhavati JāCo. II. 202¹⁴; Pl. 1. abhisambhoma 'we attain' Jā. III. 140²⁴; 3. anubhonti Th2. 217. Sometimes certain compounds of bhū form the present-stem after Cl. IX³: sambbhunāti 'attains' Vin. I. 256⁸, abhisambbhunāti VinCo. Rangoon ed. I. 2² etc. Cf. also § 190, 191.

§ 132. Of reduplicating roots of Cl. I., pivati 'drinks' (cf. pivāmi M. I. 77³⁷, pivasi JāCo. II. 417⁷; piva JāCo. III. 110²², pivatha JāCo. II. 128²; piveyya D. Th1. 411, nisīdatha Th2. 13) is = sīdati (root sad). The root ghrā 'to smell' assumes in Pāli the form ghāyati D. II. 338²⁰ as against Skr. jighrati.—The present-stems of sthā 'to stand' are multifarious. We have 1. the stem tiṭṭha-⁴ = Skr. tiṣṭha-. Thus

² The form huveyya presupposes a pres. huvati (Māh. huvanti). For Pāli heyya (Minayeff, PGr. p. 77) I cannot find attestation. The corresponding form in Pkr. would be hojjā.

³ Kern, Revue Celtique 22. 337 ff. and Festschrift Thomsen 70 ff.

II. 160¹², gacchāhi S. I. 217⁴ (verse) and gacchassu Th1. 82, Pl. 2. gacchatha Vin. II. 191³⁵, JāCo. I. 222¹⁹; Opt. Sg. 1. -gaccheyyam D. II. 340³; 3. -gacche Th1. 11 and gaccheyya Sn. p.14, Pl.3. gaccheyyum Milp. 47²⁴ etc. On the other hand the present-stem of yam 'to restrain' is however yama- (Ind. Pl.1. Med. saṃyamāmase S. I. 209²⁷), not yaccha- as in Skr.—2. To Skr. daśati (from root damś-) corresponds ḍasati (§ 42. 3) in Pāli.—3. Of the roots with a medial u, ruh 'to mount' in compounds may both retain it unchanged¹ or lengthen it. Thus ārūhati 'climbs up' besides ārohati, virūhati 'sprouts, grows' JāCo. III. 12²¹; orūhati 'climbs down' besides orohati. It thus takes after Cl. VI, or is treated like the root guh, gūhati 'to conceal': nigūhati JāCo. I. 286²⁵, III. 392¹⁴; Imp. Sg. 2. Med. upagūhassu JāCo. III. 437²⁸.

§ 134. Present-stems after Cl. VI are: kaśati 'ploughs'=kṣati (besides kassati after Cl. I=kaṣati: cf. Imp. Pl.2. apakaśatha Sn. 281); khipati 'hurls'=kṣipati; tudati 'goads' Jā. I. 500¹⁸=tudati; disati 'directs'=disati; nudati 'presses' Sn. 480, 928, Dh. 388=nudati; pucchati 'asks' = prcchati; phusati 'touches' = spṛṣati (Ind. Sg. 1. phusāmi Dh. 272, Imp. Sg. 2. phusāhi Th1. 212, Opt. Pl. 3. phuseyyu Dh. 133; on the other hand Opt. Sg. 3. *phasse*¹ Sn. 967 after Cl. I, and Imp. Sg. 2. phusehi Th2. 6 according to e-flexion); ruduti 'laments' = Ved. rudati; vidati 'knows' = vidati; -visati 'goes' = viśati etc. Also the verbs kirati 'scatters' (Ind. Sg. 3. Med. ākirate Dh. 313, Sg. 2. ākirasi Sā. 665; Opt. Pl. 3. parikireyyum Th1. 1210) = Skr. kirati (root kṛ according to Indian grammarians) and girati (JāCo. I. 150¹⁰), gilati 'devours' (Imp. Sg. 2. gila Jā. I. 380¹⁰ and gilāhi JāCo. I. 380¹⁴, Opt. Sg. 3. gileyya JāCo. I. 508¹⁷) = girati (root gṛ according to Indian grammarians).—Also from the root svap 'to sleep' (Skr. svapiti) the pres.-stem *supati*² is formed similarly after Cl. VI: Ind. Sg. 3. supati Sn. 110, JāCo. III. 101¹⁵; Imp. Sg. 2. supa Vin. III. 110¹⁵ and supāhi Th2. 1 etc. Cf. below § 136. 2.

§ 135. 1. Corresponding to Skr. icchati from root iṣ 'to wish', we have icchati also in Pāli: Ind. Sg. 1. icchāmi Th1. 186, D. I. 193⁵, JāCo. I. 292²², Med. icche Th2. 332, DhCo. III. 199⁴ (verse); Opt. Sg. 1. iccheyyāmi Ud. 17³³, 2. iccheyyāsi Ud. 17³², Pl. 2. iccheyyātha M. II. 79³ etc.—2. Here I include also Pāli acchati 'sits, remains', which I consider to be an old inchoative formation related to root ās in the same way as icchati to *iṣ*³. Forms: Ind. Sg. 2. acchasi Vv. 11. 2, 12 1, 3. acchati D. 1. 101²³, Pl. 3. acchanti Vin. III. 195⁴, Th2Co. 60³⁰ and Med. acchare Th2. 54, samacchare Jā. II. 67¹⁰; Imp. Sg. 2. acchassu Jā. VI. 516¹⁸, 3. acchatu Jā. VI. 506¹³ and Med. acchataṃ Jā. VI. 506⁸.—3. Roots which show nasal stems in present in Skr.⁴ do the same also in Pāli. Thus muñcati 'liberates', līmpati 'besmears', lumpati 'robs', vindati 'finds' (nibbindati 'feels disgust'), siñcati 'pours out' (the same forms also in Skr.), kantati 'cuts' = kṇṇtati. Cf. sumbhati, sumhati 'strikes' (§ 60); Opt. Sg. 1. nisumbheyyaṃ Th2. 302.

§ 136. Present-stems after Cl. IV. 1. Example of root ending in vowel: alliyati 'attaches' JāCo. I. 433⁴, 502⁸, III. 65²³ {o-liyati Iv.

² In agreement with Pkr.; Pischel, § 497.

⁴ Unnasalised forms, which are normal in Pkr. Māh., JMāh., AMāg. (Pischel, § 486), are unknown in Pāli.

43¹⁴, niliyati JāCo. I. 292¹³)=ā-lyate, root li. In the case of roots ending in consonant the y is assimilated to the preceding consonant. Thus ijjhati 'flourishes'= ṛdhyati; kujjhati 'is angry' = krudhyati; kuppati 'is angry' = kupyati; gijjhati 'is eager' = gṛdhyati; naccati 'dances' = nṛtyati; nassati 'is destroyed' = naśyati; saṃnayhati 'guards up, prepares' = saṃnahyati; āpajjati 'gets involved in something' and many other compounds of the root pad=āpadyate; bujjhati 'wakes up, perceives' = budhyate; maññati 'thinks' = manyate; yujjhati 'fights' = yudhyate; sussati 'dries up' = śuśyati etc. Also sinīyhati (§ 49.1) DhCo. 192³¹ = snihyati. There are found moreover, in agreement with Skr.: majjati 'rejoices' Jā. II. 97¹⁵, A. IV. 294⁶ (Opt. Sg. 3. majjeyya Jā. III. 87²⁵) = mādyati (root mad); sammati 'rests' = śāmyati (root śam). Also bhassati 'falls down' Jā. VI. 530¹¹ = bhraśyati (root bhraṣ); rajjati 'takes delight in something' S. IV 74²¹ (verse), DhCo. III. 233³⁴ = rajyati (root rañj); vijjhati 'bores through' = vidhyati (root vyadh). To the Skr. pres-stem krāmya- from root kram (not attested) corresponds kamma- in Imp. Sg. 2. paṭikkamma 'go back!' S. I. 226²⁸ (verse), and to Skr. medya- from root mid 'to feel oneself drawn towards something' corresponds the stem mejja- DhCo. 192³¹ (var. lec. mijja-).—2. Though not in Skr.¹, a pres-stem lagga- after Cl. IV is derived in Pāli from the root lag 'to hang' (Imp. Sg. 3. laggatu DhCo. I. 131¹²). Similarly from root ruc 'to be liked' *ruccati*¹ Vv. 63. 8, DhCo. I. 13²³ against rocate. In the same way Pāli has besides supati (§ 134) from root svap 'to sleep' also suppati, soppati (§ 10) S. I. 107¹⁹ (verse).—3. To the Skr. Pres. paśyati from root darś corresponds Pāli passati. Cf. Ind. Sg. 1. passāmi Sn. 776, Vin. I. 126³, 2. passasi etc. Imp. Sg. 2. passa Sn. 435, JāCo. II 159²⁵, 3. passatu Sn. 909, Pl. 2. passatha Sn. 176, JāCo. III. 126²⁰, Med. passavho Sn. 998; Opt. Sg. 1. passē Jā. IV. 240²⁹ and passēyyaṃ JāCo. I. 356²⁹, 2. passēyyāsi M. III. 131¹, JāCo. I. 137²⁹, 3. passē Dh. 76 and passēyya JāCo. III. 55²² etc. Beside it a new pres-stem dakkha- has arisen in the language. It is abstracted out of the future-stem (drakṣyati, § 152). Cf. Opt. Pl. 1. dakkhema or -mu DhCo. III. 217¹⁹, 218⁷ (verse).—4. The Passives (§ 175 f.) and the ya-Denominatives (§ 188. 2, 3) have formally coincided with the presents of Cl. IV. Cf. Ind. Sg. 1. ñāyāmi 'I am mentioned' Milp. 26⁸, vediyāmi 'I feel' Vin. III. 37²⁵, namassāmi 'I worship' Sn. 1058, aṭṭiyāmi 'I suffer' D. I. 213²²; 2. vediyasi M. II. 70¹⁴, 3. sūyati suyyati

'is heard' Jā. IV. 141²⁰, JāCo. I. 72¹, khiyati 'weakens' Th1. 145; Pl. 1. jiyyāma 'we lose' Jā. II. 75²², posiyāmasa 'we are nourished' Jā. III. 289⁷; 3. sūyanti M. I. 30¹⁹, sūyare Jā. § 137. The root jar (jṛ) 'to grow old', Skr. ṣiryati, gives in Pāli (besides ṣiriyati M. I. 188⁷ with Svarabhakti) the forms ṣiroti Jā. III. 38⁸ (Ind. Pl. 3. ṣiranli Dh. 151, Imp. Sg. 3. ṣirulu Mhvs. 22. 76) and ṣiyati (Ind. Pl. 3. ṣiyanti M. III. 168⁸, Med. ṣiyare Jā. VI. 528⁵, Opt. Sg. 3. Med. ṣiyetha D. II. 63²⁷) and ṣiyyati M. III. 246²⁰ (pariṣiyyati Th1. 1215). Cf. § 52. 5. From the root śar (śṛ) 'to wither', Skr. śiryati, -le, we have Ind. Sg. 2. scyysi (instead of siyyasi*, § 10) Jā. I. 174⁹, in Conim. = visiṇṇaphalo hoti. Similarly from root mar 'to die', Skr. mriyate, we have in Pāli mīyati (Ind. Pl. 3. mīyanti Dh. 21, M. III. 163⁹, Opt. Sg. 3. Med. mīyetha D. II. 63²⁷) and *miyyati*¹ Sn. 804 (Ind. Pl. 3. Med. miyyare Sn. 575, Opt. Sg. 1. miyye in miyyāhaṃ Jā. VI. 498²⁹). Moreover marati (as in Vedic) in Ind. Pl. 3. maranti Mhvs. spurious verse after 5. 27, Opt. Sg. 1. mareyyaṃ JāCo. VI. 498²⁰, 2. mareyyāsi JāCo. III. 276²².

§ 138. To Skr. jāyate from root jan. 'to be born' there corresponds in Pāli jāyati; to Skr. āhvayati from root hvā 'to call' the Pāli forms avhayati and avheti (§ 49. 1.): Ind. Pl. 1. avhayāma D. I. 244²⁵, 3. avhayanli Jā. VI. 529¹; Opt. Sg. 3. avhceyya D. I. 244¹⁶. Various roots in ā form their present-stems in the same way as jāyati, partly in agreement with Skr. (the roots in ai of the Indian grammarians), and partly deviating from it². Thus vāyati 'blows' besides vāli, Skr. vāti (Ind. Pl. 3. vāyanti Jā. VI. 530¹², Vin. I. 48³⁵, D. II. 107²³; also nibbāyati 'is extinguished' JāCo. I. 61³, Opt. Sg. 3. nibbāyeyya M. I. 487²³ besides parinibbanti Dh. 126, parinibbātu D. II. 105⁵). Similarly yāyati 'goes' besides yāti, Skr. yāti (Ind. Pl. 3. yāyanli Vin. I. 191¹⁸, Opt. Sg. 3 yāyeyya Vin. 191²²); gāyati 'sings'=gāyati; milāyati 'withers' S. I. 126²³=mlāyati; jhāyati 'meditates'=dhyāyati; jhāyati 'burns' (§ 56. 2.)=kṣāyati (viijhāyati 'is extinguished' Vin. I. 31²⁹); nahāyati 'bathes'=snāyati besides snāti; khāyati 'becomes clear' (Ind. Pl. 8 pakkhāyanti D. II. 99²³ besides pakkhanti Th1. 1034)=khyāyate; tāyati 'protects' DCo. 18¹ (Imp. Sg. 2. Med. tāyassu DhCo. 1. 218⁴ (verse))=trāyate besides trāti; antaradhāyati 'disappears' D. II. 109¹⁹, A. IV. 307²⁷=antardhāyate. In the same way is formed also bhāyati 'fears'¹; Ind. Sg. 1 bhāyāmi Th1. 21, Sn. p. 47, 2. bhāyasi Th2. 248, Sn. p. 47; Pl. 1. bhāyāma JāCo. II. 21²², 3. bhāyanti Dh. 129; Imp. Pl. 2. bhāyatha Ud. 51⁹, JāCo. III. 4⁴; Opt. Sg. 3. bhāye Sn. 964 and bhāyeyya Milp. 208²⁶, Pl. 3. bhāyeyyūṃ Milp. 208²⁰. Palāyati 'flees'=palāyate is inflected in the same way: Imp. Sg. 2. palāyassu DhCo. III. 334⁹, Pl. 2. palāyatha Mhvs. 7. 66, 3. palāyantu JāCo. II. 90¹⁷. Denominatives of the type civāyati, dhūpāyati (also sajjhāyati) along with forms like gahāyati, phusāyati, saṃkasāyati are to be grouped herewith so far as the form is concerned. Cf. § 186.

² On ghāyati and thāyati see § 132. The deviating forms get the upper hand in Pkr. according to Pischel, § 487.

§ 139. The formans aya is contracted into e also in the present-stems of Cl.X.—1. To this group belong verbs like cinteti 'thinks' Sn. 717, JāCo. I. 221³⁰=cintayati, pūjetti 'worships'=pūjayati, particularly however denominatives like kathetti 'relates'=kathayati, gaṇetti 'counts'=gaṇayati, paṭhetti 'begs'=prārthayati and the whole category of causatives. Similarly also bhemi 'I fear' S. I. 111² (verse) besides bhāyāmi and paleti 'flees' Dh. 49, Sn. 1074 besides palāyati (see p. 74, f.n. 4 and § 188). In the Gāthā-language both uncontracted and contracted forms are found side by side. In Sn., for instance, they almost hold the balance if the prose portions are left out of consideration. But already in the canonical prose contraction is the rule. But occasionally even later there are found forms like lappayati Milp. 227^{9,12}, pihayāmi, paṭthayāmi Th2Co. 239³⁰, mantayatha JāCo. II. 107²². The flexion will be clear from the following examples:

3. vāceyyuṃ D. I. 97¹⁴; tāseyyuṃ Milp. 209⁶.

2. The e-flexion has however extended its sphere on all sides, and verbs which originally did not belong to Cl. X were transferred to it. Thus from root vad 'to speak' we have not only vadati but also vaḍeti (the Causative is vādeti) Sn. 825, D. I. 36³⁰, Vin. II. 1¹¹, JāCo. I. 294²¹; bhajeḥi 'worship!' occurs in Jā. III. 146^{11, 12} for the usual bhaja, bhajāhi (Comm. bhajeyyāsi); to Skr. upahadati, corresponds Pāli ūhadeti 'defiles with dung'; maññesi Pret. Sg. 2. 'you thought' presupposes maññeti besides maññati; gañheti, without any Causative sense (the Causative is gāñheti), is the oft-used side-form of gañhāti 'seizes'. Instead of the usual akkhāhi (§ 140.2) there also occurs akkhehi in Jā. VI. 318²⁰ etc.

2. Athematic Conjugation.

§ 140. 1. An isolated form of athem. flexion after Cl. II. is to be found in *hanti*¹ 'strikes' Sn. 118, 125, Dh. 72, 355, S. I. 154³ (verse); also Milp. 214⁷, besides thematic hanati Jā. I. 432¹³, Milp. 220⁴, 2. Pl. hanatha JāCo. I. 263³, Opt. Sg. 3. haneyya Sn. 705 etc. Similarly veti 'knows' Th1 497=vetti. In other cases however the thematic flexion has taken the place of athematic in Pāli āsati 'sits' (Dh. 61; Opt. Pl. 1. -āseyyāma JāCo. I. 509¹) as against Skr. āste (Ved. also āsate), ghasati 'eats', lehati 'licks', rodati 'cries', ravati 'roars', abhi-tthavati 'praises' S. I. 190⁶ against stauti (but Ved. also stāvate) etc.—2. More numerous are the athematic forms of roots in ā, which are otherwise transferred to the flexion of Cl. IV. Individual examples have been given in § 138. Cf. Ind. Sg. 2. yāsi 'you go' JāCo. I. 291¹⁵, 3. yāti Sn. 720, Dh. 29, Pl. 1. āyāma D. II. 81¹⁴, 3. āyanti Th2. 237; Imp. Sg. 2. yāhi Mhvs. 13, 15, Pl. 2. yātha Mhvs. 14. 29 from root yā. Similarly Ind. Sg. 2. vāsi Jā. II. 11²¹, Pl. 3. pavanti Th2. 371 from root vā 'to blow'; Ind. Sg. 1. akkhāmi Sn. 172, Imp. Sg. 2. akkhāhi Th1. 168 from root khyā with prefix ā- 'to proclaim'; Imp. Sg. 2. sināhi 'bathe!' M. I. 39²¹ (verse), or nahāhi JāCo. VI. 32¹⁰ (besides nhāya Vin. III. 110¹⁵); Ind. Pl. 3. ābhanti 'they light up' Vv. 6. 10, patibhanti 'they become clear' JāCo. II. 100¹⁹ from root bhā etc.—3. The root i 'to go', after generalising the strong stem, has given rise to the forms emi, esi, eti; ema, etha, *enti*², both as simplex and also in numerous compounds. On the basis of such historical forms as eti (sumeti etc.) the pres.-flexion has been completely adapted to that of verbs like nī, ji (§ 131), or to that of e-stems (according to § 139) as the case may be. Examples are numerous: Ind. Sg. 1. pacceṃi D. I. 186¹, 2. paccesi D. I. 185³³, 3. pacceti Dh. 125, Pl. 1. paccema Milp. 313⁶, 3. accenti Th1. 231; Imp. Sg. 2. ehi Th1. 175, JāCo. II. 159¹⁵, 3. etu D. I. 179¹⁶, Pl. 2. etha D. II. 98²⁶, apetha DhCo. III. 201¹³; Opt.

¹ The form Imp. Sg. 3. sumāhantu D. II. 154¹⁷ is not quite certain. Buddhaghosa (DCo. ed. Rangoon, II. 165³⁰) reads -hanatu. So also in the quotation in Milp. 142¹⁸.

² The Pl. 3. is enti also in Pkr. Māh., AMāg.; Pischel, § 493. It is doubtful if inti in Jīnālapkāra is right.

Sg. 2. upeyyāsi Jā. IV. 241²⁴, 3. *pacceyya*¹ Nett. 93¹⁴, upeyya M. III. 173³³. The analogy of e-stems then also gave rise to forms like Ind. Pl. 3. accayanti Th1. 145, S. I. 109¹ (verse), Opt Sg. 3. accayeyya Sn. 781.—4. The flexion of the root śi should be judged precisely in this light. Forms such as Ind. Sg. 2. sesi Jā. III. 34¹², S. I. 110²² (verse) and Sg. 3. seti Dh. 79, Jā. I. 141²⁵ may be direct continuations of Skr. śeṣe, śete. After there was formed (as nenti to neti) the 3. Pl. sentī Sn. 668 (against Skr. śerate). And just as there are forms like ṇayāmi etc. besides nemi, kathayāmi etc. besides kathemi, so we have also forms like sayāmi Th1. 888, S. I. 110²⁶ (verse), sayati Vin. I. 57³⁰, Jā. II. 53¹⁶ (cf. Ved. śayate); Imp. Sg. 2. sayā JāCo. III. 23²¹; Opt. Sg. 3. saye Iv. 120¹⁰ (verse), Med. sayetha Th1. 501.

§ 141. 1. The present-flexion of as 'to be' is as follows:—

	Sg.	Pl.
Ind. 1.	asmi amhi	asmā (asmase Sn. 595), amhā (amhāse Jā. III. 309 ²⁷ , D. II. 275 ¹¹ (verse))
2.	asi	attha
3.	atthi	santi (sante Sn. 868)
Imp. 3.	atthu
Opt. 1.	siyaṃ , assaṃ	assāma M. III. 250 ¹⁵
2.	assa	assatha D. I. 3 ⁵
3.	siyā , assa	siyuṃ , assu .

The Medial forms in Ind., occurring only in the Gāthā-language, are innovations on the analogy of labhāma: labhāmase, labhanti: labhante. In Opt. the forms siyaṃ, siyā, siyuṃ correspond to Skr. syām, syāt, syus; the form siyaṃsu M. II. 239⁴ in Pl. 3. is remarkable. It is a new formation in the place of siyuṃ, just as in Aor. there is addasaṃsu besides addasum. The forms assaṃ etc. are derived from the strong stem like Greek etēn. They occur already in the Gāthā-language. In the post-canonical prose the forms of atthi are used mostly in periphrastic perfect. But they were more and more replaced by forms of bhavati-hoti. Quite frequently atthi is used, also with a plural subject, as a petrified form in the indefinite sense of 'there is'. Cf., e. g., DhCo. I. 41²⁵, JāCo. III. 126¹⁹ etc.—2.

¹ Also of the simplex the Opt. Sg. 3. is eyya. Cf. M. III. 159²⁶, where the proper division of words would be matam-eyya 'he goes unto death, dies.'

In the pres.-forms of the root brū the stem of the 1. Pl. Skr. brūmaḥ was generalised¹. We have Sg. 1. brūmi Sn. 458, Dh. 385, Th1. 214, pabrūmi Sn. 870, 2. brūsi Sn. 457, Jā. II. 48²³, Th2. 58, S. I. 810¹¹, 3. brūti Sn. 122, pabrūti Sn. 131, Pl. 3. pabrūnti Sn. 649; Imp. Sg. 2. brūhi Sn. 76, pabrūhi Sn. 599. Quite remarkable is the Imp. Sg. 3. brūmetu D. I. 95¹⁹; but the form is not above all doubts. This verb may be regarded as an archaism when it occurs still in the post-canonical prose (e. g., Milp. 327³). That is why brūmi is explained as kathemi in PvCo. 11¹².

§ 142. Present-stems after Cl. III. 1. A stem jaha- (besides jahā-) has been abstracted out of jahāmi from root hā- 'to leave', and it is the basis of the forms of the present: Ind. Pl. 3. jahanti Dh. 91; Imp. Sg. 2. jaha Th1. 83 (also jahi Th2. 508) and Med. jahassu Sn. 1121, Th1. 1219, Pl. 2. pajahatha S. IV. 81¹⁰; Opt. Sg. 1. jaheyyam JāCo. I. 153¹, 2. pajaheyyāsi S. IV. 350²³; 3. Med. jahetha (§ 129) etc. The stem jahā- in Sg. 3. jahāti Sn. 1. ff., 506, 539, pajahāti Sn. 789.—2. The stem daha- stands in the same relation to the root dhā- 'to set' (cf. particularly also saddahati 'believes' = śraddadhāti). The forms dahāsi, dahāti (§ 123) are older. From the stem daha- we have Ind. Sg. 1. samādahāmi M. I. 116¹⁵, 2. saddahasi S. IV. 298¹², JāCo. I. 426¹⁰, 3. saṃdahati Milp. 40²⁹, Pl. 1. saddahāma D. II. 328¹, 2. saddahatha JāCo. I. 222⁶, 3. dahanti Sn. 882, D. I. 92¹⁵; Imp. Sg. 2. saddaha JāCo. IV. 52¹⁸, Med. odahassu Sn. 461, Pl. 2. pidahatha Thūpav. 76³²; Opt. Sg. 2. nidaheyyāsi Jā. VI. 494¹⁷, 3. vidahe Sn. 927 and padaheyya M. II. 174¹¹, Med. saddahetha Jā. III. 192²⁶, Pl. 1. saddaheyyāma Milp. 330², 3. saddaheyyum S. II. 255²⁶ etc. The root dhā-, however, also takes the e-flexion, particularly in the Gāthā-language²: Ind. Sg. 1. samādhemi Th2. 50, 114, Pl. 3. odhenti Th1. 1233 = S. I. 190²⁰; Imp. Sg. 2. paṇidhehi Th2. 197, S. IV. 302²⁵; Opt. Sg. 3. saddheyya Jā. II. 446¹⁴ (Comm. = saddaheyya) etc.—3. From root hu (juhōti) 'to pour into the fire' we have the stem *juha-*³: Ind. Sg. 1. juhāmi Th1. 343, 3. juhāti S. I. 167²¹, Sn. p. 79.—4. The pres.-stem of root gar (jāgarati, jāgarati) 'to wake up' is jāgara- or (with the elision of a according to

¹ The form brūmi may be found occasionally also in Skr. In Pkr. we have AMāg. Ind. Pl. 1. būma, Imp. Sg. 2. būhi. In AMāg. the Ind. Sg. 1. is bemi, Pl. 3. benti. Pischel, § 494.

² On the basis of the 2. Sg. Imp. dhehi. Similarly in Pkr. Cf. Pischel, § 500.

³ As var. lec. we have jūhāti Sn. p. 79, and its Part. Pres. Sg. Gen. jūhato Sn. 428. Jūh- may be derived also from juv- = juhv- (Skr. juhvati S. Pl.).

§ 20 and the assimilation of gr jagga-. From the first we have, e. g., Imp. Sg. 2. Med. jāgarassu Th1. 411, as well as the Participles jāgarant Db. 39, Vin. III. 31³⁵ and jāgaramāna Dh. 226. From the second the Ind. Sg. 1. paṭijaggāmi JāCo. I. 438³⁰, 3. jaggati A. III. 156⁹, Pl. 3. jagganti A. III. 156⁷; Opt. Sg. 3. paṭijaggeyya Dh. 157.

§ 143. The present forms of the root dā 'to give' have had a multifarious development. There are found (a) the stems dadā- and dada-: Ind. Sg. 1. dadāmi Sn. 421, Th2. 245, 2. dadāsi Mhvs. 10. 50, 3. dadāti D. I. 103²², Sn. p. 86, Pl. 1. dadāma Th1. 475, JāCo. III. 47¹⁹, Med. dadamhase Jā. III. 47³, 3. dadanti Vv. 44. 25; Imp. Sg. 2. dada Jā. III. 412⁸ and dadāhi Jā. III. 109¹⁴, JāCo. III. 109¹⁷, Pl. 1. Med. dadāmase Jā. III. 131¹⁵, 2. dadātha Vv. 44. 19. Moreover Opt. Sg. 1. dadeyyaṃ Vin. I. 39¹⁴, S. I. 97⁷, JāCo. I. 254¹³, 2. dadeyyāsi JāCo. III. 276²¹, 3. dade Vv. 62. 5 and dadeyya Vin. I. 49²¹, Milp. 28¹¹, Med. dadetha S. I. 32⁴ (verse), Pl. 1. dademu Jā. VI. 317¹⁸ and dadeyyāma M. II. 116²³, S. I. 58¹³, 2. dadeyyātha JāCo. III. 171¹⁸, IV. 230¹⁸, 3. dadeyyuṃ.—(b) The stem de- abstracted out of 2. Sg. Imp. dehi: Ind. Sg. 1. demi JāCo. I. 307¹⁷, DhCo. I. 42¹³, 2. desi D. I. 50⁵, JāCo. I. 279¹⁵, 3. deti Sn. 130, S. III. 245⁹, JāCo. II. 154⁵, Pl. 1. dema JāCo. III. 127¹, 2. detha JāCo. III. 126²⁵, 3. denti Sn. 244, JāCo. II. 104²⁶; Imp. Sg. 2. dehi Th2. 49, JāCo. I. 254¹⁷, DhCo. I. 33³, 3. detu JāCo. II. 104⁸, Pl. 2. detha JāCo. II. 103²², 3. dentu Mhvs. 5. 179. Also Opt. Sg. 1. deyyaṃ Mhvs. 7. 31. Already the Gāthā-language knows the flexion demi etc. in Ind. and Imp. Along with the Opt. dadeyyaṃ etc. this can be regarded as the regular flexion in the canonical and the post-canonical prose.—(c) An old form which is met with in all the periods of the language is to be found in the Ind. Sg. 1. dammi Sn. p. 14, Vin. I. 39¹⁷, JāCo. I. 127²⁸, II. 231²¹, DhCo. I. 100⁹. It is derived from dadmi which is current in epic Sanskrit. Also Pl. 1. damma in Kacc. 3. 4. 1 (Senart, p. 452).—(d) The following Optative forms are also old: Sg. 1. dajjaṃ Vin. I. 148²⁵, 2. dajjāsi Jā. VI. 251²⁸, 3. dajjā Dh. 224, Th1. 468, D. II. 267¹⁰ (verse), S. I. 57²² (verse). They are derived from Skr. dadyām etc. and are a special feature of the Gāthā-language. The JāCo. I. 322¹⁵ explains dajjā by dadeyya. A present-stem dajja- or *dajje-*¹ was abstracted out of these forms. Hence, e. g., Imp. Sg. 2. dajjehi Vin. III. 217⁴ and the double-forms -dajjeyya, -dajjeyyāma Vin. III. 259^{25, 26}, dajjeyyātha Vin.

I. 282'. On the analogy of dadāmi : dajjam there was formed also from the root vad 'to speak' a similar Opt.: Sg. 1. vajjam Th2. 308, 2. vajjāsi Th2. 307, and vajja(?) Th2. 323, 3. vajjā Sn. 971, Jā. VI. 526³⁵, Pl. 3. vajju(m) Sn. 859, Jā. V. 221²¹. These forms too are a peculiar feature of the Gāthā-language; in JāCo. VI. 527⁴ vajjā is explained by vadeyya, as vajjāsi by vadeyyāsi in Th2Co. 228⁶.

§ 144. The present-stems of Cl. VII have generalised the weak form, and their flexion is thematic (a-flexion) throughout¹. These presents, therefore, have coincided with muñcati etc. discussed in § 135.3. Cf. kantati 'spins' (root kart, kṛnatti); chindati 'cuts off' (root chid, chinatti); bhañjati 'breaks' (root bhaj, bhanakti); bhindati 'splits' (root bhid, bhinatti); bhuñjati 'enjoys' (root bhuj, bhunakti); yuñjati 'joins' (root yuj, yunakti); riñcati 'leaves' (root ric, riñakti); rundhati (cf. § 60) 'surrounds' (root rudh, ruñaddhi); hiṃsati 'injures' (root hiṃs, hinasti). I give here a combined paradigm: Ind. Sg. 1. bhuñjāmi Sn. p. 12; 2. niyuñjasi Th1. 1114, hiṃsasi M. I. 39³³ (verse); 3. yuñjati JāCo. I. 149²⁸, Med. yuñjate Dh. 382; Pl. 2. yuñjatha Th2. 346; 3. anuyuñjanti Dh. 26, JāCo. II. 96⁷, riñcanti Vin I. 190⁵.—Imp. Sg. 2. chinda JāCo. II. 153¹⁸, chindāhi JāCo. III. 184¹⁷, Med. yuñjassu Th2. 5; 3. bhuñjatu Sn. 479, S. I. 141²⁸ (verse), Pl. 2. anuyuñjatha D. II. 141²².—Opt. Sg. 1. paribhuñjeyyam Sn. p. 91; 3. chinde Dh. 370, hiṃseyya Sn. 368, chindeyya JāCo. III. 65¹; Med. bhuñjetha Dh. 70; Pl. 3. sambhañjeyyum S. I. 123²⁶, chindeyyum D. II. 322².

§ 145. In the present-stems of Cl. IX, the form with the suffix nā has been generalised. The analogy of labhāmi : labhati has then led to frequent transfers to the a-flexion. The forms with the suffix nī have disappeared. Examples: 1. Root jñā (jñāti) 'to know'. It derives (a) from the stem jānā- (here I give also those forms in which the stems jānā- would coincide): Ind. Sg. 1. jānāmi Sn. 908, JāCo. I. 266²⁹, Med. jāne Mhvs. 37. 220 (ed. Colombo 170), 2. jānāsi Sn. 504, JāCo. I. 223¹⁵, 3. jānāti Sn. 276, S. I. 103²³, JāCo. III. 26⁹, Pl. 1. jānāma JāCo. VI. 337⁹, Med. jānāmasa Vv. 84. 47, 2. jānātha Th2. 346, JāCo. VI. 337⁹, 3. jānanti Sn. 441 etc.; Imp. Sg. 2. jānāhi Th2. 59, D. I. 88²², JāCo. III. 392¹⁸, Med. pajānassu D. II. 243²⁰ (verse), 3. jānātu Iv. 28⁹, 29¹⁰, Mhvs. 13. 13, Pl. 2. jānātha JāCo. II. 250²⁴, 3. jānantu.

¹ As also in Pkr.; Pischel, § 506 f. The nasal has been dropped tristricausa in the form Opt. Sg. 3. paṭisaṃyujis S. I. 221³⁷ (verse).

—(5) From the stem *jāna*¹ we have Ind. Sg. 3. avajānati Sn. 132, 438 (? metri causa), Pl. 3. Med. -jānarc Sn. 601; Imp. Sg. 2. jāna S. IV. 374¹³, viajāna Sn. 1091 (viajānahi under stress of metre Jā. III. 32⁷), Pl. 2. jānatha DhCo. III. 438¹⁴. I mention in this connection also vikkiṇatha 'sell' JāCo. I. 121²⁰ (as for the ṭ as against Skr. krināti see § 21). On jināti cf. § 131.—(c) The Opt. is regularly formed: Sg. 1. jāneyya(ṇ) M. I. 487¹³, Sn. p. 21, 2. jāneyyāsi M. I. 487¹⁴, DhCo. I. 125⁷, 3. jāneyya Mhvs. 23. 31, Pl. 1. jāneyyāma Mlp. 330⁴ and jānemu S. I. 34¹¹ (verse), Sn. 76, Vv. 62. 2, 2. jāneyyātha M. II. 215²², JāCo. II. 133⁵, 3. jāneyyūṃ Jā. I. 188⁶. Another type is found besides in the oldest period of the language: Sg. 1. vijaññam Sn. 482, 3. jaññā Dh. 157, Thl. 10, Sn. 116. In the Comm. on Jā. II. 42¹² jaññā is explained by jāneyya. This type is analogical, formed after the Opt. dajjam from dadāmi. The form jāniyāma Sn. 873 is very probably historical and the same as Skr. jāniyāma.

§ 146. Similarly in the case of 2. root grah (grhṇāti) 'to seize' there are side by side the stems gaṇhā- and gaṇha-: (a) From gaṇhā- we have for instance Ind. Sg. 2. gaṇhāsi DhCo. III. 57⁴, 3. gaṇhāti JāCo. III. 28⁹; Imp. Sg. 3. gaṇhātu DhCo. III. 200⁹, paṭigaṇhātu Sn. 479, Vin. II. 192¹⁵ (for metrical reasons paṭiggahātu Jā. I. 495²). (b) From gaṇha-: Ind. Sg. 3. gaṇhati JāCo. I. 303²³; Imp. Sg. 2. gaṇha JāCo. II. 159⁵ and beside it gaṇhāhi D. II. 102⁸, JāCo. I. 279²⁴ and Med. gaṇhassu DhCo. III. 302¹⁹, 3. gaṇhatu JāCo. I. 207⁸, Pl. 2. gaṇhatha JāCo. I. 111¹⁷, III. 126²⁵ or gaṇhātha M. I. 459⁸. The Opt. is gaṇheyyam JāCo. I. 255⁹ etc. On gaḥāyati see § 186. 5. Futures, Preterites, Infinitives and Gerunds are derived from the secondarily formed stem gahe- of the e-flexion (§ 139. 2).—3. Of the root mā (māti, mimīte) the present-stem is minā-. Cf. Opt. Pl. 1. abhinimṇineyyāma S. I. 124²².—4. The root bandh (badhnāti) 'to bind' has, as in Pkr. (Pischel, § 513) the present-stem bandha-, and is inflected, therefore, according to § 144. Cf. Imp. Sg. 2. bandha D. II. 350⁴, Pl. 3. bandhantu JāCo. I. 153⁷; Opt. Pl. 3. bandheyyūṃ Vin. III. 45¹⁷ etc.

§ 147. The present-stems of Cl. V are often transferred to Cl. IX. The formation of the present-stem with the suffix no has in most cases gone out of use altogether¹. Thus we have 1. from root ci 'to collect', against Skr. cinoti, the present-stem cinā- in compound. Cf. Ind. Sg. 2. pacināsi Jā. III. 22³, 8. vicināti Sn. 658, S. I. 149²¹ (verse), Pl. 3. vicinanti Vin. I. 133¹²; Imp. Sg. 2. vicina JāCo. I. 453²⁹ and vicināhi JāCo. III. 91⁶; Pl. 2. vicinātha Smp. 328¹⁹. On the analogy of roots like ji jeti the root ci too easily went over to the e flexion. Cf. § 131.—2. Also the root hi 'to send' gets in compound the present-stem hiñā as against Skr. hinoti. Thus Ind. Pl. 3. pahiñanti D. II. 321¹, 323²⁷; Imp. Sg. 3. pahiñatu DhCo. III. 34²⁴; Opt. Pl. 2. pahiñeyyātha DhCo. III. 318⁴.—3. From the root dhū 'to shake' we find, as against Skr. dhūnoti (in Dhātup. also dhunāti), the stems dhūnā- or dhūnā-. Cf. Ind. Pl. 3. dhunanti Th2. 276, o- saṃ-nid-dhunanti D. II. 386^{19,20}; Imp. Sg. 2. niddhunāhi Th1. 416, Pl. 1. dhunāma Th1. 1147, 2. dhunātha Sn. 682, Th1. 256, o- saṃ-nid-dhunātha D. II. 386^{17,18}. Also Ind. Sg. 3. vidhūnati JāCo. II. 90¹; Imp. Pl. 2. vidhūnatha JāCo. I. 335⁹.—4. The two stems suṇo- and suṇā- are derived from the root śru (śṛnoti) 'to hear'. Both are found side by side already in the Gāthā-language, and isolated forms of suṇo- occur also later. But the stem suṇā- is by far the more predominant one. In Opt. it is naturally the only stem in use: (a) Stem suṇo- in Ind. Sg. 1. suṇomi Jā. IV. 448²², Pl. 1. suṇoma Sn. 350, 1110, Vv. 84. 12; Imp. Sg. 2. suṇohi Sn. 273, D. I. 62²⁰, Milp. 315¹, Pl. 2. suṇoṭha Sn. 997, Vv. 84. 1, Milp. 1¹² (verse). (b) Stem suṇā-: Ind. Sg. 1. suṇāmi DhCo. III. 172⁷, 2. suṇāsi Sn. 696, 3. suṇāti D. I. 62²², A. § 148. Roots of Cl. V. with consonantal final are: śak (śaknoti) 'to be able to' and āp 'to get' mostly with pra (prāpnoti). 1. From the root śak we have (a) the present-stem sakko- = śakno- preserved in the Ind. which completely ousted the weak stem śaknu- and is met with in every period of the language: Sg. 1. sakkomi Mhvs. 32. 17, 2. sakkosi JāCo. I. 433²⁸, II. 214⁵, 3. sakkoti, Pl. 1. sakkoma Sn. 597, Vin. I. 31⁹, JāCo. I. 437¹⁷, DhCo. I. 90²⁰, 2. sakkotha JāCo.

¹ The same phenomenon in Pkr. Cf. Pischel, § 512 f. The root star (stṛnoti and stṛnāti) 'to stretch out' is inflected according to Cl. I. Cf. also Skr. starati, -te.

II. 405²⁵, 3. sakkonti Vin. I. 31¹⁶, DhCo. I. 23³. Beside it there is the stem (b) *sakkunā*¹ after Cl. IX (with Svarabhakti), whence Opt. Sg. 2. sakkuneyyāsi JāCo. III. 301²², Mhvs. 12. 18, 3. sakkuneyya JāCo. I. 361⁶; Pl. 1. sakkunemu Jā. V. 24²⁶ or sakkuneyyāma M. I. 457²². (c) Ind. Sg. 1. and 2. sakkāmi sakkasi JāCo. I. 290²³, 3. sakkati Th1. 583 is = śakyati; Passive sakkate 'it is possible' Nett. 23³ = śakyate.—2. From the root āp + pra we have (a) the present-stem pappo = prāpno : Ind. Sg. 3. pappoti Dh. 27, Sn. 584, Th1. 35, 292, D.II. 241^{11, 16} (verse), Pl. 1. pappoma Jā.V. 57¹⁸; 3. papponti Jā. III. 256¹⁸; Imp. Pl. 3. pappontu Th1. 603. All the examples belong to the Gāthā-language. The stem prāpnu- is to be found in the Opt. Sg. 3. pappuyya Th1. 364 etc. = prāpnuyāt. Beside it there is found from the earliest times (b) the stem *pāpuñā*² formed according to Cl. IX. with Svarabhakti-vowel. This is the only form used in the later period. Cf. Ind. Sg. 3. pāpuñāti Milp. 307⁸, Pl. 3. pāpuñanti Milp. 314¹⁸, JāCo. I. 150²¹; Imp. Sg. 2. pāpuṇa Th2. 432, Sg. 3. pāpuñātu JāCo. I. 150²⁵; Opt. Sg. 3. pāpuṇe Sn. 324, Dh. 138 and pāpuṇeyya S. § 149. A probable example of a present-stem of Cl. VIII is to be found in munāti 'comprehends, understands' Dh. 269. But itself it seems to stand for munoti* = Skr. manoti (Act. to manute, root man), with transfer to Cl. IX. I would explain in the same way also thunāti 'roars' from root *stan*³. We have to do here with a formation according to Cl. VIII. (and Cl. IX.). There is besides an abhi-tthanati and -tthanayati 'thunders' (§ 52.2) Jā. I. 332¹, JāCo. I. 330¹⁸ = stanati stanayati after Cl. X, just as beside munāti there is maññati after Cl. IV. The forms are: Ind. Sg. 3. anutthunāti Sn. 827, Pl. 3. thunanti Sn. 884, Vv. 52. 3, anutthunanti Sn. 901, nitthunanti VvCo. 224¹. Cf. also the Part. Pres. Sg. Nom. anutthunam Jā. III. 114⁶, explained in the Comm. as nitthunanto.—Present-formations of the root kar 'to do' are multifarious. We have (a) in Ind. and Imp. the stem karo- abstracted

² In Pkr. we have AMāg. pāṇai beside pappoi; Pischel, § 504.

³ Pāli thunāti cannot be connected with root stu (cf. Pischel, § 494) on account of its meaning, even though it remains difficult to explain (as in munāti) the u in the first syllable (? weakening before the stressed syllable).

Forms derived from this stem belong to the Gāthā-language and the artificial poetry.—(c) Stem *kara*² corresponds to Ved. *kāra*ti. 3. Future with Conditional

§ 150. In Pāli there are two types of future, derived from -sya-future and -iṣya-future of Skr. The flexion corresponds to that of ¹ Cf. Pkr. AMāg. kuvasi, Opt. kuvejjā; Pischel, § 508. Forms like Māh. kuṣasi, kuṣa etc. are however wanting in Pāli.

² Pkr. *kare*i etc. in Pischel, § 509. But again in Pāli there is no trace of forms like Pkr. *kare*i, Śkr.; in 1. Sg. there is, besides -āmi, also -am¹; in 1. Pl. there is -ma instead of -mas. For Type I the paradigm may be shown by dassāmi (vowel root)=dāsyāmi and lacchāmi=lasyāmi (consonant root), for Type II by karissāmi=kariṣyāmi.

	Ia	Ib	II
Sg. 1.	dassāmi, dassam	lacchāmi, laccham	karissāmi, karissam
2.	dassasi	lacchasi	karissasi
3.	dassati	lacchati	karissati
Pl. 1.	dassāma	lacchāma	karissāma
2.	dassatha	lacchatha	karissatha
3.	dassanti	lacchanti	karissanti

Examples of medial forms are : Sg. 2. gamissase 'you will go' Th1. 359; Sg. 3. hessate 'will be' Mhvs. 25. 97; Pl. 1. sikkhissāmase 'we shall learn' Sn. 814, lacchāmase Vv. 32. 9; Pl. 3. karissare Mhvs. 30. 55, vasissare Th1. 962, bhavissare Jā. III. 207⁹.

In the Gāthā-language (particularly in the 2. 3. Sg. and the 3. Pl.) ss may be replaced by *h*². Thus padāhisi Th2. 303 for -dassasi; parinibbāhisi 'you will attain extinction' Th1. 415; hāhisi 'you will forsake' Jā. III. 172²⁶ and viāhisi Jā. I. 298²⁸ from root hā; palehiti 'he will fly' Th1. 307 from palāy-; ehisi 'you will go' Dh. 236; ehiti 'he will come' Jā. II. 153¹⁸; karihiti 'he will do' Th2. 424 etc. Other examples in § 151 (at the end) and § 153. 1. On the i after h cf. § 19.1.

§ 151. The future is formed after Type Ia by 1. roots in ā: dassāmi 'I shall give' JāCo. III. 53¹⁴, DhCo. III. 190¹ (Sg. 2. dassasi JāCo. II. 160¹, Pl. 1. dassāma DhCo. III. 194⁹, 2. dassatha D. II. 96²⁶ etc.); ṭhassati 'he will stand' D. I. 46¹⁰=sthāsyati (Pl. 3. ṭhassanti D. II. 75²⁸ etc.); hassāmi 'I shall forsake' Jā. IV. 420²⁰ (pahāssam M. II. 100⁸ (verse))=hāsyati (Pl. 2. pahassatha Dh. 144), pāssati 'he will drink' Jā. VI. 527²⁰=pāsyati. In the oldest period of the language ā is not unfrequently transmuted into *i*³: pissāmi 'I shall drink' Jā. III. 432¹²; paccupadissāmi from root dā Jā. V. 221¹; upaññissam from root jñā Sn. 701, 716 (Pl. 3. viññissanti Th1.

708); parinibbissam 'I shall attain Nirvāna' from root vā Th1. 658; akkhissam 'I shall proclaim' from root khyā with ā Jā. VI. 523²¹; vyakkhissam Sn. 600; upaṭṭhissam 'I shall serve' Jā. VI. 523²². Mutation into e is rarer: hessāmi, -ma from root hā Jā. IV. 415¹⁹, VI. 441¹⁶.—2. Roots in u: soṣṣāmi 'I shall hear' S. I. 210⁹ (verse) = śroṣyāmi (Sg. 2. soṣṣi for soṣṣasi § 65. 2, 3. soṣṣati D. II. 181²). Also sussam Sn. 694 according to § 15.—3. Roots in ī and e-stems: jessasi 'you will conquer' Jā. II. 252¹⁵ = jeṣyasi; nessāmi 'I shall lead' JāCo. I. 222²³, II. 159¹⁴ = neṣyāmi (Pl. 2. nessatha Dh. 179 f.); pacessati 'he will collect' Dh. 44 f. = ceṣyati (besides pacissati Jā. III. 22⁴ according to § 15); essāmi 'I shall go' JāCo. VI. 365⁵, essasi JāCo. VI. 365⁶, essati Dh. 369, JāCo. VI. 365⁴, essanti Dh. 86 = eṣyāmi, etc. Similarly of compounds: pacessam Vin. I. 255²⁴, samessati S. IV. 379¹⁸, samessanti Iv. 70¹². Also verbs which have an e-stem in present take after this type. Thus nidhessāmi 'I shall lay down' from stem dhe- (§ 142 2); gahessāmi 'I shall take' JāCo. I. 263¹³ from the stem gahe- of root grah; sessam 'I shall lie' Sn. 970, sessati S. I. 83³⁰, DhCo. I. 320¹⁴ from stem se- (§ 140. 4) of the root śi as against Skr. śayisyate. (On hessati 'will be' cf. § 154. 2). The forms derived from the contracted stems of verbs of Cl. X and of Denominatives and Causatives are very numerous: Sg. 1. kathessāmi JāCo. IV. 139²⁰, saṃgāmessāmi JāCo. II. 11⁴, 2. kappessasi A. IV. 301²⁰, 3. pūjessati Vin. I. 105²³, damessati JāCo. I. 506³⁰, Pl. 1. dassessāma JāCo. I. 59⁴, 2. vassāpessatha JāCo. I. 253²⁶, 3. ropessanti Vin. II. 12¹⁶ etc. In the same way there came to be formed from anubhoti 'enjoys' (§ 131. 2) an anubhossati Jā. I. 500¹⁹, and with h instead of ss: anubhohisi Th2. 510 (anubhossasi Vv. 52. 18); from saṃbhoti a saṃbhossāma Mbvs. 5. 100, from pahoti 'suffices' a *pahossati*¹ DhCo. III. 264¹². Similarly from hoti (§ 131. 2): hohisi Th1. 382 and *hohiti*² Th1. 1137, Th2. 465.

§ 152. The type I b includes a number of historical forms, belonging particularly to the older literature. But quite a number of examples are found also in the post-canonical prose³. From root śak 'to be able to' we have Sg. 3. sakkhati Sn. 319 = sakṣyati, Pl. 3. sakkhinti Sn. 28, Fut. Sg. 2. sakkhasi A. I. 111⁶ or sakkhī (for sakkhisi*) Jā. V. 116⁵; also sagghasi with softening of medial consonants

³ Analogous futures in Pkr. are daccham, moccham, roccham, checccham, bhoccham, etc.; Fischel, § 525, 526, 529, 532.

(§ 61. 1). From root vac 'to speak': Sg. 1. vakkhāmi JāCo. I. 346² = vakṣyāmi, 3. vakkhati S. I. 142³², JāCo. II. 40¹⁹, Pl. 1. vakkhāma S. IV. 72⁸, M. III. 207²³, 3. vakkhanti Vin. II. 1²¹. From root bhuj 'to enjoy': bhokkham Jā. IV. 127²⁰ = bhokṣyāmi. From root chid 'to cut off': Sg. 1. checcham Jā. III. 500²³ = chetsyāmi, 3. checcati Dh. 350, Th1. 761. From root bhid 'to split': Sg. 3. bhecchati A. I. 8⁴ = bhetsyati. From root labh 'to attain': Sg. 1. lacchāmi M. II. 71⁶, JāCo. I. 395¹⁵ = lapsyāmi, 2. lacchasi Vv. 83. 5, M. II. 71¹, JāCo. I. 279³, 3. lacchati S. I. 114¹⁹, Pl. 1. lacchāma Jā. IV. 292²¹. From root viś 'to enter': Sg. 1. pavekkhāmi Jā. III. 86⁵, Mhvs. 25. 42 From root vas 'to live': Sg. 1. vacchāmi Jā. VI. 523¹¹ and vaccham Th2. 414, 425 = vatsyāmi, 3. vacchati Th2. 294. From root darś 'to see': Sg. 1. dakkham Th1. 1099 = drakṣyāmi, 2. dakkhasi S. I. 116¹¹ (verse) and dakkhisi Th2. 232, Jā. VI. 497¹⁵, 3. dakkhati S. II. 255²³ and dakkhiti Sn. 909, D. I. 165¹⁹, M. II. 202⁶, Pl. 3. dakkhanti Vin. I. 16³⁴. The forms mokkhasi Vin. I. 21¹⁸ (verse) = S. I. 111²⁹ (verse) and mokkhanti Dh. 37 from root muc = mokṣyasi, mokṣyanti have a passive meaning. These futures were apparently still felt to be such. Thus in M. III. 180¹ dakkhati stands beside ñassati and sacchi-karissati. But that the futural sense was already getting blurred is proved (already in the oldest period of the language) by doublets¹ such as dakkhisam (instead of -issam for metrical reasons) Th2. 84 (Comm. 89¹⁹: passissam); 2. dakkhissasi M. III. 51⁶; Pl. 1. dakkhisāma Jā. III. 99⁷ (Comm. dakkhissāma), 2. dakkhissatha M. II. 60⁵. Similarly Sg. 1. sakkhissāmi 'I shall be able to' JāCo. I. 290⁷, 2. sakkhissasi Vin. III. 19³³, JāCo. I. 222³¹, 3. sakkhissati DhCo. III. 176⁴, Pl. 1. sakkhissāma JāCo. II. 129⁵, 2. sakkhissatha DhCo. III. 80⁷, 3. sakkhissanti JāCo. I. 255²⁵,—in all of which the future-suffix has been added to sakkh- which itself is the future-stem of root *śak*².

§ 153. The Type I b includes 1. a number of futures of roots in r. A form karṣyāmi* is evidently presupposed by kassam Th1. 381, kassāmi Th1. 1138 (in the same verse karissāmi!) from root kar 'to do'. Instead of kassam there is also kāsam Jā. IV. 287¹³, and this leads easily over to the forms Sg. 1. kāhāmi Th1. 108, Jā. II. 257¹, III. 47¹⁵, Vv. 52. 17, 2. kāhasi Dh. 154, Th1. 1134, II. 57; 3. kāhati Jā. II. 443¹⁴ and kāhiti Jā. VI. 497², Pl. 1. kāhāma Vv. 84. 37, 3.

kāhanti Jā. VI. 510⁸ and *kāhinti*¹ Th2. 509. From root har with vi 'to sojourn, live' we have vihassaṃ Th1. 1091 ff. = viharṣyāmi*, 3. vihassati S. I. 157¹ (verse). Then with h Sg. 2. vihāhisi Dh. 379, and also the simplex Sg. 3. hāhiti Jā. VI. 500⁶. Instead of a we have i in the root-syllable in Sg. 1. vihissāmi Th2. 181, 360, Pl. 1. vihissāma Th2. 121; also Sg. 1. āhissam 'I shall bring in' Jā. VI. 523⁷ (Comm. āharissāmi); and further e in *vihessati*² Th1. 257. All these forms belong exclusively to the Gāthā-language.—2. Finally there are still to mention some difficult futural forms of the root han 'to strike, kill', occurring in the Gāthā-language and the canonical prose: Sg. 1. patihāṅkhāmi S. IV. 104²⁶ (= hanṅkṣyāmi* ?); hañchati Jā. IV. 102⁹ (Comm. hanissati); the Opt. hañchema Jā. II. 418¹¹ (Comm. hanissāma) proves that the futural meaning of the stem hañch- had become blurred. Finally I have to mention the Sg. 1. āhañhi 'I shall strike' Vin. I. 8²⁶ (verse), D. II. 72^{6,19}, which however may have to be emended into *āhañham*³.

§ 154. Futures of Type II likewise contain many historical forms. 1. Examples: Sg. 1. pakkamissam Th2. 294 = prakramiṣyāmi, asissāmi Sn. 970 = aṣiṣyāmi, khāḍissāmi JāCo. III. 52¹⁹ = khāḍiṣyāmi; 2. karissasi JāCo. III. 54²⁵ = kariṣyasi, harissasi JāCo. VI. 364²⁶ = hariṣyasi; 3. jayissati (besides jessati) Jā. II. 252¹⁵ = jayiṣyati (besides jeṣyati); nayissati Vin. I. 43¹⁷ (verse) = nayiṣyati (besides neṣyati), hanissati JāCo. IV. 102²⁵ = haniṣyati; Pl. 1. yācissāma Vin. II. 196³⁶ = yāciṣyāmas, vasissāma Mhvs. 14. 26 = vasiṣyāmas (besides vatsyāmas); 2. labhissatha JāCo. III. 126²⁴ = labhiṣyatha (besides lapsyatha), pabbajissatha Mhvs. 5. 199 = pravrajīṣyatha; 3. gamissantī Sn. 445 = gamiṣyanti, samanumodissantī M. I. 398⁹ = modiṣyante, etc.—2. The forms bhavissāmi, etc. = bhaviṣyāmi, etc. are historical, and they are the usual forms in the canonical and post-canonical prose. But beside them there are in the Gāthā-language (and artificial poetry), and archaistically also in the canonical prose, the contracted forms (§ 27. 5) such as Sg. 1. hessaṃ Th1. 1100, Jā. III. 224⁸ and hessāmi Th2. 460, 3. hessati Jā. III. 279¹⁸, Med. hessate Mhvs. 25. 97, Pl. 2.

² The forms of the root har have thus coincided with those of the root hā. Cf. § 150, 151.

hessatha S. IV. 179²⁴. Formally these forms have coincided with those of the e-stems of Type I.—3. According to Type II are derived future forms also from the uncontracted stems of Cl. X and Causatives and Denominatives discussed in § 187, and they correspond to the analogous forms in Skr. Thus bandhayissāmi 'I shall have bound' Mhvs. 24. 6=bandhayiṣyāmi; pālayissāmi 'I shall protect' JāCo. IV. 129¹⁵ =pālayiṣyāmi.—4. Also Desideratives (§ 184) and Intensives (§ 185) form their future after Type II: Sg. 1. tilikkhissam Dh. 820, vimaṇsissāmi JāCo. I. 390¹⁷, caṅkamissāmi ThI. 540; Pl. 1. sussūsissāma S. II. 267²¹, 3. sussūsissanti S. II. 267⁸

§ 155. The Type II has extended its sphere to an unusual extent within Pālī. Practically from every pres.-stem a future of this Type may be derived. Examples from thematic conjugation: 1. Cl. I. With reference to § 132: Sg. 1. pivissāmi ThI. 313, JāCo. IV. 2⁹, tiṭṭhissāmi M. III. 129¹³, vuttṭhahissāmi Mhvs. 36. 76; 2. pivissasi JāCo. With reference to § 135: Pl. 3. acchissanti Vin. II. 76³. Sg. 1. *muñcissāmi*² JāCo. I. 434^{13,19}; Pl. 3. siñcissanti Vin. II. 12¹⁷ etc.—3. Cl. IV. ¹ It is significant that in the commentaries future forms of Type I are frequently explained by those of Type II. Thus, of the example given in § 150, 151, 152, hāhisi is explained by jāhissasi, jessasi by jīnissasi, bhokkham by bhuñjissāmi, vacchati by vassissati. For all the new formations of Type II there are parallels in Pkr.; Pischel, § 520 ff.

² In both cases in passive sense; it therefore should perhaps be read muccissāmi. In that case also pamuñce 'may he be released' Jā. III. 236¹⁹, 237² should be emended to pamuccce.

Conditional.

§ 157. As in Skr., the Conditional is formally a Preterite to the Future. It is used as Irrealis of the present and the past. Excepting in compounds, the augment seems to be obligatory. The flexion is as in Skr., only the 3. Pl. derives its ending -amsu from the Aorist (§ 159. III). Examples are: Sg. 1. abhavissam JāCo. I. 470¹⁵ = abhaṣyam; adassam JāCo. III. 30⁶ = adāsyam; apāpessam (from Causative of *āp + pra*¹) JāCo. II. 11¹⁸; olokessam 'I would watch' or 'I would have watched' JāCo. I. 470¹⁵.—Sg. 2. abhavissa JāCo. II. 11¹⁸, III. 30⁶ = abhaviṣyas; āpajjissa DhCo. III. 137¹⁷.—Sg. 3. abhavissa 'would be' or 'would have been' Vin. I. 13³⁸, D.II. 57⁶, M III. 163¹¹, Ud 80²⁴, JāCo. II. 112¹⁶ (should it be read nābhavissa?), V. 264¹ = abhaviṣyat, *anassissa*¹ 'he would have died' JāCo. II 112¹⁷; adussa JāCo V. 264¹; uppajjissa DhCo. III. 137¹⁹, payojayissa, pabbajissa, pāpuṇissa, patiṭṭhahissa DhCo. III. 181¹⁶, akarissa DhCo. I. 147¹⁹, asakkhissa DhCo. I. 147²⁰ (should it be read nāsakkhissa?), III. 3²³, alabhissa DhCo. III. 4¹.—Pl. 1. alabhissāma and āgamissāma JāCo. III. 35^{10,11}.—Pl. 3. abhavissanisu Vin I. 13³¹—Here should be mentioned a series of medial forms of the Conditional in the Sg. 3. occurring in D. II. 63³ ff.: okkamissatha 'would have climbed down', *samucchissatha*² 'would have originated', nibbattissatha (root vart) 'would have come about', āpajjissatha 'would have been attained', alabhissatha 'would have attained.' The suffix is -tha as against Skr. -ta as in Pres. Opt. (§ 129) and Aor. (§ 159. II).

1 Pāp- was no longer felt to be a compound, hence the augment.

4. Aorist.

§ 158. The Aorist of Pāli is derived from old Imperfects and Aorists. Apart from the endings, it is characterised by the augment, which is however frequently left out. Wackernagel³ has succeeded in formulating definite rules according to which the augment is retained or dropped: 1. The augment is retained by monosyllabic verbal forms: adam 'I gave', agā 'he went'. Also acc-agā, samajjhagam (besides adhi-gam Th2. 122).—2. The augment is always retained, also in the later language, by dissyllabic forms derived from the Imperfect, the simple Aorist or the s-Aorist agamā 'he went', adāsi 'he gave', akāsi 'he did', avocum 'they spoke'. Also ajjh-agamā, pacc-assosi, pāyāsi.—3. In the two oldest periods of the language the use of the augment is arbitrary in the dissyllabic forms derived from the -iṣ-Aor.: alabhiṃ 'I received' beside labhi 'he received.' Omission of the augment is the rule in the post-canonical prose: khādī 'he ate', bhindi 'he broke'.—4. The augment is always retained by the trisyllabic forms (a) of the extended type (§ 165)

¹ It should be read as does Speyer, Ved. u. Skr.-Syntax, p. 60, foot-note 2: nassissā 'ti (more properly: yev 'anassissā' 'ti). Cf. also D. Andersen, PB. p. 119.

² E. Windisch, Buddha's Geburt, p. 39, foot-note, hesitatingly derives the form from Skr. sam-murch. In that case we would have to read sammucchissatha N. t. so R. O. Franke, WZEM. 8. 327.

³ Wortumfang und Wortform, GN. 1906, p. 154 ff. It was held hitherto that the use of the augment was quite arbitrary as laid down by Kacc. Cf. e.g. V. Henry, Précis de Gramm. Pālie, p. 88, § 220.

such as agamāsi 'he went,' addasāsim 'I saw' or (b) derived from thematic Imperfects and Aorists, such as abhāsatha 'he spoke'.—5. For the rest, forms of three or more syllables began early to drop the augment, at first quite at random, but regularly later in the post-canonical prose. Thus in the Gāthā-language we have still apucchiṃsu 'they asked' beside pucchiṃsu; but the forms which later predominate and finally usurp the field are dcsesim 'I taught', khādimha 'we ate', kathayimsu 'they related.'

§ 159. The different types of Aorist¹ may be classified according to origin.

I. Type. Example. root dā 'to give.'

Sg.	Pl.
1. adam Jā. III. 411 ¹³	(adamha) Jā. II. 71 ⁴ , Vv. 68. 4, 5
2. ado (adā) Jā. IV. 240 ¹⁴ , V. 161 ¹²	(adattha) JāCo. II. 166 ²¹
3. adā Sn. 303, Mhvs. 7. 70.	adū , adum .

This Type is derived from the root-aorist, Skr. adām, adās, adāt ...adus. The forms of the Pl. 1. and 2. are however taken from Type III (as against Skr. adāma, adāta).

II. Type. Example: root gam 'to go.'

Sg.	Pl.
1. agamam Th1. 258	agamāma (agamamha Sn. 349)
2. agamā Sn. 834	agamatha (agamattha)
3. agamā Sn. 408, Mhvs. 5. 42	agamum Sn. 290, Mhvs. 436.

This Type is based on the a-Aor. (Skr. asicam, asicas, asicat... asican) or the thematic Imperfect (asiñcam etc.). The endings -amha -attha are taken from Type III. But there occur also the endings -āma, -atha: akarāma 'we did', addasāma 'we saw', addasatha 'you saw.' Cf. § 162. 1, 3 —There are also medial forms of this Type: Sg. 3. -tha: abhāsatha 'he spoke' Sn. 20, vindatha 'he found' Th2. 420; Pl. 1. -mhase: akaramhase Jā. III. 26¹⁸; Pl. 3. -re, -rum: abajjhare 'they were bound' Jā. I. 428¹, amaññarum 'they thought' Jā. III. 488². The suffix -tha again shows (cf. § 129, 157) the aspirate instead of the tenuis. For -amhase (Type III) cf. § 126; -re and -rum correspond to the Ved. endings -re and -ran or *-ram*².

III. •Type. Example: root śru 'to hear,' kar 'to do.'

The u in assumha, assuttha is to be explained according to § 15; the suffix -mha according to § 50. 4 or 58. 2. The ending -ttha=-ṣta, instead of the expected -tṭha, is remarkable.—The medial forms are: Sg. 3. -ttha: udapattha 'flew up' (root pat) Jā. V. 255¹⁴ (conjecture by Fausböll), pāpattha 'he fell' Jā. V. 255²⁰; a new formation based on this pāpattha is to be found in the Sg. 1. pāpattham 'I fell' Jā. VI. 16²⁹; mā laddhā 'she should not receive' Jā. III. 138²¹=Skr. alabdha, but also *alattha*¹ 'he received' Jā. IV. 310³, M. II. 49⁸, S. IV. 302⁹, Sn. p. 107. The s has been dropped in all these forms as in Skr.

This Type is derived from Skr. iḡ-Aorist abodhiṣam, abodhis, abodhit, abodhiṣma, abodhiṣta, abodhiṣus. The form agamim is derived from the Vedic 'contracted' forms such as akramim, *avadhim*². Instead of -isaṃ we find also -issaṃ in Sg. 1. exactly as also in Pkr. (Pischel, § 516), e.g. adhigacchissaṃ Sn. 446; nandissaṃ S. I. 176¹² (verse). Besides -isum, -imsu there is also -um in Pl. 3., taken from Type II. Also Imperfects with i in Sg. 2. and 3. have contributed to the building up of this type. Thus abravī Sn. 355, Th1. 430 and abruvī Jā. Type I.

§ 160. The forms of Type I belong for by far the most part to the Gāthā-language, individual forms occurring also in the canonical and post-canonical prose. Mostly roots in vowels take these forms. Thus 1. root gā 'to go': Sg. 1. ajjhagam Th1. 405, Th2. 67, adhigam Th2. 122, samajjhagam S. I. 108¹⁰; 2. ajjhagā Vv. 34. 7; 3. egā Sn. 538, ajjhagā D. I. 228³; Pl. 3. ajjhagā Jā. I. 256⁷, Sn. 380, upaccagam A. I. 142²¹ (verse). To these belongs also the Pl. 1. āgamhā Sn. 597, though formally of Type III.—2. Root sthā 'to stand': Sg. 3. aṭṭhā Sn. 429=asthāt.—3. Root bhū 'to be': Sg. 1. ahum Jā. III. 411⁵, Th1. 316 as against Skr. abhūvam on the analogy of adam; 2. ahū Th2. 57, 190, PvCo. 11¹⁰ (verse)=abhūs; 3. ahū Dh. 228, Sn. 139, M. I. 487², ahud-eva S. IV 350¹²=abhūt; Pl. 3. ahū, ahum D. II. 256⁸ (verse), Mhvs. 2. 25 as against Skr. abhūvan on the analogy of adum. As for Pl. 1. there is ahum Th2. 225. The form ahumha belongs to § 163. 3.—4. The form akā 'did' Jā. V. 29² (Comm. akāsi)=Ved. ākur is also historical. On the analogy of adā: adam there was formed a Sg. 1. akam Jā. V 160¹ (Comm. akarim) to akā. Similarly assum 'I heard' Jā. III. 542¹, assu 'you heard' Jā. III. 541¹⁰ (Comm. assosim, assosi) presuppose a Sg. 3. assu*=Ved. āśrot. Historical are moreover Sg. 3. addā 'he saw' Th1. 1244=Ved. adrāk and Pl. 3. āgu

(root gā + ā) D. II. 258⁸ = āguḥ (new formation Sg. 3. āga D. II. 258²⁰ on the analogy of āha : āhu), and perhaps pāvā Sn. 782, 888 from root vac + pra.

Type II.

§ 161. What has been said at the beginning of the preceding paragraph applies also to the use of Type II in the different periods of the language. Examples: (a) Forms of Imperfect origin are Sg. 1. kaṣaṃ 'I ploughed', pavapaṃ 'I sowed' Th2. 112, pāpataṃ 'I fell' Jā. V. 70¹²; amaññaṃ 'I thought' Jā. V. 215⁶, adadaṃ 'I gave' Vv. 34. 8; Sg. 2. with primary ending apucchasi 'you asked' Sn. 1050; Sg. 3. papatā Vin. III. 17²⁶, asarā 'went' Jā. VI. 199⁷, amarā 'di+d' (Ved. marati, cf. § 137) Jā. III. 389¹⁸; Pl. 2. amaññaṭṭha 'you meant' Th2 143. Moreover Sg. 3. Med. ajāyatha 'originated' Dpvs. 5. 40, samapajjatha 'became' Jā. V. 71³⁸, upapajjatha 'originated' Th1. 30, abhassatha 'fell down' Sn. 449, samakampatha 'shook' Jā. VI. 570¹² etc. (b) The forms in Sg. 2. with the ending -o are Aorist-forms: mā pamādo 'do not tire!' Dh. 371, Th1. 119, S. IV. 263²⁰, 264¹³; āsado 'you came in, reached' Jā. I. 414⁶, Vin. II. 195²⁸ (verse); Sg. 3. abhida 'broke to pieces' Jā. III. 29¹⁷, D. II. 107⁵ (verse) or abbhidā Jā. I. 247²⁹ = abhidat, acchidā 'tore asunder' Sn. 357, asadā Th1. 774; Pl. 3. acchidum S. I. 35¹⁴.—2. A remarkable innovation¹ has taken its origin from the medial forms alattha, pāpattha of Type III (§ 159. III). As these forms came to be regarded as analogous to abhida there were formed after them also the Sg. 1. alattham Vv. 81. 22, Th1. 747, D. II. 268⁶, JāCo. I. 141²¹, DhCo. I. 51²⁴, 2. alattha S. I. 114¹⁴; Pl. 1. alatthamha M. II. 63¹, 3. alatthum D. II. 274²² (verse). Beside them there is also alatthamsu S. I. 48³⁴ after Type III. Precisely in the same way, from asayittha of Type IV (§ 169. 1), there has been evolved a Sg. 1. asayittham A. I. 186²⁹, and alabhittham Th1. 217 from an alabhittha*.

§ 162. 1. The Aorist of Type II of the root kar 'to do' is derived from the Ved. Impf. ākaram etc.: Sg. 1. ākaraṃ Jā. III. 206²¹, V. 70¹², 2. akaraṃ Jā. III. 135¹⁷, V. 69¹³, 3. akaraṃ Jā. II. 230¹⁵; Pl. 1. akarāma M. II. 214²⁷ and akaramha M. II. 214²⁸, 3. akarum D. II. 256⁴ (verse), Mhvs. 3. 33.—2. The following forms of the root bhū 'to become' are derived from an Impf. of Cl. VI (bhuvati*, cf. § 181. 2 with f.-n. 2. p. 168): Sg. 1. ahuvā S. I. 36² (verse), 2. ahuvā S. I. 36⁹ (verse), 3. ahuvā Jā. II. 106¹, III. 131¹¹, Vv. 81. 24; Pl. 1.

ahuvāma M. I. 93¹³, II. 214²⁴ and ahuvamha M. I. 93¹⁴, II. 214²⁵, 2. ahuvattha S. IV. 112⁸, M. I. 445²⁶, DhCo. I. 57¹⁰.—3. The root darś 'to see' forms an Aorist from the base drus: Sg. 1. addasam Sn. 837, Th2. 48, Jā. III. 380⁸, M. I. 79⁶, JāCo. III. 380²⁵ and, with primary ending, *addasāmi*¹ Th1. 1253, Th2. 135, S. I. 168¹⁸, Vv. 50. 12, 2. addasā S. I. 115¹⁰, 3. addasā Vin. II. 192⁷, JāCo. I. 222²⁰; Pl. 1. addasāma Sn. 31, Jā. II. 355¹⁷, S. I. 196¹⁸ (verse) JāCo. III. 304², 2. addasatha M. II. 108³², JāCo. III. 304² and (for metrical reasons) addasātha Jā. V. 55²³, 3. addasum D. II. 256⁷ (verse).—4. The Aor. of the root vac shows two series of forms. One series is derived from a thematic Impf. avacam*, the other form the Aor. avocam: Sg. 1. avacam JāCo. III. 280¹⁸, DhCo. III. 194¹⁷ and avocaṃ Th2. 124, Vv. 79. 7, S. I. 10²³, DhCo. III. 285²¹, 2. avaca Th2. 415 and (a)voca Dh. 133; 3. avaca JāCo. I. 294²¹ and avoca Th2. 494, S. I. 150⁴, JāCo. II. 160⁸; Pl. 1. avacumha and avocumhā M. II. 91²⁸, III. 15⁸, 2. avacuttha Vin. II. 297¹⁰, DhCo. I. 73²⁴ and avocuttha, 3. avacum Jā. V. 260⁴¹⁰ and avocum M. II. 147²⁹.

Type III.

§ 163. A considerable number of historical forms of this Type were retained in all the periods of the language. 1. Aorists of roots in ā. Thus from jñā 'to know' (ajñāsīt) Sg. 1. abbhaññāsim Vin. III. 5²³, 3. aññāsi Sn. 540, Vin. I. 18¹³, JāCo. VI. 366¹⁰, Pl. 3. abbhaññāsum Sn. IV. 11³⁰ or abbhaññāmsu D. II. 150³¹ or (under the influence of Type IV) aññāmsu JāCo. III. 303¹⁷. Also Sg. 3. pāyāsi D. II. 73⁸, JāCo. I. 223⁶, Pl. 3. abhiyāmsu S. I. 216¹⁰ and pāyāmsu D. II. 96²⁴, DhCo. III. 257¹⁹, JāCo. I. 254¹¹ from root yā 'to go' (ayāsīt); Sg. 3. pahāsi Sn. 1057 from root hā 'to leave' (ahāsīt). Similarly from the root dā 'to give': Sg. 1. adāsim JāCo. I. 167⁸, DhCo. I. 19¹⁰, 2. adāsi, 3. adāsi JāCo. I. 279¹⁷; Pl. 1. adamha Vv. 65. 4, Jā. II. 71⁴ and (with transfer to Type IV) adāsimha Th2. 518, Jā. III. 120¹¹, 2. adattha JāCo. II. 166²¹, 3. adamṣu JāCo. I. 222⁹. From root sthā 'to stand': Sg. 1. aṭṭhāsim Th2. 73, 3. *aṭṭhāsi*² Vin. II. 195²⁸, JāCo. II. 19²²; Pl. 3. aṭṭhamṣu D. II. 84²⁸, JāCo. II. 96²¹ etc. From root pā 'to drink': Pl. 3. apamṣu (sic!) Ud. 78¹¹. From root mā 'to measure': Pl. 3. pāmimṣu Th1. 469.—2. Aorists of roots in i. From root nī 'to lead' (anaiṣīt): Sg. 3. nesi JāCo. V. 281²⁸, Pl. 3. ānesum JāCo. IV. 137²², Mhvs. 5. 24 etc. From root ji 'to conquer'

(ajaiṣit): Sg. 3. ajesi Vin. II. 1¹². From root hi 'to send' (ahaiṣit): Sg. 3. pāhesi Th1. 564, Vin. I. 92³⁵, JāCo. II. 90¹², Pl. 3. pāhesum Mhvs. 25. 104. Forms of 1. and 2. Pl. are not attested. On Aor. IV. of uncontracted stem, see § 167. 1—3. Aorists of roots in ṣ. Cf. -ṣru § 159. III. From root dhū 'to shake' (adhauṣit): Sg. 3. adhosi Sn. 787. After this form was constructed also that Aor. of root bhū 'to be, to become' which became the predominant one in course of the development of the language: Sg. 1. ahosiṃ Th1. 620, JāCo. I. 106¹⁰, 2. ahosi JāCo. I. 107⁹; 3. ahosi Sn. 885 Vin. I. 28⁷, JāCo. I. 279⁸, anubhosi JāCo. III. 112²⁴, adhibhosi S. IV. 185³²; Pl. 1. ahumha Jā. I. 362¹⁹, DhCo. I. 57⁹, 3. *ahesum*¹ Vv. 74. 4, D. II. 5⁷, JāCo. I. 149¹⁹. The form Pl. 3. adhibhamsu S. IV. 185³² as compared with the Sg. adhibhosi is to be explained by the analogy of adamsu.—4. Aorists of roots in r. Cf. kar § 159. III². From root har 'to take away' (ahārṣit): Sg. 1. pahāsiṃ Th2. 99, vihāsiṃ Th1. 518, Ud. 42⁸, Vin. III. 4⁸, 3. ahāsi Dh. 3, pahāsi Jā. III. 85¹², Vv. 29⁸, Pl. 5. ahamsu Jā. V. 200⁸, also vihamsu Th1. 925.

§ 164. Historical forms are preserved also by roots in mutes and sibilants. Thus Sg. 3. *accheccchi*³ 'cut off' Sn. 355, Th1. 1275, M. I. 12⁴, A. I. 184⁶ = acchaitṣit fr. m root chid. In the same way, (a)sakkhi 'was able to' D. I. 96¹⁰, Vin. I. 10⁸, Milp. 5² may be derived from an aśākṣit* from root śuk (whence Sg. 1. (a)sakkhiṃ Th1. 88, Mhvs. 32. 43, Sg. 2. asakkhi DhCo. I. 16¹⁵); akkocchi 'howled' Dh. 3, Jā. III. 212⁶ from an akraukṣit* from root kruś; pāvekkhi 'entered' Jā. III. 460² from a pna-avaikṣit* from root viś. Old Aorist forms of the root darś 'to see' (adrākṣam, -kṣis, -kṣit, -kṣus) are quite numerous: Sg. 1. (ad)dakkhiṃ Sn. 938, Th1. 510, Th2. 147, Vv. 83. 14; 2. addakkhi Jā. III. 189²³, 3. addakkhi Sn. 208, Th1. 986, S. I. 117³ (verse), Vin. II. 195³⁵; Pl. 3. *addakkhum*⁴ D. II. 2 6⁶ (verse). The form addā 'saw' Th1. 986, 1244 is also very old. It is the Ved. adrāk. On the analogy of adā: adam there was formed also here a Sg. 1. aīdam Jā. III. 380⁶ (Comm. addasaṃ).

§ 165. 1. Double-forms such as akā: akāsi, adā: adāsi have given rise to remarkable new formations which are based on Type II, but are brought about by the transfer of forms of this type to the

² AMāg. Sg. 2. akāsi.

³ Also in S. IV. 205¹⁷, 207¹³, Iv. 47¹⁰ we have to read accheccchi taṇham.

⁴ Cf. Pkr. AMāg. addakkhu; Pischel, § 516.

mode of flexion characteristic of Type III⁶. Thus from addasā 'he saw' (§ 162. 3) there was formed an addasāsi Th2. 309, Jā. V. 158¹⁶ (Comm. addasa), and also Sg. 1. addasāsim Th1. 287, Jā. II. 256²², Pl. 3. addasāsum M. II. 98⁷, Vin. II. 190²⁴ and addasaṃsu M. I. 79⁵, Vin. I. 8³⁴. Similarly agamāsi 'went' Th1. 490, JāCo. I. 113¹², II. 160³, Mhvs. 4. 44 besides agamā; Pl. 3. agamāṃsu Vv. 80. 6, JāCo. I. 143¹, IV. 3⁵, DhCo. I. 64². In the same way Sg. 1. ahuvāsi(m) Vv. 82. 6 beside ahuvā (§ 162. 2); Sg. 2. avacāsi 'you spoke' Vv. 35. 7, 53. 9 and Sg. 3. avacāsi Jā. VI. 525¹⁴ beside avacā; Sg. 1. pivāsi 'I drank' Ud. 42¹⁴; Sg. 3. viramāsi 'ceased' Th2. 397 etc.—2. The Type III has been greatly extended due to the fact that e-stems of various origins form their Aorists on the analogy of ajesi, anesi (§ 163. 2) just as the ā- and ostems form their Aorists after akāsi, assosi. A few examples will suffice: Sg. 1. sesi 'I lay' Jā. V. 70¹⁴ (from seti § 140. 4), vadesi 'I spoke' DhCo. III. 174¹⁶ (§ 139. 2), kathesi 'I related' JāCo. III. 369¹⁷ (§ 139. 1), cintesi(m) 'I thought' Jā. VI. 570¹⁹, Cp. 1.8. 1, kāresesi 'I had...made' JāCo. III. 11²¹; Sg. 2. vadesi DhCo. III. 173²¹, paccesi M. I. 445²⁰ (from eti § 140. 3); Sg. 3. pūjesi 'he worshipped' JāCo. I. 422³¹, kathesi Vin. I. 15³⁶, JāCo. II. 154⁷, pidhesi 'covered' Mhvs. 24. 52 (stem dhe, § 142. 2, from root dhā with pi), aggahesi 'seized' JāCo. I. 52²⁵, kāresi, kārāpesi JāCo. I. 63⁴, 143¹¹ etc., saṃgāmesi (§ 187. 1) JāCo. V. 417¹⁷; Pl. 3. samesu 'they assembled' JāCo. II. 30¹⁶, pūjesu Dpvs. 16. 31, kathesu JāCo. II. 256¹⁶, aggahesu Sn. 847, kāresu JāCo. III. 1¹⁰ etc. Forms of 1. and 2. Pl. are not attested. On Aor. IV. of uncontracted stems see § 168. 4.

Type IV.

§ 166. The Aorists of Type IV occur most frequently in canonical and non-canonical prose. Quite a number of forms may be regarded as historical. Thus from root khād 'to eat': Sg. 3. khādi Mhvs. 6. 21 = akhādīt; from grah 'to seize': Sg. 1. aggahi Th1. 97 = Ved. agrabhim, 3. aggahi Jā. V. 91⁴ = agrabhit.—Similarly from root kram 'to stride' (ākramiṣam, ākramīt), with facultative lengthening of the radical vowel as is found also in Skr. in the case of various roots with a medial a: Sg. 1. pakkāmi Th1. 34, 3. pakkāmi Vin. I. 8¹⁶, JāCo. II. 110²⁵ and pakkami Mhvs. 19. 56; Pl. 1. upasaṃkamimha S. IV. 97⁸, 3. pakkāmu Sn. 1010 and pakkamimsu JāCo. I. 150¹⁸.—From root tras 'to fear': Sg. 2. mā vitthāsi Vin. I. 94³⁴. Various compounds of the root pad: Sg. 1. udapādi 'I was born' D. I. 13²³, 3. udapādi Jā. III. 29⁵, D. I. 235¹⁶; Pl. 3. āpādu 'fell into...'

D. II. 273²⁰ (verse).—Of the roots in ar the forms in ā may be regarded as historical. Thus from root car 'to live, do, carry on' (Skr. acāriṣam): Sg. 1. (a)cāri(m) Th1. 423, Th2. 79, 3. acāri Dh. 326, Sn. 354; Pl. 3. acāriṣu Sn. 284. From root tar 'to cross': Sg. 3. atāri Sn. 355 (= Ved. ātārit); Pl. 3. atāru(m) Sn. 1045. There are besides forms with ā, which probably have to be judged according to § 167: Sg. 1. (a)carim Th2. 107, Jā. V. 10¹⁶, 3. acari Sn. 344 and atarī Jā. III. 453¹⁸, otari JāCo. II. 154²¹; Pl. 1. vicarimha Th2. 305, 3. ācarimṣu Sn. 809, vicarimṣu JāCo. II. 96²⁷ and *atarimṣu*¹ Sn. 1046. Similarly from root kar: Sg. 1. karim JāCo. III. 393²⁹, 2. kari Th2. 432, JāCo. II. 22¹⁵, III. 276¹³, 3. akari D. II. 157¹³ (verse); Pl. 2. karittha JāCo. I. 263⁵, 492²³, DhCo. I. 64²¹, 3. karimṣu JāCo. II. 352⁸.—I give here further a number of forms a part of which are historical: Sg. 1. (a)labhim 'I attained' Th1. 218, Th2. 78, udikkhisam 'I noticed' Th1. 268, paccavekkhim 'I observed' Th1. 395 (cf. Skr. aiḥṣiṣṭa), nandissam 'I was pleased' S. I. 176¹² (Skr. anandit); adassim 'I saw' Cp. 1. 2, 2, saṃdhāvissam 'I ran through' Th1. 78, asevissam 'I visited' Jā. IV. 178⁴ (Skr. aseviṣṭa); Sg. 2. mā vadi 'do not say!' JāCo. II. 133¹¹; Sg. 3. vedi 'he knew' Dh. 419, 423 (= avedit), vandi 'he praised' Sn. 252, vasī 'he lived' Sn. 977, JāCo. II. 158²⁷, pabbaji 'he left the life of the laity' D. II. 29³⁰ (but Skr. avrajīti), pāvassi 'poured rain' Sn. 30 (Skr. avarṣit); Pl. 1. paṭikkosimha 'we disputed' M. I. 85³, labhimhā D. II. 147¹³, āvasimhā Vv. 65. 4; Pl. 3. khādiṃsu 'they ate' JāCo. II. 129²³, avattiṃsu 'they existed' Sn. 298, vaddhimṣu 'they grew' (Skr. avardhiṣṭa) JāCo. II. 105¹⁷, paṭikkosiṃsu M. I. 84¹⁹ etc.—With the exception of Passives, Causatives and Denominatives (§ 168. 3, 4), the secondary stem—the Desideratives (§ 184) and the Intensives (§ 185)—form their Aorist after Type IV; Sg. 1. abhisimṣim Vv. 81. 18, caṅkamim Th1. 272; Pl. 3. sussūsimṣu Vin. I. 10⁸.

§ 167. The Type IV became very productive, and that due to the fact that Aorists of this Type could be derived from all present-stems with the exception of those in long vowels (§ 163, 165. 2) in every period of the language². Examples: Thematic Conjugation: (1) Cl. I. With reference to § 180. 4: parilehisam 'I licked' Vv.

¹ It is quite clear that the variation between acāriṃsu and acarimṣu was partly determined by the word-rhythm.

² Aorists of other Types are often replaced by those of Type IV in the Commentaries: thus akkocchī DhCo. I. 42²⁰ by akkosi, ahanṣu in Jā. V. 200⁶ by āharimṣu, ekamha in Jā. III. 474 by karimha etc.

81. 21, VvCo. 316²⁰. With reference to § 131: The roots in ī form Aor. IV from the uncontracted stem (Aor. III from the contracted stem, § 165. 2): Sg. 3. ānaya Mhvs. 1. 30 (beside ānesi); Pl. 1. ānayimha JāCo. III. 127¹⁵, 3. ānayimsu JāCo. IV. 138³ (beside ānesum). Also from root bhū: Pl. 3. bhaviṃsu DhCo. IV. 15⁵ (Skr. abhāviṣus) beside the (possibly contracted) form ahesum. With reference to § 132: Sg. 1. nisīdīm Th2 44, paṭiṭṭhahim Cp. 3. 7. 3; 3. apivi Mhvs. 6. 21, nisīdi Vin. I. 1⁸, uṭṭhahi JāCo. III. 104²³, adhutṭhahi Th1 1131; Pl. 3. nisīdisum Mhvs. 7. 40 and nisīdiṃsu D.I. 118²⁸, uṭṭhahiṃsu JāCo. I. 202²¹, DhCo I. 20¹. With reference to § 133 1 Sg. 1. agacchisaṃ Th1. 258, adhigacchissaṃ Sn. 446, upāgacchīm Th2. 69; 3. āgacchi Sn. 37¹, samāgacchi Vin. I. 96¹⁵; Pl. 2. upagacchittha Mhvs. 5. 101, 3. upagacchimsu Vin. I. 92¹⁰. There are besides, particularly in Ceylonese manuscripts, forms with ñch instead of *ech*¹. Sg. 3. āgañchi Sn. 979, JāCo. III. 190¹⁹, upagañchi Cp. 2. 6. 9, D. I. 1⁹, II. 99², Pl. 3. upagañchum D. II. 99¹. With reference to § 133. 3 Sg. 3. āruhi Mhvs. 35 26; Pl. 3. ārum Mhvs. 11. 8 — (2) Cl. VI. § 170. It remains still to discuss a few isolated forms which may be interpreted in different ways. Thus we have in Th2Co. 85²⁶ (verse from Apadāna) the form dakkhisam 'I saw'. As dakkh = drākṣ- is already itself a stem of Type III (cf. § 164), the transfer to the flexional mode of Type IV is effected by means of the ending -isam. Probably the parallel forms in -isam and -im of Type IV have led to the new formation out of adakkhim. Similarly (a)sakkhissam 'I was able to' M. III. 179²⁸, A. I. 139¹²⁸, Pl. 1. sakkhimha D. II. 155², 3. sakkhimsu Mhvs. 8. 23 and sakkhisum Mhvs. 23. 11. Of course it may also be assumed that the future-stem of the roots darś and śak provided the basis to these new formations. Dakkhati and sakkhati were no longer felt to futures, but as presents (cf. § 136. 3), which now formed their Aorist after Type IV. An Aorist stem of Type III is however doubtless the basis of the form adāsiṃhā 'we gave' Th2. § 18 (Comm 295¹⁷ = adamhā), as well as of the form ahesumha 'we existed' M. I. 265¹⁻⁴. I am therefore inclined to consider all the forms referred to as 'double constructions' in which both the Types III and IV have crossed each other. This hypothesis seems to be more probable to me than the assumption that these are forms of the siṣ-Aorist of Skr. Also pamādassam 'I was unexerting' M. III. 179²⁹, A. I. 139¹⁻²⁸ is probably nothing but an elaboration of pamādam* (Type II, § 161) after Type IV, which might have been facilitated by the form sakkhissam which immediately precedes it.

5. Perfect

§ 171. With the exception of a few petrified forms, the Perfect has been almost completely eliminated from the Pāli language. Forms like *bubodha susoca*¹ (but cf. also jagāma Jā. 208²) as they are found, for instance, in the artificial poetry, are merely learned reminiscences. To set forth a paradigm for the Perfect, as is done by the Grammarians, is therefore unnecessary. The last vestiges of the perfect are: āha 'he has said' (= āha) Sn. 790, Vin. I. 40²⁸ (verse) M. I. 14¹⁵, JāCo. I. 121³ and its Plural āhu (= āhus) Th1. 188. Dh. 345, JāCo. I. 59³¹, Mhvs. 1. 27, to which was added the new formation āhamasu (after adamsu) JāCo. I. 121¹², 222¹⁴ etc. Finally, we have also vidā or vidum 'they know' (= vidus) Sn. 758, Th1. 497, Mhvs. 23. 78. The Sg. corresponding to it is the form vedi (§ 166), which is very probably = Skr. avedit.

6. Periphrastic Constructions

172. Traces of the use of the periphrastic future, as in Skr., are present in Pāli. Thus āgantāro punabbhavam (the copula has to be supplied) Sn. 754. Cf. M. II. 130¹⁶. A periphrastic Optative is to be found in .. iti ce, bhikkhave, pucchitāro assu 'if, you monks, would ask this' Sn. p. 135; cf. also bhavanti vattāro 'it will be said' M. I. 469¹⁴ and bhavanti upasamkamilāro 'they will come along' M. III. 111⁹. I mention here further tassa kumbhe patitāmi 'I will throw myself on his head' JāCo. III. 113²⁴, where we have either to read patitā 'mhi or to accept analogical contamination by the flexion of the simple future (patissāmi).¹ -

§ 173. A periphrastic Perfect arose out of the combination of the Preterital Participle with the copula². In the third Person the copula atthi is always omitted, and hoti is often so. Examples are numerous in every period of the language.—1. For Intransitive verbs we have thus: Sg. 1. pabbajito 'mhi 'I have retired from worldly life' Th1. 72; otipño 'mhi 'I have dismounted' M. I. 192⁶; sitibhūto 'smi 'I have been forsaken' Th1. 79, fem. sitibhūt' amhi (= -tā 'mhi) Th2. 15; āgato 'mhi 'I have come' JāCo. II. 20¹³; Sg. 2. ṭhito 'si 'you are standing' JāCo. III. 53¹², fem. sitibhūtāsi Th2. 16, gatāsi 'you are gone' JāCo. II. 416⁸; Sg. 3. uppannam (hoti) 'is originated' M. I. 180^{5,10}, nahāto 'has bathed' JāCo. I. 184²⁹. Pl. 1. vutth' amha (= vutthā amha) 'we have lived' JāCo. IV. 243¹¹, sitibhūta' amha (fem.) Th2. 6¹, āgat' amhāse D. II. 275¹¹ (verse); Pl. 2. āgat' attha JāCo. I. 20¹¹, jāt' attha 'you have become' DhCo. III. 59⁴; Pl. 3. āgatā Mhvs. 14 12.—2. In the case of transitive verbs the Periphrastic Perfect has naturally a passive meaning. Sg. 1 fem. mutt' amhi (= muttā amhi) 'I am released' Th2. 11; vañcit' ammi (sic! = vañcitā amhi fem.) 'I am betrayed' JāCo. I. 287²⁶; nimantit' amha, nimantit' attha 'we, you, have been invited' Vin. III. 10³⁷, 11³. The agent is in Instr. or also in Gen.-Dat.³, as, for instance, in Mahākaccāno Satthu c'eva samvaṇṇito sambhāvito 'M has been praised and honoured by the Master himself' M. III. 194², S. IV. 93²¹, or patto me āsavakkhaya 'I have achieved the conquest of carnal weaknesses'⁴ Th1. 116. In the case of certain transitive verbs the Periphrastic Perfect however sometimes assumes an active meaning: patto 'si nibbānam 'you have attained Nirvāṇa' Dh. 134. Cf. Vv. 53. 20, Mhvs. 4. 65 etc.—3. Also other tenses and moods may be expressed by the combination of the Past Participle with the auxiliary verb. Thus we have a Pluperfect Potential in patto abhaviṣsam 'I would have attained' JāCo. I. 470¹⁵, or an Exact Future in gato bhaviṣṣati 'he will be gone' JāCo. II. 214⁴ etc.

§ 174. Periphrastic constructions are further resorted to when continuous action, whether of the past or the present, has to be expressed. Formally they are combinations of Participle Present or Gerund with the Copula or Verbs with an indefinite meaning¹. We have thus 1. Part. Pres. with Copula; e.g. sayāno 'mhi 'I am lying' M. I. 57¹ (as also immediately preceding thito 'mhi, nisinno 'mhi).—2. Part. Pres. with tiṭṭhati. Thus te aññam-aññam patvā sarirāni lehentā atṭhamasu 'they were licking each others' body' JāCo. II. 31¹⁸, in which however the original meaning 'they stood there licking.....' can still be distinctly felt. Likewise in DnCo. III. 93².—3. Gerund with tiṭṭhati. Thus mūlam-pi tesam palikhañña tiṭṭhe 'attempt should be made to pull out even their roots' Sn. 968; mahantaṃ phaṇaṃ karitvā atṭhāsi 'he formed an enormous hood' Vin. I. 3¹⁸⁻¹⁹; hatthilaṇḍaṃ..... ekasmiṃ gumbhe laggitvā atṭhāsi 'remained hanging from a bush'. Cf. S. IV. 60¹⁵, Th1. 98, M. I. 247²¹ etc.—4. Part. Pres. with carati or vicarati. Thus nāññesaṃ pihayaṃ care 'one should not be jealous of others' Dh. 365; Bodhisatto ekaṃ upamaṃ upadhārento vicarati 'B. was busy thinking out a simile' JāCo. III. 102¹⁶. Cf. D. I. 26²⁴, JāCo. III. 16⁹; D. II. 287⁷ (verse), JāCo. I. 503⁵ etc.—5. Gerund with viharati. Thus paṭhamajjhānaṃ upsampajja viharati 'he has attained the first stage of the trance (and is continuing to be in that stage)' D. I. 37³. Cf. M. I. 33²⁶, Sn. p. 15 etc.—6. Gerund with vattati. Thus Gotamo ime dhamme anava-sesaṃ samādāya vattati 'G. is observing these rules to the letter' D. I. 164⁵. Cf. D. I. 230¹⁴ etc.—7. Gerund with voharati. Thus so tad-eva abhinivissa voharati 'he is holding on to it firmly' M. III. 210²⁸⁻²⁹. Cf. M. I. 410¹⁸.

² Exclusively these forms are used in Pkr. to express past tense, excepting in AMāg.; Fischel, § 519.

7. Passive

§ 175. The Passive may be formed in two ways: by means of ya, or by means of *īya*². The Passive formed with ya formally coincides with the Present-class IV (§ 136. 4). The ya is retained unchanged after vowels; it is assimilated to the final consonant of a root according to the respective phonetic laws. 1. Roots in vowels: Roots in ā: nāyati 'becomes known' Milp. 25⁸; paññāyati D. I. 93³, JāCo. I. 435⁵=prajñāyate; the roots dā and dhā have diyati (diyyati) Th2. 467, D. I. 144²⁵ and dhīyati (dhiyyati) D. I. 73²³, M. I. 37²³, ¹ Many of these constructions are reminiscent of the similar usage in Singhalese. Cf. Geiger, LSprS. § 67. Thus, for instance, kam pana te imam dhanam gahetvā va na gamimsu 'why have they not taken their money with them (in death)?' DhCo. III. 87¹⁵. Sgh. gen-enu, gena-yanu.

² Both the constructions are known also in Pkr. Fischel, § 535.

Milp. 289⁷=diyate, dhiyate. In ādiyati (śmād-, upād-) 'takes unto himself' (§ 136. 4) the passive has a medial meaning. Cf. Skr. ādatte, as well as § 176. 1. The root hā has besides hīyati (hiyyati) 'decreases' Th1. 114 (nīhīyati Th1. 555, pahīyyati S. IV. 31³)=hiyate also hāyati Jā. I. 181²⁰, DhCo. I. 11¹⁰ (verse), D. II. 208¹⁰, JāCo. I. 279⁹. From the root śyā 'to congeal' we have siyati Th1. 312, Vv. 335²¹=siyate. Roots in ṣ: jīyati (jiyyati) 'is defeated' Dh. 179, Jā. II. 75²², M. III. 170⁸=jīyate; parājīyati 'goes under' JāCo. I. 290²⁰; nīyati (niyyati) 'is led' Sn. 580, M. I. 371⁷=nīyate; parikkhiyanti 'they are being annihilated' Th2. 347=kṣīyate Root bhū: anubhūyati 'is enjoyed' VvCo. 181²⁰; root śru 'to hear': sūyati (suyyati) Jā. IV. 141²⁰, VI. 528³⁰ M. I. 30¹⁹, JāCo. I. 72¹, Milp. 152¹².—2. Roots in r: root kar 'to do': kayirati (§ 47. 2) Dh. 292, S. I. 180⁸ (verse), Vin. II. 289¹⁷=karyate*; root par 'to fill': *pūratī*¹ Dh. 121 f., Jā. I. 498²², JāCo. I. 460²⁷=pūryate; cf. moreover forms of root har: parihīrati 'is avoided' Th1. 453, Sn. 205, saṃhīrati 'is fettered' M. III. 188²⁸, 189⁷, and also of root bhar. *anubhīrati*² 'is carried to' M. III. 123²⁰.—3. Roots in consonants: vuccati 'is spoken' Dh. 63, D. I. 163²=ucyate; paccati 'is cooked'=pacyate; lujjati 'falls to pieces' (§ 44)=rujyate; kacchati 'is related' M. II. 253²¹=kathyate; vijjati 'exists' Th1. 132, Sn. 21, D. I. 18²⁴=vidyate; bajjhati 'is bound' Th1. 137, JāCo. I. 428¹⁷=badhyate; bhaññati 'is spoken' Vin. I. 11³³, JāCo. I. 444¹⁸=bhaṇyate; haññati 'is killed'=hanyate; patāyanti (root tan) 'they arise out of.....' D. III. 201¹⁷ (verse), Jā. III. 283¹⁶=*pratāyante*³; vuppati 'is sown' Th1. 530=upyate; dissati 'is seen' Th1. 44, Vin. I. 16¹²=dṛśyate; kassate 'is ploughed' Th1. 530=kṛṣyate; gayhati 'is seized' (§ 49) Vin. I. 88³⁵=gṛhyate; ḍayhati 'is burnt' Sn. 63, Vin. I. 109²⁴, M. III. 184¹¹ (viḷayhase Jā. II. 220¹²)=dahyate; vuyhati 'is carried away' Th1. 89, Vin. I. 106²¹ (nibbuyhati 'saves himself' Th2. 468)=uhyate.

§ 176. The construction with īya is found very frequently 1. in Causative (and analogous) stems⁴. Thus bhājiyati 'is divided' Ud.

² I believe that hriyate, bhriyate at first became hriyate*, bhriyate* through metathesis, and then hīrati, bhīrati like pūratī. In the same way is formed also kīrati 'is treated' Th1. 143 from root kar.

³ E. Müller, PGr. p. 121. Not so O. Franke, WZKM. 8. 323

⁴ The corresponding forms in Pkr. are Māh. kārijjai, chejjanti etc. Pischel, § 543.

48²⁴ from bhājeti (root bhaj)=bhājyate; paricāriyati 'is served' Vin. I. 15⁴, D. II. 325⁹ from paricāreti; dassiyati 'is shown' D. II. 124¹⁰ from dasseti=darśiyate; addiyati 'is pained' Th2. 140=ardiyate; paññāpiyati 'is elucidated' DhCo. 118¹⁴ from paññāpeti (root jñā); vesiyati 'is introduced' M. I. 88²⁵ from veseti; sodhiyati 'is purified' Bu. 2. 40 from sodheti=sodhiyate; posiyati 'is nourished' Jā. III. 289⁷, JāCo. I. 492¹² from poseti. Similarly sāriyati 'is reminded', māriyati 'is killed', codiyati 'is impelled' etc. Also pūjiyati 'is worshipped' Mhvs. 17. 17 from pūjeti of Cl. X. Sometimes the causative meaning cannot be traced in such Passives. Thus vediyati 'is made to experience, feels' M. I. 59¹², A. I. 141⁶ from vedeti (root vid); vādiyati 'is made to speak, speaks' Sn. 824, 832. The Passive has medial meaning in sādiyati 'enjoys for himself, takes pleasure in' Vin. II. 294²⁰, III. 29¹⁸, D. I. 166⁴ from sādeti* (=Skr. svādayati) from root *svad*¹.—2. Passives may be constructed with īya also from various Present-stems². Firstly, in the case of a number of verbs of which the Present-stem is the same as the root. Thus yāciyati 'is asked for' Mlvs. 7. 14 from root yāc; pucchīyati 'is asked' DhCo. I. 10¹⁰ from the weak-grade root pr; samanugāhiyamāna 'interrogated regarding motives' A. V. 156⁸ from root gāh etc. In the words quoted above the Pālī form is distinguished from the Skr.-form only by the Svarabhakti; cf. Skr. yācyate, prachyate, gāhyate. But we have also harīyati 'is carried away' M. III. 148¹⁴ from harati, as against Skr. hriyate = hīrati; yuñjiyati in samanuyuñjiyamāna 'extorted, interrogated' A. V. 156⁸ from yuñjati (§ 144)—3. We have a 'double-construction' in which a new Pass. in īya is derived from a Passive-st. formed according to § 175. 3 in parichijjiyamāna 'clearly marked off' DhCo. I. 22¹, 35¹⁸ from chijjati=chidyate. Similar double-construction also in an-upalabbhiyamāna from upa labhati=upa-labhyate S. III. 112⁸, A. I. 174¹¹.

§ 177. The flexion of the Passive is like that of a verb of Cl. IV. For the Present-system cf. § 136. 4, for the Future § 155. 3, for the Aorist³ § 168. 3. The Sg. 3. Aor. Pass. in i derived from the strong-grade form of the root has been retained in a few isolated forms:

¹ In Sn. 281 I am inclined to read abhinibbajjiyātha 'avoid!' from root varj, varjayati and explain the Pa-sive form in the same way. If we read abhinibbajjiyātha (root vid) then it would be a case of "double-construction."

² These forms are more frequent in Pkr. than in Pālī. Cf. Fischel, § 536 ff.

³ An Aor. from the Passive-stem is found only in AMāg. in Pkr., a Future however almost in all the dialects. Fischel, § 549.

abhedi 'was destroyed' and nirodhi Ud. 99¹² (verse) = abhedi, aroahi; samatāni 'stretched itself out' D. III. 85¹¹ = alāni.

8. Causative

§ 178. Many Causatives in Pāli are historical continuations of corresponding constructions in Skr. The formans aya may be contracted to *e*¹. 1. Unmodified roots. pāpeti 'makes attain' JāCo. I. 223¹⁴, II. 11⁸ (root āp with pra) = prāpayati; saṃsandeti 'joins together' JāCo. I. 403¹⁹ = syandayati. Similarly with roots with medial r and l: dasseti 'shows' Thl. 86, Dh. 83, JāCo. III. 276⁴ = darśayati; kappeti 'performs' Sn. 295, JāCo. I. 140²⁶ = kalpayati. Cf. chadḍeti = charadayati; vatteti = vartayati; vaddheti = vaḍḍhayati; vissajjati = visarjayati; haṃseti = harṣayati — 2. Roots with medial a before a single consonant (a) the a is lengthened as in Skr. Thus vādeti 'makes speak, plays (musical instrument)' Sn. 1010, Jā. I. 293²³, JāCo. II. 110⁷ = vādayati; ubbāhetti 'heaves up' D. II. 847¹⁷ = udvāhaya; hāseti 'makes laugh' Vin. III. 84²¹ = hāsayati. Similarly gāhetti = grāhayati; tāpeti = tāpayati; pāpeti = pāpayati — pādeti = pādayati; -yādeti (§ 38. 3) = -yādayati; vāseti = vāsayati; sādeti = sādayati; sāmeti = sāmayati. For lābheti* as against lambhayati we have labbheti 'lets attain' Vin. IV. 5³⁸ (verse) = JāCo. I. 193¹⁰, DhCo. III. 213¹⁰. From roots with final r: kāreti 'causes to do' Jā. III. 394⁷, JāCo. I. 107²¹ etc. = kārayati; pūreti 'fills' Sn. 30, 305, Jā 'o. II. 1¹⁹ etc. = pūrayati. Similarly tāreti = tārayati; -thāreti = -stārayati; dhāreti = dhārayati, māreti = mārayati; vāreti 'holds back' and 'chooses' = vārayati; sāreti = sārayati; sāreti = smārayati. — (b) The a remains short as also in Skr. in gameti 'makes go' M. III. 166²¹, A.I. 141² (āgameti 'wants' Vin. I. 78⁶, JāCo. II. 21¹⁴) = gamayati. Similarly janeti = janayati, dameti = damayati; yameti Dh. 37, 380 = yamayati; bhameti Mhvs. 23 80 = bhrāmayati. — (c) The quantity varies: jāleti 'kindles' (ā Mulp. 47², ā JāCo. II. 44¹, 104²⁷) = jvālayati; namayanti 'they bend' Dh. 80, Thl. 19, but paṇāmeti 'sends away, stretches out' Jā. II. 28¹², Vin. I. 5²³, II. 303¹³ etc., (in Skr. only namayati); nikkhāmeti 'lets go out' (ā JāCo. II. 112¹², ā Vin. I. 187²⁵, 188¹⁵, JāCo. III. 99¹⁰) = kramayati, niṣkrāmayati.

§ 179. Causative stems 3. of roots with non-final i, u: chadeti 'causes to be cut off' Jā. III. 179¹⁷, Mhvs. 21. 18 = chedayati (root chid); ḍeseti 'shows, teaches' Sn. 722, Vin. I. 5⁴, D. I. 195²¹, JāCo. II. 12²⁴ =

deḥayati (root dis); paveṭti 'lets enter, introduces' Vin. III. 29², M. III. 169¹⁶, JāCo. I. 419²³=praveḥayati; codeti 'pushes forward' Dh. 379, Vin. I. 114¹⁶, A. V. 79⁹=codayati (root cod); sodheti 'purifies' Dh. 141, M. I. 39¹⁸ (verse), Vin. I. 47³², JāCo. I. 291¹=śodhayati. Similarly peseti=preṣayati (root iṣ with pra); ceteti Vv. 84. 40, D. I. 184¹⁸, Vin. III. 19³⁸=cetayati (root cit); vedeti=vedayati; sineheti 'makes tender' Milp. 172⁹=snehayati; poseti=poṣayati; āroceti=ārocayati; bhojeti=bhojayati; yojeti=yojayati; palobhketi=pralobhayati; soceti=śocayati.—4. From roots with final ī, ū: bhāyate 'frightens' Jā. III. 99¹⁴=bhāyayati (root bhī); cāveti 'drives forth' Sn. 442, Vin. I. 120³²=cyāvayati (root cyu); bhāveti 'brings about' Thl. 83, 166, Jā. II. 22²⁵, D. II. 79¹⁴, JāCo. I. 415⁵=bhāvayati; sāveti 'lets hear, proclaims' Jā. III. 437¹², Vin. I. 36⁶, JāCo. I. 344¹⁴, Mhvs. 5. 238=śrāvayati. Also nāyeti=nāyayati from root *nī*¹, as well as opilāpeti (§ 89. 6)=plāvayati and hāpeti (ibid.)=hāvayati from roots plu, hu—5. Miscellaneous: In agreement with Skr. the root duṣ (dussati 'is defiled' Vin. I. 188¹⁷) forms the Causative dūseti 'defiles, in ult.' Jā. I. 454¹⁶, Vin. I. 85¹⁷, JāCo. I. 358²⁸=dūṣayati; padoseti Sn. 659, S. IV. 70³² (verse), M. I. 186¹⁸ (in the parallel passage M. I. 129¹⁶ -dūs-); from han we have ghāleti 'causes to be killed' Sn. 629, Dh. 129, S. I. 116³⁹, JāCo. I. 255⁵, Mhvs. 6. 41=ghālayati; from root pri: pīṇeti 'pleases' D. I. 51¹⁵, Mhvs. 36. 77, Rasav. II. 96²⁰=prīṇayati. The Causative is based on the Pres.-stem in nacceti 'causes to dance' D. I. 185²¹, DhCo. III. 281¹⁴ from naccati (§ 186); laggeti 'hangs up' JāCo. III. 107¹⁴, DhCo. I. 138² from laggati (ibid.).

§ 180. As in Skr., the roots in ā take the formantic element paya, pe. And as in Skr. some roots may shorten the ā, the vowel in some cases is of variable quantity—even in those roots which are never shortened in Skr.² 1. Examples: dāpeti 'causes to give' Vin. I. 55³⁷, JāCo. IV. 188¹=dāpayati, but samāddāpeti 'causes to take, exhorts'; nīdhāpeti 'causes to lay down' Mhvs. 20. 12, nīddhāpeti 'turns out' Jā. IV. 41²⁶=dhāpayati; vijjhāpeti 'extinguishes' Vin. I. 31²⁶ (root kṣā § 56. 2); ñāpeti 'causes to know, informs' Vin. I. 56³⁰, JāCo. II. 133²⁶, paññāpeti 'explains, designates', āṇāpeti 'orders' (§ 68. 2) etc.=ñāpayati; māpeti 'causes to measure', nimmāpeti 'causes to build'=māpayati; yāpeti 'passes (time), lives on.....' Jā. VI. 532¹⁵, D. I. 166¹², JāCo. III. 67²¹=yāpayati; nibbāpeti 'extinguishes' D. II.

164¹⁷, JāCo. I. 472¹⁰=nirvāpayati; thāpēti 'establishes' (ā) Dh. 40, Th1. 38, D. I. 120³³, JāCo. I. 223²¹, (ā) Sn. 112, A. II. 46¹² (verse) with numerous compounds=sthāpayati; nahāpeti 'bathes (trans.)' D. I. 93⁶, II. 19²⁵, JāCo. I. 166²⁰=snāpayati; hāpeti 'causes to leave, releases' (JPTS. 1906-7, p. 163)=*hīpayati*¹.—2. The course of this type was taken also by some other roots, as also in Skr. Thus ropeti 'plants' Sn. 208, Vin. II. 2²², JāCo. II. 37⁵, āropeti 'causes to climb up', (v)oropeti 'robs'=ropayati (besides rohayati) from root ruh; ussāpeti 'raises up' (§ 58. 3)=ucchrāpayati from root śri with ud; jāpeti 'causes to conquer' S. I. 116¹⁹, M. I. 281²³=jāpayati from root ji. Peculiar to Pāli is the form *ānāpeti*² 'causes to be brought' Vin. I. 116¹⁷, JāCo. III. 391²⁴, Mhvs. 9. 25 from root nī with ā—3. From root pā we have pāyeti 'gives to drink' Vin. II. 289²⁰, D. II. 19¹⁴, JāCo. III. 98¹, VI. 336³³ (Skr. pāyayati).

§ 181. Numerous new forms were constructed after the Causatives of roots in ā. The formantic elements āpaya, āpe serve 1. to form causatives out of all Present-stems, and 2. to form new double-causatives out of older causatives. These new formations are not yet current in the Gāthā-language, but are met with already in the canonical prose and are unusually numerous later. 1. Causatives from Present-stems³. With reference to § 130: vasāpeti JāCo. I. 290¹², II. 27¹⁶; paccāpeti JāCo. II. 15²⁴; khamāpeti 'excuses' Vin. I. 54¹³, JāCo. II. 29²³, Mhvs. 4. 40; sandāpeti Milp. 122²; harāpeti JāCo. DhCo. I. 25¹³.

§ 182. The number of 2. Double-causatives too is very large. With reference to § 178. 1, 2: kappāpeti D. I. 49²², II. 189²⁷, JāCo. II. 96¹⁷, chaḍḍāpeti JāCo. I. 357¹⁵; vaḍḍhāpeti JāCo. I. 455²⁸; vissajjāpeti JāCo. I. 294²⁸, II. 31⁶, Mhvs. 6. 48; gāhāpeti JāCo. I. 166¹⁹, II. 37¹²; paṭiyādāpeti D. II. 88¹⁴, 127⁵, JāCo. I. 453⁹; adhivāsāpeti JāCo. I. 254²²; kārāpeti Vin. I. 89¹³; ohārāpeti 'causes to decrease' Vin. I. 22¹²; mārāpeti JāCo. II. 417^{9,12}, Mhvs. 22. 19; pūrāpeti Mhvs. 35. 7. With reference to § 179: chedāpeti D. I. 52²², Mhvs. 35. 42; sodhāpeti JāCo. I. 305³, II. 19²⁷, Mhvs. 25. 5; yojāpeti D. II. 95¹⁸, 96³; posāpeti JāCo. I. 290¹⁴; ārocāpeti D. II. 127⁶, JāCo. I. 153⁵; ghātāpeti Vin. I. 277⁷; laggāpeti Mhvs. 33. 11. With reference to § 180: ṭhapāpeti JāCo. II. 20¹⁷, Mhvs. 36. 104; ropāpeti D. II. 179¹⁵, Smp. 341¹⁰, Mhvs. 34. 40. The form ceṭāpeti 'causes to collect' Vin. IV. 250¹³ ff. is remarkable. Formally it is a double-causative from ceṭeti, but, as the meaning shows, it belongs to the root ci 'to collect'. The double-causative meaning has often become obscure in the forms reviewed above, but in some cases it is still quite clear. Thus, e.g., when in Vin. I. 49¹⁵ vinodāpeti occurs in the immediate vicinity of vinodeti, or when the simple Causative is derived from a basic transitive-verb and through further suffixation becomes a double transitive, as in the case of ṭhapeti and ṭhapāpeti 'erects' and 'causes to erect'.

¹ R. O. Franke, BB. 22. 220. But nibbijjāpema Sn. 449=S. I. 124⁵ and nibbijjāpeti S. I. 127¹⁷ (verse) are to be divided nibbijjā-apema (apetha), as Fanshöl (Sn. Wtb. p. 335) has already done following the Comm.

§ 183. Flexion of the Causative: for the Present-system cf. § 189; for the Future § 151 and 155; for the Aorist § 165. 2 and 168. 4. Passive of Causative § 176. 1.

9. Desiderative.

§ 184. The Desideratives of Pāli are stems derived from an older stage of the language¹. The construction of Desideratives is no longer a living motif in Pāli. Examples: jigucchati 'dislikes, loathes' Sn. 215, 958, Th2. 469, 471, D. I. 218³³, Vin. I. 87¹, 88⁶, JāCo. I. 422^{20,32} = jugupsate from root gup; jighacchati 'wishes to eat' D. II. 266¹ (verse) = jighātsati from root ghas (jighacchā 'hunger' Dh. 203); vicikicchati 'hesitates' D. I. 106¹⁷, S. II. 17¹⁹ = vicikitsati from root cit, but likicchati 'treats (medically)' Vin. I. 71³⁶, JāCo. I. 485¹¹ and tikicchā 'medical treatment', tekiccha 'curable' (§ 41. 2); jigimsati, jigīsati 'wishes to attain, conquer' Sn. 700, Th1. 748, 1110 = jigīsati from root *ji*²; titikkhati 'tolerates' Dh. 321, 399, Jā. III. 38⁵, S. I. 221²⁴ (verse) = titikṣati from root tyaj; pivāsati 'wishes to drink' (Kacc. III. 2. 3, Senart, p. 434) = pipāsati from root pā; bubhukkhati 'wishes to eat' (Kacc. III. 2. 3) = bubhukṣate from root bhu; vimaṃsati 'puts to test' M. I. 125¹⁶, JāCo. I. 279¹¹, Mhvs. 5. 258, 14. 16 = mimāṃsati (§ 46. 4) from root man; vavakkhati 'wishes to speak' D. II. 256¹ (verse) = vivakṣati from root vac; *sussūsati*³ 'wishes to hear' D. I. 230¹³, M. III. 133², A. IV. 393² = śuśrūṣate from root śru. Weakened and shortened stems too are met with as in Skr.: dicchati 'wishes to give' S. I. 18²⁷ (verse) = ditsati, Pl. 3. dicchare S. I. 18³⁷, from root dā; sikkhati 'wishes to succeed, learns' (JPTS. 1909, p. 157) = śikṣate from root śak; perhaps also siṃsati 'wishes to go' Vv. 64. 7 f., 81. 18 = (si) siṃṣati from root *sar*⁴. Skr. icchati and īpsati have coincided in Pāli icchati.—On the flexion cf. § 180. 6, 154. 4, 166 (end), 181. 1 (end).

10. Intensive.

§ 185. Also the Intensives of Pāli are derived from Skr. stems'. Of very frequent occurrence is caṅkamati 'walks up and down' Vin.

² According to Kacc. III. 2. 3 (Senart, p. 434) from root har (Skr. jihīṣati).

³ The spelling sussūyati M. III. 221⁸ etc. is very probably wrong.

⁴ But pacāsiṃsati is derived from Skr. sam

⁵ For Prākṛit see Pischel, § 556.

I. 15²⁵, 87¹³, D. I. 89¹⁹, Sn. p. 101, 112 = caṅkramate from root kram. Cf. further duddallati 'lights up, sparkles' S. I. 127¹⁸ (verse), D. II. 258⁷ (verse) = jājvalyate (§ 41. 2) from root jval; *lālappati*¹ 'chatters' Sn. 580, Jā. III. 217¹⁰, Mhvs. 32. 68 (lālappita 'conversation' Jā. VI. 498¹⁷) = lālapyate from root lap. The substantive loluppa 'desire' Jā. I. 429²⁷, JāCo. I. 340²⁵ (cf. Skr. lolupa 'desirous') is derived from a root lup. Cf. also kākacchati JāCo. I. 61²⁴, 160²⁸, 318², Milp. 85²², probably meaning 'talks (in sleep)' from the verb kathayati. Sometimes the stem in Pāli ends in a as against ya in Skr.: jaṅgamati against jaṅgumyate from root gam 'to go', caṅculati against caṅcalyate from root cal 'to move', monuhati Sn. 841 (besides the Adj. monuha § 37) as against monuhyate from root muh 'to lose control over one's own mind'. On jāgarati, jaggati = jāgarati see § 142. 4.—For the flexion of Intensives cf. § 130. 6, 154. 4, 166 (end).

11. Denominative.

§ 186. The number of Denominatives with the formantic element āya is very large: 1. From Adjectives in a: cirāyati 'hesitates' JāCo. I. 426³⁰, III. 498⁴, VI. 521¹¹ = cirāyati, -te; dandhāyati 'is slow' JāCo. III. 141¹⁰ from dandha (p. 84, foot-note 1); piyāyati 'loves' Th2. 285, JāCo. II. 27²³, 133¹⁴ from Skr. priya; maccharāyati 'is jealous' JāCo. III. 158², VI. 334¹³ from Skr. matsara; sukkhāyati 'is happy' JāCo. II. 31⁴ = sukkhāyate.—2. From Substantives in a: kukkuccāyati 'feels remorse' Vin. I. 191³², JāCo. II. 15¹² from kukkucca; dhūpāyati 'spits forth smoke' Vin. I. 180²⁷, S. I. 169⁷, DhCo. III. 244⁴ = dhūpāyati; dhūmāyati 'smokes' M. III. 184¹³, Dpvs. 15. 67 = dhūmāyati, -te; mahāyati 'honours by a festival' Jā. IV. 236² from maha; rahāyati 'wishes to be alone' M. II. 119²⁹ from raha(s); verāyati 'rages' Dpvs. 15. 67; saddāyati 'makes noise' Ud. 61⁵⁷, Milp. 258²⁸, 259¹, JāCo. III. 286² = śobdāyate; sārajāyati 'is embarrassed' S. III. 92²¹ from sāraja. In Kacc. III. 2. 4 (Senart, p. 434), pabbatāyati 'he is like a mountain' from pabbata and III. 2. 24 (Senart, p. 442) samuddāyati 'resembles the ocean' from samudda. Anomalous is the case of harāyati 'feels shame' Vin. I. 87¹, 88⁵, D. I. 213²² from hiri = hri.—3. From a pronominal form: mamāyati 'loves, worships' Th1. 1150, DhCo. I. 11¹⁰ (verse), Mhvs. 20. 4 = mamāyate.—4. Onomatopoeitic expressions³

I. 230²⁵, DhCo. 171¹⁹, Mhvs. 36. 108=piṇḍayati; pihayati, -eti 'desires' Dh. 94, Th1. 62 etc.=spṛhayati; baleti 'strengthens' Jā. III. 225¹⁴=balayati; bhuseti 'increases' Jā. V. 218²⁸ (Comm. bhusaṃ karoti, vaḍḍheti), Skr. bhṛśāyate; maggayati 'pursues' Th2. 384 from magga; mantayati, -eti 'takes counsel' A. I. 199¹⁵ (verse), Vin. II. 299¹¹, Mhvs. 4. 20 and āmanteti 'invites, demands' Th1. 34, D. I. 88¹², II. 209¹⁵, Vin. I. 55²¹=āmantrayati; yanleti 'hurls' JāCo. I. 418¹⁴=yantrayati; saṃgāmeti 'fights' Iv. 75¹⁶, S. I. 88², JāCo. II. 11⁴, V. 417¹⁷; samodhāneti 'connects' JāCo. I. 9³⁶, 106⁷ from samo-dhāna; sākaccheti 'talks with somebody' (JPTS. 1909, p. 137) from sākacchā; sukheti 'makes happy' D. I. 51¹⁵=*sukhayati*². —2. With āpaya (āpe): ussukhāpeti 'exerts himself' Th2Co. 5²⁰, VvCo. 95¹²

² Further examples in Acc. III.2. 8 (Senart, p. 487): atihatthayati 'covers the distance on the back of an elephant', aparipayati 'accompanies with the lute', duḍḍhayati 'makes firm', visuddhayati 'becomes purified'.

besides ussukkati from ussukka muramurāpeti (onomatopoeitic) 'crackles' JāCo. III. 134²⁴; opuñjāpeti 'heaps up with something' Vin. III. 16¹⁹ from puñja, Skr. puñjayati. Causative meaning is quite clear in āmāntāpeti 'causes to call' D. I. 134³⁰ and in sukkhāpeti 'makes happy', dukkhāpeti 'makes unhappy' D. II. 202¹², Milp. 79⁷¹⁰.

§ 188. Denominatives 1. with the stem-vowel a: atricchati 'desires this and that' Jā. I. 414⁶, III. 207¹⁵ from atricchā; usūyati, usūyati 'is jealous' from usūyā (§ 16. 1 b) = usūyati; ussukkati 'takes interest in' D. I. 230²¹ from ussukka; puripañhati 'questions' M. I. 223³³, A. V. 16² from pañha; vijjalati 'sparkles' M. I. 86³¹, 87¹; sajjhāyati 'recites' Milp. 10¹⁰, JāCo. I. 435²³ from sajjhāya = svādhyāya (whence the Causative sajjhāpayati, -peti Jā. III. 28²¹, JāCo. III. 29⁶ and sajjhāyāpeti Milp. 10⁸). Further tintīyati JāCo. I. 248⁶ besides tintīyāyati (§ 186. 4), dandhati Jā. III. 141² besides dandhāyati (§ 186. 1), dhūpati Mhvs. 12 14 besides dhūpāyati (§ 186. 2), sārajati A. IV. 359⁸ besides sārajāyati (§ 186. 2).—2. With the stem in ya: from substantives in ā: karuṇāyati 'takes pity' VvCo. 100⁶ from karuṇā (or according to § 186. 1 from karuṇa) = karuṇāyate; mettāyati 'acts like a friend' JāCo. I. 365¹⁷ from mettā (or directly from the adj. metta). From a substantive in i: vyādhīyati 'becomes ill' A. II. 172⁷. y becomes v after u in kaṇḍuvati (§ 46. 1) = kaṇḍūyati; it is assimilated to the preceding consonant in tapasīyati 'practises austerities' DhCo. I. 53³ = tapasyati, namassati 'makes obeisance' = namasyati.—3. With stems in īya: aṭṭiyati 'suffers' S. I. 131¹² (verse), Vin. I. 86³⁶ from aṭṭa = ārta; paṭiseniyati 'behaves like an enemy' Sn. 390 from paṭisenā = pratisenā 'enemy army' (SBE. X. 2, p. 64). Also in Kacc. III. 2. 5 and 6 (Senart, p. 435): puttiyati 'treats like a son', pattiyati 'desires an alms-bowl for himself', dhanīyati 'desires money' etc.

§ 191. In every period of the language the Present Participles in -māna, even from non-medial verbs, are found in very large numbers, often along with the Participle in -nt. With reference to § 180: vasamāna JāCo. I. 291¹³; labhamāna Sn. 924, Jā. II. 106²; ḷivamāna JāCo. I. 307¹⁸; caramāna Sn. 418, D. I. 87³. From Desiderative-stem: sussūsamāna Sn. 888. From Intensive-stem: jāgarāmāna Dh. 226; daddallamāna S. I. 127¹⁸ (verse). From Denominative-stem (§ 188. 1): sārajjamāna A. IV. 359⁸.—With reference to § 181-185: an-abhisambhūṇamāna D. I. 101³¹¹; tiṭṭhamāna JāCo. I. 52²⁷; gacchamāna JāCo. IV. 3³; samphusamāna Sn. 671.—With reference to § 186: frequently from Passives (cf § 175 ff.): diyyamāna DhCo. III. 191¹² (= diyamāna); hiyyamāna (root hā) Th1. 114; niyamāna S. I. 127⁸ (verse); kayiramāna Vin. II. 289¹⁷, D. II. 108¹⁰; anubhīramāna M. III. 128²⁰; vuccamāna Vin. I. 33¹⁵, S. IV. 179⁹; ḍayhamāna Th1. 39, Dh. 371; desiyamāna Vin. I. 17²; posiyamāna JāCo. I. 492¹²; sāriyamāna Vin. III. 221³⁴; vāriyamāna JāCo. IV. 2²²; dassiyamāna D. II. 124¹⁰; pūjīyamāna Bodh. 141¹⁰; vuṭṭhāpiyamāna A. I. 189²¹; pucchiyamāna DhCo. I. 10¹⁰; yāciyamāna JāCo. IV. 138²⁷; even from a double Passive: -chijjīyamāna (§ 176. 2 at the end). From Denominative-stem (§ 188. 2, 8): aṭṭiyamāna Vin. II. 292¹⁷, JāCo. I. 292¹²; namassamāna Vin. I. 3²⁵.—With reference to § 137-138: ḷīramāna Th1. 32 or ḷīyamāna M. III. 246²²; (= ḷīryamāna); miyyamāna M. III. 246²²; jhāyamāna 'burning' Ud. 98³. From Denominative-stem (§ 186. 1): sukkhāyamāna JāCo. II. 81⁴.—With reference to § 139: Only from uncontracted stems: sārayamāna JāCo. I. 50¹, kārayamāna JāCo. I. 149¹⁶ etc. From Denominative-stem (§ 187. 1.): patthayamāna JāCo. I. 279²⁰.—With reference to § 140 and 142 f.: sayamāna Th1. 95 and semāna Jā. I. 180¹, D. II. 24³, A. I. 139²¹; saṃdahamāna DhCo. 113²; dadamāna S. I. 19² (verse), JāCo. II. 154²² (Vedic dādamāna).—With reference to § 144-148: bhūñjamāna Th1. 12, Sn. 240; jānamāna Sn. 1064, JāCo. I. 168³; parigaṇhamāna JāCo. II. 2²⁸; añhamāna 'eating' Sn. 239 f. (from añhāna* = añnānu); suṇamāna JāCo. III. 215¹⁷, DhCo. III. 156³; kubbamāna Sn. 897 and krumāna JāCo. I. 291¹⁵, Dpvs. 9. 17.—The suffix -māna has been pleonastically added to Past Participles in paduṭṭhamāna DhCo. I. 179⁹=paduṭṭha; vibhātāmāna DhCo. I. 165¹¹=vibhāta, aladdhamāna Rasav. I. 35¹⁰=aladdha. These are constructions of later age.

§ 192. Present Participles in *-āna*¹ are rarer. They belong to the Gāthā-language; occasionally some forms may be found also in the canonical prose. Examples are: esāna 'seeking, desiring' Dh. 131 (Skr. eṣamāna); abhisambudhāna 'attaining the highest knowledge' Dh. 46; an-utṭhakāna 'not getting up' Dh. 280; a-heṭṭhāyāna 'not injuring' S. IV. 179³ (verse); patthayāna 'begging for' Sn. 976, Vv. 84. 7; sayāna 'lying' Jā. III. 95¹⁷, D. I. 90¹³ (= sayāna); saddahāna 'faithful' S. I. 20²⁵ (verse) and saṃādahāna S. I. 169¹⁶ (verse) (= -dadhāna); kubbāna 'making' Dh. 217 (= kurvāna) and a-saṃkharāna S. I. 126²⁶ (verse), purekkharāna Sn. 910. From a Passive-stem: paripucchiyāna 'interrogated' Sn. 696. The root ās 'to sit' has āsina Dh. 227, 386, Jā. I. 363¹², 390¹², III. 95¹⁷, D. II. 212²¹ (verse) as in Skr. The form is however archaic.

§ 193. Very rare is the construction of Future Participle in -nt from the futural stem. Thus Sg. Acc. *marissam*² (cf. § 97. 2) Jā. III. 214¹¹ for marissantam = maṛiṣyantam (Comm. yo idāni marissati tam); paccessam 'one who will return' Vin. I. 255²⁴ (root i + prati).

2. Participles of the Preterite.

§ 194. The Past Participle in -ta has mostly a passive meaning in the case of transitive verbs, and an active meaning in the case of intransitive verbs. There are numerous forms of historical origin. Thus from roots in ṣ, ṣh: ita 'gone' (samita, atita, peta etc.), jita, nīta as in Skr.; suta=śruta; bhūta=bhūta. As there is suta from supāti, so there is pariyāputa D. III. 203⁶ from pariyāpuṇāti 'learns'. From roots in ā: nāta=jñāta, sināta Jā. V. 380³, M. I. 89¹=snāta; gīta 'sung' D. I. 99¹¹, JāCo. III. 61²⁵=gīta; ḥita=sthita; hita (ohita, pihita, vihita etc.)=hita; atta 'seized' in attadaṇḍa Dh. 406=ātta (root dā with ā).—Roots in r: kata=kṛta, mata=mṛta; saṃsita 'one who has wandered about (in the existences)' Sn. 730, D. II. 91² (verse)=saṃṣṛta; saṃvuta 'restricted'=saṃvṛta; nibbata 'released'

² E. Müller, PGr. p. 123 quotes from Dāṭhāvs. 3. 80 the form karissam. It is, however, clearly the 1. Sg.=karissāmi. The Sgh. paraphrase has keremi. On the Part. Future Active in Pkr. see Pischel, § 560.

Dh. 406, 414, Th1. 79, 96, Vin. I. 8²⁴ (verse)=*nirvṛtu*¹; haṭa=hṭa; aṭṭa (§ 64)=ārta (root ar with ā). Also from root star 'to stretch out' we have atthata, saṃthata, vitthata as against Skr. stirṇa.—Roots in nasal: hata, mata, tata; nata, gata; nikhāla Sn. 28, Jā. III. 24²⁸, D. II. 171¹ as also in Skr. Similarly santa 'quieted'=sānta (root śam); santa 'tired'=śrānta; kanta 'dear, charming'=kānta; nikkhanta 'gone out', pakkanta etc.=hrānta; jāta 'born, originated' from jan.—Roots in surds and s-nants: sitta Th1. 110, JāCo. III. 144¹=sikta; vutta=ukta, durutta=durukta; bhutta=bhukta; yutta=yukta; puṭṭha 'interrogated'=prṣṭa; yiṭṭha 'sacrificed' Jā. VI. 522⁶, M. I. 82¹⁵, A. II. 44⁶ (verse)=iṣṭa (root ya); saṃsaṭṭha=sṛṣṭa (root sarj), suddha 'purified'=śuddha; khitta 'hurled'=kṣipta; vutta 'sown' JāCo. I. 340¹⁹, III. 12²⁰=upta; sutta 'one who has slept' Dh. 29, Th1. 22 etc.=supta. On vatta, vaṭṭa=*vṛtta*² see § 64. 1. —Roots in aspirates: duddha 'milked' Sn. 18=duḡdha; siniddha 'oily, smooth' Th2Co. 139¹⁸, JāCo. I. 89²³ (verse), 481¹=snigḍha; daḍḍha (§ 42. 3)=daḡdha; vuḍḍha, vuddha etc. (§ 64)=vṛddha; laddha 'attained'=labḍha; luddha 'eager' Iv. 1¹⁰ (verse)=lubḍha.—Roots in sibilants: diṭṭha=drṣṭa; phuṭṭha 'touched'=sprṣṭa; naṭṭha 'destroyed'=naṣṭa; kaṭṭha 'ploughed' S. I. 173³ (verse)=kṛṣṭa; saṭṭha 'taught, commanded' Jā. II. 298²³, III. 8²⁴=śāṣṭa; saṃtatta 'frightened' Jā. III. 77²⁵=trasta.—Roots in h=Indo-Iranian ṣh: vūḷha (§ 35)=ūḷha; mūḷha 'foolish' Iv. 2¹⁶ (verse)=mūḍha; saṃyūḷha (saññūḷha) 'spoken, composed' D. II. 267¹⁹, M. I. 386³³ (saṃvūḷha DCo. I. 38⁹)=saṃ-ūḍha (root ūh); abbūḷha 'torn out' Sn. 598, 779, D. II. 283²⁷, M. I. 139¹⁷ from abbahati=ā-brhāti.

§ 195. Past Participles in -ita too have been handed down in large numbers in historical forms. Examples: palita, carita; khāḍita, saṃdhāḍita D. II. 90¹⁴ etc., as in Skr.; sayita 'laid down to rest' D. II. 358⁸, JāCo. I. 338²⁴, III. 33¹⁸=śayita; paritasita 'thirsty' Milp. 253²⁶=trṣṭita (root larṣ); vasita Th1. 258, D. II. 206¹⁰ (verse) (besides vuttha Jā. I. 188²² etc.)=uṣita from root vas 'to dwell'; gahita=grhita. Often from Causatives: dassita=darsita; pesita=preṣita; hārita, codita, dāpita as in Skr.; addita 'pained' Th2. 77, 328=*ardita*³.

¹ But the users of the language felt that (pari)mibbāyati was the Past Participle of (pari)mibbāyati

² Instead of kanta 'spun' M. III. 255⁸ I should like to read katta=kṛta.

Similarly from Desideratives: jighacchita 'hungry' M. III. 186², DhCo. III. 263^{1a} = jighatsita; jigucchita 'scared' Mhvs. 6. 3 = jugupsita. From Intensives: caṅkamita Mhvs. 15. 208 = caṅkramita. From Denominatives, § 186: cirāyita DhCo. III. 805¹, dhūpāyita Th1. 448, mamāyita DhCo. I. 11¹⁰ (verse) as in Skr. With reference to § 187: patthita JāCo. I. 408²⁰, -II. 36¹⁶, DhCo. I. 112²⁶ = prārthita; manṭita Th1. 9, M. II. 105²¹ (verse) = mantrita; dukkhita Th2. 29 = duḥkhita.

§ 196. The type of Past Participle in -ita has moreover been very productive for the reason that new forms were evolved after it from every kind of Present stem¹. They are met with in every period of the language. With reference to § 130-133: klāmita 'tired' JāCo. III. 36²⁸ (besides klānta = klānta); saṁtasita (root tras) Milp. 92² (besides -tatta); vasita 'inhabited' Mhvs. 20. 14, 16 (besides vusita and vuttha § 195); āharita S. IV. 59²⁵, 60³ (besides āhaṭa § 194); saṁsarita Th2. 496, D. II. 90¹⁴ (besides saṁsita § 194); jinita JāCo. II. 251²⁰ (besides jita); gacchita Th2Co. 126¹¹ (as explanation of gata).—With reference to § 134-135: phusita Th2. 158 (besides phuṭṭha); pucchita JāCo. II. 9¹⁸, Mhvs. 20. 8 (besides puṭṭha); supita, Sn. 331, S. I. 198⁷ (verse) (besides sutta); icchita Th2. 46, D. I. 120⁴, DhCo. IV. 5⁹, Mhvs. 7. 22 (besides iṭṭha); saṁpaṭicchita DhCo. III. 489³; pamuñcita Vv. 53. 8 (or pamuccita VvCo. 237¹¹?).—With reference to § 136-138: gijjhita 'desired' Th2. 152; saṁāpajjita D. II. 109²⁷ (besides saṁāpanna), maññita M. III. 246¹², S. IV. 21³², 22³. Even chijjita Jā. III. 389¹⁷ from the Passive-stem chijja- (Comm. chinna); vāyita 'woven' M. III. 253⁹ (besides vāta); gāyita 'sung' DhCo. III. 233¹⁷ (besides gita).—With reference to § 142-145: jahita JāCo. III. 32³⁴; saddahita M. II. 170³⁰; paṭijaggita DhCo. III. 138¹⁹; saṁjānita in the abstract noun saṁjānitatta Dhs. 4 (in elucidation of saṁṇā).—Also khādayita 'fed' Vin. I. 278¹² (Caus. of khād), paṭthayita 'implored' Jā. III. 218²⁵ (Comm. patthita).

§ 197. Many Past Participles are formed also with the suffix -na as in Skr. Thus from roots in d: chinna, bhinna, -panna, -sanna (but nisinna = niṣaṇṇa); pakkhanna 'fallen into something' Th1. 95, 253, 342 = praskanna; lunna 'goaded' Th2. 162 and nunna 'pushed, propelled' A. II. 41¹³, JāCo. VI. 527²⁰, Mhvs. 34. 60, as in Skr. Also ruṇṇa 'bewailing' Jā. VI. 525⁴, 'wail, lamentation' Th1. 554, A. I. 261² (besides roṇṇa Th1. 555) as against Skr. rudita (root rud).²—

²—Also Pkr. Māh. ruṇṇa; Pischel, PkrGr. § 566.

Further from certain roots in ā, i, ū: hīna (JPTS. 1907. 163) from root hā, sīna 'frozen' M. I. 79²⁹ (verse), Milp. 117¹⁸ = sīna (root śyā); līna (a-līna 'unattached, passionless' Dh. 245, Sn. 68, 717, nīlīna 'concealed' Vin. II. 35⁴, JāCo. III. 26⁴, patisallīna 'withdrawn' Vin. I. 4³³ etc.) = līna (root li); vikkhīna 'destroyed' Th2. 22 = vikāṣīna; lūna 'cut off' Th2. 107 = lūna.—From certain roots in r: jīṇṇa, tiṇṇa, puṇṇa = jirṇa, tirṇa, pūrṇa. Also patthiṇṇa 'spread out' Vin. I. 286³⁴ = prastirṇa (besides patthata § 194), as well as ciṇṇa 'done, performed' Sn. 181 f., Vin. II. 39¹⁵, JāCo. I. 300⁶ (āciṇṇa 'done, customary' M. I. 372¹⁰ etc., pariciṇṇa Th1. 178, M. III. 264²³) besides carita as Skr. cirṇa and carita.—From some roots in j and g: (saṃ)bhagga 'broken' Dh. 154, Th1. 184, S. I. 128²⁸ = bhagna; nimugga 'drowned' (§ 18) Vin. I. 6³¹, D. I. 75¹⁷, II. 324⁵, JāCo. III. 47¹ = nimagga (root majj); saṃvigga 'disturbed, anxious' D. I. 50¹, S. IV. 290³⁰, JāCo. I. 59¹⁰, ubbigga Jā. I. 486¹⁰, JāCo. I. 503¹³ = vigna (root vij); olagga 'bound fast' Th1. 356 = avalagga.—The root dā 'to give' has dinna = Pkr. diṇṇa, dinna against Skr. datta (this, e.g., in datṭūpajivin 'one who lives on what he receives as charity' DhCo. IV. 99¹⁸ as well as in proper names like Brahmadatta, as also in atta § 194).—Finally, there is the dialectal form paṭimukka 'bound down' Th2. 500, S. IV. 91²³, 92¹ (opposite of ummukka S. IV. 92⁷) as against Skr. *pratimukta*².

§ 198. Past Participle Active. 1. The meagre traces of the Participle in -vas have been discussed in § 100.—2. We do not find any large number of Participles formed by affixing -vant to Participles in -ta. Thus vusitavant 'he who has lived' in the transferred sense 'perfect, complete', Sg. Nom. -vā Sn. 514, Iv. 96¹⁴, M. I. 4²³, D. I. 90²⁰, Pl. Gen. -vataṃ D. II. 223¹⁹, 229¹³; bhuttavant 'he who has enjoyed' Sg. Gen. -vato VvCo. 244⁶. In Kacc. IV. 2. 6 (Senart, p. 489) we have moreover hutavā. Of analogous construction is the Sg. Nom. ādinnavā 'he who has seized, utilised'³ Mhvs. 7. 42.—3. The Participles in -tāvin (flexion according to § 95) are an innovation of Pāli: bhuttāvin 'he who has eaten', Sg. Acc. -viṃ D. I. 109³⁵, 227⁴, Gen. -vissa D. II. 195²²; vijitāvin 'he who has been victorious', Sg. Nom. -vī Th1. 5 ff., S. I. 110⁸ (verse), D. I. 88³⁴,

² As var. loc. to mutta we have mukka in M. III. 61¹⁵. The corresponding form in Pkr. is mukka; Pischel, § 566.

³ D. Andersen, PR. 112²¹ (PGl. sub voce) reads ādiṇṇapā 'he who has torn asunder', Skr. dirga from root dar.

Acc. -vinan Dh. 422, Pl. Gen. vinan A. III. 151²⁶; katāvin 'expert', Sg. Nom. -vi M. II. 69⁷; kiḷitāvin 'he who has played', Sg. Nom. a-niḷitāvi S. I. 9⁶, Pl. Nom. -vino S. IV. 110²⁷; samitāvin 'he who has come to rest', Sg. Nom. -vi S. I. 188⁴ (verse); sutāvin 'he who has heard and learnt, learned', Pl. Nom. a-ssutāvino Th1. 955.

3. Participles of Future—Passive.

§ 199. Of Future Passive Participles those in -*labba*¹ = -tavya are the most numerous. 1. The following are some of the historical forms. dātābba 'that which has to be given' Vin. I. 46⁶, JāCo. III. 52² = dātavya, pahātābba Sn. 558, M. I. 7¹¹ (root hā 'to forsake') = -hātavya; saddhātābba JāCo. II. 37²⁵ = śraddhātavya; paccuṭṭhātābba 'he who is to be greeted by standing up' M. III. 205¹⁷ = -sthātavya; netābba = netavya; soṭābba = śrotavya; gantābba Vin. I. 46¹⁰ = gantavya; vatthābba Mhvs. 8. 12 (root vas 'to live') = vastavya; daṭṭhābba PvCo. 10¹⁸ (root darś 'to see') = draṣṭavya; kaṭṭābba Dh. 53, JāCo. I. 453²² and (§ 6, 1) kātābba Vin. I. 47²⁰, JāCo. II. 112¹⁵ = kartavya; viḥātābba (from viharati) M. III. 294²⁷ = -hartavya. Similarly also forms with i: bhavitābba JāCo. I. 440⁴ = bhavitavya; tikicchitābba DhCo. III. 264⁴ = cikitsitavya; rakkhitābba JāCo. III. 52² = rakṣitavya etc.—2: After this latter type are moreover constructed numerous new forms from Present-stems². With reference to § 180-182: vasitābba Sn. 678 from vasati; pacitābba Vin. I. 50⁶ from pacati as against paktavya; -kamitābba Vin. I. 50¹¹, D. I. 179¹⁰ from -kamati; uddharitābba Vin. I. 47⁶ from uddharati, saṃharitābba Vin. I. 46²⁰ (from root har); jinitābba DhCo. III. 313⁹ (from root ji); nisiditābba Vin. I. 47¹⁹ (from root sad). With reference to § 134-138: -khipitābba Vin. I. 46²⁵, 47¹ as against kṣeptavya; pucchitābba Vin. I. 46³³ from pucchati as against praṣṭavya; -visitābba Vin. I. 47¹⁶ as against veṣṭavya; ālimpitābba Vin. II. 287¹ (from root lip); āsiñcitābba Vin. I. 49¹¹ (from root si); -pajjitābba Vin. I. 164¹⁰, D. II. 141¹⁴ from -pajjati (root pad); paṭṭi-vijjitābba 'that which is to be comprehended' DCo. I. 20²⁵ from -vijjhati (root vyadh). From Passive -bhijjati: bhijjitābba JāCo. III. 56²³ as against bhetlavya; from jāyati 'is born, originated': jāyitābba Th2. 455. With reference to § 142, 144: vijahitābba Vin. III. 200¹⁷ (from root hā); nidāhitābba Vin. I. 46²⁸, saddāhitābba Milp. 310² from duhati (root dhā); bhañjitaḥḥa Vin. I. 74¹⁰ (from root bha), bhañj), bhuñjitaḥḥa Mhvs. 5. 127 (from root bhu).

§ 200. The Future Passive Participle of root bhū too may be constructed on the Present-stem¹. hotabba Vin. I. 46¹⁹, paribhotabba 'that which should be deprecated' S. I. 69², Sn. p. 91 from hoti, -bhōti (§ 131. 2). The aya-stems (Cl. X., Causatives, Denominatives) too derive it in the same way directly from the contracted e-stem². Examples are numerous: codetabba Vin. II. 2²¹ as against coditavya; sāretabba Vin. II. 2²² from sāreti (root smar); pūjētabba M. III. 205²⁰ (stem pūjay-); lañchetabba Vin. II. 267³ from lañchēti 'seals'; nāpetabba Vin. II. 2²³ from nāpeti (jñā); ghaṇṣāpetabba Vin. II. 266²⁴ from ghaṇṣāpeti 'causes to rub' (root gharṣ); kotṭāpetabba Vin. II. 266²⁵ from kotṭāpeti 'causes to hit'; paṭiggahetabba 'that which should be accepted' Vin. I. 46¹³ from gahēti (§ 139. 2) etc. A whole list of such forms is to be found in Vin. I. 46-50. I cite from there otāpetabba 'that which is to be heated', paṭiyādetabba 'that which is to be constructed' (root yat), ṭhapetabba 'that which is to be erected' (root sthā), thaketabba 'that which is to be clo-ed' (root sthaḡ, § 39. 1) etc. We have a curious form in chedātabba 'that which is to be cut off' Vin. I. 50¹⁵, the form expected being chedetabba. Besides it there is *chedāpetabba*³.

§ 201. Moreover there is in Pāli the Future Passive Participles in -niya or *-neyya*⁴=Skr. -niya. Thus labhaniya Th2. 513 (alabbhaneyya 'unattainable' Jā. III. 205⁹ is due to contamination of labbha § 202 with labhaniya); pūjaniya Sn. 259 or -neyya Th1. 186=pūjaniya; anattthaneyya 'what should not be striven after, useless' Th1. 1073 from arthay-; dassaniya 'that which is worth seeing, charming' Vin. I. 38²⁵, D. I. 47¹¹, JāCo. I. 509⁸ and dassaneyya Dpvs. 15. 39=durāniya. These forms have very often a substantive meaning. Thus karaṇiya 'task, duty'; mohaṇeyya 'enchantment' Jā. III. 499¹⁰; yāpuniya 'sustenance' Jā. VI. 224¹³, Vin. I. 59¹⁰; bhojaniya 'liquid food' and khādaniya 'solid food' Vin. I. 18²⁹, D. I. 108⁷ etc., Skr. karaniya,

³ Instead of tuvaṭṭetabba Vin. II. 121¹¹ from tuvaṭṭeti 'lies down' one would expect tuvaṭṭetabba.

⁴ In Pkr. -aniya and -āniya. Cf. AMāg. yāyāniya, daṇḍaniya etc.; Pischel, § 571.

mohanīya etc.; khamanīya 'toleration' Vin. I. 59¹⁰, D. II. 99²², JāCo. I. 408¹¹ = kṣamanīya.

§ 202. The Future Passive Participles in -ya mostly belong to the two oldest periods of the language.¹ Hence, for instance, even hañña 'he who should be killed' Jā. IV. 273²⁷ is explained in the Comm. by hanitabba, saddheyya 'worthy of credence' Jā. III. 82¹⁸ by saddhāttabba. Examples from roots in vowel: neyya 'that which should be led' Sn. 803 = neya (root nī); bhabba 'capable of' Vin. I. 17¹⁸, A. III. 8³⁰ = bhavya (root bhū); pameyya 'that which is to be measured' A. I. 266¹⁸, Pu. 35³ = prameya (root mā); similarly viññeyya 'that which can be perceived' Vin. I. 184²⁰, D. I. 245¹⁷ etc., deyya Sn. 982, Vin. III. 11³, D. I. 87¹⁰, peyya 'drinkable' D. I. 244¹⁴, II. 89¹⁴, Milp. 2¹⁴ = vijñeyya, deya, peya. Also suppahāya 'that which should be easily forsaken' Sn. 772 (root hā) as Rv 10. 103 5 vijñāya. From roots in r: a-kāriya 'unfeasible' Dh. 176 = kārya (besides kicca 'that which should be done, task, duty' Dh. 276, Th1. 167 etc. = kṛtya), a-samhāriya 'indestructible' S. V. 219² = hārya, both with Svarabhakti. From other consonant roots: khajja 'masticable' and bhojja 'edible' Milp. 2¹⁴ = khādya, bhojya; vajja 'that which should be avoided, sin' Dh. 252, D. I. 63¹⁵ etc. = varjya; vajjha 'he who must be killed' Jā. VI. 528², JāCo. I. 439⁴ = vadhya; a-bhejja 'inseparable' JāCo. III. 51⁴ = bhedya; lābbha 'attainable, possible' D. II. 118²⁹, M. II. 220¹³ = labhya; sayha 'that which is to be borne' Sn. 258 = sahya. From root lih 'to lick' we have in Milp. 2¹⁴ leyya instead of leyha* = lehya, due to attraction of peyya occurring at its side. Svarabhakti is in evidence in a-sādhiya 'incurable' Mhvs. 5. 218 = sādhyā. We have a new construction in a-sakkuneyya 'impossible' JāCo. I. 55³ from the Present sakkunāti, after the pattern of deyya from dadāti.

§ 203. The Future Passive Participles in -tāya, -tayya or -teyya are a peculiarity of Pāli². Examples out of the two oldest periods of the language: ñātdyya, daṭṭhayya, pattayya 'that which is to be known, seen, attained' S. IV. 93⁶⁻⁷, ñāteyya, daṭṭheyya, patteyya S. I. 61²⁶⁻²⁷ (root jñā, darś, āp with pra); a-tasitāya 'where one need not fear' S. III. 57²⁷. From Causatives: ghātetāya 'to be killed', jāpetāya 'to be conquered', pabbājetāya 'to be banished' (root vra) M. I. 281¹⁻³, II. 122¹⁻². Also *lajjitāya*¹ 'that of which one has to be ashamed' Dh. 316.

4. Infinitives.

§ 204. 1. The Infinitives in -tave = Ved. -tave or -tavai, as well as some forms in -tāye, *-tuye*² are confined to the Gāthā-language (and the artificial poetry). (a) Infinitives in -tave. From roots in vowel: netave Dh. 180, S. I. 107²⁴ (verse); sotave Kacc. IV. 2. 12 (Senart, p. 485); dātave Sn. 286, Jā. I. 190³, yātave Sn. 884, hātave Dh. 34, Sn. 817. Also nidhetave Jā. III. 17⁶ (Comm. nidhānatthāya) from the e-stem of root dhā. From other e-stems: rajetave Th1. 1155 from rajeti 'colours, paints', lapetave Ud. 21¹⁴ (verse) from lapeti 'speaks, addresses'. From roots ending in consonant: gantave 'to go' Th2. 182, Jā. IV. 221²⁸ (Comm. gantum), vattave 'to say' S. I. 205² (verse) = gantave, vāktave. (b) Infinitives in -tuye: kātuye Th2. 418 (root kar, Comm. kātum); marituye Th2. 426; gaṇetuye Bu. 4. 28 from gaṇeti 'counts'; hetuye Bu. 2. 10 from hoti. (c) Infinitives in -tāye: dakkhitāye D. II. 254⁷ (verse) = S. I. 26²⁵ from the new Present-stem dakkha- derived from the Future of daré; jagghitāye 'to laugh' Jā. III. 226¹⁰ (Comm. hasitvā, or hasitena), pucchitāye 'in order to ask' Jā. V. 137⁶ (Comm. pucchitum); khāditāye 'to eat' Jā. V. 38⁷ governed by arahati.—2. A rare and archaic Infinitive form is to be found in etass Th2. 291 'to go' (Comm. etum, gantum), governed by nāsakkhim.—3. Finally, the Datives of Verbal Nouns are not seldom used as Infinitives: thus savanāya (governed by labhati) '(is fortunate enough) to hear' D. III. 80¹⁶; dassanāya (governed by paṇhoti) '(is in a position) to see' M. II. 131²⁴; karaṇāya (governed by arahati) '(can) do' Jā. III. 172²³⁻²⁴; idhāgamanāya (governed by pariyāyamakāsi) '(has made it possible) to come here' D. I. 179⁸ etc.; vicakkhukammāya 'in order to dazzle' S. I. 112¹³; adubbhāya (governed by sapassu) '(swear) not to injure' S. I. 225¹⁹ etc.

¹ Norman in his edition of DhCo. III. 490 wrongly divides the words into alajjitāye and lajjitāye. Cf the Commentary.

² In Pkr. there are corresponding Infinitives in -ttae, -ūttae, such as AMg. ittae, hottae, pucchitae; E. Müller, Beitr. z. Pkr. Gr., p. 61; Pischel, PkrGr. § 578.

§ 205. The Infinitive which is most current in every period of the language is however that in -tum. The number of historical forms is very large. Thus from roots ending in vowels: dātum, saddhātum, ñātum from roots dā, dhā, ñā; nibbātum 'to die' Mhvs. 5. 219 (root vā); vinetum JāCo. I. 504¹⁸, III. 103⁴ (root nā); etum Th2Co. 224²⁹ (root i); ketum 'to buy' Jā. III. 282¹⁴, vikketum 'to sell' JāCo. III. 283¹²=(vi)kretum; ocetum 'to collect' Th1. 199=avacetum; sotum Sn. 384, D. II. 2⁷=śrotum. From roots in r: kātum=kartum; uddhātum 'to draw out' Th1. 88, āhattum M. I. 395⁵=āhartum from root har=hartum. From roots in nasal: gantum; in mute: vattum Sn. 431, S. I. 129²⁷ (verse)=vaktum; puṭṭhum Sn. 91, S. I. 15⁷ (verse)=praṣtum; avabhottum 'to enjoy' Jā. III. 272²³=bhoktum (root bhu); yaṭṭhum 'to sacrifice' Sn. 461=yaṣtum (root ya); chettum Th1. 188=chettum; pattum 'to attain' DhCo. III. 399⁴=prāptum; sottum S. I. 111² (verse), apparently derived directly from svaptum 'to sleep'; laddhum 'to attain' JāCo. II. 352¹⁴, DhCo. III. 117¹⁴=labdhum. From roots in sibilant: daṭṭhum=draṣtum.—Also constructions with i are quite numerous: ḥvitum JāCo. I. 263³=ḥvitum; kīlitum JāCo. III. 188²⁸=kriḍitum; bhavitum JāCo. IV. 137²⁵=bhavitum; uddharitum (besides uddhātum) JāCo. I. 313⁶ from root har (Skr. haritum besides hartum). From Desideratives: tikicchitum JāCo. I. 485¹¹=cikitsitum, vimāmsitum Mhvs. 37. 234 (Colombo ed. 184)=mimāmsitum. From a Causative: dhārayitum Anāgatavs., JPTS. 1886. 35²³=dhārayitum. From a Denominative: gopayitum DhCo. III. 488¹⁰.

§ 206. The Infinitive is very often derived directly from the Present-stem¹. Thus pappotum 'to attain' Th2. 60=S. I. 129¹⁶ from pappoti; hotum from hoti. Also in the case of e-stems (Causative etc.) the Infinitive may be directly derived from the Present-stem: sodhetum Vin. II. 34⁵, JāCo. I. 292¹⁴; bhāvetum DhCo. III. 171¹⁰; vāretum JāCo. IV. 2¹³; gahetum Vin. I. 92³⁷, JāCo. I. 222³¹, Mhvs. 8. 23 (cf. § 139. 2), gāhetum Mhvs. 33. 48 and gāhāpetum JāCo. I. 506²²; ṭhapetum Vin. II. 194³³, D. II. 177⁷; kārāpetum Mhvs. 5. 80. The form tārayetum Sn. 319 is a double-construction,—a contamination of tārayitum and tāretum.—The type in -itum has been very productive. In later literature it has in many cases supplanted the historical forms in -tum. The form bhottum, for instance (see § 205), has been explained in the Comm. by bhuñjitum. Examples of new construc-

§ 207. As in Skr., in compounds with -kāma the Infinitive has the ending *-tu*¹: jīvitukāma 'he who desires to live' Dh. 123, D. II. 330⁸; pabbajitukāma 'he who desires to forsake the world' DhCo. III. 273⁸; gantukāma 'he who wishes to go' JāCo. I. 222¹³; daṭṭhukāma 'he who wishes to see' Sn. 685; amaritukāma 'he who does not wish to die' D. II. 330⁸ etc.

5. Gerunds.

§ 208. The Gerunds are formed with the suffixes -tvā and -ya, for the first of which there often appears, particularly in the Gāthā-language, also the suffix -tvāna. The suffix -ya appears particularly after compounds, but this rule is not so strictly followed in Pāli as in Skr. The suffix -tvā, -tvāna is clearly widening its sphere progressively, and is by no means confined only to the simplex. According to statistics prepared by me on the basis of a large section of the Jātaka-Commentary, the Gerunds in -tvā occur 8 to 9 times more frequently than those in -ya. In the canonical prose the difference is not so great. In the Commentaries too the forms in -ya are readily replaced by those in -tvā, as saddhāya Jā. V. 176⁸ by saddahitvā, aññāya Jā. I. 368²¹ by aññānitvā. The few forms in *-tūna*¹ are confined to the Gāthā-language, as also those in -yāna, which is evidently a new construction on the analogy of -tvā: -tvāna.

§ 209. There are many historical forms among the Gerunds in -tvā, -tvāna. From roots in vowel: ñatvā, ñatvāna = ñātuvā, ñāhatvā = snātuvā, datvā = dattvā (in analogy with these forms also pidhatvā Th2. 480 from root dhā as against (d)hivā, and ṭhatvā from root sthā as against sthitvā); pitvā(na) Dh. 205, Th1. 103, 710, Jā. II. 71⁶ = pītvā (root pā); hitvā(na) Sn. 60, 234 etc. = hivā (root hā). Also ṇivā Th1. 336 from root ji; sutvā = śrutvā, huvā = bhūtvā. From roots in r: katvā(na) = kṛtvā (purakkhatvā D. II. 207²³, Jā. VI. 516¹⁹ or purakkhivā Vv. 84. 49). From roots in mutes: mutvā (§ 58. 3) Jā. I. 375⁵ = muktvā (root muc); vatvā = vaktvā*; bhutvā(na) Th1. 23, S. I. 8²⁵ (verse), Jā. III. 53¹⁷ = bhuktvā (the o of bhotvā S. IV. 74⁷ (verse) is to be explained according to § 10. 2); chetvā(na) Dh. 283, 346, Vin. I. 88¹, JāCo. III. 396²⁵ = chittvā (e according to § 10. 2. or due to analogy of jetvā, netvā, § 210); bhetvā(na) Th1. 758 = *bhuttvā*²; patvā from root āp (Skr. āptvā) with pra; laddhā(na) Sn. 67, 228 etc., paṭiladdhā Vv. 80.7 = labdhvā. From root daré the Gerund is disvā(na) = *diṣṣvā*³. The roots in n, m retain the nasal through the influence of forms like Skr. śāntvā. Thus we have also hantvā as against hatvā; mantvā Mhvs. 12. 50 (besides *mantā*⁴ Vv. 63. 6) as against matvā; gantvā(na) (āgantvā Sn. 415, JāCo. I. 151¹ etc.) as against gatvā.—Historical forms in -itvā: patitvā, pacitvā, vanditvā, khāditvā as in Skr.; nikkhamitvā JāCo. III. 26¹⁴, akkamitvā Vin. I. 188²⁸ etc. = kramitvā (besides krāntvā); sayitvā JāCo. II. 77¹⁴ = śayitvā

² Also in Pkr. AMāg. chettā, bhattā; Pischel, § 582.

³ As AMāg. dissā; Ibid. § 334. According to H. Kern (Toevogezelen op 't Woordenboek van Childers I. 63) the form diṣṣvā is retained in a diṭṭhā (var. loc. of adattikā) Jā. IV. 192⁴.

⁴ As AMāg. hantā, mantā.

(root śi). Similarly from Causatives¹: bhojayitvāna Jā. VI. 577²³ = bhojayitvā; gāhayitvā Mhvs. 10. 31 = grāhayitvā, ghāṭayitvā Milp. 219¹⁶ from ghāteti (root han), janayitvā Milp. 218²¹ as in Skr.; ṭhāpayitvāna Mhvs. 19. 31 = sthāpayitvā, and in the same way from double-causatives: gāhāpayitvā Mhvs. 7. 49 etc. From Desideratives, Intensives and Denominatives: a-jigucchitvā JāCo. I. 422²⁰ = jugup-sitvā; vīmaṃsitvā JāCo. VI. 368² = mīmāṃsitvā; vavakkhītvāna D. II. 250⁹ (verse) = vivakṣitvā; cirāyitvā Mhvs. Tī. 124²² etc.

§ 210. New constructions out of Present-stems are again quite frequent. Thus we have forms from Causatives, Denominatives etc. with the contracted e-stem, and in fact these forms are more frequent than those in -ayitvā. Examples: desetvā JāCo. I. 152¹⁰; codetvā Vin. II. 2²²; sāretvā (root amar) Ibid.; bhāvetvā A. V. 195¹⁵; ghāṭetvā Mhvs. 25.7; ṭhapetvā Dh. 40, D. I. 105²⁷ etc.; gahetvā (§ 189.2); vandāpetvā Vin. I. 82²³, kārāpetvā Ibid.; āmantetvā (§ 187. 1) Th1. 34, JāCo. II. 133²; a-gaṇetvā JāCo. II. 229¹¹ etc. occurring very frequently. The roots in ṭ too take after them: jetvā Sn. 439, Th2. 7 from jetṭi (root ji) as against Skr. jītvā; netvā(na) Sn. 295, Vin. II. 11¹¹ as against nītvā. Also abhihotvāna Th1. 429, from an abhihoti 'overcomes'.—The number of new constructions in *-itvā*² derived from Present-stems is extraordinarily large. With reference to § 180: labhitvā JāCo. I. 150²⁰ as against Skr. labdhvā; vasitvā JāCo. I. 278²⁶ as against uṣitvā; uddharitvā D. I. 234⁶, JāCo. III. 52¹⁴, saṃharitvā JāCo. I. 265²⁷ from harati as against hṛtvā; otaritvā JāCo. I. 223¹⁹, II. 19⁵ as against ṭīrtvā; saritvā Th2. 40 as against ṣṛtvā; ghaṃsitvā JāCo. III. 226¹ as against ghṛṣṭvā. With reference to § 131: vinayitvāna Sn. 485 besides netvāna; a-jīnitvā Mhvs. 32. 18 besides jetvā; bhavitvā Sn. 52 as against bhūtvā. With reference to § 132: pīvitvā JāCo. I. 419²⁹ besides pītvā; niṣḍhitvā passim; (v)uṭṭhahitvā Vin. I. 2²⁹, JāCo. I. 208¹ etc. Also ghāyitvā DhCo. III. 270³ as against Skr. jighṛtvā. With reference to § 133: ārohitvā Vin. analogy of ābhībhoti : abhibhuyya there has been formed from pappoti a Gerund pappuyya Sn. 593, 829, Th1. 364, 876, S. I. 7²⁵ (verse), 212¹⁸ (verse). In Vin. Besides -gayha there is also gahāya 'after seizing' Sn. 791, saṃuggahāya Sn. 797, clearly from gahāyati (§ 186. 5). The proportion gaheti : gahāya has also led to the formation of anvāya (post-position) 'on account of, by means of' D. I. 18¹², JāCo. II. 39¹⁶ from *anveti*¹ (root i with anu) and uñchāya 'having searched' Jā. V. 90¹⁰ (Comm. uñchitvā).

§ 213. The Svarabhakti-vowel i appears not seldom before the suffix -ya. Thus in pakiriya 'letting (the hair) loose' D. II. 139³⁰=-prakirya; līngiya Th2. 398=-līngya (Comm. ālīngitvā); abhirūhiya Th2. 27 (besides -ruyha); (saṃ)avekkhiya Sn. 115, Mhvs. 5. 195. pekkhiya Mhvs. 5. 194=-ikṣya; nikujjiya Th2. 28, 30 from nikujjati (Skr. kubj) 'turns round, upsets'; vivajjiya Th2. 167 from vivajjeti; virājiya Th2. 18 from virājeti 'sends away from oneself, is displeased with'; cintiya Mhvs. 7. 17 = -cintya; kāriya Mhvs. 3. 5 = -kārya. On the analogy of kāretum, kāreti: kāriya there has been formed a nicchiya 'after deciding' Mhvs. 37. 233 (Colombo ed. 183) to niccheti (= nicchinati § 131), nicchetum (§ 205).—A new type of Gerunds in -iya was originated in this way, and the new formations derived from the Present-stem took after this type. Thus with reference to § 130: sumariya Mhvs. 4. 66, as against -smṛtya; atitariya Sn. 219 as against -tīrya. With reference to § 135: nisāciya Mhvs. 7. 8 as against -sicya. With reference to § 136 passiya Th2. 399. With reference to § 144. chindiya Th2. 480 as against -chidya. With reference to § 145 f. avajāniya Sn. 713 as against -jñāya; bandhiya Th2. 81 as against -badhya. With reference to § 147 ff. suṇiya Mhvs. 23. 102 as against -śrutya; kariya Th2. 402 as against -kṛtya. Also the new Present-stem dakkha- (§ 136. 3) has given rise to dakkhiya Th2. 381 f § 214. Examples of Gerunds in -yāna are: uttariyāna Jā. V. 204⁹ (Comm. uttarivā, avattharivā); ovariyāna Th2. 367, 369 (instead of it ovadiyāna Th2 Jo. 250²⁸ explained as ovaditvā); pakkhānādiyāna Vv. 84. 11 (in VvCo. 338¹³ explained as pakkhanditvā) from root skand.—Nasal ending is to be found in khādiyānaṃ 'having eaten' Jā. V. 24⁴, anumodiyanaṃ 'having been pleased' Jā. V. 143⁹, etc.
